The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in her empire gown of white satin. The sleeves extended to points formed by low mitts over the hands, and the neckline was outlined with seed pearls. She wore a full court-train-styled veil of nylon tulle trimmed with imported lace, attached to a tiny lace Juliet cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. The bride's sister, Laura, was matron of honor, and her gown was pink nylon over taffeta with nylon mitts. She carried an arm bouquet of baby glads. The two bridesmaids were gowned in green and yellow nylon with arm bouquets of baby glads. The two flower girls wore blue taffeta and the ring bearer in white linen carrier the rings on a white satin pillow.

George Quick attended Mr. Munson as best man. The two ushers were co-workers of the groom at Los Alamos. The Rev. C. D. Pruett sang "Because," and "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for 150 guests. A four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the linen-covered bridal table, decorated with lighted candles and cut flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Munson later left on a honeymoon to Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo. For traveling the bride chose a navy check with navy accessories and wore the sweetheart roses from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Munson is a nurse, and now is head of her department in the Santa Fe Telephone Co. Mr. Munson is a reserve captain in the U. S. Army Air Force and is employed by Los Alamos Atomic Energy Commission. They will reside in Santa Fe until fall when they will return to Michigan.

After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Quick and the Munsons continued their trip, visiting at Colorado Springs and Denver, the Rocky Mountain Park and Grand Lake.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The Cow That Can't "Run Dry"

Sandy Johnson showed me his Jersey cows last week. It was a warm day and they were all under the trees near a watering trough.

And darned if one cow wasn't pumping water into the trough! It's a fact—she'd raise the pump handle with her nose, and use her throat to push it down again.

"That's Mabel," Sandy explained as she moved away. "Sometimes they drink that trough dry, and she's learned how to fill it again. But she doesn't know her own strength—turns the place into a swamp if we don't watch her."

From where I sit, Mabel isn't the only one who sometimes doesn't know where to stop. For instance, people often carry personal opinions too far—like the person who wants everyone to accept his choice of political parties, or ball-players . . . or beverages. I prefer a glass of beer with my meals. I know that a lot of other people prefer milk. But nobody ought to insist on "herding" others around to his way of thinking.

Tecumseh Day, Dawn Patrol Attract Crowds

700 CANADIANS VISIT HERE ON SATURDAY; 200 PLANES AT AIRPORT ON SUNDAY

Tecumseh's two-day celebration, Canada Day on Saturday and the Dawn Patrol on Sunday, attracted thousands of people to this community over the week-end.

The festivities got under way on Saturday about noon when some 700 residents of Tecumseh, Ontario, Canada, arrived by chartered busses and private cars to spend the day. They were accompanied by the Bagpipe Band of Chatham Branch No. 28 of the Canadian Legion. These musicmakers, in kilts, attracted considerable attention as they played in the parade, for activities during the afternoon and again Sunday at the Airport for the Dawn Patrol.

Canada Day was originated three years ago when the residents of Tecumseh, Ont., some 1,500 strong, came here to help this community observe its 125th anniversary. A year ago, Tecumseh, Michigan, residents, numbering over 2,000 visited the Ontario town, for a day of fun. This year, the Canadians expressed a desire to return the 1950 visit, and June 30 was the date set for the expedition.

The Canadians came in four chartered buses and about 200 private cars. Immediately after their arrival a parade was organized, including the Chatham Pipers, two Tecumseh high school bands, Hall-Slater and Underwood-Orr posts of veterans, the national colors, color guards, squads and drill teams of the posts, and the River Raisin Riders. The parade moved westward on the Boulevard to Union street and then to Brookside cemetery, where a wreath was laid on the monument of the veterans' lot. The wreath-laying was done by Vern McAuley, first vice-president of the Tecumseh, Ont., Canadian Legion, honoring the dead of the wars in which the two nations had fought. Participating in the ceremony were representatives of the Canadians veterans and Tecumseh, Michigan, veterans organizations. A brief prayer was offered by the Rev. Fr. Michael Collins, pastor of St. Elizabeth's church here. A bugler played the Last Post and two pipers played the Last Lament, after which taps were sounded.

At 2 o'clock, at Recreation Center, Mayor J. Floyd Elliott, of Tecumseh, Michigan, presented Mayor Tom Scott of Tecumseh, Ont., with a painting of Chief Tecumseh, famous Indian after whom the two towns were named. The painting was the work of Earl Bryan, local artist.

Later, at Recreation Center, Ontario firemen engaged Tecumseh Products Workers Union in a tug of war, and defeated their host. In a baseball game, Tecumseh, Ontario, also won, two to nothing.

The Canadian caravan was met at Ambassador Bridge by an official car from Tecumseh, Michigan. Dressed as Indians in the official car, were Leon P. Williamson and Mrs. Williamson, Robert Williamson and Mrs. Ronald Harris, wife of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The Tecumseh car led the caravan to this village.

The Chatham Pipers remained overnight and played Sunday morning at the Dawn Patrol meeting at Tecumseh Airport. This event attracted more than 200 planes, between 6,000 and 8,000 people and included the official dedication of the new 2,600-foot blacktop runway, recently installed by Tecumseh Products Co.

Leitch Resigns Engineer's Job

VILLAGE OFFICIAL QUITS POST AFTER SERVING ONE YEAR IN OFFICE

Angus Leitch, village engineer here, tendered his resignation to the council, in session Monday evening. The council, by unanimous vote, accepted the resignation, and Mr. Leitch is to continue to serve the village until his successor is named.

Mr. Leitch came to Tecumseh a year ago last May from Charlevoix, where he was superintendent. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, School of Engineering. He served Charlevoix for five years before coming here.

Mr. Leitch said that he had made no definite plans for the future.

The council authorized the purchase of a tar distributing machine at a cost of $2,600. This machine is a part of the equipment that the engineering department has been

Doctors Must Examine Kindergarten Children

Children in the Tecumseh school district who will be entering school for the first time in September must submit to an examination by a doctor sometime during the summer or before entering school in the Fall, and they must present the doctor's certificate of examination at the time they are registered in kindergarten, James McDowell, superintendent, said today.

This practice of pre-school examination locally is not an innovation, the policy, which conforms with state regulation, having been adopted here some years ago.

Miss Elisa Simonson, public health nurse, will be at her office in the high school, each Monday during the summer months, to consult with parents regarding any special child health problems.

Drive With Care Over The Fourth

STATE POLICE TO AUGMENT STAFF IN EFFORT TO REDUCE ACCIDENTS

With a better than average Memorial Day traffic experience on record, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard urges all Michigan motorists to exercise added precautions again during the Fourth of July period.

"Last year," Commissioner Leonard said, "there was an average of eight traffic deaths daily for five holiday periods. During the recent Memorial Day period there was an average of about four, three on Memorial Day, seven the previous day and three the day following.

"During the four-day week end of the Fourth last year 38 persons were killed on Michigan highways, the highest toll for that holiday on record. There were, however, only eight the previous year, showing that careful driving does save lives.

"The number of traffic fatalities during the 1950 holiday periods can be cut in half this year if everyone will cooperate. The Memorial Day record was a start in that direction, but it was still not as good as it could have been. The Fourth can be much safer.

"The calendar is also helping to save lives this year. The Fourth, as did Memorial Day, comes on a mid-week day and many persons will not be taking long motor trips such as they do when the holiday extends into a week end. Nevertheless, traffic will be very heavy and hazardous.

"State Police patrols will be increased over the holiday, but every driver must cooperate by exercising added precautions to insure maximum highway safety.

"Whether you plan a short drive or a long trip, take it easy and enjoy a safe and sane holiday."

PAY FINES IN COURT FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

These persons have paid fines and costs in Justice Robert French's court recently for traffic violations:

Lauren Huber, Manchester, R. D., speeding, $6.10; Richard Ruffins, Adrian, speeding, $6.10; Mike Hendrick, Taylor Center, speeding, $6.10; Cletus Nichols, Tecumseh, running stop sign, $4.10; James Counts, Adrian, R. D., speeding, $8.10; William Mitchell, Adrian, R. D., speeding, $8.10; Frank Horan, Pennsylvania, speeding, $7.10; Duane Bellmore, Clinton, no operator's license on person, $5.10; James McDonald, Tecumseh, use of wrong license plates, $10.10; Edward Hallwell, Addison, R. D., speeding, $6.10; Robert Rukert, Tecumseh, R. D., speeding, $5.10.

Quiet July 4th Is The Forecast

MID-WEEK HOLIDAY CAUSES TECUMSEH TO PASS UP BIG CELEBRATION IN 1951

Because the Fourth of July this year falls on Wednesday, Tecumseh will not stage its customary celebration of the holiday with fireworks and other events, Ronald Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said today. Instead, this village, which a year ago was host to 15,000 or more people at a fireworks demonstration, will observe a quiet holiday, with no planned program marking the observance.

"Last Saturday we observed Tecumseh-to-Tecumseh Day or Canada Day as some folk call it, and on Sunday we were hosts to the Dawn Patrol, and we felt that it would be difficult to carry through on Monday and Tuesday other events of a similar magnitude and hold sufficient interest through the Wednesday holiday," Mr. Harris said. "Had the holiday fallen on Friday, Saturday or Monday, it would have been different."

Harris also pointed out that industry is busy, that shops will be closed only for the Fourth, and that it might be difficult to attract the crowds to a mid-week observance.

For the most part, Tecumseh will be a closed town on Wednesday. Stores and offices will be closed, industry is halting for the day, and, generally speaking, it will be a holiday for the entire community.

The dozens of lake resorts in this area and in the Irish Hills particularly are expecting to do a land office business. Reports from the lakes say that cottages are occupied 100 per cent, and Hayes State Park already is filling rapidly.

Chief of Police M. E. Clark called for a safe and sane holiday from the motoring public.

"A year ago, when he entertained thousands of folk at our fireworks demonstration, there was not a single personal injury accident," Chief Clark said. "Let's keep it that way again this year. Let's use care in our driving—regardless of where we are—and not mar the excellent record that we have established locally."

State police are forecasting unusually heavy traffic on the Fourth and additional troopers will be on the job patrolling the highways.

Council To Get Plans And Cost On Waste Plant

PROGRAM FOR INSTALLATION OF SEWAGE TREATMENT IS NEARLY COMPLETE

The Village of Tecumseh will receive formal plans and cost estimates within two weeks on the proposal to construct and operate a sewage treatment plant here, E. C. Heilman, chairman of the Council's sewer committee, said today. When these plans are received from Drury, McNamee and Porter, Ann Arbor engineering firm, the Council probably will meet in special session, canvass the proposal and make a detailed report to the public.

"The engineers were here about a week ago," Mr. Heilman said, "and they have completed the preliminary planning necessary to construction. All of the tests have been made and, tentatively, a program of financing has been set up. Also, priorities have been applied for to enable the village to buy the needed steel that will go into construction and we should, barring the unforeseen, be able to proceed with the plan within a short time."

Heilman said that the program as now set up calls for an estimated expenditure of about $260,000 to build and equip the plant. It will cost about $6,500 to $7,000 annually to operate it. He did not say how long it would take to complete the construction.

Regarding the financing of the project, Heilman said that it would be done through the issuance of general obligation bonds. This method is cheaper, insofar as interest rates are concerned, than the issuance of revenue bonds. The cost of operation, he believed, would be paid with the aid of a tax of about 50 cents a month on the average water bills. Such a tax, he said, would raise around $7,000.

"We do not have a definite program formulated at this time because we are waiting the engineering report," he said. "However, we do know that the cost will be about $260,000, and we also know that general obligation bonds are the least expensive when it comes to financing." Heilman said that he did not believe that it would be necessary to sharply increase the tax rate to care for the retirement.

As soon as the engineers' report is available to the Council, Heilman said that the entire program would be submitted to the public and a special election called to authorize the issuance of the bonds.

Tecumseh was ordered to build the sewage treatment plant several years ago by the Michigan Stream Control Commission. The state charged that the dumping of raw sewage into the River Raisin here was polluting the stream. About six months agot he state threatened to take the village into court and force immediate construction unless some steps were taken to carry out the Commission's order. At that time the Council informed the state that it would act in good faith and the engineering firm was retained to proceed with the plans.

"We have submitted subsequent reports to the Commission as we have mode progress in our plan to build the plant," Heilman said, "and the state is satisfied with the work that we have done."

If the public approves of the bonding issue, which probably will be submitted at an election in early August, it will be possible to begin the actual construction of the plant this fall, it was said.

WILL PAY DAMAGES

A car drvein by Dr. Arthur Brown was slightly damaged, Saturday about 5 p.m., when it was struck by another car driven by Adolphe Lemire, 23, of Tecumseh, Ontario. The mishap occurred as Dr. Brown was driving from his yard on W. Chicago Boulevard. Police said that previously Lemire had driven across five lawns in the 100 block on W. Pottawatamie street. Lemire agreed to pay for all damage done and was released by officers.

FINED FOR DRINKING

Henry Schoner, Tecumseh, was arrested June 28 by police, charged with being drunk. In Justice Robert French's court he paid a fine of $15 and costs of $8.60. Dinnis Clark, Tecumseh, R. D., was arrested June 30 for being drunk, second offense. In the same court he was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and costs of $8.60.

Doing Things By Guess and By Golly

There are a few people who still argue that there's no need to change Tecumseh's form of government. Some of the folk who argue against the change follow this line of reasoning: They say that Tecumseh has operated for 126 years as a village, that it has done reasonably well during all of these years, and that what has been good enough for our forefathers certainly should be good enough for us.

It might be well for us to analyze such an argument for a moment and find out whether the system we are using, regardless of how good we may think it is, is actually functioning to our interest, economically.

Recently there has been two serious breaks in the cables of the Michigan Associated Telephone Company in the downtown area. One of the breaks occurred in back of the stores on the south side of West Chicago Boulevard, and the other was on North Pearl Street. In the first instance a surveyor drove a stake through the cable and, in the Pearl Street case, village employees struck a cable with a pick when they were laying curb and gutter.

Both breaks were expensive to repair. What it cost the Michigan Associated Telephone Company to do the work we do not know. But the point is this: In neither instance was an interruption in service necessary. If the village and the telephone company had known exactly where the cables were located, there would have been no need for such an accident. But they didn't know, the cables were installed some years ago—in fact before Michigan Associated acquired the property—and there apparently was no record either at the telephone office or at the village office of where the cables were buried.

We understand that the same condition exists in both the sewer and the water departments of the village. True, the village engineer's office may know where some of the main line sewers lay, and it may also know where some of the water mains are located, but there are dozens and dozens of water and sewer lines scattered underground that nobody knows where they begin or where they end.

How often do you see village workmen digging for days to locate a break in a sewer or a water line? We understand that it happens not once or twice a year, but several times a year. There is no master map, because no master map was ever made.

We'd like to ask you a question: Do you know EXACTLY where the sewer line comes into your own house? Do you know where the water line comes in from the street? It is important that you should know. It might save you dollars and dollars in labor if, unfortunately, you were forced to make repairs.

Now we'd like to ask you another question: Where would you go to find out where these service lines are buried? Do you think that the village engineer's office could tell you? Well, maybe it could and maybe it couldn't. It is a better bet to say that it couldn't—within a few feet or yards, anyway.

When dozens and dozens of these services were installed Tecumseh was a much smaller town than it is today. One or two men did most of the work and the village relied upon their memory for future reference. Today, these men are gone and there is no accurate way to locate the services. You must rely upon the hunt and dig method—and that's expensive.

We contend that Tecumseh is too big, today, to go on with such a hit-and-miss program. We realize that the engineer's office now is attempting to correct some of the errors that have been made, and that it is attempting to assemble maps for future reference. But that is not enough. These maps should be REQUIRED to be on file at the village offices; every time a sewer or water main or service cable is repaired its location should be noted on the master map; and rigid ordinances should make it necessary to report future installations, either by individuals or utility companies.

We realize that it is difficult for some folk to realize that Tecumseh is growing up, just as it is difficult for some parents to realize that their children are becoming young men and women. But nevertheless, such is the case. And, if Tecumseh continues to grow in the next 10 years as rapidly as it has in the past 10 years, and, if we continue a hit-and-miss engineering program, we are certain to be in for more painful headaches.

We can't expect members of the council to serve this community—a multi-million dollar corporation—for $60 a year, as they are doing at the present time. The members of the council are in business, they are earning a living for themselves and their families, just as everybody else is doing, today. It is unfair to ask them to give days and weeks of their time to the affairs of the village without adequate pay. In the past, and at the present time, these men are doing just that, because they are proud of their home town. But their jobs as councilmen still are too demanding, and their own businesses are too pressing for them to give either one their undivided attention.

The net result of serving on the council today is this: The council member is certain to take away from his own business considerable time that his business needs, and for which the village does not pay him and, at the same time, he realizes that he should give still more time to the village if he is to do the kind of a job that should be done.

Being a member of the council, under our present form of government, is a thankless and payless job that nobody can afford to accept. And we predict that in the not-too-distant future it is going to be next to impossible to find men who will serve as councilmen, unless some change in government is made.

Tecumseh should lose no time in changing its form of government for reasons of economy and efficiency. It can become a city, elect a mayor and council members who will act as a board of directors, and they, in turn, can delegate their jobs to a competent manager, the same as dozens and dozens of communities are doing and are finding to be profitable, economically.

Tecumseh is too big to be running its business "by guess and by golly." The sooner we learn this fact the better off we are going to be, and the more efficiently our government will operate.

Fire Last Year Cost 257 Lives

PROPERTY DAMAGE IN MICHIGAN AMOUNTED TO NEARLY $25,000,000

Michigan fires in 1950 took 257 lives and destroyed property valued at $24,964,345.88, according to the annual state fire loss report compiled by the fire marshal division of the Michigan State Police.

The death toll was 62 higher than in 1949 and the monetary loss increased $2,056,086.30.

In their annual summaries sent to the state fire marshal, Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, local fire departments reported a total of 51,039 fires, 2,367 under the previous year.

Fatalities included 65 children and one fireman. During 1949 fires took the lives of 61 children and six firemen.

There were 15,738 dwelling fires in which damage to the structures totaled $6,837,387.98, and to contents, $2,582,462.58. Damage to buildings other than dwellings amounted to $9,168,501.13 and to contents $5,544,972.02.

A breakdown of the various types of fires included: automobiles, 7,297; aircraft, 42; dry cleaning plants, 141; bulk storage plants, 102; house trailers, 257; schools, 114; theaters, 73, and grass fires, 8,987. The loss in these amounted to $831,022.17.

Firemen answered 9,089 false alarms, 1,785 more than in the previous year. This brought the total number of alarms answered to 60,128, or 582 fewer than in 1949.

Careless smokers caused 3,351 fires. Other leading causes were children playing with matches, improperly burning rubbish or bonfires, misuse of petroleum products, defective electrical appliances and wiring, defective heating equipment and chimneys and overheated stoves, furnaces and boilers.

The 1950 death toll brings the total number of lives lost in Michigan fires during the last five years to 946.

JEEP JET 'COPTER

The Army has on order a little jet-powered helicopter, that folds up in a jeep, which two men, using ordinary tools, can stow away in a jeep. Two tiny jet engines, one attached to each rotor of the plane, will power it. It will carry only its pilot and a radio and will be used mainly as a scout observation plane. The helicopter will probably be parachuted along with airborne troops.

TRAVELLERS

During 1950 some 302,000 Americans went to Europe on an average two-month trip and spent $225,000,000 for transportation, fun, food, sights and lodging, according to the Commerce Department. This was the second biggest traveling year for Americans. The biggest year was in 1929, when 350,000 Americans went to Europe, spending less, however—$213,000,000.

Miss Dolores Krzyzaniak Weds R. Leland Randall

St. Mary's Catholic church in Manchester was the scene of a lovely wedding, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, when Miss Delores Mary Krzyzaniak, became the bride of Robert Leland Randall of Tecumseh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Randall. The double ring ceremony was performed at a nuptial high mass solemnized by the Rev. Fr. Walter Hennes, assisted by the Rev. Fr. Michael G. Collins of Tecumseh. The main altar was decorated with white gladioli and mums and large baskets of June lillies. The side altars were decorated with delphiniums.

The bride, given in marriage by her oldest brother, Leonard Krzyzaniak of Dearborn, chose a gown of white Chantilly lace with a scalloped neckline, and trimmed with silver bugle beads. The fitted waist ended in a five-yard-long train over satin, and the long sleeves formed points over the wrists Her finger-tip circular veil was trimmed with sin-inch Chantilly lace with scalloped edges. She wore a scalloped tiara with rhinestone and silver bugle beads, and carried a white pearl prayer book, a gift of the groom, with a shower bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Leonard Krzyzaniak, sister-in-law of the bride, as maid of honor, wore nile green starched sheer over taffeta, with a large picture hat and matching mitts. The bridesmaids were Nancy Randall, sister of the groom, Mary Lou Alderdyce, cousin of the groom, and Mildred Dresselhouse, friend of the bride from Jackson. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the maid of honor, pink, blue and yellow, respectively. Their flowers were matching colonial bouquets of baby mums, and they wore pitcure hats and mitts. Judy Krzyzaniak, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a rose starched sheer floor-length gown, fashioned the same as the bride's, with matching bonnet, and carried a colonial bouquet.

Ann Bauer, organist, played nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Charles Seckinger and Mrs. L. V. Kirk as they sang, "On This Day," "Oh Beautiful Mother," and "Ave Maria."

Richard Krzyzaniak was best man for Mr. Randall, and the ushers were Donald, Eugene and John Krzyzaniak, all brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Krzyzaniak, mother of the bried, and Mrs. Randall, mother of the groom, each wore rose lace dresses with white accessories, and corsages of gardenias. Mrs. Mark Randall, grandmother of the groom, wore a gray print and a pink carnation corsage.

A wedding breakfast for 100 guests was served in the church basement, immediately after the ceremony. The tables were decorated with streamers in pastel shades.

A reception was held at the Products Workers Union Hall in Tecumseh from 4 to 8 p.m., for 200 guests. A five-tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table. Mrs. Frank Glenn poured, and was assisted in serving by Marian Deaner, Florence Parr, Geraldine Cushman, and Gwendolyn, Shirley and Annette Bailey, Lucy Gerniger, and Mildred and Carolyn Chase. Guests were registered from Tecumseh, Manchester, Flint, Detroit, Coldwater, Dundee, Deerfield and Clinton.

For traveling, Mrs. Randall chose an aqua linen suit with white accessories and an orchid from her bouquet. She is a graduate of Manchester high school, and of St. Lawrence School of Nursing. She is employed in the offices of Dr. Ralph Helzerman. Mr. Randall is a graduate of Tecumseh high school, and attended Michigan State Normal College. He is employed in the offices of Tecumseh Products Co. After a trip through the south, they will reside at 213 N. Maumee street, Tecumseh.

Firemen Will Attend College

STATE-WIDE PROGRAM TO BE HELD IN JUNE ON UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

Fire fighters from all over the state will be on the University of Michigan campus at Ann Arbor from June 19 to 22 for the Twenty-third Michigan Fire College.

The fire college is sponsored each year by the University's Extension Service and the Office of Vocational Education of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction. Fire-fighters' associations and various industrial and state agencies cooperate.

There are several changes scheduled in this year's program as planned by a sub-committee of the State Advisory Committee for Firemen Education. The more important ones are:

1. Civil defense aspects of fire fighting will be given consideration.

2. The instructional phase will be extended a day by omitting the demonstsation of new equipment and starting courses Tuesday morning. However, the newest in fire-fighting equipment will be on display.

3. Two new advanced courses will be offered. One will cover advanced evolutions dealing with the strategy of attack at a fire, pumper operations and the use of ropes and hoists. The other new course will deal with firemen instructor training. Two other advanced courses will be offered as in the past. One of these concerns fire prevention and the other deals with officer training and public relations.

4. Certificates of participation, mailed out after the fire college in other years, will be presented at a luncheon on Friday, June 22. The luncheon, also a new feature, will be the concluding event. Richard E. Vernor, manager of the Fire Prevention Department of the Western Actuarial Bureau in Chicago, is to be the speaker.

5. Advance enrollment in the special courses is possible by writing to Department of Institutes, Extension Service, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

As in the past, six courses in basic evolutions will be the backbone of the fire college. These will deal with (1) hose, (2) salvage and overhaul, (3) minor extinguishing practices, (4) use of masks and resuscitators, (5) ladders and (6) hose off ladders. The basic evolutions must have been taken in a previous year to qualify for the advanced courses.

The annual fire college is part of a three-fold program in firemenship training offered by the University and the Michigan Department of Public Instruction. Short courses in up-to-date fire fighting methods are offered throughout the state in the communities desiring such instruction and two regional fire schools are offered each summer. Full information on these firemanship training programs is available from either of the sponsoring agencies.

Vaccinate Your Dogs, State Department Warns

If you plan to take your dog with you on your vacation at the lake or other resort, have him vaccinated against rabies now, Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of disease control, Michigan Department of Health, advised today.

A dog wandering around in the woods or rural area is apt to encounter a wild animal or another dog which is infected with rabies.

If your dog is bitten by a rabid skunk, squirrel, fox, other wild animal or dog, he may contract rabies and pass it on to members of your family before his illness is recognized, Dr. Leeder pointed out.

To safeguard your pet and your family, consult your veterinarian about having your dog vaccinated now.

There can be no cooperation between men or nations, if one gives orders that others must follow.

PUERTO RICAN NO. 1 HERO . . . Returning to Puerto Rico, Sergeant John Rosado, member of Puerto Rico's 65th regiment, is given a tumultous welcome on his arrival in San Juan from Korea. The sarge is one of the grade A heroes of the war. He has won the silver star, the bronze star and the purple heart with cluster, and now has been recommended for the congressional medal of honor, first Puerto Rican to be so honored. Rosado saved the lives of seven comrades by throwing his body over a Red mortar shell. The explosion blew him six feet into the air. He is now home on rotation, recovering from wounds.

Tecumseh Day

Paul Ammer, vice president and assistant general manager of Products, cut the ribbon that allowed the first ship to officially use the airstrip. The ribbon was held by Mayor Scott of Tecumseh, Ont., and his wife and two daughters. In making the dedication speech, Mr. Ammer briefly reviewed the growth of Tecumseh and the local port, and said that the new runway only marks another step in the community's forward progress.

The Dawn Patrol, a meeting of plane owners from near and far, is a well-known event in this area. This year its appearance here was sponsored by the Tecumseh Exchange Club. The ships began to arrive shortly before 6 a.m., and continued to come until nearly 10 o'clock. Pilots and their guests, and local residents who desired were served breakfast at the hanger. More than 600 were served, and three cases of eggs, 106 pounds of Canadian bacon and scores of pounds of coffee were used by the cooks.

The Exchange Club had left no stone unturned to assure the visiting pilots every courtesy. Chauffeured cars met the pilots as their ships came to a stop, brought them to the hanger for breakfast, and for those who desired to attend the church of their choice, taxi service was provided.

The ship from the greatest distance was from Oklahoma City, Okla.

After the ribbon had been cut, releasing the airstrip, the first plane to take off was a new Meyers 145, manufactured by Meyers Aircraft Co., here, and flown by Ray Betzoldt of the company His passenger was Robert Rodmart, also a company employee. The ship was delivered during the afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of Springfield, O., who flew it home.

Pilots, after the breakfast, spent most of their time in renewing old acquaintances, visiting the Meyers plant and inspecting the airport, which now is one of the finest in any town of Tecumseh's size in the state.

Not a single mishap occurred as the 200 ships landed and took off, during the day.

Straits Ferry Boats To Speed Up Traffic

The ferries at the Straits of Mackinac will go on an hourly schedule over the 24-hour period operating day and night, during the Fourth of July holiday anticipating heavy holiday traffic, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announces.

Starting last Friday, and continuing through Labor Day the boats will be leaving each city, St. Ignace, and Mackinaw City, hourly.

The regular boats the "Munising," the "Cheboygan," the Petoskey," and the "Straits of Mackinac" will be in use.

If traffic across the Straits hits its usual high peak on the holiday the boats will probably "run wild" departing from each city as fast as they can unload and reload, thus changing to approximately a 35 minute schedule.

Last year during the Fourth of July holiday period, including July 3-4 and 5th, the three main ferry boats averaged 131 trips apiece across the 7½ mile stretch of water and the "Straits of Mackinac" and "Chief Wawatam," pressed in to extra duty, made 87 and 15 trips respectively.

Good Food Need Not Be On Expensive Side

"Good food for your children doesn't have to be costly," according to Alice H. Smith, chief nutritionist of the Michigan Department of Health.

"Inexpensive food, enjoyably prepared to delight the taste of your children, attractively arranged to whet their appetites and pleasantly served in a homey, happy, relaxed atmosphere will do more for your children than the world's most costly delicacies served under less favorable circumstances."

"Basically," Mrs. Smith says your children need milk, meat eggs, vegetables, fruit, whole grain or enriched bread and cereal, butter or fortified margarine and iodized salt, every day . . . and it doesn't make much difference at what meal your child eats the various required foods as long as his three meals are about the same size and he gets some protein at each meal . . ."

Serve more milk and milk products, Mrs. Smith advises, because penny for penny milk provides more food value than any other food. Make a library of inexpensive nourishing recipes which your family enjoys. Plan meals a week in advance so that you can buy in quantities and use all you get. Buy the cuts of meat which are less expensive in proportion to their food value, and cook them slowly. Buy fruits and vegetables which are in season and use them raw or cook them as short a time as possible.

Do your own home baking and have a family garden. Let your children help plan, shop, prepare and serve your meals, putting to work some of the things they are learning in school.

These and other suggestions for providing good food inexpensively are contained in Mrs. Smith's article, "Feeding Your Children," in the Child Health Issue of Michigan Public Health. Copies of the magazine can be obtained by writing to the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

If Polio Should Strike, Here Are Some Pointers

Distribution of 1,500,000 "Polio Pointers for 1951" to every Michigan school child is planned by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which receives its sole support from the annual March of Dimes.

In an effort to keep down Michigan's case load as low as possible during the summer months when this crippling epidemic disease is most likely to strike, the Foundation issued the following advice "If Polio Comes:"

Don't—get over-tired by hard play, exercise, work or travel. This means men, women or children.

Don't—get chilled. Don't bathe or swim long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes.

Don't—have mouth or throat operations during a polio outbreak.

Don't—use another person's towels, dishes, tableware or the like

Don't—take children to places where there is polio. Ask your health department.

Don't—take your child out of camp or playground, where there is good health supervision.

Do—allow children to play with friends they have been with right along. Keep them away from new people, especially in the close daily living of a home.

Do—wash hands carefully before eating and always after using the toilet—especially important when polio is around. Also keep food clean and covered.

Do—watch for signs of sickness such as headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme tiredness or nervousness, trouble in breathing or swallowing.

Do—put a sick person to bed at once, away from others, and call the doctor. Quick action may lessen crippling.

Do—telephone your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, if you need help Locate through telephone book or health department. No patient need go without care for lack of money. Your chapter will pay what you cannot afford.

Do—Remember—at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling.

Russian Expedition To Study Canal Site

London—The vanguard of 412 natural scientists, biggest research expedition in the history of central Asia, has set out from Tashkent to help in preparing for the 700-mile Turkmenian canal.

It is hoped to create a new Soviet cotton-growing area, and to irrigate 3,000,000 acres of land in the canal zone, a Tass Soviet news agency from Tashkent received in London has declared.

Five groups of workers, organized by the Science Academy of the Uzbek Republic will conduct researches along the entire line of the future canal from the River Oxus across the Kara Kum Desert to the Caspian Sea.

Tashkent itself lies to the north of the mountainous region where the frontiers of Afghanistan, India, and China join. Turkmenia, where the new canal is to be dug, borders the northern limits of Iran.

Meter Measures Group Judgment On Subject

Schenectady, N. Y. — General Electric Company engineers have improved a new mathematical device known as an "opinion meter" which was first tried out at the Union College Junior Prom May 5 to elect pretty Carole Sprenger of Schenectady "Prom Queen."

The instrument is portable and can fit readily into a small suitcase. It consists of a number of small hand-held dials connected to a central computer. Individual opinions are registered on the separate dials, which read from zero to 100. In selecting the prom queen, each judge expresses an opinion of the candidate on the basis of 100 representing the ideal queen. Collecting the various figures representing each judge's estimate of worth the central computer instantly points to the number that represents the consensus of all. The candidates with the highest score wins.

Though highly adaptable to judging a beauty contest, the meter is designed primarily for determining group opinion on topics presented before business conferences, educational meetings, and assemblies.

How to make Wise Tracks to a Beauty

How do you buy a new car?

Are you one of those people who buy on love at first sight?

Or do you check cars feature for feature, price for price—then pick the one that gives you the most for your money?

Whichever you are, we'd like to suggest that you come in and see our 1951 Buicks.

It's a sure bet you'll go for the swift, smart look of a SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—fall seriously in love with the pace and power of its bonnet-filling engine.

And it's a cinch you'll go for the room and richness of those Buick interiors—the serene smoothness of Dynaflow Drive* and all-coil springing.

But don't let your emotion be the only judge — get the practical picture too.

Note that the power that gives you such a big kick here comes from Buick's famed valve-in-head Fireball Engine — which means you get a lot of miles from each gallon of gas you buy.

Note that the silken ease you enjoy with Dynaflow* goes hand in hand with real money savings in maintenance costs.

Above all, note what a Buick's price tag includes — how much more sheer automobile you get in a Buick than the same money would buy elsewhere.

How about making tracks to our showroom right soon—checking thoroughly into the matter—and see if you don't fall in love with a smart-buy Buick?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.
Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FIREBALL ENGINE
4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING • DUAL VENTILATION
PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT • TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE

Miss Kathryn Beevers Weds Carl W. Rothfuss

Wedding vows of Miss Kathryn Beevers, of Ann Arbor, daughter of Mrs. Frida Beevers of Tecumseh, and Carl W. Rothfuss, son of Mrs. Marie Nagel of Ann Arbor, were spoken at the Tecumseh Friends church, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Edward Escolme performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, light blue delphinium and majestic daisies. The pews were marked with blue delphinium.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Robert Beevers, wore a ballerina length gown of satin and lace with a lace jacket. Her fingertip veil fell from a juliet cap and orange blossoms. The bride carried a colonial bouquet with white roses and stepanotis.

Mrs. Margaret VanSchoten of Ann Arbor, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a blue delphinium centered with yellow ballerina gown featured the same as the bride's and carried a colonial bouquet of blue delphinium centered with yellow roses. Patricia Elliott, 10-year-old niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and wore a yellow ballerina gown with a colonial corsage of feverfew and yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Amos Wilson played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Herbert Frederick of Ann Arbor who sang, "O Perfect Love," and "Because."

Herbert Frederick of Ann Arbor was best man for Mr. Rothfuss and the ushers were Richard Sauer of Ann Arbor and Merlyn Downing of Tecumseh.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Beevers wore an aqua dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Nagel wore navy with white accessories and a red rose corsage.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the new church rooms immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a floral piece of blue delphinium and daisies and the traditional wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Joyce Beevers cut the cake and was assisted by Mrs. Ann Elliott and Mrs. Florence Oman, sisters of the bride. Mrs. Merlyn Downing, also a sister, was in charge of the guest book. Guests were registered from Ann Arbor, Brooklyn, Jackson, Britton, Ypsilanti and Tecumseh.

After a two weeks' trip through northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Rothfuss will reside at their newly furnished apartment, 1717 Dexter Ave., Ann Arbor. For traveling the bride chose a yellow silk dress with white accessories and a white rose corsage.

Mrs. Rothfuss is a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1943 and from Jackson School of Cosmotology. She is co-owner of the Vanity Beauty Shop in Ann Arbor. Mr. Rothfuss graduated from Ann Arbor high school in 1945 and is employed by Michigan Bell Telephone at Ann Arbor.

NEW GUM PLASTICS OFFERED TO REPLACE WAR-SCARCE METAL

Washington — An industrial research expert says gum plastics have been developed which are tough enough to replace many war-scarce metals.

Dr. S. M. Cadwell, research director for the United States Rubber Company, outlined the development and uses of the new plastics in a speech before a group of rubber experts here.

He said the industrial plastics are made of a combination of synthetic rubber and synthetic plastics. The end product, he said, is a tough, practically shatter-proof material which resists heat and cold, dampness and dryness, and will not rust, corrode, or change its size.

He said the plastics can be used for pipe, pipe fittings, industrial gears, television parts, machine housings, and other items. The new materials can be fabricated in many ways, he added, and can be drilled, sawed, threaded, or machined.

ONE HUNDREDTH YEAR—NUMBER FORTY-ONE • TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, JULY 12, 1951 FIVE CENTS A COPY

Would Rebuild Boulevard Here

STATE'S PROGRAM CALLS FOR WIDENING AND RESURFACING; LOCAL COST $25,000

The village council, at its regular meeting next Monday evening, will receive a proposal from the State Highway Department for the widening and resurfacing of Chicago Boulevard, (M50) within the village limits. The cost of the project to the village has been estimated at $25,000.

The state's program calls for the removal of all but four feet of the boulevard in the center of the street, replacing of the curb, and the placing of a concrete base under the part removed. The street then would be given a bituminous concrete cover. The estimate also covers the cost of resurfacing the two blocks of the pavement in the business district.

The state's proposal in its tentative form was received this week in the office of Angus Leitch, engineer for the village. Mr. Leitch has been working on the project for several months.

It was explained that the cost of the widening and the resurfacing of the boulevard will be about $125,000, from village limit, east and west. Sharing in the expense, however, will be the State of Michigan and the federal government, reducing Tecumseh's direct cost to approximately one-fifth of the total expenditure.

It is understood that there is a possibility that the resurfacing of the street might be completed this fall, if Tecumseh's agreement to the state's program is immediately forthcoming. However, the project may not be attempted until 1951.

The boulevard, within the corporation, has been in need of repairs for several years and early this spring it was next to impassable, due to a general break-up of the pavement. Road crews have worked on the highway many times this spring and summer but it appears that the state now feels that the highway is in such poor condition that the only remedy is to resurface it.

The bituminous concrete coating, it was said, has a life of about 20 years.

Survivors besides her husband, Arthur, are three sons, Gordon of Hastings, Donald and Norman, and a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Creager of Climax; a sister, Mrs. Agnes Harris of Tecumseh; a brother, Percy Boyd of Detroit, and two grandchildren. Her parents and a sister, Blanche Schoeck, preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church in Climax with burial in the Climax cemetery.

Sunday's Rain Measures 3 In.

WAS SECOND HEAVIEST RECORDED LOCALLY; SEWERS AND DITCHES FLOODED

The second heaviest rainstorm to be recorded locally occurred on Sunday when more than three inches of water fell, flooding streets, sewers and ditches. The rain was accompanied by winds, lightning and thunder, but damage here was negligible.

In some parts of the county, nearly four inches of rain was measured during the storm, which seemed to be the heaviest in the vicinity of Adrian, Blissfield, the Holloway-Britton area and around Riga. So swollen were some of the county ditches that the water poured across highways, and traffic was slowed to a walk or halted completely.

The first storm broke about 5 p.m., Sunday and continued until 7 o'clock. The second storm started at 9:30 and continued until about 5:30 a.m., Monday.

The heaviest rainfall in the county's history was on June 23, 1944, when 4.45 inches was recorded in four hours. In another storm in June of 1937, 3.92 inches of rain fell in 39 hours.

During the worst of the storm—and there were blinding flashes of lightning—traffic both in Tecumseh and on the rural roads, halted completely. Some motorists who failed to keep the car's engine running, had difficulty in starting their cars when the rain let up.

The only damage due to lightning in the county was on the James Constable farm, three miles east of Morenci, early Monday. Lightning set fire to a barn, which spread quickly to other buildings. Some hay and machinery were destroyed.

Four Alarms, One False, Keep Local Firemen Busy

Firemen answered four alarms since the Fourth of July, but one of them was false. Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, someone saw smoke coming from the rear of the stores in the vicinity of Greenwald's Laundry and called the department. An investigation proved that the smoke was coming from a chimney.

Last Friday, the department was called to the boiler room at the rear of the Brownville school. Combustion had started a fire in the roof. The damage was not estimated. Earlier the same morning, the firemen extinguished a grass fire on West Brown street.

On the Fourth, the department was called to the Arthur Dinse home on South Evans street, where a space heater had exploded. Damage, except to the stove, was negligible.

Peter Abram of Hudson, Former Resident, Dies

Peter Abram, a former resident of Macon township, passed away last Wednesday at 5 p.m. at his home five and one half miles northeast of Hudson. He had been in failing health the past few years.

He is survived by his wife Margaret, a son and three daughters; one of whom is Mrs. Victor Voorhees of Route 2, Tecumseh.

Private funeral services were held Saturday at 2:30 from the Charles E. Brown and Son Funeral Home, Hudson, with burial in Maple Grove cemetery, Hudson.

TWO BUILDING PERMITS

Two building permits were issued by the village during the past week. Norman Sisty, 721 S. Union and E. Welling, 411 E. Pottawatamie, each was granted permission to build garages.

The presentation was made last week. Fred is also the 1950 state champion and placed seventh in the national plowing contest in 1950. He graduated from Tecumseh high school last June. New Front In Bakery Will Not Affect Its Operatio:

Installation of a new, modern all-glass front in Van's Pastry Shop, East Chicago Boulevard, will be completed next week, Donald Norris, owner, said today. The bakery will continue to operate during the installation, Mr. Norris said.

The work of remodeling, Norris said, will be done with a minimum of inconvenience. He said that it is necessary for the bakery to operate during the change-over, to meet the demands of its customers, both wholesale and retail.

This display and sales room of the bakery also is to be remodeled, the owner said, and it will be air-conditioned for the customer's convenience.

Corp. "Bill" Aebersold Is Named Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Aebersold have received word from their son, Corp. William Aebersold, who is with the 8th Army stationed south of the parallel in Korea, that he has been named correspondent for the "Stars and Stripes" newspaper. He also stated that his replacement had arrived but it would take a few weeks to teach him his work, before he can be released to come home.

"Bill" spent eighteen months overseas in World War II, and would have graduated last June from Adrian College, had he not been recalled to service last October. Recently Bill and his cousin, Pfc. Donald Aebersold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aebersold of Tecumseh, spent some time together.

Stores Must Display Signs Indicating OPS Ceilings

Many Tecumseh merchants are reminded today that they are not in conformity with some of the regulations of the Office of Price Stabilization. Stores which are operating under CPR 7 are supposed to have a sign prominently displayed indicating that their prices are no higher than OPS ceiling prices. Groceries and meat markets are supposed to have signs posted displaying their classification number. Signs for both purposes are available at the Chamber of Commerce.

Service establishments are now required to have a list of the ceiling prices for the services rendered prominently displayed. The OPS also announces that beginning July 26, retail stores selling articles under the margin of CPR 7 must have each article marked with the ceiling price.

MEAD AND HODGES NAMED TO BOARD OF EDUCATION; TOUBORG RENAMED PRESIDENT

Voters of the Tecumseh school district approved a tentative budget of $294,000 for the coming year, and named two new members to the board of education, in annual election and meeting, Monday.

The new board members are Aden Mead and Dwight Hodges. Forty-three votes were cast in the election. Messrs. Mead and Hodges were unopposed for office. They succeed P. C. Satterthwaite and J. W. Spafford, who were not candidates for re-election.

The board met in regular session after the election and named these officers: J. K. Touborg, president; Paul Breitenwischer, vice-president; Mr. Hodges, treasurer, and Dr. Ralph Helzerman, secretary.

The board also approved a raise in the pay of its members to $5 per meeting. Heretofore, board members received $1 for each meeting, with a maximum yearly salary of $12.

Darwin Smith, elementary principal in the school system, tendered his resignation to the board at its meeting. Mr. Smith, who came to Tecumseh a year ago from New York state, has accepted a position as general sales manager for C. H. Ryerson, inc., of Canandaigua, N. Y., operator of one of the largest trailer sales companies in the nation. The resignation was accepted, but the vacancy was not filled.

The board also tendered a contract to Sue Elliott of Bloomfield Hills, as girls' physical education instructor. She is a graduate of M. S. C.

Wilbur Mault resigned, effective July 15, as janitor of the west branch school and the library. The vacancy was filled with the appointment of Dan Schultz.

Janitors' salaries were raised from $1 to $1.25 per hour, and a contract for revamping the plumbing in the Central School was awarded to Clauda Plumbing & Heating.

Water To Be Shut Off At Midnight, Saturday

If you're going to take a Saturday night bath, (in the tub), do it before midnight.

Archie Porter, chairman of the Council's water committee said today that it will be necessary to shut off the water in Tecumseh's mains at midnight, Saturday night, and that the water will be off until about 5 or 6 o'clock, Sunday morning.

The reason for the shut-off, Mr. Porter said, is to permit the installation of a gate valve in a main near the Tecumseh Products Co.

117 Lose Lives In May Traffic

FEWER PERSONS KILLED, BUT NUMBER OF INJURIES IS ON INCREASE

May was the second consecutive month this year to show a decrease in traffic deaths in Michigan. There were 117 persons killed, four less than during the same month in 1950.

According to a State Police monthly statistical report, however, the upward trend in injuries and accidents continued. May accounted for more persons injured than any other month this year and accidents totaled only slightly below the January high of 15,645.

There were 4,284 persons injured, an increase of 953, or 29 per cent, over 3,331 in May last year. Accidents climbed to 15,335, an increase of 4,499, or 42 per cent, over 10,836.

The entire reduction in traffic fatalities occurred in rural areas. There was an increase in urban areas. Pedestrian deaths were up sharply, 39 as compared to 27 for the same month the previous year.

The traffic toll for the first five months includes 576 persons killed, 17,695 injured and 70,980 accidents. Compared with the same period a year ago deaths are up 40, or seven per cent, over 536. Injuries increased 2,586, or 17 per cent, over 15,099, and accidents gained 12,203, or 21 per cent, over 58,777.

Travel during April, the latest month available, was 1.9 billion miles, an increase of ten per cent over 1.7 billion in April last year. Travel during the first four months was up 12 per cent, 7 billion miles as compared to 6.3 billion.

The death rate per 100 million miles of travel was 6.3, five per cent below the rate of 6.6 last year. This was the first time in 1951 that the death rate was lower than during the same period of the previous year.

Three young women were hurt, Saturday at 6 p.m., at Billington's Corners, west of here, when the car in which they were riding struck a truck and went into the ditch. The car was driven by Therea A. Parenteau, 18, Detroit, and the truck by Frank Hausenfrats, 40, of Jackson. Passengers in the car were Eileen Coyne, 19, and Patricia Coyne, 18, both of Detroit. New York Art Exhibit On Display At Siena

What is Modern Painting is the theme question proposed, as an exhibit of the works of modern artists loaned and arranged by the Museum of Modern Art, New York City, is being shown in Studio Angelico's "Little Gallery," Siena Heights College, July 16-22, from 7:00 to 8:00 o'clock.

The public is invited to find the answer among the thirteen colored panels featuring reproductions of well known paintings. These, together with an accompanying explanatory text, give information regarding the artists represented, their point of view, and their outstanding contribution to the development of modern painting.

These reproductions, in a few cases, photographs, with their respective explanation on each panel, are prepared to give the lay observer as well as the connoisseur, a comprehensive evaluation of the many ways in which artists interpret our modern, complex, chaotic world.

The sequence of the panels provides a very efficient means of becoming acquainted with and gaining an appreciation of the development of modern art. The choice of the selections feature the work of the Realists, the Self Taught, the Expressionists, and the Surrealists, in relation to color, form, space and design.

MUST DESTROY WEEDS

YOUR LIFE IS WORTH MORE TO YOU THAN FISH, TACKLE AND TIME

Fishing Is Fine, But It's Twice As Dangerous As Hunting

Fishing is good for you, and so are the fish.

But take it a little easy; there are some things which can make fishing a dangerous sport, the State Health Department told Michigan's would-be Izaak Waltons today.

Lives of twice as many men and boys are lost in fishing accidents as in hunting accidents, according to a study reported by a national life insurance company in 1947.

Two-thirds of the fishing fatalities were drownings involving mishaps in small boats, the study found. Most of the other persons who lost their lives were drowned when they fell into water while fishing from a pier or bank.

Don't get so excited about your fishing that you take out a boat which may leak, that you overload your boat, go out when a storm is coming up, lean too far out of your boat, stand up in your small boat, or try to change places with other passengers.

Small boats cannot be handled safely in wind, storm or rough water including the swell of large boats. A person who goes out in a small boat should be able to swim, or else take an old inner tube or life preserver with him.

If your small boat should capsize, don't panic. Wait for it to come up. Get a hold on it and stay with it until help comes or until you drift ashore.

Watch your footing when fishing along banks, docks and piers. Watch out for deep holes and swift currents while wading.

A hat, long sleeves and long trousers will protect you from severe sunburn, sunstroke and mosquitos. Take along a bottle of insect repellent.

If you are past the middle years, be careful not to overdo: Rowing and hauling in the big ones take a strong heart.

Don't drink lake or river water. Carry your own safe, cool supply. If you are bound to drink something stronger, drink it with your fish dinner, rather than enroute to your fishing spot or while fishing.

Take it easy—coming, going and fishing. Your life is worth more to you than fish, tackle or time.

YOUR DIET COST BY THE HOUR

If you have been reading your newspaper closely of late, you probably read where the Russian propagandists have been once more boasting of the superiority of their economic system. The illustration in the newest case has been commodity prices. In the U. S. S. R., where the government has the whole say, the prices of certain goods were recently reduced. In other countries, notably the United States, prices have been rising. Therefore, say the propagandists, the Russian worker is getting all the best of it.

The New York Times took time out to study the propaganda and then answered it, editorially. Here is what the New York newspaper said regarding its validity:

"The average Soviet worker earns somewhat less than $40 a week for 48 hours of work. After the new price reductions he must pay about $2 a pound for beef, almost $4 a pound for butter, 60 cents a quart for milk, and similarly for other foods. A single-breasted wool suit, whose price was not cut, will cost him almost $300, and a pair of shoes, $85. Little wonder that the Moscow censors restricted correspondents there to cabling the percentages by which prices were cut rather than the new reduced quotations."

All of us, men and women alike, are grumbling in this country about the cost of meat. It is true, meat is high—it costs real money. But let's look at the picture from another angle.

According to the United States Bureau of Labor, an hour of labor by an average American worker buys substantially more meat than it used to. In 1900, for instance, an hour of labor bought one and one-third pounds of pork chops. In 1925 it bought one and a half pounds of pork chops, and late in 1950 it bought a trifle more than two pounds. True, the price of these chops is much higher than in past times, as everyone knows, but the earning power of the worker has gone up still more.

In Russia the state runs all of the factories, and owns and controls all of the farms. It decides what will be produced, of what quality, and how much the price will be. Competition does not exist on the production level. Consumers must patronize designated state stores, and pay a designated price for a designated ration. And Russia has made it a policy to charge exhorbitant retail prices in order to drain off consumer income.

Compare that with the United States, where all kinds and sizes of stores are competing vigorously for trade—and, inflation or no inflation, are doing their best to undersell the other fellow. Here's one big reason why our living standards are so far ahead of communism's as to make comparison difficult.

DRAW YOUR OWN CONCLUSIONS

There are those among us in the nation — perhaps in Tecumseh and in Lenawee county — who would like to see our form of government socialized. Some folk, we understand, think that socialism is the answer to all social problems, that everyone should share and share alike.

Great Britain, while it is not admitted on the Island, has a socialistic government. It is failing miserably, even though billions of American dollars have been sent to England to bolster the economy.

Let's look at the local situation for an instant, both in England and in Western Europe.

Great Britain and Western Europe are desparate for coal. This is especially true in Britain's case. Don't forget that Britain was the world's major exporter of coal for centuries, and at one time enjoyed a virtual monopoly of the trade.

The shortage is not due to a lack of coal underground. England's reserves are estimated at 190,000,000,000 tons and Western Europe's at 150,000,000,000 tons, enough to last for centuries. It is, instead, the result of governmental policies which have destroyed individual enterprise and have substituted socialism and paternalism.

Abroad, the coal mines are either owned by the government or controlled by the government. Methods and equipment are largely obsolete. Worker dissatisfaction and absenteeism have been rampant, despite pleas of Prime Minister Attlee and other heads of government. Production per miner is rediculously low by American standards — and so are the miners' wages.

In all of the Western World, only the United States produces enough coal for its own needs, plus large quantities for export — and is ready to greatly expand production when the need arises. Britain and Europe now look to us for the coal they must have, and it will be provided if sufficient shipping is available and exchange problems are solved. And in the United States — this bulwark of the free world — coal is a product of free, competitive enterprise, not a government monopoly.

Here is a case where you can profitably draw your own conclusions.

Those folks who've always had a great big yen for a new Buick, but a big worry that Buick prices ran too high for their budgets.

Now we'll have to grant you that—on style and beauty and size and impressive appearance—a 1951 Buick looks like a pretty high price tag.

And we'll have to grant, too, that the zooming power and the luxurious ride and the heavyweight steadiness you get in a Buick would also indicate prices beyond the reach of most people.

But honestly, could anything be farther from the truth when you note the sample prices for 1951 Buicks in the panel yonder?

Isn't that beauty—with the big-power, big-mileage, eight-cylinder, valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and with prices starting below those of many of today's sixes—really within your budget picture?

Won't you admit here and now that you can have Buick room and comfort, can have Buick ride and handling, can have Buick style and size—for little, if any, more than you've been paying for lesser cars?

That leaves the next step up to you—stopping in to see us.

Come in soon, look over the SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER you've always wanted—and let that happy glow go surging all through you as you sign up for your smart-buy Buick.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Miss Erna A. Peterson Bride of William Smith

Miss Erna A. Peterson, daughter of Axel Peterson and the late Mrs. Peterson of Fife Lake, and William T. Smith of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Detroit, were married Saturday, June 30, at 2 o'clock in the Grace Lutheran parsonage. The Rev. A. Jeschke performed the single ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Peterson of Tecumseh, brother of the bride, and his wife, were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. Axel attended the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white ensemble and carried a white Bible and two orchids. Mrs. Peterson wore a gray suit with a red rose corsage. Mrs. Smith, mother of the groom, wore a black crepe dress with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

After the ceremony a reception was held for 30 guests at the home of the bride's brother, Victor Peterson, on West Patterson street, where a buffet lunch was served by Mrs. Ira Wight, Mrs. Carl Peterson and Mrs. Julius Vincze. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the bridal table.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home at 5075 Chalmers in Detroit where Mr. Smith is employed as a salesman.

Might Say
The Birds Got "Nettled"

Had dinner with Tik Bradley the other day, and over a frosty bottle of beer I found out about his job with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"Now just exactly what do you do?" I asked him. "Shoot birds with a cannon" he calmly replies.

Seems they actually do use a cannon—to shoot out a net over a flock of birds feeding on the ground. The birds start to take off at the sound of the shot, but the settling net brings them back to earth. Then they're banded around the leg so more can be learned about their migratory habits. Afterwards, they're let loose—and everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it was a good example of how when you learn the real facts they're often not as bad as they may sound at first. Like with people. Get to really know your neighbor and chances are you'll be more tolerant of his preferences—even though they're not your own. Take a good look, before you jump to conclusions.

James McDowell, superintendent, showed that the cost of operating the schools here during the coming year will be $294,512, and that the district's estimated income will be $320,530.01, leaving a balance at the end of the year of about $26,000.

Included in the cost of operation is a $46,575 item for debt retirement and interest on the new high school, and $23,000 for maintenance and capital outlay. Teachers' salaries will approximate $176,000.

The increase of about $35,000 in expenses next year over last year, Mr. McDowell said, is due to increased enrollment, the hiring of additional teachers, and the general upward trend in costs.

Earl H. Place, who resigned as superintendent here July 1 to take a similar position at St. Joseph, submitted his annual report to the district. Mr. Place estimated a sharp increase in the school's enrollment during the coming year, especially in kindergarten. This year's beginning class numbered 99. He estimated enrollment in September at 110, and by the fall of 1952 about 150. The school's total enrollment at the close of the year last June was 1,136.

Mr. Place also pointed out that a survey is to be conducted here in the fall by the University of Michigan, looking toward the size and location of a new grade school, which may be needed by 1953. He also pointed out that the facilities of a larger gymnasium are needed.

The $180,000 bond issue of March, 1948, for the building of the new high school, will be completely paid off in June of 1953, Place said, and the bond account will have an ample reserve. He also said that $30,000 worth of new equipment for the new school has been paid for in the past two years.

Briefly he reviewed the work of the school system through elementary and secondary grades, and declared that it is the school's aim to make the fundamental tools of education available.

The report of the Recreation Center, submitted by Max Smith, treasurer, showed that total receipts, including a $2,185.57 balance a year ago, were $7,676.09. Expenses last year were $6,168.23, leaving a balance of $1,507.86.

The report of Miss Ruth Harding, librarian, was read and approved, as was the report of the treasurer and secretary, and the Veterans' Institute.

Ten persons attended the annual district meeting, held after the election polls closed at 8 p.m.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN'S CLUB APPLIES FOR CHARTER

The Men's Club of the Presbyterian church has applied for a charter in The National Council of Presbyterian Men, a layman's group with 1500 Chapters already organized. It's main objective is to help every man find where he can most effectively use his abilities in the program of the church.

Men are organized into units of five to plan and carry out projects for the betterment of their church and community. Each man in the group has a part in making the decision of what the group is to do as a project, and the way it is to be done. This method of organization is the basis for the "Every Man Plan" conceived by laymen and adopted by the National Council at its second annual meeting in Chicago.

W. C. T. U. PICNIC

The Lenawee County Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its annual picnic at Riverside Park, Adrian, Tuesday, July 17, with a potluck dinner at noon. There will eb a program in the afternoon. Everyone is invited.

POW CHOW . . . North Korean prisoners of war are literally digging in to the task of preparing chow for fellow Communist prisoners in a P.O.W. camp behind allied lines in Korea. Rice, the staple food preferred by Chinese and North Koreans, is made in batches of hundreds of pounds in these huge kettles. This gives a graphic idea of the job involved in caring for thousands of Communist prisoners in allied hands. More than 10,000 were captured recently.

Hay Fever Sufferers Find Haven In Michigan

Hay fever sufferers can find haven in nearly half of Michigan's lake-studded vacationland, the Michigan Department of Health announced today.

To provide those who seek to escape hay fever with information on areas in Michigan with least ragweed pollen concentration, the Michigan Department of Health has prepared a map and chart which is available for the asking.

Most of Michigan's Upper Peninsula and the northern third of the Lower Peninsula have been comparatively free of ragweed pollen for the past ten years, the Department reports.

Ragweed in southern Michigan usually begins to pollinate about mid-July but the great northern trek of victims of the allergy does not start until the pollen concentration becomes heavy—about mid-August.

While the state-wide ragweed pollen survey begun in 1940 was discontinued in 1950, the Department has compiled a "hay fever map" from facts recorded in the final years of the survey. The ten years experience has shown that there is little or no change in the relative distribution of ragweed pollen in the various areas of the state from year to year.

Copies of "Ragweed in Michigan," a reprint from Michigan Public Health, official magazine of the Department, can be obtained without cost by sending a post card to the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

SATISFIED WORKER FILLS DEFENSE NEED

Belleair, Fla.—The worker who gets personal satisfaction as well as good pay from his job is the man who will contribute most to defense emergency production.

The finding was preached to industry executives here by Alexander R. Heron, San Francisco businessman and discussion leader at the 21st institute on industrial relations. The National Association of Manufacturers is holding the meeting for 200 executives from big and little business. Mr. Heron, vice-president of Crown Zellerbach Corporation, urged the group to develop a sound and fair personnel policy.

22ND AMENDMENT IS NOT NECESSARY—MRS. ROOSEVELT

New York—Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt said here she didn't "feel right about" the recently adopted 22nd Amendment limiting the President to two terms.

"I hate the admission that you have to pass a law to restrict the rights of the people to decide for themselves," she said on her radio program.

Referring to the election of President Roosevelt for a third and fourth term, Mrs. Roosevelt said she felt is a normal procedure to retain as President a man in close association with this country's wartime operations.

She mentioned the possibility of a dictatorship arising from long tenure in office. But she added she believed that "in a democracy that has grown up, the decision should remain with the people. A democracy should cultivate the active participation of the people and that should be our safeguard."

RUSSIAN CLOWNS ARE SERIOUS LOT

Moscow—Clowning is a serious business in Russia these days.

Circus clowns were told they must have special Communist training to improve their performances and stamp out old-fashioned capitalist funny business.

The Soviet literary Gazette called for a school of clowning, with satirical writers at its head.

In its circus comics would get training in 'political, social, and aesthetic disciplines, which are no less important for them than for stage, screen, and opera artists."

The magazine said: "The Soviet circus must flatly renounce vulgar, bourgeois acts and cosmopolitan mountebank masques which still persist in its performances and which hinder the correct development of clowning."

Approved State Resorts Protect Vacation Health

Your health is protected when you vacation at an "approved" resort in Michigan.

Scores of state and local health department sanitarians, trained to look where vacationists cannot see, keep current check on the sanitation of Michigan's 3,500 vacation spots to protect the health of the state's holiday-bound millions.

Special attention is given to overnight accommodations for tourists. The person who spends his entire vacation at one summer resort usually knows about the sanitation at the resort, but the tourist who takes a cabin for one night here, another, there, is not able to check sanitary conditions.

Inspections are made by local sanitarians in areas where there are local health departments. To serve areas which provide no local health protective services, the Michigan Department of Health has employed four specially trained men for the summer. This assures inspection of each resort in the state. The Michigan Department of Health also maintains one specialist in summer resort sanitation on a year-round basis to help resort owners with improvements.

Resort sanitation in Michigan is good, according to John Hepler, director of the Division of Engineering of the Michigan Department of Health. Many of the resorts in the state voluntarily meet all the high standards set by the Department for a "Sanitation Approved" sign. The majority of the others fail to meet only a few minor requirements and are working toward the approved status.

A "Sanitation Approved" sign at a resort assures the vacationist of a safe water supply, satisfactory sewage disposal, regular garbage disposal, good building construction, proper ventilation, adequate lighting, proper heating equipment and cleanliness. If food is served the approved sign means that the storage, preparation and handling of food are done in a sanitary manner and that pasteurized milk and milk products are used. If there is a natural bathing beach at the resort, the approved sign indicates that the beach is free of dangerous pollution or undue safety hazard and is generally safe. The water will be checked, if necessary, for pollution at intervals during the summer.

When any bathing beach in Michigan is found to be unsafe, it is posted with a sign, "Unsafe for Swimming."

Drinking water supplies along highways are checked to determine whether they are safe. The safe roadside supply bears a yellow and black sign, "This Water Safe for Drinking."

The resort sanitation program of Michigan's state and local health departments is conducted to assure that the tourist has the same health protection while vacationing that he has at home.

Say Cheaper Diamonds Are Coming Some Day

Diamonds made from a cheap source of carbon may be a commercial product of the future, according to Dr. C. L. Thomas, a Chicago chemist.

Director of research for the Great Lakes Carbon Corporation, Dr. Thomas points out that diamonds and graphite or soot are chemically the same, and that theoretically it is possible to convert another cheaper form of carbon into the very valuable crystalline gem, the diamond.

In times past the production of synthetic diamonds has been claimed by chemists, but very few claims have been well substantiated. Early attempts at synthesis were usually based on heating a cheap form of carbon, such as graphite or charcoal, under enormous pressure; so as to melt the carbon and then allow it to crystallize on cooling.

Making synthetic gems is hardly new. Rubies and sapphires large enough for cutting and use in jewelry have been produced on a fairly large scale. These synthetics are actual duplications of the natural gems—similar in structure, and appearance.

But the secret of making diamonds, according to Dr. Thomas, will probably come as a development of organic chemists working with compounds of carbon and other elements. The diamond is the hardest material known, and therefore is used in large quantities in cutting tools. For this purpose, fragments which are not suitable as cut gems because of smallness or color imperfections, can be put to use.

Scarlet Fever Case Load On Increase In State

Scarlet fever is appearing in Michigan at a rate of about 300 cases a week, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner reported today.

While scarlet fever can be readily treated with the newer drugs, it is a dangerous streptococcus infection which may result in damage to the heart, kidneys and ears. Rheumatic fever frequently follows an untreated case of scarlet fever, according to Dr. F. S. Leeder, Director of the Division of Disease Control of the Department.

Scarlet fever is most common in children under 15 and most serious in children under five.

If there are cases of scarlet fever in your community, put your child to bed at the first sign of a cold or sore throat; keep him there; keep others away from him and call his physician, Dr. Leeder advised.

The child who appears to have only a slight cold may have scarlet fever. The child who has a light form of scarlet fever is just as apt to develop complications as the one who is very ill and is more apt to spread the disease.

Symptoms of scarlet fever may include sore throat, fever, nausea, and later a pin point rash beginning on the chest, but it is unwise to wait for these symptoms to appear before calling a doctor, Dr. Leeder warned.

If the physician says that your child has scarlet fever, follow his advice carefully. Above all, keep the child in bed until the doctor gives him permission to be up, Dr. Leeder cautioned.

A New And Better Way Of Life

That's What Buying A Home In Tecumseh Acres Means

These homes are quality built, modern in every respect and all have fully automatic heat. Tiled bath with your choice of color. Interior decorated to your specifications and many other features.

You'll be amazed at the low taxes, the restrictions that protect your property values, school bus service to Tecumseh's fine schools, large spacious lots providing ample play area and garden space.

These homes are ideally located for the pleasures of Suburban living, yet they offer all the conveniences of City utilities.

As you know regulation X was imposed on October 12, 1950 and directly effects the purchase of a home by requiring a larger down payment, and reducing the term of the mortgage from 25 to 20 years. We have no assurance that even more drastic requirements may be imposed at any time. To be safe buy now. Its certain terms will not get better.

We shall also be happy to show you a wide variety of other property including new homes now under construction in Herrick Park. These lovely homes have full basements and easy financing terms arranged.

DO I KNOW HOW?

It takes just as much "know-how" to manage household finance properly as it does to run a successful business.
The "know-how" of buying so as to get the MOST for your money.
The "know - how" of BUDGETING our family income to cover all expenses, with something left over every month.
The "know - how" of SAVING according to a systematic plan.
As long as our savings account KEEPS GROWING, I know that our family is "showing a profit"—like any well-managed business should!

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of The Herald:
The writer commends you, for your editorial "Doing Things By Guess And By Golly," which appeared in your July third issue.
However, I disagree with your conclusions that, what Tecumseh needs is, a change in the form of government, for economy and efficiency.
It is the writer's experience, that the form of government is no guarantee for economy and efficiency.
An enlightened and active citizenry, intelligently directed is the best guarantee for the effectiveness of any form of government, based on the American philosophy of life.
The above does not mean that, the writer is opposed to changing our present form of government, but he is opposed to star chamber sessions that prevent the development of an enlightened and active citizenry, a citizenry that will know why a change is necessary, and then do something about it; Not argue about what the councilman is paid, for the opportunity to serve his community, while men are dying to preserve and perpetuate the best government the writer is familiar with. If you think our councilmen are underpaid, think of the schoolboard members, getting $12 a year, handling a far larger budget. Wayne, Michigan, schoolboard members get no pay. There are some Americans left, that put service before money. Thank God.
It is the writer's opinion that a citizens' planning commission, selected from all groups, active in the life of Tecumseh, whose sole function will be to plan the future of Tecumseh, and how it can be accomplished, is needed. It has been suggested by one of our leading citizens that, the State of Michigan may step in, and force certain changes. Let me say that there are no changes for the improvement of Tecumseh, that the State of Michigan can bring about, that the citizens of Tecumseh cannot do bigger and better, more economical, and more efficiently.
Yours for an active and intelligently growing Tecumseh.
Geo. A. Schumm, Sr.

Council O.K.'s New Boulevard

STATE'S PROGRAM FOR WIDENING AND RESURFACING M-50 GETS LOCAL APPROVAL

The Village council, in regular session Monday evening, approved a state-suggested program for the resurfacing and widening of Chicago boulevard, trunk line M-50, from west to east village limits, at a cost of $125,000. Of this amount, Tecumseh will pay approximately $25,000, the remaining amount to be paid out of state and federal funds.

Under the program as worked out by the State Highway Department and the village engineer's office, Tecumseh's portion of the cost will be deducted from weight and gas tax refunds, coming from the state to the village, over a three-year period. In this way, it is believed, it will be unnecessary to disturb the local tax program. The initial cost of the project will be paid entirely from state funds.

The improvement program calls not only for the resurfacing of the street but the cutting bacy of the island strip in the center of the street to a width of approximately four feet. The center strip now is 13 feet in width. The cut-back will furnish a 30-foot highway on both sides of the center island strip, which will meet with federal requirements and, therefore, afford federal participation in the expense.

The engineer's office announced a week ago that the program had finally been approved by the state and that work on the project might be started this fall or, if not, early in the spring. The condition of the boulevard street has been bad for two or three years and has been a bill of expense to both the county and the state. Recently, it seems, the state agreed that the old pavement had outlived its usefulness, and that resurfacing was the only remaining method of repair.

The council, because a tavern license is involved, approved the sale of Tecumseh Tavern, 108 W. Chicago boulevard, to Lamar Brown. Mrs. Walter Stutseman was given permission to operate a Bible and book shop in her home at 113 South Maumee street.

The petition of LaRue Hart, asking the council to reimburse him in an amount of more than $200 for meat spoilage when the village shut off the water in the mains last month, was denied. Hart, meat market operator, contended that when the water was shut off it destroyed the refrigeration in his cooler and as a result the meat spoiled. He said that he had no warning that the shut off was to be made.

Alfred Reeves was given the right to pick up papers, cardboard and wood from the alleys in the downtown district.

William Gilhouse of Tipton, was named as a patrolman in the police department. Recently, Sgt. Oliver Heberlein resigned and Wayne Schulze has been named a sergeant to replace him. Gilhouse will succeed Schulze.

The resignation of Angus Leitch, village engineer was accepted, effective as of July 16. Mr. Leitch was given one month's vacation pay.

Current bills in the amount of $6,043.30 were approved and paid. Reports of the several committee and department heads were read and placed on file.

PLACED ON PROBATION

Lawrence Huffstutler, E. Kilbuck street, was placed on 90 days probation and ordered to pay a fine of $15 and costs of $8.60 when he was arraigned in Justice Robert French's court, July 12. Police said that Huffstutler was creating a disturbance at his home, that he broke a window and in doing so cut his arm. It was necessary to remove him to Herrick Memorial Hospital for treatment before he was taken to the jail.

CHILD FALLS FROM CAR

John P. Marsh, 28 E. Brown street, aged four years, suffered bruises and shock, July 11 at 1:10 p.m., when he fell from a car driven by his mother. He was removed to Herrick Memorial Hospital and after treatment was taken to his home. Police said that the accident happened when the car door opened as Mrs. Marsh was turning onto Mill street from Brown street.

NOTICE

Road Scraper Operator Drunk

PART-TIME EMPLOYEE OF MACON TOWNSHIP GIVEN 10-DAY JAIL SENTENCE

After the road scraper he was driving crashed for a third time into a parked car, owned by Mrs. Raymond W. Beasley of Dundee, Lavern Steele of Britton, was arrested by police, charged with operating a motor-driven vehicle while under the influence of liquor. In Justice Robert French's court, Steele pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, court costs of $8.60 and to spend 10 days in the county jail at Adrian.

Police said that the accident happened at the intersection of West Chicago Boulevard and North Democratic Street at 5 p.m., July 12. Mrs. Beasley's car was parked on Democratic street and Steele apparently was attempting to go around the vehicle. Officers said that the scraper struck the car three times before it finally was damaged so badly that it could not be moved further. One front wheel and the axle of the grader were torn off. Police estimated that the damage to the car and the scraper amounted to $500.

Police said that Steele, although a resident of Britton, was a part-time employee of the highway department of Macon township.

FATHER-SON DAY

Father and Son Day will be observed at the Tecumseh Country Club on Saturday, July 21, starting at 1 o'clock. The program will include golf, softball, games, horseshoes, and croquet, with dinner at 6 o'clock. Reservations should be in the committee's hands by this evening. The committee includes Hugh Andrews, Bob Moore, Kenneth Hall and Jim Elliott.

ORDERED TO PAY FINE

Robert Bathgate, Monroe, was ordered to pay a $25 fine and $8.60 costs when he was arraigned before Justice Robert French, July 14, in connection with a hit-run accident, June 24. Police said that Bathgate's car struck a car operated by Larry Hart.

TOOK TOO MANY PILLS

Russell C. Havens, R. D., Adrian, was removed from a local tavern to Herrick Memorial Hospital by police at 10:15 p.m., July 14. Officers said that Havens had taken some 60 sleeping tablets. He remained at the hospital for 24 hours and then was released.

OFFERS MEAL TO G.I. . . . Part of her meal is offered by this little Korean girl to Corporal Andrew G. Kusilla of Richmond Hill, N.Y., who led the child to the refugee camp behind U.N. lines, when he found her in an embattled city. When she received food, the first bit of nourishment she had seen in three days, the child offered part of her meal to the American soldier, in gratitude for his having taken time to care for her and take her to safety and shelter.

Work Started On Postoffice

NEW BUILDING, EAST OF R. S. MOORE & SON'S OFFICE, READY IN OCTOBER

Work started this week on the new building that will house Tecumseh's postoffice, and construction will be completed and the building ready for occupancy in October. The site is the lot immediately east of the offices of R. S. Moore & Son Co., on East Logan street.

Howard Truesdale, owner of the property, said that the new building would be 32 by 90 feet in size, one story in height, and of cement, brick and steel construction. There will be no basement. Mr. Truesdale has a lease with the government for occupancy. The postoffice department will furnish all of the interior furnishings and fixtures. It is understood that lock boxes and other furniture used in the present office will be moved to the new building once it has been finished, and will be used until such time as new furnishings are available.

The federal government owns a lot on South Pearl street, immediately south of the Hammel building. This site was purchased several years ago and the department announced at that time that a new postoffice would be built there. However, due to the war, it was never constructed. Recently, the government is said to have refused to dispose of the lot, even for postoffice site purposes.

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

Police here have been advised that Charles M. Moore, arrested July 3 in connection with a larceny investigation at the Rumpf Truck Lines, had entered a plea of guilty before Circuit Judge G. Arthur Rathbun, July 16. He was remanded to the custody of the sheriff, pending sentence.

Mrs. Jennie McWilliams Is Buried At Holloway

Mrs. Jennie May McWilliams, widow of Andrew McWilliams of Holloway, died Saturday morning at Herrick Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient for four days. Mrs. McWilliams had been in failing health for two years, and for a year made her home with her sisters on their farm near Holloway.

Born May 3, 1870, a daughter of John and Margaret Rainey, she was united in marriage on May 25, 1892, to Andrew McWilliams. Mr. McWilliams died June 3, 1949.

Mrs. McWilliams was a member of the Holloway Presbyterian church and the Ladies Aid Society.

Survivors are a son, Melvin J., of Los Angeles, Calif., three grandchildren, Mrs. Reginald Andrews and Mrs. Kenneth Mathis of California, and Mason McWilliams of Holloway; five great-grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Anna Dunmore, and Ella and Maud Ralley. Several nieces and nephews also survive.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p.m., from the Green Funeral Home, the Rev. Donald C. Wilson officiating. Burial was in the Holloway cemetery. The bearers were Joseph Bock, Ralph Starkey, Vic Lowery, Robert Mitchell, Marlyn Fairbanks and Walter German.

Dynamic Wheat Crop Harvested

WORLD'S SMALLEST WHEAT FIELD YIELDS 10TH CROP OF TITHING GRAIN

Perry Hayden, Tecumseh's "Quaker miller," on Monday of this week harvested another crop of "Dynamic Kernels Tithing Wheat." It was cut by sickle and hand shears on what has come to be known as the world's smallest wheat field, located at the eastern limits of this village on M-50, just east of the old Ford-Hayden Mill.

It will be recalled that ten years ago, July of 1941, five months before Pearl Harbor, Mr. Hayden planted a cubic inch, containing 360 kernels of wheat on a tiny plot of land four feet by eight feet furnished by the late Henry Ford. The inspiration for the planting was a sermon heard in the Tecumseh Friends Church, Sunday, September 22, 1940, in which the text was John 12:24: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, except a kernel of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit". It was wheat planting time, and Hayden the miller, wanted to prove the text and see how much was "MUCH FRUIT". So the following Thursday, September 26, 1940, with the help of 12 boys from the Edison Institute of Schools at Macon, he planted the cubic inch, containing 360 kernels of wheat, given by the late C. D. Finkbeiner, of Saline.

At the time of planting he announced that he would take one tenth of the first harvest, as a tithe, in accordance with the Biblical injunction found in Malachi 3:10, and pay it to the church, and replant the nine tenths. This, he figured, could be done for six years, in accordance with the Sabbatical plan of sowing for six years as found in Genesis 23:10. In other words, with a few kernels of wheat, possibly a lesson on "rebirth", "tithing", and the "Sabbath" could be taught.

By 1946, the cubic inch had grown to 72,150 bushels of wheat, worth $150,000, after five tithes had been taken out. Since then a book has been written, and a film produced, both called "God Is My Landlord", and the "Quaker Miller" who set out to take God at his word has been busy filling dates from Mexico to Canada and coast to coast telling the famous story.

The tiny plot of wheat harvested this week was planted last year on the tenth anniversary of the original planting. Instead of planting the nine tenths and carrying forward another "Dynamic Kernels Tithing Wheat project" expanding from year to year, it is the plan of the Dynamic Kernels Foundation to plant each year on the original site, a little plot of wheat to be known as the "World's Smallest Wheat Field", to keep alive what the late Henry Ford said was one of the greatest lessons ever taught.

PIT CONTINUES TO LEAD IN POPULARITY IN SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM

Swimming continues to be the most popular sport in the summer recreation program in Tecumseh and, according to reports from The Pit, 220 youngsters are enrolled with a total attendance during the five-lesson period last week of 783. Ten beginners passed their tests last week. They are Gary Crawford, Bob O'Brien, Glen Haviland, Ann Cameron, Jerry Robinette, Max Smith, Retta Crosby, Diane Socks, Joe Jaruso and Carol Ross. These youngsters each can swim 30 yards and are now entered in the intermediate class. Several more children are expected to pass tests this week or next.

FORMER SUPERVISOR, TOWNSHIP CLERK SPEAKS TO THE ROTARY CLUB HERE

The functions of county and township government from the time of inception in the early 1800's was interestingly discussed by H. H. Hanna, township clerk, when he spoke to the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening, following dinner at the Country Club. Mr. Hanna is a former township supervisor and has been interested in governmental affairs for many years.

Tecumseh township was organized under the direction of Governor Cass, Michigan's first executive, and at one time this village was the county seat of Lenawee. However, after a three year discussion, Adrian became the seat of government because of its more central geographical location. At the time of its organization, Tecumseh was one of the largest townships in the county, Hanna said, and today it is the smallest.

Hanna told of the old town meeting days, when as many as 300 and 400 persons attended the elections, held the first Monday in April. In those days, he said, the taxpayers actually voted on road building and road maintenance at the meetings, elected pathmasters and "worked out" a part of their taxes in road building. This system has since been changed with the establishment of road commissions.

A round table discussion followed Hanna's talk and he answered several questions regarding changes in government functions. Discussing welfare loads of today as compared to those in the 1800's and in the early 1900's, Hanna declared that in the early years it was a disgrace for a family to accept public assistance. However, he pointed out that public thinking on this subject has changed and today, federal, state and local aid is commonplace.

METHODIST PASTOR, ADRIAN COLLEGE PROFESSOR DIES AFTER 2-MONTH ILLNESS

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the Methodist church here for Dr. Norman MacNaughton, pastor of the church since 1942, who died last Thursday morning in Bixby Hospital, Adrian, after a two-months' illness. Dr. E. H. Babbitt, a vice president of Adrian College, officiated. The bearers were Willis Porter, Herbert Dillon, Elvin Duvall, Edward Beal, Paul Hadsell, and Dr. Truman Rentschler. The body was cremated.

Dr. MacNaughton, popular throughout the county and the state as a speaker on religious and civic subjects, served for 20 years as a professor at Adrian College, where he was held in high esteem by both the faculty and the students. He held the chair of Christian Philosophy at the College since 1930, when he came to the Adrian institution from Chicago. He became pastor of the Methodist church here in 1942, and resigned the pupit only recently, because of ill health.

Even after semi-retirement from his college work, Dr. MacNaughton continued to teach several classes. At the alumni banquet in 1950, he was honored by some 250 former students when he was chosen as the principal speaker and presented with a purse by members of the faculty.

Until about two months ago, Dr. MacNaughton continued his activities in both the church and the college, despite his 71 years. He entered the hospital on Sunday, preceding his death on Thursday.

Born in Glengarry county, Ontario, Canada, March 4, 1880, Dr. MacNaughton was a son of the late Alexander and Sarah MacNaughton. He was educated in the University of Chicago and took his Master of Arts degree at Yale University. He has previously earned his A. B. degree, and his B. Th., and D. B. degrees at McMaster University at Toronto. Adrian College conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws on Dr. MacNaughton in 1945.

Before coming to Adrian College, Dr. MacNaughton had pastorates in Olivet Baptist church, New Westminster, B. C., from 1918 to 1924, and the Community church, Southfield, Ill., from 1924 to 1930.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Kathleen MacNaughton, whom he married in Toronto in 1910, three sons, Douglas MacNaughton, who holds a pastorate in Hoytville, O., Norman W. MacNaughton of Kingsport, Tenn., and John F. MacNaughton of the University of Houston, Texas; a brother, John A. MacNaughton of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada; a sister, Mrs. Walter E. Quick of Vancouver, B. C. He was preceded in death by a brother, William MacNaughton of Winnipeg.

During the meeting, plans were made to enter a float in the parade at the biennial international convention in Toledo in August. The float will be in keeping with the Indian theme, with Chief Tecumseh, a squaw and braves. Mrs. Clark Vincent of Tecumseh and Al Augustus of Ann Arbor were named chairmen of the event.

After the meeting a "millionaire party" was enjoyed with games and prizes.

PLACED ON PROBATION

W. E. Birdsall, postoffice inspector of Detroit, advised police this week that Donald H. Rutledge, former local postal employee, had been placed on two years' probation and that the case in which Rutledge had been detained was closed. Rutledge was detained after a quantity of undelivered parcel post and two first class letters had been found discarded in the vicinity of the mill pond, several weeks ago.

IF YOU ARE STAR-MINDED, JULY OFFERS AN UNUSUAL HEAVENLY DISPLAY

Three Planets In a Row May Be Seen After Sunset In The Southwest

Not one, not two but THREE planets in a row!

That's the prospect for late July in the southwestern sky after sunset, Dr. Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, reports.

Dominating the trio of planets will be the brilliant Venus which will be at its brightest on July 28. No one can mistake this planet which has been the bright spot in the west during the early evening hours for weeks.

Here's how the other two planets will get "into the act," Dr. Losh reports. Mercury, which was in evidence in April, will be to the right of Venus and to the left will be Saturn. The three will be almost in a straight line.

Two bright stars will add further color to the southwestern sky, Dr. Losh adds. The bright Regulus will be to the right of Mercury while Spica will be just beyond Saturn.

"Mercury's position for observation will not be as good as it was in April but it should be easily identified in relation to Venus," the Michigan astronomer points out. "It will reach its best position on Aug. 3."

As Venus disappears in the west, another bright planet will be rising in the east and will soon claim the attentaion now given to Venus, Dr. Losh points out. Early in July Jupiter was seen almost exactly in the east by midnight. By the end of the month, it will be visible by 10 p.m.

July also brings with it an excellent chance to look over the Milky Way that great concourse of stars, star clusters, bright nebulae, star clouds and dark dust clouds that has been observed by man through the ages.

"The Milky Way may be easily traced during summer evenings," she says. "Starting in the northeast, it may be followed across the sky through the zenith or midpoint in the sky and on through its two branches."

One branch passes through Scorpius, one of the most beautiful of all the constellations, according to Dr. Losh. The other branch goes through the constellation Sagittarius.

Scorpius is visible directly in the south and consists of a line of bright stars curved like a giant fish-hook. One of the stars in this constellation appears very bright and has a fiery red hue. It is Antares which is believed to be one of the largest of the known stars, she reports. Antares is 400 times the diameter of the sun, has 1,600 times the brightness of the sun but is so distant that its light takes 250 years to reach the earth.

Sagittarius, the Archer, is low down in the southeastern sky, and represents an archer with bow outstretched and aiming a shaft at the heart of the Scorpion. The eastern half of Sagittarius is better known as "The Little Milk Dipper" since the stars outline a dipper but one that is upside down.

Tecumseh Gets Two Good Bargains

The State Highway Department's proposal to resurface Chicago Boulevard, (M-50), from east to west village limits, and through the business district, is a step in the right direction, and one that should have been taken two or three years ago.

The method of financing the improvement, which will cost approximately $125,000, also should meet with the approval of the taxpayers here, inasmuch as Tecumseh will be asked to pay only about one-fifth of the cost, the remaining $100,000 to be paid with state and federal funds. Tecumseh will meet its $25,000 obligation on a three-year time payment plan which should not disrupt its economic program.

We are in accord with the program with but one exception. We dislike the plan to reduce the width of the boulevard in the center of the street to four feet. We would like to see it at least six feet in width. At the present time the boulevard strip is about 13 feet in width and, we quite agree, it is a bit too wide. However, we are inclined to believe that a four-foot strip is too narrow, and that a six-foot strip would better serve the residents of Tecumseh and, at the same time, it would meet the requirements of the State Highway Department.

The boulevard strip in the center of the highway is an excellent safety zone for pedestrians, either at street intersections or in the center of the block. Many residents of the boulevard "neighbor" with residents on the other side of the street and they "jay walk," so to speak, in crossing the street, rather than walk to the nearest intersection to cross. The six-foot safety strip in the center of the street affords them some protection from traffic if they happen to get marooned while crossing the busy thoroughfare. And, too, children crossing at interesections find the boulevard a safe place to stand while traffic flows by.

There may be those who will argue that the four-foot strip will answer the same purpose as the six-foot island, but it is debateable. If the boulevard is narrowed, it will always remain narrow. We'd rather have a six-foot island than a four-foot one, purely for safety purposes.

When the boulevard was laid out, many years ago, traffic through Tecumseh was not one-tenth as heavy as it is today. Also, ordinances limited the speed of traffic to 15 or 20 miles an hour. Now a 30-mile an hour speed is permitted but seldom observed. The Boulevard is the fast traffic street in Tecumseh. When the traffic lanes are widened, as they will be when the resurfacing project is completed, it undoubtedly will move faster than it does today. It is then that the safety island will be more thoroughly appreciated and, again, we contend that a six-foot island, rather than a four-foot island, will best serve the public.

Chicago Boulevard, from the west to the east limits of the village, has long been in need of resurfacing. For several years the County Road Commission has found the Boulevard pavement to be a headache to repair, because of its delapidated condition. This year, especially, the expense of maintaining the highway has been heavy. Each year, the flow of traffic on the street becomes greater and greater and now, it appears, the State Highway Department has decided that the old pavement has outlived its usefulness.

The present plan for rebuilding and widening the pavement is the result of conferences that have been going on here for some time between the State Highway Department and the office of Angus Leitch, village engineer. The state's proposal to do the work, and the method of financing it, was submitted to Mr. Leitch at a conference in his office about two weeks ago. It seems to be a very fair program from Tecumseh's standpoint, and it is also proper that both the state and the federal government should participate in the expense.

The village engineer's office also should be commended for another program that it worked out with the State Highway Department for the maintenance of Trunk Lines M-50-52 within the corporation. For years, the village has swept the streets, removed snow and done minor repairs at its own expense. In the new agreement, the state has allowed a $3,500 budget for this work.

With tax money scarce, and with the village scraping the bottom of the barrel most of the time to find needed cash, the state's assistance is certainly welcomed by taxpayers. Operating a village is just like operating a business. Financial leaks must be plugged, and angles of income must be observed closely if taxes are to be held down and the best interests of property owners served.

Industry Eyes Rural Michigan

MORE DISSATISFACTION IN DETROIT AREA THAN IN OUTSTATE DISTRICTS DISCOVERED

Industry comes to Michigan and stays, declines to come, or moves away, for definite and determinable reasons.

These reasons are set down in a careful study just issued by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan and a task force of the Michigan Economic Development Commission for which the survey was made.

Facts and conclusions were compiled from personal interviews with a representative sample of Michigan manufacturers. Of 200 industrialists, interviewed last year, twelve said they have been considering moving all or part of their plant to another state. A dozen more were considering expansion of their plants outside Michigan.

The survey concludes that this indicated no serious threat and says that the loss, if it should occur, would be more than compensated by construction of new plants and the movement of industry into Michigan. However, many industrialists who do not consider moving still have many complaints and, says the report, "One major cause for NOT planning to move a plant is a general state of inertia rather than the advantages of plant location in Michigan over alternative locations."

Advantages of a Michigan location most frequently mentioned by manufacturers are:

1. Nearness to markets; particularly to the automotive plants.
2. The availability of labor personnel with highly specialized skills.
3. The presence of a labor force familiar with production techniques.
4. Nearness to materials; especially semi-fabricated parts.
5. A liking for the state as a "nice place to live."

Disadvantages most often mentioned include:

1. High labor costs—relative to output per man hour.
2. Difficulties with organized labor.
3. High local taxes, traffic congestion, lack of space for expansion.

Considerably more dissatisfaction was found in Detroit than in outstate areas.

Many manufacturers saw a need for production of more steel in Michigan.

The survey was made under the direction of Dr. Rensis Likert of the Institute for Social Research, University of Michigan. The Survey Research Center, which made the study, is a division of the institute. Chairman of the Michigan Economic Development Commission's task force is Walker L. Cisler, executive vice president of the Detroit Edison Co.

Fewer Cases of Polio Are Expected This Year

Approximately 27,000 cases of polio will occur in the United States during 1951, a University of Michigan School of Public Health statistician has predicted.

"There are a number of reasons for supposing that 1951 will be a far less severe year for polio than the record year of 1949 during which about 43,000 cases were reported," Dr. Fay M. Hemphill indicated.

Dr. Hemphill's "guesstimate" is based on figures supplied to him through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., by the United States Public Health Service which receives weekly reports from the various state health departments throughout the nation.

Since June, 1950, he has been making a continuous statistical study of the areas and number of polio cases occurring in the United States. His studies are sponsored by grants from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc.

In the twenty-sixth week of last year, Dr. Hemphill predicted that slightly over 32,000 cases of polio would occur during 1950, and the year's final figure revealed that 33,271 cases were reported.

Although the U-M statistician believes 1951 will be far under 1949 in the number of reported polio cases, he pointed out that by the ninth week of this year a greater total number of cases had been reported than during the first nine weeks of 1949.

However, Dr. Hemphill said that by the twenty-sixth week of 1951 the United States total was 2,830 reported cases which was 350 cases less than the total of the first twenty-six weeks of 1949.

He added that the weekly figures indicated that only 340 cases were reported during the twenty-sixth week of 1951 as compared to the 480 cases reported during the twenty-sixth week of 1949.

"This lower level of weekly polio incidence at this time of year is one of the major factors that leads me to forecast a much lower total number of polio cases for 1951," Dr. Hemphill explained.

U. of M. Display Shows Irish Hills 15,000 Years Ago

A piece of Michigan's Irish Hills and some of their inhabitants of 15,000 years ago have been reproduced in a new diorama just added to the University of Michigan Museums.

Interest in the exhibit is centered on a group of mastodons, elephant-like creatures, feeding on trees and shrubs. Ot one side of the natural habitat scene a giant beaver, with a broad flat tail, is working beside a pond. When the animal was living he was four feet high and as big as a black bear. In the trees beside the pond stands a native Michigan moose. All of these animals are now extinct.

Unique features of the life-like display is a beautiful changing sunset. The colors in the sky gradually change by means of a system of reflectors, lenses, and a color wheel taking about a minute to complete a cycle. The changing sunset in the diorama is used for the first time in the United States.

The entire diorama was created by George Marchand, well known museum artist. Marchand made the animal models of wax patterning them after skeltons and restorations in the Museum. Long hairy covering, which the mastodons are believed to have had, are represented on the models by coarse flax and hemp.

Trees and shrubs of the period shown in the diorama are made of various common weeds, like goldenrod and shepherd's purse. These have been treated to preserve them and colored to give a realistic look.

A mystery surrounds the disappearance of the mastodons from North America, according to Irving G. Reimann, University Prefect of Exhibits. This distant cousin of the elephant should have been hardy enough to survive and scientists have not come up with any reason for their becoming extinct. Reimann says that it may have been due to disease, extended drought, or some unknown climatic change.

The new diorama is located in the Museum's Hall of Evolution near the assembled skelton of a mastodon, measuring about nine feet high at the shoulder, which was found near Owosso in 1944.

U-M RECOMMENDS 682 TO STATE AS TEACHERS

ANN ARBOR—Another increase in the number of candidates for the teachers certificate has been reported by the School of Education at the University of Michigan.

During the period from July 1, 1950 to July 1, 1951, the school recommended 682 for the certificates, Dean James B. Edmonson reports. This compares with 594 in the 1949-50 year and 473 in the 1948-49 year.

The figures include graduates from all units of the campus seeking a teachers' certificate. The School of Education acts as the clearing office for all recommendations made by the University to the Michigan Board of Education, the agency which issues the certificates.

Schools In Rural Areas Are Still Lowest In Pay

ANN ARBOR—Michigan's rural schools continue to be at the bottom of the ladder, as far as salaries for teachers and opportunities to employ teachers are concerned, a report from the University of Michigan shows.

The report was prepared by the University's Bureau of Appointments and Occupational Information in cooperation with the teacher replacement offices of other colleges in the state.

The average salary of a beginning teacher in the rural schools in 1950-51 was $2,410 for a college graduate, $2,075 for a county normal graduate. In the state as a whole, the average beginning salary was $2,600 for a college graduate. In the rural schools, there were 3,051 teachers who had special or limited certificates.

In 1950-51, 47 rural schools were closed as compared with 59 which were closed the previous year. Most of these closings were due to county reorganization or consolidation of schools, and the enrollment in 129 rural schools shows an increase during the current year. There were also 141 new teaching positions opened in the rural schools this year.

Of the 4,658 "new" teachers hired last year, 1,493 were in the rural schools. The total of "new" teachers included 2,635 who were inexperienced, while the rest had transferred from one school to another. Of the inexperienced teachers, only 496 were in the rural schools. However, a high rate of turnover in the rural schools was revealed in the report that 513 teachers had transferred from one school to another within the same county, while 267 transferred to a rural school in a different county.

Of the total number of new teachers employed in the rural schools last year, 786 were in one room schools having eight grades, the University report indicated.

Harvest Season Most Dangerous

TAKE TIME TO BE CAREFUL, HEALTH DPARTMENT WARNS FARMERS

Take time to be careful, the Michigan Department of Health warned Michigan farmers today as the harvesting season got underway in earnest.

Farming is one of Michigan's most hazardous occupations. One out of four Michigan people who are killed at work are killed while farming. Scores are injured every day during the harvesting season.

The variety of Michigan farming which requires a farmer to be a jack-of-all-trades, and the multiplicity of jobs during the short harvesting season makes this season particularly danger-fraught. It is the person who is preoccupied—tired, hurried, worried, grieved or peeved, or even hungry—who is most apt to have an accident.

Make up your mind to use safe practices throughout your farm, regardless of the time or temporary inconvenience involved; the time it takes you to be careful may save you from disabling injury, from loss of crops and property and from death, the Department urged.

It offered these suggestions for Michigan harvesters.

Know and be sure your help knows the common hazards associated with each type of farm equipment you use, particularly power machinery and tractors. Read your instruction books carefully and observe their safety precautions.

Check each machine thoroughly before you put it in operation. If shields or guards are loose or missing, replace them. Check for loose bolts on seats and platforms.

Make sure that all universal joints are securely fastened to their respective shafts. When coupling power take-off machinery to the tractor, check the length of telescoping shaft for correct operating clearance. Be sure you use a safe, suitable pin for coupling the machinery drawbar to the tractor drawbar.

Never allow any "passenger" to ride on any part of the power machine or tractor. Never climb on the machine when it is in operation. Train the person who is to operate your tractor. Keep inexperienced help and children away from all machines and tractors.

Stop your tractor and shut off the power before you adjust, oil or clean the machine and before removing obstructions from feeders, cutterbars and the like. Put your tractor out of gear. Shut it off and put its brake on when you leave it.

Don't operate your tractor in the barn any more than necessary and particularly do not leave it idling in the barn. Don't fuel a hot tractor. Have the electrical system and appliances in your barn checked regularly. Even one spark in a chaff-and dust-filled barn may mean your crop, building and your life.

Keep your small tools, particularly forks and sharp-edged tools in the racks they belong in. Be sure their handles are intact. Use strong ladders when you climb, and watch your footing. Be sure that hay chute openings are kept closed or have proper guards.

Check fiber ropes for fraying or loose ends and be sure splices are strong. Keep people out from under pulleys and overhead hay trolleys when hoisting or putting in hay.

Wear a hat and shirt when work-clothing while operating machinery with shafting, belting or gears.

Be sure that all farm equipment you take onto highways at dawn or dusk is properly lighted, front and rear. Transport slow moving farm machinery at hours of least traffic and give speedy passenger cars plenty of room. Use care in entering and crossing highways and observe all traffic rules. Cut down brush or weeds that obscure your drive.

Wear a hot and shirt when working in the sun. Eat regular meals. Drink plenty of cool, not ice cold, water. Avoid alcoholic drinks. Use additional salt in your food. Get a good night's rest.

Take care of yourself, and take time to be careful. Safe harvesting fills barns and granaries; carelessness fills hospitals and cemeteries

Says Storing of Damp Hay Is Like "Playing With Fire"

Farmers who store their hay crop before it is dry enough to "go in" are apt to be "playing with fire," cautions Louis G. Hall county agricultural agent.

It requires only a small pocket of damp hay to start trouble. Fire losses from overheating usually are the result of improper checking or an inclination to take a chance.

Unusual odors may be the first symptoms of heating. Vapor rising from a moist area on top of the hay may be another warning.

A hay probe and thermometer provides the safest way to check for dangerous heating. Mr. Hall tells how to make a homemade hay probe this way. Take a 10-foot length of half inch pipe or electrical thin-wall conduit with a hardwood point.

Drill several quarter inch holes in the pipe, just above the point. After the probe is inserted in the hay, a thermometer is suspended inside from a string. Readings should be taken at several locations and depths throughout the mow. Leave the thermometer in the hay for about 15 minutes before taking a reading.

Hall explains that temperature readings as high as 140 degrees fahrenheit are not too serious and may be expected in the normal curing process. But daily reading should be taken at this stage. Temperatures as high as 160 degrees are a definite danger signal and reading should be taken every few hours.

If the temperature reaches 180 degrees, shut off ventilation, call the fire department and start removing the hay as quickly as possible.

Quite a Run

The train was pulling out and the old gentleman was just settling down comfortably. Suddenly the door burst open and a young man tumbled into the coach and seated himself, panting and puffing, opposite. The latter looked on with obvious disapproval.

"You must be very unfit, young man," he said, after a while. "Why, when I was young I never panted like that after a run."

"Perhaps not," said the other, "but I missed this train at the last station."

Had the Cover On

"I take off my hat to people who can eat oysters. I tried them for dinner last night and one was my limit."

"What was the matter? Weren't they fresh? What did they look like when you opened the shells?"

"Oh, do you have to open them?"

TIMELY SALE IN PRICE WAR . . . Not to be outsold by other leading department stores which have been in the throes of a price war, a department store on Union Square, New York City, dropped all barriers on prices on nationally-known watches. Many of the timepieces were listed at 50 per cent off their former retail price. Representatives of the major watch companies, seeking to control retail prices of goods that have passed from their ownership, have sought to serve injunctions against the sale and put an end to the consumers' field day. Here's a view of a watch department jammed with buyers.

NOW THEREFORE, Be it resolved.

(1) That the Village hereby requests the State Highway Commissioner to proceed with said improvement.

(2) That the Village's share of the estimated cost of said improvement will be paid to the State Highway Commissioner for deposit with the State Treasurer for credit to the State Trunkline Fund when the improvement is placed under contract, or at such later time as may be mutually agreed upon by the Village and the State Highway Commissioner, from Weight and Gasoline Tax funds made available to the Village by Acts 51, 54 and 55, Public Acts of 1951; or from other funds provided by the Village; and that if the Village fails to make payment of its share of the cost when due, the Village hereby authorizes the Auditor General to withhold a sufficient amount from funds becoming available to the Village from the Acts named above to cover the Village's indebtedness to the State Highway Commissioner, and the Village expressly consents to such withholding. Withholding shall begin with the first distribution after the indebtedness becomes delinquent, and shall continue from succeeding distributions until the indebtedness is paid in full.

(3) That upon determination of the actual cost of the improvement, any adjustment necessary to reconcile the estimated cost with the actual cost will be made.

(4) That upon completion of the improvement, parallel parking, in accordance with State statutes, will be put into effect and thereafter enforced by the Village.

(5) That as much of the street surface, now or in the future, as is necessary for safe and efficient movement of rolling traffic, when so determined by the State Highway Commissioner, will be made available for said purpose.

(6) That the Village will cause all curb business stands to be removed prior to advertisement for bids; and will not permit the establishment of any curb stands in the future.

I, Robert L. Kroner, Clerk of the Village, in the County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the resolution adopted by the Council of said Village at a meeting held on the 16th day of July, 1951.

FOUR-INCH RAINFALL FLOODS LENAWEE AR EAS; THUNDER KEEPS RESIDENTS AWAKE

Lightning Strikes Three Times During Severe Week-end Storm

Lightning hit three times, early Sunday morning, in the Tecumseh area during one of the most severe thunder storms in Lenawee county's history. While lightning damage throughout the county was small, the nearly four inches of rain that fell flooded streets, roads and basements causing damage that will run into thousands of dollars.

The storm broke late on Saturday evening after a humid day. It rode in from the west on a mild wind. The early storm centered its fury in the western section of the county, finally striking a substation transformer in Adrian that caused the electric current in Tecumseh to be off for nearly an hour and a half, starting at 11:05.

Shortly after 1 a.m., Sunday, the storm renewed its intensity, in fact four storms were flashing lightning simultaneously. Two of them were in the west and northwest, another in the northeast and still another in the east. The wind changed its direction repeatedly and the storms battered the entire county until nearly 4:30 a.m.

In Tecumseh, lightning struck a tree on West Chicago boulevard, just north of the Richard Mead home at 103 South Democrat street. It did not split the tree, but bark was knocked off.

Another bolt struck the Robert McKee barn, just west of here on M-50, ripping a hole in the roof and knocking out electrical wiring. It also blew all the fuses in the McKee home. Sluyter Electric here said that it would be necessary to rewire the entire barn, as well as the general repairs to the building. Fire did not result.

The copper wire inside a plastic clothes line completely disappeared when lightning hit a tree near the Tecumseh Hatchery, S. Maumee street, early Sunday. One end of the line was attached to the tree, the other to the rear of the hatchery building. Fragments of the plastic covering were found in the yard but the copper wire was missing. The force of the lightning broke windows in the hatchery, damaged the roof, put two clocks out of commission and burned fuses and lights. The tree was not badly damaged.

In only two other places in the county did the lightning hit. It struck the First Baptist church at Weston at 2 a.m., tearing off a part of the belfry and the siding on the building. A straw stack on the Christian Finkbeiner farm, about nine miles east of Clinton on US-112, also was hit. The Clinton fire department was called to extinguish the blaze. Damage was minor.

Electrical service in the Blissfield-Deerfield area also was interrupted by the storm. Current was off about two hours in Blissfield and in Deerfield it was about noon Sunday before service was restored. In Adrian, lights continued to burn, but very dimly for about an hour and a half before midnight.

Ends Own Life With Revolver

BODY OF W. C. SPENCE, FLINT, FOUND LYING BESIDE ROAD NEAR RIDGEWAY

A self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head was fatal to William C. Spence, 46, of Flint, according to Coroner Paul Mott of Adrian. Mr. Spence's body was found lying beside the highway at 11:30 a.m., last week Wednesday, about a mile west of Ridgeway.

Spence, a former resident of Adrian, had operated a service station in Flint for several months. In recent weeks, Mr. Mott said, he had been in ill health. The body was found by a passing motorist, lying near the southern berm of M-50. State police of Clinton, called to the scene, said that a German made revolver was found near the body. Spence's car was parked nearby.

Donald Spence of California, and Bobby at home; a daughter, Mrs. Louise Tavey of Hillsdale; two step-daughters, both of Flint; his mother, Mrs. Bertha Spence of Adrian; two brothers, Merle of Britton and Ralph of Onsted; a sister, Mrs. William Rush of Adrian, and three grandchildren. School Faculty Is Rounded Out

ONLY ONE VACANCY REMAINS ON TEACHING STAFF; BUILDINGS BEING READIED

The faculty of the Tecumseh The faculty of the Tecumseh public schools will number more than 40 in the 1951-52 year, James McDowell, superintendent, said today, and all vacancies on the staff have been filled with but one exception.

Earl Greene of Blissfield, has been hired as the new elementary principal in Tecumseh, to succeed Darwin Smith, who resigned to enter business in New York state. Mr. Greene has been with the Blissfield schools where he taught history, civics and economics. He received his AB degree from Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo and his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1940. He also taught for a time in the Morenci and Shelby schools. Mr. McDowell said that Greene had taken special work at the University in elementary education.

Miss Juanita Moore of Monroe, has been hired as a new second grade teacher. Miss Moore received her AB degree from Western Michigan College and her master's from the University. She has been in the Monroe school system since 1947.

The only remaining vacancy on the local teaching staff is that of an elementary music teacher.

McDowell said that the work of remodeling the Central School building will get under way next month. The contract calls for new wiring in the building and the installation of a new lighting system. Also, new book, paper and work cabinets are to be installed.

Other school buildings are being prepared for the opening of school in September and everything will be in readiness for the ringing of the bell on the opening date, the superintendent said.

Father Dies At Wheel Of Truck

BOY, 12 YEARS OLD, STEERS VEHICLE TO SAFE STOP ON US-112

When William Williamson, 49, of South Bend, Ind., died at the wheel of his pick-up truck on US-112, Saturday, his 12-year-old son, Billy, who was riding with him, steered the vehicle to a safe stop. The Williamson truck was drawing a house trailer.

State police of Clinton, who investigated the death, said that the truck was traveling between 40 and 45 miles an hour when the boy grabbed the wheel. "I'm going, son," were the father's words to the boy when he lit himself slipping into unconsciousness.

The lad halted the truck beside the road at the bottom of a hill about six miles west of Clinton. Mrs. Williamson, who was driving the family car at the rear of the trailer, knew nothing about her husband's death until Billy stopped from the truck and told her.

A Clinton ambulance rushed Williamson to Herrick Memorial Hospital here but he was dead upon arrival. Death was the result of a heart attack, according to Coroner Ed Braun of Adrian. He ruled that an inquest was not necessary.

The body was taken to the Proctor Funeral Home in Clinton and later to Ontario, Canada, where funeral services were held on Wednesday.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Martin Schniepp, 44, of Tecumseh, was arrested by local police on July 18, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. In Justice Robert French's court he pleaded not guilty and was released on bail, pending trial.

Rebuilding Of M-50 Is Rumored

STATE'S PROGRAM IS SAID TO INCLUDE 20-FOOT PAVEMENT INTO MONROE

Although no definite announcement has been forthcoming from Lansing, it is rumored that the State Highway Department is planning the rebuilding of Trunkline M-50, east from the Onsted road to Monroe. West of the Onsted road to Jackson, the road is to be resurfaced with a two-inch blacktop.

The rebuilding program, although still in the rumor stage, insofar as a public announcement is concerned, is said to call for a 20-foot pavement from Onsted to Monroe, and that some of the more dangerous curves will be eliminated. It is known that surveyors have been working west of here for several weeks.

Rumor also has it that the highway department has contacted officials of both Ridgeway and Franklin townships regarding the widening of the road in Tipton and in Britton. New curbs would be installed in residential areas in these villages and it is understood that the townships have been asked to participate in the expense of such a program.

Locally, officials said that they knew nothing about the rebuilding or widening of M-50, except what they had been rumored. Some of them freely admitted that they knew state surveyors had been working in the area for some time, but, they said, they had not been informed of any definite program.

If the new road is laid, in all probability it would skip about a four-and-a-half mile strip west of Billington's, which was rebuilt in recent years, as well as another new section of the highway, east of Ridgeway. How many curves would be eliminated also is unknown, but the project might include the widening of the curve just east of Occidental Road, and the straightening of another one at the top of Waldron's hill. These spots have been the scene of many automobile accidents in the past.

New Navy Carrier Has Flush Deck Elevator

The Navy's new supercarrier will be converted into a flush deck ship by the touch of an elevator button.

Informed sources say that naval designers have settled on a plan to mount a full-size "island"—a carrier's bridge—on an elevator on the new carrier. The "island" could then be lowered to make a flush flight deck for landing and takeoff of large planes and night operations.

Design plans for the $228,500,000 aircraft carrier have been approved and construction is scheduled to start within a few months, probably at the Newport News, Va., Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company.

Former Navy Nurse Tells About Customs In Japan

Lieut. Martha Comfort, former nurse in the United States Navy and for four months stationed in a hospital in Japan, told of some of her experiences there when she spoke to members of the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening, following dinner at the Country Club. She was the guest of her brother-in-law, Perry Hayden.

Lieut. Comfort told many interesting things about the customs in Japan, and of the shops and markets. She also displayed several curios she collected during her stay, including shoes and lacquered pieces of handiwork.

She has been released from the Navy and is spending the summer here in the Hayden home, assisting in the care of her mother. In September she will go to Battle Creek to join the nursing staff at the Sanitarium.

Continue Study Of Waste Plant

BOND PROPOSAL TO DEFRAY COST OF BUILDING MAY GO TO VOTERS IN SEPTEMBER

A meeting with Matthew Carey of Detroit, financial consultant, to continue the study of Tecumseh's proposed sewage disposal plant, is scheduled for next Wednesday evening in the council building, E. C. Heilman, chairman of the council's sewer committee, said today. Next week's meeting is expected to iron out the details of financing the construction of the project which, it is estimated, will cost between $250,000 and $300,000.

The council held an informal meeting with Mr. Carey at the council building on Monday afternoon of this week. At that time, details incident to the construction were discussed, particularly the legal phases of the program.

"We hope," Mr. Heilman said, "following next week's meeting to inform taxpayers fully as to the plans of the council for the construction of the sewage treatment plants, andthe methods of financing it. The council has carefully examined all phases of the project and, when it is submitted to the people, who hope to be able to present a complete picture."

The building of the sewage treatment plant, and the construction of additional sewers, will be financed through the issuance of bonds. This proposal must be submitted to electors for their approval, and it is likely that an amendment to the charter also may be necessary. It was indicated at Monday's meeting that by the time all legal details in connection with the plan had been worked out it would be late September before a special election could be held.

Construction of the sewage treatment plant here has long been a matter of discussion between the council and the Michigan Stream Control Commission. More than 10 years ago the state ordered Tecumseh to discontinue the practice of dumping raw sewage into the River Raisin but it was not until about a year ago that the Commission threatened legal action unless the practice was discontinued. Since that time the Council has held several meetings with the Commission and an agreement was reached whereby the village was to be given time to consider the project fully and prepare for construction. A plant site has been purchased, south of M-50 near the river.

New Postmaster Will Be Chosen

APPLICATION MUST BE IN CIVIL SERVICE AT WASHINGTON BY AUGUST 14

The United States Civil Service Commission today announced an open competitive examination from which it is expected to fill a vacancy in the office of postmaster in Tecumseh. The office carries a salary of $4,570 annually. Application forms, which may be obtained at the local office, must be properly executed and on file in the Civil Service offices at Washington, not later than August 14. Both men and women are eligible.

In order to be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must have actually resided within the delivery of the local office, or within the village, for at least one year; must be in good physical condition, and be between the ages of 25 and 63 years.

Applicants will not be required to assemble in an examination room for written tests, but will be rated on their education, business or professional experience, general qualifications and suitability. The Commission will make an impartial inquiry among representative patrons of the office concerning the experience, ability and character of each applicant. The evidence thus secured will be considered in determining the ratings to be assigned the applicants. The Commission is not interested in the political, religious or fraternal affiliation of any applicants. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action.

Full information regarding the examinations and application forms may be obtained from the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the postoffice, or from the Commission in Washington.

F. E. N. Thatcher is the acting postmaster in Tecumseh at the present time. A few months ago it was learned that William Wright had been named to succeed Mr. Thatcher in the office, but Mr. Wright refused the appointment because of business reasons. Mr. Wright had taken an examination given previously.

CIO Is Backing Baker For Judge

CONLIN SLAPS AT DELAY IN APPOINTMENT; WOULD CUR TAIL GOVERNOR'S POWER

Representative Rollo G. Conlin of Tipton, disturbed by the delay on the part of Gov. Williams in making the appointment of a probate judge for Lenawee county, has announced that he has drafted a proposal to take away the governor's appointive power. Rep. Conlin's proposal is now being phrased in legal form at Lansing, and he plans to introduct it at next January's session of the legislature.

Conlin's bill would provide that when a vacancy in a probate judgeship occurs in any county that the circuit judge, prosecuting attorney and county clerk prepare a list of not less than two nominees. The nominations would then go to the county board of supervisors who would fill the vacancy by ballot.

Conlin declared that he could see no reason why any county should go without the services of a probate judge because of party politics. He indicated that he believed that that was what was happening in Lenawee.

Bernard Williamson of Morenci, has been endorsed by Democratic party leaders for the post while James H. Baker of Adrian has been endorsed by the executive council of the Lenawee county CIO. Probate Judge M. E. Tripp died suddenly about a month ago and since that time Judge Dussia

MICHIGAN GOP CHAIRMAN SLAPS AT WASTE IN GOVERNMENT

Says U. S. Is Taking $80,000,000 From State Motorists

LANSING—Michigan's share of the $8,500,000,000 foreign aid program proposed by the Truman administration in 1952 would be $425,000,000, Republican State Chairman Owen J. Cleary pointed out today.

"This is $119,000,000 more than the entire state budget for next year," he said. "It amounts to $70.83 for every man, woman and child in Michigan. If the president's proposed $10 billion tax increase goes through the burden on Michigan will be $500,000,000, or $194,000,000 more than our entire state budget."

Cleary said the Federal government should try economy before levying new taxes and pointed out that the Government Printing Office spends millions of dollars on such things as pamphlets titled "The Sex Life of a Raccoon" and "The Geographical Distribution of Fleas."

"We want our nation to be strong, but we want to make sure that tax dollars are spent for defense and not wasted," Cleary declared.

Last January, the Washington bureaucrats bought 5,000,000 lbs. of oleomargarine at 25½ cents a pound while the Department of Agriculture was selling 5,500,000 pounds of surplus butter to Italy for 15 cents a pound, Cleary pointed out.

Cleary criticized Gov. Williams for not using his influence at Washington to save the taxpayers' money.

"Apparently he approves of it all," Cleary said. "He criticized the Legislature for raising gasoline taxes a half cent more than he thought necessary but is strangely silent on federal plans to increase the gas tax another half cent. At least, our gasoline tax money is spent on roads. Last year, Washington took $80,000,000 from Michigan motorists and returned $16,000,000 to match our own funds for highways. Maybe Gov. Williams can tell us what happened to the rest."

DO YOU SUPPOSE THERE'LL BE ANY ACTION?

Last week, in this column, we commended the village engineer's office for finally bringing about an agreement with the State Highway Department for the resurfacing of Chicago Boulevard, trunk line M-50, within the corporate limits. It is an improvement that is long past due. We also disagreed with the Highway Department's proposal to narrow the island strip in the center of the boulevard to four feet, from its present width of thirteen feet.

We did not contend that to narrow the island strip would destroy the beauty of the street or, that because the wide center boulevard has long been a landmark here, that it should not be destroyed. We appreciate that, in this day and time, beauty and old landmarks sometimes must be sacrificed for progress. However, we did contend that the island in the center of the street is an excellent safety zone for pedestrians, particularly children, and that it should be made not less than six feet in width for that reason.

We still are of the same opinion.

Chicago Boulevard is a fast-traffic street. Supposedly, cars and trucks respect a 30-mile speed limit in the residential district. But they don't. In fact, it is not uncommon to see them violating the state-established speed limit in the business district. If the island strip in the center of the boulevard is narrowed to four feet, it will widen the traffic lane on each side and, as sure as the sun comes up tomorrow morning, cars and trucks are going to move faster than they do at the present time. It is then that the trouble is going to be increased.

We realize full well the value of wide streets for the easy flow of traffic. We realize that parallel parking in the downtown district was brought about to widen the center traffic lane. But we doubt, very, very much, if it is right to give every consideration to the fellow behind the steering wheel and none to the fellow who travels on foot. And that is exactly what is happening when the island strip in the boulevard is narrowed to four feet, and the nine feet that is cut off is given over to cars and trucks

The center island in the boulevard, as it is today, is an excellent safety area for all pedestrians—men, women and children. Particularly does it afford a haven to youngsters under the age of ten years, if they become marooned in traffic on their way to and from school. Many older people, too, welcome the safety that it affords.

Can we, or the State of Michigan, afford to forget these people?

There may be those who contend that the four-foot strip will give as much protection as a six-foot strip, which we asked for a week ago. We disagree with such reasoning. In the midst of fast-moving traffic, the difference between four feet and six feet of "security" adds greatly to the peace of mind.

The Village Council has agreed to the state's plan to narrow the boulevard strip and to pay approximately $25,000 of the $125,000 cost of the project. It is possible that the work of resurfacing the street will begin this fall, if not early in 1952.

We are wondering if the residents of Tecumseh intend to permit the narrowing of the island strip in the boulevard without making some objection? We have had several people tell us, during the past week, that they agreed entirely with our plan to make the island six feet in width, instead of four, but will they forget about it, until it is too late to act?

Are we, the American people, so accustomed to being dictated to by the government that we accept, as final, whatever order comes out of Lansing or Washington?

Maybe we are wrong. Maybe it doesn't make any difference whether the island is thirteen feet wide, six or four feet wide, or whether there's an island in the street at all. However, we feel that we still have the right to express our opinion.

But will anybody go on from here—will anybody who might have the safety and welfare of men, women and children who walk here instead of ride, express themselves?

Bear this in mind: If the center safety area in the boulevard is ever narrowed to four feet it will NEVER be any wider. The next move will be to eliminate it entirely.

The final decision rests with the residents of Tecumseh.

This one says You've Arrived

HERE pictured is an automobile that may well be the fulfilment of any man's dream of a fine motorcar.

For you've a right to expect, when you pay a fine-car price, that your money will buy more distinction, more comfort, more performance than are to be found in vehicles of lesser worth.

So mark well the things that a ROADMASTER offers.

No other car on the American scene has a prouder bearing.

No other automobile has more spacious dimensions, more luxurious comfort, or finer appointments.

No other car has a ride more serenely smooth on curve or straightaway, highway or byway.

And no other car, at ROADMASTER'S price or above, has Dynaflow, and the supreme command of every traffic condition which it provides.

So you, at the wheel of Buick's biggest and best, have a right to feel distinguished.

But there's a joy of possession which goes deeper than visible things.

There's the feel of a power plant as brilliantly eager as this great car's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the satisfying companionship of a brawny traveler instantly responsive to your every wish.

And there's one thing more, which only ROADMASTER can give you in such generous measure. That is the pride of a wise investment, based on the fact that this car stands alone in price per pound, among fine cars similarly equipped.

So why not take that very important first step—and come in and see us soon?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

What's So Funny?

Just finished reading a magazine article that "proves" you and I don't know what's funny.

A bunch of psychologists came to this sad conclusion after telling jokes to college students. Very often they would give out with what they considered a side-splitter—and not get even a chuckle in response. Other times the students would laugh their heads off at stories that weren't considered really funny.

Maybe I'm wrong, but what makes a psychologist such a better judge of humor than the rest of us? If a man gets a kick out of a joke that proves it was funny to him—doesn't it?

From where I sit, when psychologists try to set up a standard for a sense of humor they're getting too serious for me. Stands to reason that different people laugh at different things, just as they have different tastes for most everything. I'm partial to a glass of beer with meals myself—but I promise not to make any "wisecracks" if you prefer tea.

Synthetic Oil Is Step Nearer

OIL-FROM-SHALE PROJECT IN COLORADO PAY PRODUCE CHEAP NEW FUELS

Washington—Start of the nation's first large commercial synthetic liquid fuels plant may be imminent, according to information here.

The Union Oil Company of California is discussing arrangements with the United States Bureau of Mines for a commercial-sized plant near Rifle, Colo., which would distill oil from shale.

Shale oil is particularly good for making jet aviation fuel.

Bureau of Mines officials hope the Union Oil Company will go ahead with the first 10,000 barrel-a-day unit. Eventually, it is understood, the Union Oil Company hopes to have a shale operations producing between 400,000 and 600,000 barrels of crude a day from the vast rich Colorado deposits which yield as high as 50 gallons of shale oil to a ton of oil shale.

The first unit would, it is said, produce 10,000 barrels a day.

The shale rock would be distilled in a retort which the Union Oil Company has developed in a government pilot plant at Rifle.

Union's plant, it is understood, would be located at Grand Junction, Colo. The spent shale could be disposed of there easier than at Rifle. You take down the mountain, melt the oil out of it, and put the mountain back again. Union owns large oil shale deposits in this section of Colorado.

Reports indicate that the company is figuring on taking the mountain to the distillery by rubber belt conveyer.

Te Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company has perfected this type of conveyer which is in wide use as a coal carrier in Ohio and West Virginia.

Bureau of Mines officials say they have held discussions with the Union Oil Company about building a pipeline from Rifle to its refineries at Wilmington.

Such an undertaking, counting mining, haulage, an oil shale distillery, a pipeline and corresponding refinery capacity, would cost, roughly, $2,000,000,000, it is estimated.

Profits could be enormous, for ultimately it would be much cheaper to produce oil shale gasoline than petroleum gasoline. The supply of oil shale in Colorado would last for centuries.

Shale oil is superior to petroleum for many present-day uses.

The jet-powered Air Force would benefit especially by the use of shale oil.

A jet plane uses about five times as much fuel an hour as a propeller-driven plane.

Presumably the important defense factor in the development of shale would enable any commercial oil company to receive government help in financing the undertaking.

Reports have been prevalent in oil industry quarters here for some months that some of the large insurance companies are interested in backing expansion of domestic oil production.

Tribal Customs Seen At Ute Reservation

Durango, Colo.—Wide highways which branch out from the busy vacation city of Durango, in southwestern Colorado, are trails into colorful scenery and spots of historical interest. Visitors usually include a trip to the only Indian reservation in the state — the Consolidated Ute agency — open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. — where the federal government maintains a coeducational school and hospital for the Indians.

The Utes are steadily increasing in number. They still use their language, although younger ones speak their tribal tongue and English, and many speak Mexican-Spanish.

When you drive in Ignacio Valley, you find it is a mingling of the new world with the old. Irrigation is doing its important work in developing this great San Juan Basin and agriulture is forging to the front. In the reservation you find fine gravel driveways, modern sidewalks, landscaped yards around brick, frame and adobe houses, and a modern school and church.

A few miles from headquarters you will find the Sun Dance field, admission 25 cents. Here a ceremony may last several days. A dance, held in a circular corral, continues around a tall center pole, and the dancers speak no word.

Farther on is the bear dance field featuring a spectacular dance. The orchestra is seated around a sheet of tin laid over two logs or a pit, where the musicians use two notched sticks to produce a humming sound on the instrument, which is called the morache.

However, the automobile and progress has caught up with the Ute Indian in colorful San Juan Basin, Colo.

Kroger Employees Will Share In Company Profits

An opportunity to share in the profits of the Kroger company, save regularly, and build an estate for themselves and their families was offered employees of the retail food concern by Jacob E. Davis, vice president, at a meeting of Toledo branch employees at the Hillcrest Hotel in Toledo, last evening.

The meeting was one of a series scheduled to acquaint Kroger employees with the company's new savings and profit sharing plan and to give them an opportunity to join. In charge of the meeting was Carl Fuller, Toledo branch manager.

It is estimated that approximately 17,000 are eligible to participate in the plan which is available to all employees 21 years of age or older who have had two or more years of continuous service.

Mr. Davis explained that the program provided an opportunity for employees to have and invest a portion of their earnings in a savings fund and also to participate in the company's profits. Because a portion of the profit sharing fund will be invested in Kroger stock, participating employees as a group will within a few years become important stockholders in the company and have a big stake in its success, he said.

"We believe this plan will help all of us as individuals," he added. "It will also strengthen our company still further. Every one of us will take more interest in doing a better job for customers when we are to share in the results accomplished.

Attending the meeting from Tecumseh was Eldred Yinger, local Kroger store manager.

Improved Artificial Respiration May Save Many Lives at the Beach

Many persons who might otherwise die of drowning this summer at the beaches will live—thanks to an improved technique for administering artificial respiration. Based on a Norwegian method, it doubles the amount of air entering the lungs. Persons suffering with heart condition or other ailments restricting the use of salt may now enjoy well-seasoned foods. A new product called Resodex removes the sodium from the salt by electrolytic attraction in the intestines, thus eliminating the substance which holds water in the body's tissues. Writing in Redbook Magazine for August, Dr. Edward T. Wilkes describes these and other recent advances in medicine:

"An improved technique for artificial respiration has been devised by Dr. A. C. Ivy and his associates at the University of Illinois Medical College as a modification of a Norwegian method. The new technique enables one to double the amount of air entering the lungs and hence is better than the standard prone position.

"By using the new technique you take advantage of all the virtues of the standard prone position plus one valuable refinement. The victim is placed on his stomach as in standard practice, with his head inverted; then he is lifted by his hips until they are about four inches off the ground. This is repeated twelve times a minute, alternated each time with the traditional technique of exerting pressure on the chest.

"Here are other tips for first aid at the beach: (1) Loosen clothing. (2) Empty lungs of water by placing victim on his stomach and lifting him by the middle so that his head hangs down. (3) As you raise his hips, jerk the body a few times. (4) Pull the tongue forward, using handkerchief if necessary. (5) Start artificial respiration. (6) Apply warmth to the legs.

"Be persistent! People have been saved after hours of patient effort. Get someone else to telephone the police or fire department for a pulmotor. Once spontaneous breathing begins, recovery is assured.

"Too often babies have died because mucus is not spontaneously ejected from the windpipe and lungs at birth. Attempts to administer oxygen have not alway been successful because the mucus interfered. But a new atomizer to save these newborns from death by suffocation has been invented by two University of Toronto doctors. The apparatus has a slender suction tube which is inserted in the infant's throat and windpipe to remove the mucus. Then without removing that tube, the doctor can deliver oxygen into the windpipe through another tube at a safe pressure to permit the baby to breathe it into his lungs.

"The use of this new oxygen atomizer in the past three years has doubled the number of successful resuscitations of newborn babies.

"Persons suffering with heart condition, high blood pressure, liver disease or other ailments that may restrict their use of salt can now have a more enjoyable diet. Thanks to a new product, Resodex, the sodium content of salt is soaked up by electrolytic attraction in the intestines and carried out in the body. It is the sodium that causes water to be held in the tissues and overload an already overworked heart. The new powder is harmless and has a slightly chalky flavor. It can be sprinkled on foods or in cold soft drinks or fruit juices three times daily."

BRITISH HAIL WANE OF GAUDY U.S. TIE

London—The British menswear magazine Tailor and Cutter said that a decline in sales of gaudy neckties in the United States is a sure sign that "the brash adolescent American is at last growing up."

"His tastes (in cravats, as in all things) are maturing with him," said the magazine. "Ties in the United States are becoming more a matter of the palate than the palette."

Tailor and Cutter made these observations in an editorial poking fun at American tie manufacturers whose sales are dropping because of "the growing threat of the tieless shirt." It said some manufacturers were trying to boost sales by increasing boldness of their designs.

MOVIES ON GANDHI DUE FOR PRODUCTION

New Delhi—A series of documentary films, depicting the life and teachings of Mohandas K. Gandhi, will be made in India, it was announced here.

The films will be produced by the Gandhi Films Committee presided over by Devadas Gandhi, the Mahatma's son.

Devadas Gandhi in a statement said that the committee would collect films throughout the world and from the material thus obtained would prepare a number of finished films of varying length.

One long film would be a chronological movie, Mr. Gandhi added.

A shorter film for public exhibition in India and abroad would be made available in several languages, he said.

COATING OF WAX ON LUGGAGE URGED

New York—Here's a last minute tip for your vacation.

Your luggage will look better and be spared a lot of punishment with a protective coating of wax.

Paste, liquid, or cream wax not only will protect leather from sun, wind, and rain, but will also help guard against scuffs and bruises. It also keeps leather pliable.

It is suggested that wax be spread thinly on luggage with cheesecloth and worked into the leather in small areas at a time. The mild solvents in the wax will clean the leather, so it is best to change the cloth when it gets soiled. After the wax has dried for a few moments the entire surface should be buffed.

And don't neglect those metal fittings. Wax will help protect these surfaces, too.

Truth would you teach, or save a sinking land?
All fear, none aid you, and few understand.

—Pope.

Here's one of those "Now It Can Be Told" stories. Farmers—in case they didn't know it—are making more money this year than last year. That's a statement of the Department of Agriculture. The Department has announced that during the first six months of 1951 the farmers received 20% more money than in the corresponding period of 1950. Their expenses meanwhile increased by only 13%, leaving, according to Agriculture, a net increase of 7% in farm income.

PLAN NEW SKY SCRAPER

New York—Tentative plans to build a 44-story office building with a 1,000 foot open steel work observation tower and television antenna mast have been disclosed here.

With the tower taken into consideration, the new building would be 1,580 feet tall, or 108 feet higher than the 102-story Empire State Building, the world's tallest. A 222-foot antenna tower is nearing completion now on the 1,250-foot Empire State Building.

William Zeckendorf, president of Weber and Knapp, Inc., real estate owners, announces the plans. Work will not be started until after the defense emergency. The new building is planned on the block from Park to Madison Avenues between 47th and 48th Streets, now occupied by the Hotel Marguery.

Educators Eye Television Use

ARE URGED TO GET SET FOR THE VALUE OF TV AS "GREAT EDUCATOR"

San Francisco—The nation's organized educators are urged to get ready quickly for the use of television as a great new teacher.

Television is moving so fast, said Paul A. Walker, vice-chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, that educators will "miss the boat" as they did in the case of radio, unless they are ready to make full use of TV channels as soon as they are allocated.

Mr. Walker addressed the National Education Association shortly after it came out against any use of public funds for the support of parochial schools and other privately financed denominational educational institutions.

The NEA also criticized "front organizations" which it said have been attacking schoolteachers and administrations on the ground that some classroom instruction includes elements of subversiveness or socialism.

Anticipating the rise of TV as a power in education, the NEA asked the communications commission to reserve, until the educators are ready to use them, the frequencies already allotted to educational video.

Mr. Walker warned, however, that the FCC could not reserve indefinitely channels set aside for specific purposes but not used as such. Too many others with legitimate claims for TV channels are on the waiting list, he said.

The FCC contemplates an eventual total of about 2,000 TV stations and has proposed to give education 209 of these, Mr. Walker said. But deucators will have to be ready to use them or they will lose out to others, he added.

J. Cloyd Miller, Superintendent of Schools at Deming, N.M., was elected president of the National Education Association.

The election of officers concluded the 89th annual convention of the association.

Mr. Miller defeated Paul A. Grigsby, Superintendent of Community Unit School District, Granite City, Ill., in a contest that officials called "close."

Mr. Miller is recognized as an outstanding proponent of democratic principles in teaching. He has been a high school teacher and principal and college teacher and has served as a superintendent for 16 years. He holds degrees from New Mexico State University and the University of New Mexico.

TOMATO GROWERS ARE URGED TO GET LABOR

John R. Vloch, farm labor specialist for this area, reports that farmers especially tomato growers, should start thinking about their harvest help now. If at all possible, growers should take on pickers now, even though the picking hasn't started, because the heavy migration from the cherry country will undoubtedly go through Michigan to other states if they are not stopped and offered jobs. Other states and areas are offering all kinds of propositions to lure workers.

Tomato growers in this area should contact Mr. Knapp at 2 E. First street, Monroe, and in Adrian, Mrs. Borradaile at 118 Church street, for their labor needs. Vloch strongly suggests not to wait till the last minute for help. The labor situation is critical and should be arranged for now.

Farmer Needs Is Study Topic

COMPETITION IN AGRICULTURAL AREAS GIVEN CAREFUL CONSIDERATION

Competition between farmers in different sections of the country is given pioneering study in "Interregional Competition in Agriculture" just published by the Harvard University Press.

"With the constant changes in demand and the developments in new technology, farmers need to be making constant adjustments," Prof. John D. Black, the distinguished Harvard farm economist who is one of the authors, said today in an interview.

"This book is an analysis of the problem of determining what these needed changes are. One outstanding example is cited as to the nature of this competition and how to analyze it. This is the competition in dairy production between New England and the Midwest states.

"Nobody has ever before studied and reduced to definite terms the principles of economics that relate to the comparative advantage of the different regions in production."

The coauthor of the volume is Ronald L. Mighell, agricultural economist of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington.

"The study was begun in 1935 under a federal-state appropriation," Dr. Black continued. "At that time forecasts were made as to the adjustments which would take place in dairy production in these two regions in the next ten years. Ten years later the areas were revisited and the production was found to have made the adjustments.

"As is well known, there were no production quotas on dairy production during these years, so the process of competition had a chance to work itself out freely.

Many Medicines Spoil Quickly

DON'T KEEP REMEDIES IN YOUR HOME AFTER ILLNESS PRESCRIBED FOR IS OVER

Medicine that once brought blessed cure or relief may actually become harmful or even poisonous if it stands around too long or if it is exposed to heat and moisture. For that reason, keeping the medicine chest in good condition is always important at all times, and it is especially necessary now that our Civilian Defense Office is asking us to be prepared for all emergencies, says Pierce G. Fredericks, Writing in McCall's for August, he gives you a checklist of drugs that become dangerous or ineffective after a few months or a year, and suggestions for protecting ourself against possibly harmful medicines:

"These drugs can deteriorate in a year: Hydrogen peroxide; silver salts such as Argyrol; antibiotics (penicillin, aureomycin, etc): Moisture can ruin them in a week, warmth more slowly. Two-year limit, even under optimum conditions. Spirits of ammonia, chloroform liniment.

"These can deteriorate in a month: Iodine: evaporation makes the concentration stronger, hence can cause skin burns; aspirin: breaks down into two acids. both mild gastro-irritants; phenolated ointments: either moisture or warmth will cause the pure phenol which can cause burns to separate out; tonics: cod-liver and other vitamin oils; milk of magnesia: the last caked bits can cause diarrhea; vitamin capsules: deteriorate if moisture gets inside; nose drops: time deposits cold germs on the droppers, which pass severe colds to people with less serious ones; prescription cough remedies; castor oil preparations; boric acid solution; Burrow's solution, sweet spirits of niter, belladonna digitalis, cascara; eye drops: many contain adrenalin, which decomposes. Others acquire a moldy growth which will introduce foreign substances into the eye.

"Here are suggestions for protecting yourself against the medicines which become directly dangerous over time or indirectly dangerous because they are no longer able to do what you expect of them:

"(1) Shake any liquid well before using. This protects you against high concentrations caused by sedimentation.

"(2) Throw out a prescription item as soon as the illness for which it was prescribed is over.

"(3) Protect light-sensitive drugs by leaving them in the dark bottles they came in.

"(4) Regard any remedy which shows sedimentation, discoloration, caking, cloudiness (if originally clear) or cork and cotton deterioration with the utmost suspicion.

"(5) If a remedy comes in several forms, remember: in general capsules and ointments are more stable than liquids.

"(6) When possible, buy drugs in small quantities. That way you're almost certain to get fresh supplies frequently.

"(7) Keep caps tightly screwed on bottles.

"(8) Thoroughly clean out your medicine chest at least once a year.

IF YOU CAN'T KEEP YOUR FOOD COLD OR HOT, DON'T KEEP IT LONG

If you can't keep your picnic foods cold, or you can't keep them hot, then don't keep them long!

Food poisoning from improperly prepared and improperly refrigerated picnic foods makes scores of Michigan people seriously ill each summer, Dr. Max Decker, food handling consultant, Division of Engineering, Michigan Department of Health, said today in issuing the above warning.

Food poisoning is caused by the growth of germs in food. The germs get into the food from unclean hands, towels, sandwich or meat boards, dishes, meat grinders, or can openers; from flies, mice or roaches; or from coughs or sneezes in the kitchen.

These germs multiply so fast at room temperature that an unrefrigerated dish of potato salad, sandwich spread or a slice of meat may become deadly in one hour's time, without any change in odor, taste or appearance.

Once the food has been contaminated, heating it or refrigerating it will not make it safe. Picnic foods which are particularly dangerous when not refrigerated are soft foods made with milk or eggs; any foods made with mayonnaise or salad dressing, gravies, cream filled pies or pastry and all meats, including fried chicken.

Cleanliness of hands, utensils and containers; care in preparation and coldness (below 50°) from the time any part of the picnic food is prepared until all of it is eaten will prevent most food poisoning.

You can make your own picnic ice box. You can thoroughly chill fried chicken, sandwich spreads, cold meats, baked beans or potato salad in your refrigerator. This may take several hours. Then pack them in sterilized quart or two-quart cans, seal them and set them in a tub of cracked ice, insulated with newspapers. If you don't want to bother with the refrigeration, take tinned foods and open them when they are to be eaten Serve picnic foods in covered containers to avoid insect and dust contamination.

Once picnic food has been set on the table and become warm, don't try to save it for another meal or nibble on it later.

Food poisoning is extremely unpleasant and it may be violent or fatal.

Lightning

Power Company here said that the electrical storm was one of the worst, if not the worst, in local history. They said that while the damage was not severe in any area, there were literally dozens of homes and businesses affected. Fuzes were replaced in scores of instances, and all of the repairs were not completed until Tuesday.

Particularly severe was the storm in the Wamplers Lake-Irish Hills district. There the lightning danced for hours, snapping fuses in cottages and homes.

As the storm broke here, after 1 a.m., residents aroused by the sharp lightning and thunder, got up to watch the display. Lights were burning in half of Tecumseh's dwellings, and they were not turned off until well after 4 a.m.

The Michigan Associated Telephone Company reported that the storm raised havoc with its service, scores of phones were reported out of order on Sunday morning, and repairmen spent the first two days of this week getting them back into service. The damage, the telephone company said, was not confined to Tecumseh, but was throughout its area.

The heavy rainfall actually did far more damage, county-wide, than did the electrical storm. In Hudson, the water supply was contaminated when flood water seeped into the wells. The State Health Department and the local health department warned residents against the water's use until after boiling or other treatment.

The flood waters sent the River Raisin over its banks in Adrian and damage there to homes and buildings was extensive. Scores of basements in Adrian were flooded, and the water come dangerously near to some buildings in the business district. On the west side of Adrian, several homes reported a foot or more of water in basements, and in some streets the flood water poured along like a river.

Locally, the storm sewers were able to take care of most of the water after a fashion, but on some streets it was hub-deep, motorists said. A few basements here, too, were flooded.

Throughout the county, the downpour damaged roads as it flooded the highways. The Road Commission on Monday issued warnings that wash-outs were general on side roads, and that driving care should be exercised.

Parking Meters May Be Opposed

DELEGATION EXPECTED AT COUNCIL, MONDAY, WHEN PROJECT IS DISCUSSED

A delegation of business men is expected to be on hand, Monday evening, when the village council, in regular session, discusses the regulation of parking in the public lot in the rear of the Strand Theatre and the possible installation of meters in the lot. It is understood that the council has formulated a tentative program, and that the problem will be thoroughly canvassed before any action is taken.

A certain group of downtown merchants, it is understood, are opposed to the installation of meters in the parking area, until such time as all of the space in the lot is utilized to its fullest extent. Counts of cars in the lot during the past week show, it was said, that at no time was it filled to capacity, and that by the careful parking of cars in the area nearly twice as many cars could have been accommodated as were parked there at the time of a peak count.

Also, it is understood that the council has up for discussion a proposal to restrict the use of the lot to commercial vehicles with larger than one and a half tons hauling capacity. It is contended that this restriction would prohibit the use of the parking space to many farmers.

It is said that the council is thinking of building a cement curb around the lot, with entrances on Pearl street and West Logan street. Routing of traffic out of the lot also might be changed. There also would be a "center curb" in the lot, permitting the parking of cars on either side. Careful parking of cars within the area, it is understood, would make it possible to accommodate between 125 and 150 vehicles.

At the present time, it is said, the lot is being used in some instances for "dead" storage—in other words, cars are parked there for days, weeks or longer. The council, it is understood, would like to discourage this practice.

What action will be taken at Monday's meeting is not known. However, it appears certain that certain business groups will oppose both parking meters and the prohibiting of trucks from the lot until such time as it is felt that the area is crowded beyond its capacity.

Chamber Warns Service Buyers

IF YOU HAVE REPAIR WORK TO BE DONE, KNOW WITH WHOM YOU'RE DEALING

The Chamber of Commerce today repeats the slogan of the National Better Business Bureau, "Investigate Before You Invest."

Ronald Harris, secretary of the local chamber, reports an attempted high-pressure deal on a local family by an itinerant cesspool cleaner. The itinerant approached the housewife with an estimate of "about $75.00," which was accepted. When the work was completed (it took less than a day), the housewife was horrified at the presentation of a bill for $162.

The housewife wisely refused to pay the additional $87, and checked with the Chamber of Commerce and placed the matter in the hands of an attorney. After considerable bluster, the workers departed and have not been heard from since. Investigation disclosed that they had earlier cleaned a cesspool of 3,000 gallons for $50, and were not prepared to defend a bill of $162 for a 500 gallon tank. They have since left the area.

This type of operation is the subject of repeated warnings by the Better Business Bureau. Chief offenders, along with cesspool cleaners, are itinerant lawn humas vendors, gutter repair men, furnace repair crews, and landscape and tree "artists."

The fact that these might be itinerants is by no means evidence that they are dishonest, according to Mr. Harris. "The desirability of dealing with known business men is not merely that of keeping money at home," he stated further. "When you deal locally you are dealing with the man who must continue to make a living in our community. Furthermore, if something goes wrong, he will be here to make adjustments, not working swiftly in some distant state."

I will not be in my office from Aug. 1 to 20 incl. R. E. Dustin, M. D. adv. 8-16

He is widely known in the engineering circles throughout Michigan.

While he assumed his work in Farmington on Wednesday, Leitch said that it would be several weeks before he moved there.

"The housing situation there is much like it is in Tecumseh," he said. "It will take a few weeks to find suitable accommodations."

Williamson Is Named As Judge

FORMER TECUMSEH MAN SUCCEEDS MAURICE E. TRIPP ON LENAWEE PROBATE BENCH

Bernard Williamson, Morenci lawyer, has been named by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to succeed he late Maurice E. Tripp as judge of the Lenawee county probate court. Mr. Williamson will assume is new duties immediately.

Mr. Williamson, who has been practicing in Morenci since 1932, and who is 43 years of age, is a former Tecumseh resident. He is the son of Mrs. Charles Williamson of W. Chicago boulevard. He attended Tecumseh high school, Hillsdale College and Michigan State College before going to Vanderbilt University where he received his Bachelor of Law degree. He is married and has three children. His brother, Charles, is a practicing attorney in Monroe.

In Morenci, Mr. Williamson has been active in the civic and community life of the city. He served as clerk, water commissioner, city attorney and, as a Democrat, has been a candidate for county prosecutor and circuit court commissioner.

Since the death of Judge Tripp, June 24, the affairs of the Lenawee county court have been handled by Judge Vallie W. Dinsia of Monroe.

Conflicting endorsements by Lenawee Democrats have delayed the appointment of a probate judge in the county. The Democratic County Committee had endorsed Mr. Williamson and the executive council of the Lenawee Industrial Council, CIO, had endorsed James H. Baker, Adrian lawyer. Williamson also had the endorsement of the Lenawee County Bar Association.

Samuel Curtis Custard Is Buried In Brookside

Samuel Curtis Custard, aged 68 years, of 216 W. Bidwell street, died at Herrick Memorial Hospital, Monday morning at 5:15, where he had been a patient since last week Tuesday.

Mr. Custard was employed for many years by the Pennsylvania Railroad, and after retiring the family moved to Tecumseh in 1945 from Vincennes, Ind. He was employed by the Ford Motor Co., and later was janitor of the West Branch school and public library. He had been in failing health since September, 1949, when he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Custard was a member of the Christian church of Huntington, Ind., the Lyons F. & A. M., and was a 32nd degree Mason. He also was a member of the Eagles lodge in Indiana.

Survivors besides his widow are two sons, Col. Marion Custard of Arlington, Va., and Robert of Tecumseh; one brother, Earl Custard of Ft. Wayne, Ind., and five grandchildren. A daughter, Lucille, preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Collins Funeral Home with the Rev. Donald C. Wilson officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Good Will Conferences Explained To Rotarians

Discussing the need for cooperation and action on social problems of the day, the Rev. Bert Bowman of Lansing, executive secretary of the Michigan Council of Churches, urged members of the Rotary club to seriously consider the value of church-sponsored Good Will Conferences, when he addressed the club, Tuesday evening, following dinner at the Country Club. The Rev. Mr. Bowman was introduced by the Rev. Donald Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Bowman briefly discussed the origin of the Good Will meetings, born during the war years, and declared that they are participated in by industry, business, labor, management, agriculture, church, education and minority groups. Nearly 50 conferences have been held in the state, he said. The next one in this area will be held at Washington Lake, September 14-16, with representatives from Washtenaw, Monroe, Hillsdale, Wayne and Lenawee counties participating. LeRoy Cabbage of Milan is in charge of registrations.

Topics considered at the conferences include the labor-management struggle, racial tensions, American-Russian relations, curbing of free speech, federal aid to education, agriculture and health bills, displaced persons, etc.

GASOLINE IGNITES

The fire department was called to a wheat field on West Brown street about 5 p.m., Sunday, where gasoline in a tractor had ignited. Firemen said that the tractor had burned out of fuel and Dick Sherman, the operator, filled the tank while the machine was hot. Some of the gas spilled and was ignited.

TWO BUILDING PERMITS

Two building permits were issued during the past week by the village. Lowell Maynard, 408 East Kilbuck street, was given permission to build a $700 garage. A repair permit was issued to Wendall Wood, 710 South Union street.

Street Repair Budget Set Up

TECUMSEH HAS OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE IN STATE FUNDS UP TO $7,075

The village of Tecumseh stands to benefit in the amount of $7,075 from the State Highway Department for the maintenance of trunk lines within the corporate limits during the year from July 1, 1951, to 1952, if the council approves an agreement, now on file at the clerk's office, authorizing participation. The agreement will be presented when the council meets next Monday evening, for discussion.

Under the terms of the contract the village would do all of the repair work on trunk lines M-50-52 within the corporation, care for the seeding and sodding of the streets, cut grass and remove snow, and sand the streets during the icy season. The sum of $2,000 also is allowed for routine curb and gutter repair, and $2,200 for pavement patching.

Heretofore, Tecumseh has received nothing for the work that its employees did in maintaining the trunk lines, or for the removal of snow and the sanding of the highways during the icy season. The County Road Commission has been paid by the state for a portion of this work but, it was said, the village has, in years past, done hundreds of dollars worth of such work for which it has received nothing.

The new agreement is the result of conferences during the past months between the State Highway Department and A. G. Leitch, who recently resigned as local engineer.

Prior to the agreement which now awaits approval, Mr. Leitch had a tentative agreement with the state to do maintenance and repair work on the trunklines and a budget of about $3,500. The present contract would supercede the tentative one.

Chicago Boulevard, M-50-52, within the corporation, is 1.25 miles in length, and M-52, from Chicago boulevard north to the limit, is 1 mile in length, according to the state survey.

Unmarked Buried Cables Delay New Traffic Light

Because neither the village of Tecumseh or the Michigan Associated Telephone Company are certain as to where the telephone cables are buried in the street at the intersection of Chicago Boulevard and Ottawa street, the state is delaying the installation of a traffic signal light at the intersection. Installation of the light was ordered some months ago, following a traffic survey.

It is understood, however, that as soon as definite plans for the resurfacing of the boulevard are completed, and other details incident to such resurfacing are completed, the state intends to install the light. However, because it would be necessary to tunnel the street to make the traffic light installation, engineers are fearful at the present time that they might strike the phone cable, resulting in considerable damage.

GOLF TOURNEY

Sunday, August 5, is the date for a re-match for Adrian and Tecumseh golfers at the Tecumseh Country Club. Home and home matches are now even. Breakfast will start at 8 o'clock, and a good turnout on the course is urged. Golfers should sign up at the pro-shop. Next Sunday's match replaces the one scheduled for two weeks ago and cancelled because of rain.

Short Change Artist Is Operating Locally

Police warned today that a short change artist now is operating here last week and that he may pay a return visit.

The "quicker-than-the-eye" man victimized only one place of business here, the Cozy Cafe, and he failed in his second attempt, at French's Market. He succeeded in shortchanging the cafe out of $10.

According to police, the man entered the cafe and, after being served, paid his bill by tendering $20. Given the change he immediately expressed the opinion that he gave the clerk $1 instead of $20. He is a fast talker and by manipulating the bills during the discussion he comes out with $10 in his favor. At French's, he failed to talk fast enough.

Police described the man as small and thin featured, wearing thick glasses and aged about 50 years. He is accompanied by a much larger man, apparently a Mexican. They drive a 1939 or 1940 Ford car.

Democrats Tap Party Office Holders For From $25.00 To $1,000

LANSING—While the Democratic party claims that it is "the consumers' friend," it is not shy about asking "the little people" for campaign contributions, Republican Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., pointed out today.

A "suggested contribution" schedule received by Alger and other Republican state officials — causing Democratic blushes for the error — proposes the following scale:

Income up to $3,000—$25 contribution; $3,000 to $6,000—$50 contribution; $6,000 to $10,000—$100 contribution; and on up the scale to $1,000 for those in higher salaried brackets.

Printed on the back of the solicitation card is this message, said Alger, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor:

"It is lawful for any government employee to make a voluntary contribution to the regularly constituted political party of his choice."

Alger pointed out that when Gov. Williams vetoed the gasoline tax increase for better highways, he said it was half a cent too much. That half cent would mean about $7 to $9 a year for the average motorist, Alger said.

"But while Williams says he is trying to save the people $7 to $9, the Democratic party has no hesitation about asking a $25 yearly contribution from anyone making less than $3,000 a year, or $50 from anyone who makes $3,001," Alger said. "Maybe that is being a 'consumers' friend', but it doesn't seem that way to me. Apparently, the Democratic philosophy boils down to not one cent for highways but millions for politics.

"The carefully noted message for government employees is obvious," Alger continued. "In other words, if you have a job, brother—pay for it. Gov. Williams repudiated this solicitation for funds, yet I notice that on the letterhead he is listed as honorary chairman. Maybe he doesn't know what is going on — and maybe he doesn't want to know."

STALIN'S PLAN TO CONQUER IS SPREADING

Stalin does not want war — and he does not want peace. That is the theme of an unusually interesting feature article in the News & World Report called "Stalin's Master Plan."

The broad basis of this plan is described in a subhead, which says: "A triple-threat combination is being tried by Stalin. Here's the way it works:

"1. Keep Russia strong and ready. 2. Let others fight on the fringes. 3. Use Communist parties to soften non-Communist countries.

"Idea is to keep everybody on shaky ground between war and peace, try to conquer the world without firing a Russian shot."

As the magazine points out, this master plan has been working extraordinarily well so far. Six years ago the Soviet dictatorship was confined to the 193,000,000 people who live within the USSR. Today the Kremlin bosses a huge empire with a population of more than 800,000,000. And, during that brief period of time, the number of people who may be regarded as allies of the United States has been more than cut in half—from 1,800,000,000 to 725,000,000.

The master plan has its roots in the relatively new concept of power called geopolitics. Russia sprawls astride the vast Eurasian land mass. As U. S. News puts it, "On this land mass are concentrated nearly four-fifths of the world's population and the greater part of the world's raw materials. Stalin seeks to dominate this land mass and, thus, to dominate the world."

Looking at the situation logically, there is every reason to believe that Stalin does not want war directly involving Russian armies — even as he does want "little wars" involving his satellites and western nations. Korea, obviously, is the perfect example. It is the Chinese Communists who have tied down the bulk of our military force and who have inflicted terrible casualties on our army. Russia herself has not been weakened by one iota — her contribution to the war has been confined to a relatively modest amount of military equipment, much of it obsolete. And Korea finds its reflection in Indo-China and other places where native Communists are fighting troops of the western powers.

What is our counterplan to all this? According to U. S. News, it "does not exist. There is arms aid to U. S. allies abroad. The United States itself is rearming. But the U. S. and allies find it hard to agree on strategy. And neutrals like India leave big gaps in western defense lines."

Eventually, the magazine points out, the western countries may take the initiative, and try to break up the satellite empire. Events and policies are definitely turning in that direction. In the meantime, Stalin is exploiting his master plan to the absolute limit — and no one can say that he has not been incredibly successful.

ARE THE TRUCKERS "PAYING THE FREIGHT?"

Primary roads in Lenawee county, as they are throughout the state and the nation, are showing the wear of heavy truck traffic. The state is now considering a plan to rebuild and resurface M-50 at our very doorstep and the cost to Michigan taxpayers will — for that project alone — be terrific.

Just how much damage is heavy commercial truck traffic doing to our highways?

Any motorist can pretty well answer that with the evidence of his own eyes. And, in addition, he can substantiate that evidence with the views of the experts.

In February, 1949, the American Automobile Association said: "Billions of dollars worth of the nation's finest highways are being pounded to pieces by overweight and overloaded commercial vehicles."

In October, 1949, the American Association of State Highway Officials said in a resolution: "This ruinous practice of overloading our roads is destroying our primary highways faster than we can rebuild or replace them."

At the same time, Thomas H. MacDonald, U. S. Commissioner of Public Roads, said: "We are overloading our highways in their traffic volume capacity and in their structural capacity. There is more than ample proof . . . Prior to the war, damage had reached alarming proportions. With the marked increase in heavy loads since the war's end, the damage has become more alarming."

The highway departments of 41 states have reported that overloaded trucks are damaging their roads.

Evidence of this character could be recited for page after page. What, then, is the solution. First, loads should be kept within reasonable limits, and violators of the law should be severely punished. Second, the commercial users of our highways should foot their fair share of the bill for building and maintaining roads which are required to handle their heavy loads. Neither of these things are being done today.

AUSTRALIA DOUBLES INCOME FROM WOOL

Sydney—Australia received more than twice as much as in any previous season for wool sold in the year ending June 30, despite a sharp fall in prices in the final period.

Wool sales yielded $1,425,380,440, compared with $689,600,000 in the 1949-50 season, the National Council of Wool Selling Brokers of Australia stated in its end-of-the-season report.

This huge increase occurred although the total of 3,547,195 bales sold was about 46,000 bales lower than in 1949-50.

MICHIGAN HEALTH DEPT. 5TH OLDEST IN NATION

The Michigan Department of Health, the fifth oldest state health department in the nation, was 78 years old July 30.

Michigan's original State Board of Health, forerunner of the department was established by law enacted by the state legislature and signed by Governor John J. Bagley, July 30, 1873.

History records that at the time of the formation of the State Board of Health, Michigan, with great expanses of "noisome" swamps, was an "ague-and fever-ridden state" and that in damp autumns there was a "fearful amount of malarial fever in the state; in many neighborhoods there were not enough well persons to give a cup of cold water to the sick."

Vacationists Look To Capital

WASHINGTON HAS SOMETHING OF INTEREST FOR EVERY MEMBER OF FAMILY

Washington—Looking for a vacation that the whole family, from grandpa to baby, will enjoy? Then the Capital City is your spot.

We didn't try it with quite such an age range (our children are 5, 10 and 13), but we found we might have—with pleasure, comfort, and a moderate expense account for all, besides the liberal education in history and fine arts thrown in gratis.

Hotels and motor courts offer special "family package rates" for sleeping accommodations. Eating places stock canned baby foods and give your under-12-year-old a menu card tailored to a child's taste (at half price). Baby push carts are free for the asking in most of Washington's buildings with their miles of corridors.

Best of all, the city's wealth of history, inspiration, art, and architecture is offered free to America's taxpayers, exacting only as many days as you can spare and a good deal of wear and tear on shoe leather.

With a little planning and give-and-take of interests, every member of your family can be kept happy with the diversified sights—entire still familiar despite a of Washington. The monument to its founder will appeal to all age groups. (Your enterprising Boy Scout will scorn paying the 10-cent charge for elevator service to the top. He'll climb all 898 steps of it and get a free ride down.)

Something of the grandeur and emotional impact of Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials and the Supreme Court Building will speak to old and young. So will a glimpse of the White House, its trimming of scaffolding.

Grownups will want to spend some time in the Capitol building, admiring the sumptuous new fittings of both Senate Chamber and Hall of Representatives, viewing the hundreds of statues to America's great, maybe paying a visit to your congressman. The children won't mind this too much if you're sure to take them for a ride on the tiny train that runs underground from the Capitol to the Senate Office Building.

Little legs can tire quickly while parents view exhibits, letters, documents, and pictures in the Library of Congress. But be fair about it. Don't hurry them away too soon from the court of Neptune fountain out front, with its giant goldfish and the water pouring from the mouths of sculptured sea snakes and turtles.

Some buildings hold charm for the entire family. Such a place is the Museum of Natural History with everything from dinosaurs and Egyptian mummies to delicate dolls dressed like miniature Cleopatras and King Henry the Eighth. And like the Arts and Industries Building of the Smithsonian Institution. Here father and son will examine the Wright Brothers' plane and Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis." It will be hard to drag them away from the most complete stamp and coin collection in the country. Or it may be mother and daughter who forget it is lunch time when they are looking at the Victorian dollhouse or comparing the gowns worn by wives of the Presidents.

After a morning viewing the excellent collection of paintings and art objects at the beautiful National Arts Gallery, be sure to schedule a trip to the colorful Pan American Union building. There children and grown-ups alike will be charmed by the Hall of Flags of the 21 member nations, the garden with its Mexican God of Flowers, and the two gorgeous live macaws who reign in mute dignity over the tropical patio.

You may think of your proposed trip to the Zoological Gardens as purely a juvenile treat. Don't be surprised if Dad has to be dragged from the reptile building or Mama from the exotic bird collection. Everyone will be charmed by the baby elephants that are Madame Pandit's recent gift to the children of America from the children of India. Pink balloons and peanuts will add the last touch to a perfect afternoon. Even the somewhat startling sign, "Lost children will be taken to the Lion House," will strike no note of terror.

There's no end to the sights of Washington. Crime and money being perennially fascinating subjects, everybody will want to take the tour through the FBI building and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. There's the Shakespearean Museum, the National Airport, and Arlington Cemetery. And Mt. Vernon in its shining new coat of cream-colored paint. (Watch out! You may lose a five-year-old, as we did, in Martha Washington's garden among the maze of high box hedge, fragrant in the summer sun.'

Miss Rhonda M. Hunter Is Bride of Robert Reed

Miss Rhonda Mae Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hunter, sr., of Tecumseh, and Robert Stephenson Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Reed of Toledo, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Grace Lutheran church. The Rev. A. Jeschke performed the single ring ceremony. The altar was banked with white gladioli and lighted candalebra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown, featuring a long train and finger-tip veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and carnations centered with an orchid. The matron of honor, Mrs. Ralph Mohr of Adrian, wore a pale orchid lace and taffeta gown with a halo of orchids. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

During the ceremony Mrs. Kenton Hunt, at the organ, played nuptial music and accompanied the Misses Marlys and Evelyn Arnold as they sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

The ushers were James Perkins and Kenneth Hunter, jr., Marion Reed was best man.

Mrs. Hunter chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue dress with white accessories and Mrs. Reed wore a navy dress with matching accessories. Each wore a carnation corsage.

A reception was held in the basement of the church for 200 relatives and friends immediately after the ceremony. A five-tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table. Mrs. Eugene Betz and Mrs. August Maska served and Mrs. Jack Perkins was at the guest book. Guests were registered from Toledo and Defiance, Ohio, Detroit, Adrian, Britton and Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed left on a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains. For traveling, Mrs. Reed wore a white suit and the orchid from her corsage. She is a graduate from Tecumseh high school and spent two years at Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo. Mr. Reed is a graduate of Toledo University and is an engineer with General Motors Corp. in Detroit. They will reside in Detroit.

A Line on His Dad

"I guess pa must have been up to all kinds of tricks when he was little, wasn't he, ma?" asked Johnny.

"What makes you think so?" replied his mother.

"Cause, he knows exactly what questions to ask me when he wants to know what I've been doing?"

Future Farmers Plan To Hold Picnic on August 6

An FFA officers' meeting was held recently in the Agriculture room of the new high school. Officers Fred Long, Charles Bishop, Lynn Hunt, Erwin Pennington, Richard Young and Merlyn Wagner discussed various activities with their advisor, P. F. Burns.

Plans for attending the Leadership Training Camp were completed. The camp will be held at Waldenwoods, Aungust 10-12. The purpose of the training camp is to prepare the new officers for their duties for the coming year. A recreational program is also included for the boys.

At the meeting, the monthly testing of milk for butter fat was completed. Boys of the agriculture class test their own herds and also the herds of local farmers, as a community service. This service is intended to help farmers cull out low producing cows from their herds.

Another activity of the chapter during the summer included the playing of softball. The chapter is a member of the city league which is supervised by Coach Duvall.

A general FFA meeting will be held, August 6, at 7:30 p.m. Plans for a summer picnic at Hayes Park is on the agenda. All members of the chapter are requested to present.

Bedouins Reap Desert Harvest

SALVAGE MATERIALS FROM WORLD WAR II SPELL RICHES FOR MANY

Tobruk, Libya—The roaming Bedouins of the Libyan Desert are still gathering the richest harvest they have ever known—in the shape of desert salvage.

Derelict tanks, trucks and guns, crashed aircraft, and abandoned equipment and ammunition left strewn across the desert after Field Marshal Montgomery's Eighth Army finally crushed Field Marshal Rommel's African Korps spell prosperity for the Bedouin today.

The least damaged items were recovered by the British Army itself. But a fortune in scrap metal was left behind.

A salvage company in the past three years has made handsome profits after paying out $2,000,000 to Arabs who have collected and worked on the scrap.

In fact, about half of Cyrenaica's 300,000 people—and especially the desert nomads—are or have been in this line of business.

The resultant prosperity is reflected not only in increased sales of tea and sugar, but also in the high price of a camel.

Tobruk has proved the most productive area, for it was here that some of the toughest and most static battles were fought. To date it has yielded about 70 per cent of the 100,000 tons of salvage exported.

Further inland, collection is more difficult, and it is there that the burnoose-clad Bedouin of the desert has come into his own.

If he finds a tank lying in a wadi or an oasis, he cannot tow it by camel, or even by truck. So he fills the tank with jellied nitroglycerine collected from some ammunition dump, lights a fuse and stands back.

After the explosion, he sorts out the nonferrous from the ferrous fragments, loads half a dozen camels and sets out for a coastal scrap yard.

Salvage is becoming harder work. The best has been lifted from most of the area extending to about 150 miles inland. But further south, there is still an estimated 20,000 tons to be brought in—and with rearmament, prices are booming.

The roaming Bedouin of the desert can still reap without sowing.

Alert Secretaries Have Very Responsible Jobs

As an alert secretary you have much to do with the clearness, force, and freshness of a great deal of business writing. Dictation that is supposed to communicate facts and ideas comes to you for transcription. Often you must translate it also, before it can communicate properly. This is done by improving the expression without tampering with the thought.

Anything in the dictation that does not make sense to you, you should query before transcribing. Go back to the one who dictated. Ask him what it means. Nine times out of ten, it needs to be simplified and clarified.

Train yourself to help your boss write shorter, clearer sentences. Today, it is not uncommon for an executive to say to his secretary, "If you find my average sentence length running to more than 17 words, check me on it."

Remember this is the average sentence length we are talking about. Don't be alarmed by a long sentence that is well constructed, if it is counterbalanced by enough short sentences. Variety in sentence length is essential to a vigorous business style.

When the language of the dictation grows long-syllabled and heavy, question that before transcribing it. You know the kind of thing. "Contingent upon the amalgamation of the subsidiary organizations in the adjacent communities—"Help your boss to avoid such labored mouthings at all cost. Help him to say it clearly, concretely, concisely—whether it is a letter, memorandum, or report.

Just as short sentences are, in general, to be preferred to long sentences, short words are usually to be preferred to long words. But this does not mean that either long sentences or long words are to be avoided entirely. Variety, change of pace, and individual flavor are necessary to emphasis and interest. But always aim for over-all brevity and clearness in business writing.

"What about punctuation?" you ask. Here is current advice from the Director of Information of one of the largest companies in the world. "In the text of any piece of business writing, use as little punctuation as possible and still make your meaning crystal clear." That's sound advice. And it difinitely does not mean you should avoid all punctuation except the casual, careless use of the dash.

The purpose of punctuation is to communicate more clearly and freely to the reader the thoughts of the writer. Use it that way.

Here are Five Practical Points that can make you a more valuable secretary:

1. Always keep alert to the sense of what you are taking in shorthand or of what you are typing.

2. When in the slightest doubt about spelling or definition, turn to your dictionary.

3. Teach your ear and eye to gauge the length of a sentence; work for an average sentence length of about 17 words.

4. Train yourself to help your boss translate his though-words into simpler language that clearly communicates.

5. Read back everything you type to test the clarity of its meaning and to check it for mechanical accuracy.

Vacationists Are Warned Of 3-Leafed Poison Ivy

Learn to recognize the three-leafed poison ivy plant and stay away from it, the Michigan Department of Health warned vacationists today.

Don't touch unfamiliar plants and bushes. No section of Michigan is free of poison ivy and no person is completely immune to ivy poisoning, the Department said.

Ivy poisoning is always unpleasant and it can be serious, causing a month-long illness which may require hospitalization.

Any person who thinks he may have been exposed to poison ivy should wash the exposed area thoroughly with a strong laundry soap. If irritation occurs and tiny blisters appear, he should see his doctor.

The poison in the ivy plant is a non-volatile oil which can be carried in fire smoke, in ashes, in dust, on the fur of pets, or on garden tools, wood, or other items which have come in contact with the plant.

Eradication of the ivy plant is the only sure protection against ivy poisoning, according to the State Health Department which is urging cities and resort areas to see that the plant is eliminated from playgrounds, parks, golf courses, picnic and bathing areas and along sidewalks and paths.

An "ammate" solution or 2,4-D solution sprayed on the leaves and plant will kill it. "Ammate" takes five to ten days and 2,4-D, about three weeks. If the plants are still green at the end of these periods, they should be sprayed again. Spraying should be repeated every year until plants no longer appear. The sprays are not poisonous to man or animals, but care should be used to keep the mist from falling on valuable cultivated plants. About three-quarters of a pound of "ammate" in a gallon of water will treat an area 16 feet long and 16 feet wide of ivy foliage, State Health Department engineers said.

Mr. Whelan and Mr. Hamaker will go to Detroit this morning and meet the students at Greenfield Village, where the Dearborn Rotary Club has arranged a day of activity. They will return to Tecumseh late this afternoon.

On August 19, all of the Rotary-sponsored students in the 222-23rd districts of Rotary, and there are about 75 in all, will go to Ann Arbor for a week's orientation stay at a Y.M.C.A. camp. Then they will return to their several American homes.

The Rev. Harold Sullivan, formerly of Clinton, is the author of the Youth For Understanding movement that has been adopted by the two Rotary districts. The plan has been carefully studied by the American government and has received the approval of the State Department.

CANADA PLANS FOR ROYAL VISIT

Ottawa—The itinerary of the October tour of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, still under official consideration, is one of Ottawa's most closely held secrets and won't be known for some weeks.

Officials say the itinerary still is in skeleton form and that it will be some time before even the Canadian Cabinet has a look at it. It first has to be approved by the Princess and the Duke and then the detail must be filled in.

They will land at Quebec probably Oct. 1 or 2—and it can be assumed they will spend a day there before going to Montreal and Ottawa.

President Truman has invited them to visit Washington. If they accept, they probably will cross the border after their visit to western Canada and, upon returning to this country, continue their tour in the Maritime Provinces.

Protection for you alone is not enough . . .

That's why FULL FAMILY MEMBERSHIP is an important and valuable feature of Blue Cross-Blue Shield!

CHANCES ARE one in four that you will be faced with hospital and medical bills this year for yourself or a member of your family. And the chances are even greater that, if you are among the one in four, the bill will be for a member of your family. BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD records show that family dependents use two to four times as much medical treatment requiring hospital care as the employed subscriber himself.

That's why the hospitals and doctors who run BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD have provided a program of Full Family protection that offers the subscriber the opportunity to enroll his wife and children for exactly the same comprehensive benefits as he himself receives.

In addition, BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD provide many other family protection features. For example: under the Full Family Contract, the newborn child is covered from birth. In addition, all eligible children under 19 years of age, no matter how many in the family, may be enrolled and receive the same full benefits without additional cost to the subscriber.

Yes, the family is important to BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD and BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD are important to your family. Protection for you alone is not enough.

These comprehensive benefits give you and your family protection that's priceless

Blue Cross Comprehensive Group Hospital Plan provides up to 120 days care in ward or semi-private room, according to the service for which you enroll, in any of the 191 participating hospitals in Michigan. There's no limit on the certificate benefits covered—no matter how high the total bill!

Blue Shield Medical-Surgical Plan pays generous amounts for specific surgical procedures—gives you the peace of mind that comes with knowing substantial payments will be made towards your doctor's visits to the hospital in non-surgical cases.

And remember—a BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD membership card admits you to a participating hospital without red tape or embarrassing questions. Afterward there are no claims to file, because BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD pay hospitals and doctors directly.

Talk to your employer about making Blue Cross-Blue Shield available where you work, through the Group Enrollment Plan, without physical examination or health statement.

Much Now Can Be Done In Cerebral Palsy Cases

Much can be done for the child with cerebral palsy, and more is being undertaken every month, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

Cerebral palsy is a weakness or lack of control of muscles due to brain injury — injury which may have occurred before birth or during birth or which may have resulted from illness or accident. It is not inherited; it is not contagious, and it does not run in the family. It occurs through no fault of parent, family or physician. Because one child in a family has cerebral palsy does not mean that others will have it or that their children will have it.

The inability of the child to control his muscles — his "making faces", drooling, blurred speech or uncontrolled movement — does not mean that he is mentally retarded; he may be brilliant. The disability of the child with cerebral palsy varies in type and intensity.

With help, a cerebral palsied child may be taught to control and strengthen his muscles. The training is sometimes long and complicated. No parent or family should try to undertake it alone. For the cerebral palsied child to reach his highest possible level of development requires expert medical care from many specialists, planned education, and the skilled guidance of occupational therapists, physical therapists and understanding parents. Early education and treatment greatly multiply his chances for successful achievement.

Medical care, treatment and services for the child with cerebral palsy are provided by the Michigan Crippled Children Commission (the state agency), the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults (the Easter Seal Agency) and the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Michigan (a United Health and Welfare Fund Agency). The Educational needs of children with cerebral palsy are met through programs set up by the local school systems with the advice and subsidy of the Department of Public Instruction. Local health departments will provide parents information on all services for the cerebral palsied.

ONE HUNDREDTH YEAR—NUMBER FORTY-FIVE | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, AUGUST 9, 1951 | FIVE CENTS A COPY

Although things may seem a bit strange here, with plenty of oranges, bananas and fresh fruits, and hamburgers for the asking, Joachim R. Clausnitzer and Alfred Born, 17-year-old German youths, are rapidly adjusting themselves to the American way of life. Joachim, a native of Mannheim, Germany, is the son of a wholesale foods dealer. Alfred is a native of Freiburg, Germany, and his father is a publisher-printer. Both boys are here as members of a Rotary-sponsored group of teen-agers, who will spend a year in this country. Joachim, a ward of L. W. Larsen while in America, is spending his first month with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hamaker. Alfred is the ward of Fay Whelan and is living in the Whelan home. Pictured above front, left to right, are Joachim and Alfred, rear, left to right, Mrs. Hamaker and Mrs. Whelan. The photo was made in the Hamaker home.

German Youths To Study Here

ROTARY - SPONSORED STUDENTS WILL BE MEMBERS OF HIGH SCHOOL CLASS

The two Rotary-sponsored German students who are spending a year in Tecumseh, will enroll in the public schools here in September and both of them will be members of the 1952 graduating class of Tecumseh high school. The boys were juniors in the high schools of Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Whelan and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hamaker, in whose homes the lads are living, report that the boys are rapidly adjusting themselves to the American way of life.

"They were well informed about America before they came here," Mr. Hamaker said, "and they are taking our customs, our foods and our automobiles in their stride." Both of them, according to Hamaker, have a great desire to drive American-made cars. German cars, of course, are much smaller and less powerful than those made in the U. S.

Alfred Born, 17, of Freiburg, Germany, is the ward of Mr. and Mrs. Whelan and is living for the full year in the Whelan home. Joachim Rudolph Clausnitzer, 17, of Mannheim, Germany, is the ward of L. W. Larsen but for the first month of his stay he is living in the Hamaker home.

Alfred is the son of a publisher-printer in Germany, and Joachim is the son of a wholesale foods merchant. Both were scholastic honor students.

The two lads arrived here last week Thursday after crossing the Atlantic by steamship. They are two of a group of 87 boys and girls who are sponsored by Rotarians of the 222nd and 223rd districts in a Youth For Understanding project. The program originally was suggested by Don Thomas of Clinton, and is being tried out in the two districts before it is adopted nationwide by the club.

Except for one or two orientation periods in camps, the boys and girls will remain in American homes for a full year. There are two similar students in Blissfield, and two at Clinton.

Blast Is Fatal To Two Workers

RAY HERSHA AND SHELDON LIND OF PROTANE CORP., BURNED IN EXPLOSION

Sheldon Lind, 39, district manager of the Protane Corporation here, and Ray Hersha, 32, an employee of the corporation, were fatally burned last week Wednesday in an artificial gas explosion in a house in Rives Junction, about nine miles north of Jackson. The accident happened at 6:10 p.m., as the men were investigating the cause of a small explosion that had occurred about two hours previously in the home of Claude Austin.

Officials of the Corporation said that in all probability the exact cause of the fatal blast will never be known. State police and the fire marshal's office have investigated. It is probable that the leaking gas was ignited by a spark from an electric wire. It is known that the first explosion happened when an electric pump in the basement started, and set off sparks from the brushes.

The Rives Junction area is in the Tecumseh district of the corporation and the two men had been sent from here to make the investigation after Mr. Austin had advised them of the earlier blast. Austin was outside the house and the men had just entered the basement when the blast occurred. Both Mr. Lind and Mr. Hersha were able to walk out of the basement and to an ambulance, although they were badly burned from head to foot, it was said.

Both men died in Mercy Hospital, Jackson, on Thursday.

At the offices of the Protane Corporation here, it was said that the Austin house was not seriously damaged by the blast.

Mr. Lind's body was sent to Erie, Pa., his former home, where funeral services were held on Monday. He had been in Tecumseh only a few weeks, having formerly been in the hardware business in Pennsylvania. Surviving him are the widow and two small children.

Funeral services for Ray Hersha of 315 W. Logan street, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the Collins Funeral home. The Rev. B. O. Bashore, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated, and burial was in Brookside Cemetery. The service at the grave was conducted by the Odd Fellows with Walter Atwell and Gilbert Nighswander in charge. The bearers were Fritz Stauffer, Lester Tucker, Harold Jeffries, Robert Irwin, George Brady and William Lloyd. Friends and relatives attended from Jackson, St. Louis, Mo., Chelsea, Adrian, Ransom, Erie, Pa., Britton, Ridgeway, Tipton and Tecumseh.

Surviving Mr. Hersha are the widow, Margaret; his father of Jackson; a brother, Harry, of Tecumseh; a half-brother, Lee, jr., and a half sister, Marilyn, both of Jackson. His mother and two sisters preceded him in death.

Mr. Hersha was born June 1, 1919, the son of Lee and Lillian Hersha. He had spent most of his life in Tecumseh and attended the local schools and the Baptist church. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges, and of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. He had been employed by the Protane Corporation only since February 1.

Ask Voters To Amend Charter

INCREASE IN MILLAGE NECESSARY TO PERMIT BONDING FOR DISPOSAL PLANT

Voters in the village of Tecumseh will be asked, within the next two months, to approve a resolution, adopted by the council, amending the municipal charter to permit the issuance of bonds for a new sewage disposal plant. At the present time, the charter limits to two mills the amount of taxes that may be imposed for general improvements.

E. C. Hellman, chairman of the council's sewer committee, said today that in order to finance the proposed disposal plant, the limitation must be increased to seven mills. Until such time as electors approve such an increase, he explained, it will be impossible for Tecumseh to issue bonds to finance the program.

The resolution, calling for the amendment to the charter, was before the council when it met in an adjourned session, last evening. The council was supposed to have acted upon the measure Monday night but lack of a quorum at the session caused adjournment. After the council has approved the resolution, the law prescribed a 30-day waiting period during which time

Hospital Plans An 'Open' House

NEW $81,500 ADDITION, GIFT OF THE HERRICKS, WILL BE READY ON AUGUST 16

Formal opening of the new $81,500 addition to Herrick Memorial Hospital, making it the second largest hospital in Lenawee county, will take place on Thursday, August 16, it was announced today by Miss Gertrude Spaulding, superintendent.

"We plan to hold an open house next week Thursday, from 2 to 4:30 in the afternoon," Miss Spaulding said. "We will be very happy to have everyone who cares to do so, visit the hospital and see the new addition. Members of the Hospital Auxiliary will act as hostesses during the afternoon."

Herrick Memorial Hospital is owned and operated by the Village of Tecumseh. It was built originally through public subscription and was the "brain child" of Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co. At the time of its inception, Mr. Herrick sparked a civic campaign to raise funds for its construction. He contributed generously to the fund and within a brief period sufficient money had been pledged to assure its reality. After the building had been finished and equipped, it was turned over to the village without debt.

Some years ago, with the aid of a bond issue, the first addition to the institution was built. It was

Dr. P. B. Hardy Dies In Hospital

DEAN OF LENAWEE COUNTY PHYSICIANS SUCCOMBS; FUNERAL ON WEDNESDAY

The dean of Lenawee county's physicians is dead.

Dr. Periam Burrows Hardy, aged 81 years, and for more than 58 years a practicing physician and surgeon in Lenawee county, died Sunday at 3:05 p.m., in Herrick Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient since early June. He had been in failing health for several months, and had retired from active work more than a year ago.

Born in Andover, New York, on October 7, 1869, Dr. Hardy, as a youth, expressed a desire to study medicine. In those days medical schools required four years of training but the first year of college work was done under the supervision of a "preceptor" — a practicing physician with whom the student worked. And so, after completing high school training, Dr. Hardy entered the office of Dr. F. E. Comstock of Andover, the family's physician.

Dr. Hardy liked to tell of his early experiences in Dr. Comstock's office. He drove the Doctor's team, assisted with some surgery and, near the end of the year, he was permitted to sit in on consultations, to mix medicines, and, on occasion, to make a diagnosis. He then entered Long Island College Hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y., graduating in 1892.

The Doctor's first practice was in Britton, six miles east of here, and he remained there until 1896, when he came to Tecumseh. He was very active in the medical field locally, until his health failed, and at one time he was chief of staff of Herrick Memorial Hospital. Since 1911, Dr. Hardy's home and offices had been at the corner of Chicago Boulevard and Pearl street.

Many times during his career, Dr. Hardy had returned to General Hospital in London, England, where he served a one-year internship following his graduation, for

History of Power Co. Is Traced By Speaker

The history of the Consumers Power Company, its growth and increased service to Michigan residents since its organization in 1910 was traced interestingly, Tuesday evening, by Louis McDowell of Adrian, district manager of the company, when he spoke to the Rotary Club. The program followed dinner at the Country Club.

Mr. McDowell declared that electricity is now one of the cheapest servants that the public buys. Its cost has not increased with other commodities, and its use has greatly expanded.

The speaker also touched briefly on the natural gas service offered by his company and declared that until such time as more storage space for gas, piped in from the southwest, can be obtained, a limited customer load may be necessary. In both the gas and electrical fields, he said, Consumers is planning expansions to keep pace with the state's growth.

Alfred Born of Freiburg, Germany, and Joachim Clausnitzer of Mannheim, Germany, foreign students brought here in Rotary's Youth For Understanding program, were guests of the club.

SWARM OF METEORS DUE AUGUST 10 AND 11, U.M. ASTRONOMER SAYS

If You Like To Watch The Heavens, Be On The Alert This Month

Meteors will be darting across the night skies during August at a higher average rate than at any other time of the year.

Amateur astronomers and others interested in watching the heavens will want to be alert on the nights of August 10 and 11, according to Dr. Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

After 10 p.m. on those two nights, the annual Perseid shower of meteors should be at their peak although increasing numbers of "shooting stars" will be visible in the nights before the peak is reached.

"Although these flashes of light may be seen in any direction, their paths when traced back seem to intersect in the northeastern part of the sky where the constellation Perseus rises about 10 p.m.," Dr. Losh reports. "This accounts for the name given to this annual shower of meteors."

Visibility, barring clouds, should be good for this year's shower since the moon will not have any appreciable effect in dimming the brilliancy of the meteors' flight across the sky. Dr. Losh says that fifty to seventy shooting stars an hour may be counted during the peak period of the Perseid shower.

The date of the shower is determined by the time of year that the Earth encounters the swarm of meteors revolving around the sun. Thus the shower of any particular group of meteors can occur only once a year.

"These pieces of iron or stone become visible when they enter the earth's atmosphere," she points out. "Meteors come in at very high speeds and the pressure encountered as they hit the earths atmosphere checks their speed and the resulting friction sets the meteor to burning. The temperature resulting from the meteor's violent rush through the air is enormous and produces the brilliant flash across the sky."

Besides the meteors, the August sky will be dominated by the Milky Way, extending from the northeast across the center of the sky to the southwest, and its attendant brilliant stars. The long bar of the Northern Cross will be along the Milky Way and almost directly overhead during the evening hours.

Jupiter, which will be rising at almost the exact east point in the sky at 9 p.m. will become the dominate planet since Venus will be fading in the western twilight. Jupiter is a part of the constellation of Pisces or The Fishes. This is not a bright constellation but features two lines of faint stars forming a crude letter "V."

Just too late for inclusion in August activities is the year's second partial eclipse of the sun due on the morning of Saturday, Sept. 1, Dr. Losh declares. The sun will rise with 79 per cent of its surface covered by the moon and the eclipse will continue for more than hour until 7:06 a.m. The earlier eclipse on March 7 was near the western horizon and just before sunset.

Should We Plan or Should We Wait?

Certain business men are worrying about parking conditions in downtown Tecumseh. The council's consideration of a more rigid regulation for the existing parking area, back of the Strand Theatre, has touched off the discussions. Whether the area should be restricted to certain types of vehicles and prohibited to others, and whether or not parking meters should be installed in the lot are among the questions that are open to argument.

Some merchants contend that there is no need for meters in the lot at the present time because it is not being used to its capacity. Others say that to prohibit the use of the lot to trucks of more than a ton and a half capacity would drive farm trade from the stores.

It appears that the merchants are not opposed to better supervision of the lot by police, making it possible to park a greater number of cars in the area. Also, those interested in the parking problem seem to favor the removal of "dead storage" from the area. It is said that a few vehicles are parked there for days and weeks on end.

The merchants' interest in the parking problem is a healty sign for Tecumseh. Business men and residents alike pay too little attention to the affairs of local government. Unless there is something of particular interest to some individual or group, it is seldom that anyone attends a regular meeting of the village council.

The public's lack of interest also extends to the meetings of the board of education. In the election a month ago, when two members were named to the board, only 43 people took time to vote. Too few people realize the importance of the school board, and that it will spend in the coming year approximately $300,000.

Many times in this column we have urged greater public participation in civic affairs by the residents of the community. Tecumseh is growing—it is growing far more rapidly than many of us realize. It was only a few years ago that this town was a community of little more than 2,500 people. Today, while the federal census credits us with only 4,000 residents within the corporate limits, there is no doubt but that the number, including the fringe areas, is well over 5,000.

The parking problem in Tecumseh is only one of the problems that the community faces. We are face-to-face with a sewage disposal program that will cost somewhere between $250,000 and $300,000. It will not be too long before we will be faced with a school building program. Tecumseh soon will need another elementary school building. Residents were warned of this fact by the superintendent in his report at the annual meeting.

As Tecumseh continues to grow there will be street extensions, water and sewer extensions, increased street maintenance, the building of curbs and gutters and dozens of less important problems.

We are operating today with no more fire equipment than we had ten years ago. It will not be long before that problem, too, must be considered. There also may be the need for an increased water supply, increased water pressure and the possible building of a standpipe or reservoir in the western part of the town.

More adequate garbage disposal is another problem that must be faced. The village has assumed the job of collecting garbage, it operates a truck to do the work, and collects a fee from subscribing residents for the job which, we are sorry to say, is none too good at the present time.

The members of the village council and the board of education have big jobs. They are faced with so many problems that they hardly know which one to tackle first. Public demands are numerous and increasing, and they will continue to increase as the community continues to grow.

What are we, as residents of Tecumseh, doing to meet our increasing problems? How much help are we offering by way of suggestion to our elected representatives? Can we continue to operate this growing community under its present form of government, a form that is more than 50 years old and considered antequated and discarded by most other communities of our size in the state?

There is a need for careful planning in Tecumseh if the community is to grow up to be the town we would like it to be. We're getting too big to continue to do the job "by guess and by golly."

Some day, and we doubt that it is too far off, business men and residents alike are going to awaken to this fact. We sincerely hope that the awakening will not be too late.

SURE, a trim new Buick makes a mighty pretty picture when you see it in your driveway, or watch it wheel by.

But if you could get a mechanic's-eye view of this big, broad beauty as it sits on a lift, you'd see an impressive picture of rugged brawn that makes good-to-look-at Buicks give such a good account of themselves on the road.

You'd see the full-length torque-tube drive that firms the whole power relay system, and steadies your going like a giant hand beneath you.

You'd see big sturdy wheels with really wide rims that provide surer footing, give better car control, make tires last longer.

You'd see all four wheels cushioned by stout coil springs that are completely service-free, practically breakproof — and a principal reason for the ever-level Buick ride.

But mainly, you'd see the massive foundation that backbones every Buick — the deep, wide, X-member frame that's rugged as a rock, and a brute for strength.

So when you look at the beauty of a Buick—the big mileage power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the moneysaving ability of its Dynaflow Drive*—don't overlook the tough stamina that goes with it all.

And don't overlook the fact that a new '51 Buick, with all its heft, costs less per pound than any other car of comparable size, structure and weight.

Better come see us first chance you get—and find out what a smart buy this is—from every angle.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Michigan's First Weekly Newspaper Was Started In Detroit In July, 1817

DETROIT, Territory of Michigan, July 25, 1817—The first issue of the Detroit Gazette came off the press today.

The new paper, published by John P. Sheldon and Ebenezer Reed, promises to be Detroit's first regular newspaper. An earlier paper, The Michigan Essay, published by James M. Miller on the small hand-press owned by the Rev. Gabriel Richard, lasted for only one edition on Aug. 31, 1809.

The Detroit Gazette is a Democratic paper and was established at the suggestion of Lewis Cass, governor of the Michigan Territory. It will be published weekly from offices in the Seek House on Atwater Street, a few doors above the public wharf.

The first edition contains only one item of news on the front page and that is a public notice that proposals will be received by the governor and judges of the Territory on Aug. 4 for the materials and work necessary to build a stone jail. The remainder of the first page is devoted to advertisements showing Detroit's growing number of business establishments.

There are four pages to the first issue and the publishers expect to continue with this same number. Two of the sixteen columns of news and advertising are printed in French.

Arrival of eleven ships and the departure of six from Detroit during the period July 17 to 24 is reported in the Marine List. International news on page three shows concern over the movement of Canadian marines from Kingston to Montreal with fears that this may mean some sort of a trade by which Canada will be exchanged for some French islands in the Mediterranean. Dispatches reprinted from the Baltimore American tell of Spanish threats in the South American sector.

Prices in Detroit are quoted as follows: Flour ranges from $12 to $14.12 and pork from $26 to $30 a barrel while beef is $6 a hundred pounds. Butter is selling at 31 cents a pound, cheese is 25 cents a pound, eggs are 37 cents a dozen while fowl are quoted at $1 a pair. Wheat and oats are selling at $2 a bushel while potatoes are $1.25 a bushel. Whiskey is quoted at from $1 to $1.12 a gallon with cider selling at from $14 to $15 a barrel.

Wood is bringing $4 a cord, plank lumber is selling at $40 a thousand feet and shingles at $4 a thousand. In the fur market, the following prices per skin are quoted: bear and otter, $3 to $5; mink and fisher, 75 cents; raccoon, 50 cents; and muskrat, 20 cents.

New Lightweight Battery Starts Car at 65 Below

A lightweight storage battery which will start a car at 65 degrees below zero has been developed at the University of Michigan Engineering Research Institute under the sponsorship of the U. S. Army Ordnance Corps.

Expected to have wide application not only in military installations, but commercially, the battery utilizes a new principle in the construction of the grids.

According to L. L. Carrick, professor of chemical engineering at the University, and L. S. Gerber of the Detroit Arsenal, directors of the research project, the new battery was made possible by successfully lead plating materials ordinarily corroded by sulphuric acid.

This makes it possible to replace large amounts of the lead used in standard batteries with aluminhm brass, iron or copper The use of these materials results in a much lighter yet more powerful battery.

Designed to meet the exacting standards of widespread military operations, the new battery has withstood tests proving it to operate effectively at temperatures ranging from 165 degrees above to 65 degrees below zero. The battery also maintains a constant high power output over a long period of time, saves both space and weight compared with commercial batteries now in use and maintains its charge for long periods of time when not in use.

GUERNSEY ISLANDERS PROTEST NAZI STIGMA

London — Sixteen Channel Islanders are asking King George to remove a Nazi-imposed stigma on their good names.

Sixteen former policemen on Guernsey were arrested by the Gestapo and sentenced for sabotage against the German invaders. Then the Nazis brought them before a Guernsey civil court and sentenced them again. They spent most of the war in concentration camps.

The former policemen are proud of their sabotage record, but object to their names still appearing in the civil court records.

post-graduate courses. He also spent six months in Vienna studying abdominal surgery, and he took several post-graduate courses in Chicago hospitals. He was licensed to practice in Michigan, Ohio, Colorado and Texas.

As a hobby, Dr. Hardy enjoyed travel. He had made one trip around the world, had crossed the English Channel 11 times, and had toured the United States, Alaska, Europe and Canada. The Doctor also enjoyed big game hunting. He spent four years at various times enjoying this sport in Germany, Mexico, Canada, Alaska and in the U. S. He had many hunting trophies in his offices.

More recently, as his years advanced, Dr. Hardy spent considerable of his vacation time at his cottage at Higgins Lake, where he hunted deer and ducks.

It was only a few weeks ago, at the Tecumseh Country Club, that Dr. Hardy was presented with a 50-year certificate when the Lenawee County Medical Society honored the local physician and five others at a dinner. Dr. Hardy was a former president of the society. He also was a member of the Tecumseh Lodge, F. & A. M., Tecumseh chapter of Royal Arch Masons, the Adrian Commandery Knights Templar, a member of the Detroit Consistory, and he was a 32nd degree Mason. He was an active member of the Tecumseh Grange, was instrumental in building the Tecumseh Grange Hall, and on occasion had been generous in his gifts to that organization. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Hardy's first wife and the mother of his children was Annie Van Dusen, who died in 1898. Seven years later, in 1905 he was married to Jenny C. Law of Australia, who died in 1941. Later he married Bernice Rogers of Tecumseh, who survives him.

Also surviving the Doctor are a son, Col. Clarence W. Hardy of Governor's Island, N. Y.; two sisters, Mrs. Grace Livermore of Rutherford, N. Y., and Sylvia J. Hardy of New York City; two brothers, Edward Hardy of Elmira, N. Y., and Raymond Hardy of Almond, N. Y.; six grandchildren, David, Perlam and Thomas, sons of Col. and Mrs. Hardy of Andover, and Mrs. Ruth Cook of Andover; Mrs. Anna Louise Nelson of Forest Grove, Ore., and J. Marilyn Hardy of Buffalo, N. Y.; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Hardy of Governor's Island, and Mrs. Harold Hardy of Andover. Six great-grandchildren also survive. He was preceded in death by two sons, Harold and Edward, and a sister, Mrs. Helen Reiss. A grandson, Lieut. Donald E. Hardy was killed in World War II.

The Doctor's body remained at the family residence until Wednesday at 10 a.m., when it was taken to the Green Funeral Home where services were held at 2 p.m., with the Rev. Donald Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial was in the family lot at Ridgeway Cemetery.

Col. and Mrs. Clarence Hardy arrived here Saturday and remained until after the services. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Finley F. McCoubrey of Rutherford, N. Y., the latter a niece of Dr. Hardy; Miss Sylvia Hardy of New York City; Mrs. Miles F. Livermore of Rutherford, N. Y.; Mrs. Harold D. Hardy of Andover, N. Y.; Raymond Hardy of Almond, N. Y. Edward Hardy, one of the Doctor's brothers, was unable to attend because of his advanced years.

Presbyterians Plan To Raise Funds For Camp

The new Presbyterian conference camp at Greenville, Michigan, is in full operation serving 100 different Presbyterian youth each week. This is the first year that Michigan Presbyterians have operated a camp of their own which has frontage on four lakes and is 160 acres in size. Tecumseh Westminster Fellowship groups are sending 12 delegates to the camp this summer and hopes to have many more next year.

The camp cost is being met by fund raising campaigns in each Presbyterian church in Michigan. The Camp Fund Committee here is made up of representatives from each of the church's organizations. Tom Naser of Youth Fellowship Groups is chairman, Mrs. Dale Bowen, Woman's Association; Mrs. Gordon Garlic, Golden Rule; Miss Marie Koernig, Florence Weld Mission Guild; Mrs. R. W. Ries, Presbyterian League; Mrs. Elmer Wilt, Westminster League and Al Merz from the Men's Club, make up the local committee which will meet in the Fellowship Center at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, August 14, to discuss plans for the fund campaign.

group of young people represented from Battle Creek, Rollin, Adrian, Raisin Valley, Raisin Center, Ypsilanti and Tecumseh. An interesting musical program was presented with Roger Wood in charge, after which the Rev. Mr. Roane gave an address.

Sunday morning, Dr. Williams again delivered the message which was followed by Bible classes at which time Miss Alena Caulkins, missionary nurse from India spoke.

In the afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Wood presided at a stewardship rally. Others on the platform were stewardship superintendent, Merritt Chase, and guest speakers, Rev. H. B. Peter, pastor of United Brethern church of Adrian, and the Rev. Mr. Amstutz, pastor of Adrian Berean Baptist church. At the conclusion of the service, Mr. Wood conducted an interesting round table discussion on stewardship. The session was closed Sunday evening with the Rev. Mr. Roane in charge.

Lunches were served at the church Saturday and Sunday.

Friends C. E. Society Elects New Officers

The August meeting of the Christian Endeavor of the Friends church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raynor VanValkenburg, August 6. Marion Comfort was in charge of the devotional hour. Josephine Powell was in charge of the business meeting and the following new officers were elected: President, Rhea Butler; vice president, Lynn Wilson; secretary-treasurer, Shirley Meads; chorister, Ardys Drewyor; assistant, Mary Louise Kotts; pianist, Carolyn Comfort; assistant, Rhea Butler; correspondent, Shirley Meads. After the meeting games were enjoyed and refreshments served. The September 3rd. meeting will be held at the home of Norma and Marion Comfort.

Shortage of Passenger Cars Seen In Future

Detroit—A possible passenger car shortage that could last several years is foreseen by Ernest R. Breech, executive vice-president of the Ford Motor Co.

In a statement issued at the company offices, Mr. Breech said this could result from "reduced production during the balance of 1951 and probably further reductions in 1952."

Mr. Breech said mounting unemployment will subside slowly as auto workers are absorbed into defense projects. He added, however, that it will be 1953 before the major phase of Ford's defense program will reach its peak.

"It is a certainty," he said, "that there will be considerable unemployment in the period between the reduction of civilian production and full-fledged defense production."

Under government directive, Mr. Breech said, production of Ford, Lincoln, and Mercury passenger cars will be approximately 256,000 units for the third quarter —about 37 per cent below the third quarter of 1950.

Current production cuts and those that probably lie ahead, he said, "create the possibility that supply will not match the requirements of car-buying America."

This, he continued, will create a pent-up demand for cars when the present emergency is over. It will take several years to meet this demand, he added.

Hospital Plan

quickly outgrown. A year ago, Mr. Herrick, realizing the need for a still larger hospital, announced that with Mrs. Herrick he was giving $79,000 to build and equip another wing to the building. Construction has been going on for several months and is now finished.

At a civic banquet, several weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. Herrick were honored for their generosity and, at the same time, the board of directors of the hospital announced that the name of the institution had been changed from Tecumseh Hospital to Herrick Memorial Hospital, honoring the memory of Mr. Herrick's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Herrick of Holland. At the banquet, Mr. and Mrs. Herrick also announced that they were increasing their original gift of $79,000 by $2,500 to care for inflated costs since construction started.

Herrick Memorial Hospital is now next to Bixby Hospital, Adrian, in size in the county. When the new addition is formally opened there will be a maximum capacity of 55 bed patients, not including the nursery. At the present time the hospital can accommodate 34.

The new addition includes 10 rooms, some of them two bed rooms, a nurses' station, utility room and solarium. The basement of the new wing also is utilized for storage, etc.

The hospital will be put into immediate use following the open house next week Thursday.

Ask Voters To

such intent must be advertised. After that time the council then establishes a date for a special election and that, too, must be advertised for a 30-day period. The two 30-day delays would bring the special election sometime in October.

"As I see it," Mr. Heilman said, "there is nothing for Tecumseh to do but vote to increase the limit. The fact that the limit is increased does not mean that we have let down the bars for further spending after the disposal plant is installed. Any spending of public funds must be approved by the people. They have the last word, regardless of the millage limit."

Heilman also pointed out that the disposal plant is a must in Tecumseh. He said that the Stream Control Commission is determined that the plant be installed and he declared that in all probability, should the voters fail to give approval at the election, the Commission would seek a court order, making the improvement mandatory.

Heilmn said that after the vote is taken to increase the millage another election, at a later date, would be needed to authorize the installation of the plant and the issuance of the bonds to pay for it. It is estimated that the cost of the plant would be somewhere between $250,000 and $300,000. The bonds would be retired over a 20 or 25-year period. The cost of operating the plant, once it was built, would be through an increase in water rates, or a service charge.

The council also had before it last evening a suggested program for better control of the parking lot in the rear of the Strand Theatre. It has been suggested that meters be placed in the lot and that the lot's use be denied to vehicles of more than a ton-and-a half capacity. Some business men are opposed to such a regulation, declaring that meters are not needed and that the weight restriction would drive some farm trade from the village. The business men say that the lot is not now used to its capacity and that all that is needed there is better use of the parking area and the removal of "dead storage"—cars and vehicles left there for days and weeks at a time.

Another CROP Campaign Is Planned In County

A county meeting for the purpose of starting the CROP campaign in Lenawee county this year was held in the court house in Adrian Monday evening. Catholic, Lutheran and Protestant rural church leaders were present and preliminary plans were laid for the Lenawee organization.

The christian responsibilities of the churches and of all in America who believe in the way of life taught by them are so tremendous this year for homeless and hungry people in war-torn lands that their relief agencies, Catholic War Relief Service, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief have again requested the help of rural people through CROP. The Christian Rural Overseas Program is a church-sponsored, community centered, commodity collecting program whose contributions are distributed overseas through church channels only, to all who are in need regardless of race, creed or nationality. The chief recipients of CROP commodities are orphans and aged people in homes and institutions in twenty-five countries, including war-torn Korea, under the supervision of the church agency designated by the giver.

Last year the Lenawee county CROP committee, under the leadership of Robert Thompson of Blissfield, collected two car loads or three thousand bushels of wheat which was shipped to eastern points and given free transportation across the ocean by the United States government.

It is planned to hold a county organization meeting on Monday evening, September 24, in the supervisors' room at the court house in Adrian.

$5 MILLION BUILDING TO HOUSE '5 AND 10'

New York—Plans have been filed for one of the biggest retail store developments here in recent years. The project involves construction of a $5,000,000 four-story store and office building.

The building will contain a through-street F. W. Woolworth store with entrances opposite R. H. Macy's on 34th Street and Gimbles on 33rd street.

The plans were announced by William Zeckendorf, president of the real estate firm of Webb and Knapp, Inc.

Editors who have trouble getting newsprint may well thank their stars that they wouldn't need as much in a lifetime as the Federal government uses every month. The Government Printing Office uses 15,000,000 pounds of the paper every 30 days—and each editor can figure for himself what kind of circulation he'd need to use that much. The pamphlets the government puts out with this newsprint range from "How to Control Vagrant Cats" to "Mist Netting for Birds in Japan."

U. S. SAVINGS GROUPS ASSETS AT NEW PEAK

Chicago—The nation's savings associations continued their record-shattering growth during 1950 with assets climbing to a new peak total of $16,885,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1950, the United States Savings and Loan League disclosed.

An official compilation, released by League President Walter J. L. Ray, revealed an increase of $2,280,226,000 in total savings association assets from the close of the previous year, 1949.

The year to year advance was easily the greatest in the history of the specialized savings associations. The previous highest annual gain was recorded during 1949, when assets rose $1,538,303,000.

SAVE MONEY IN MAKING IT

Industrial research now enables the government to save money while making money.

The research developed a quick-drying varnish which renders it unnecessary to set a new paper currency aside to dry for two weeks after the bills are engraved. The annual saving to the government will be about $1,000,000.

MERCHANT BOOSTS SALES BY REFUND ON PURCHASES

London—London toy merchant Jack Glinert has hit on a bright idea to boost his sales. He gives customers their money back.

Every day Mr. Glinert declares a "free" half hour. The customers are not told in advance, but if they have bought in this period they are entitled to exchange their receipts for the cash value. And they keep the goods.

The "free" period is decided by a drawing. The customers hear about it next day through a notice posted in the shop window. They must produce the timed receipt handed to them when they make the purchase.

SOUTH INHABITED 3,450 YEARS AGO

New York—Human beings lived in Humphries County, Mississippi, as far back as 1500 B.C.—3,450 years ago.

The find, made 3½ miles north of the little town of Belzoni, was reported by the American Museum of Natural History.

The prehistoric inhabitants of this section of the southland were described as "precramic"—meaning they lived before the art of pottery making. Their utensils were of wood and stone.

Sharp Advance In Postal Rate

SENATE COMMITTEE SCHEDULE WOULD ADVANCE MOST MAILING COSTS

Washington—The Senate Post Office Committee has approved a postal-rate-rise bill which it estimates will yield slightly less than $300,000,000 in additional revenues.

The measure would increase the rate on postal cards from 1 to 2 cents; first-class mail from 3 to 4 cents on the first ounce; air-mail letters from 6 to 8 cents an ounce and air postal cards from 4 to 5 cents.

Second-class mail rates, for which a 100 per cent rise had been proposed over a three-year period, would be increased only 30 percent—10 per cent in three successive years.

Exempted from the increases are listed non-profit, charitable educational, and certain fraternal mailings.

Third-class maid, after payment of the usual $10 fee would rise from the present one-cent rate by one-quarter cent in two successive years.

The committee approved a new section providing there shall be no increase in the mailing rates on books. This, if enacted, would nullify a recent Interstate Commerce Commission ruling increasing sharply the rates of fourth-class bulk mail, including books.

Special-delivery service would be lowered from 23 to 20 cents and no other changes made in special service charges.

LETTER TO STALIN BRINGS PASSPORT

Tel Aviv, Israel—Mrs. Tova Lerner's letter to Stalin has brought results.

Born in what used to be Czernowitz, Austria, but what is now Cernauti, Romania, Mrs. Lerner fled to Russia during World War II. In 1948 she posted a letter to Prime Minister Joseph Stalin appealing for permission to join her son in Israel.

As a matter of principle, Soviet authorities permit no emigration. But, after a considerable wait, she got a passport and, on June 19, 1951, the Israeli Legation in Moscow stamped it with the first visa it ever issued.

Mrs. Lerner arrived in Haifa Harbor July 23.

Self-Discipline Is School's Aim

IS SAID TO BE ONLY KIND THAT HAS PERMANENT EFFECT ON INDIVIDUAL

Bellingham, Wash. — "Self-discipline is the goal that is sought now in most public schools. It is the only discipline that has a permanently good effect upon the individual," Dr. Eldridge T. McSwain said here recently at the summer conference held annually on the campus of Western Washington College of Education.

Dr. McSwain, dean of the School of Education at Northwestern University, delivered the three main addresses of the conference on the general theme, "Modern Education—an Answer."

Pointing out that discipline begins in the home, Dr. McSwain declared that the greatest need of the child is to experience with both his parents "lived love." Through this experience he gains a sense of approval and security which enables him to believe in his own integrity.

Such a child takes on readily opportunities for self-discipline at school. The teachers of the first three grades are of the utmost importance to the child's development because, they with the parents, contribute most to his basic concepts of behavior.

Since many homes today are disrupted both by divorce and military service, Dr. McSwain declared that it is essential for the schools to work more closely than ever with parents.

To this end he suggested that community councils be formed by parents to gain more accurate information about what the schools are doing and to help educators improve both the curriculum and the activities of the school program. "We have made great progress in improving the physical diet of our children. Now we must improve their mental diet. There is urgent need for parents to think with us on this point," Dr. McSwain said.

Some pro-Administration Senators indicate they are ready to cut off the Federal payroll most of the 7,052 chauffeurs now driving cars for bureaucrats in Washington. One Senator said he was "dad-blamed tired" of having "chauffeured limousines clutter up the streets around the Capitol so that a Senator couldn't find a place to park."

One reason farmers have a good chance to make money this year is that the wheat crop, for the eighth consecutive summer, is expected to pass the billion-bushel mark. The Agriculture Department's last estimate was 1,053,825,000 bushels, with winter wheat 25,491,000 bushels below 1950's and spring wheat 108,625,000 bushels above the 1950 mark.

Winnipeggers Pass Law To Outlay Jay-Walking

Winnipeg—Winnipeg may lose its continent-wide reputation as a city of jaywalkers. Visitors who in the past have been constantly amazed by the careless attitudes of motorist and pedestrian alike will find such antics strictly curbed by a new city traffic bylaw.

The new bylaw, after a two-week "toleration period," authorizes imposition of fines up to $50 on motorists or pedestrians who contravene traffic regulations.

Strangely, for a populace formerly so lax in observing common rules of traffic courtesy, Winnipeggers appear to be accepting the new curbs in good grace—a blow to cynics who said the scheme was doomed to failure and pointed to an unsuccessful attempt to enforce similar regulations 20 years before.

Implementation of the bylaw was preceded by an intensive education campaign through press and radio. When the bylaw went into effect, extra traffic officers were brought to main downtown traffic arteries and police cars equipped with public address systems patrolled streets to check wayward motorists and pedestrians.

But during the first few days of the new rules, police whistles and loudspeakers were mainly silent. It appeared that the public's good sense had responded to an interesting experiment in public education.

Amendments For Sewage Asked

VILLAGE COUNCIL TAKES FORMAL ACTION TO PERMIT BOND ISSUE FOR DISPOSAL PLANT

At a special meeting of the Council held Wednesday, August 8, the resolution to amend the Village charter to permit the issuance of bonds for construction of a sewage was adopted. The section to be amended would permit an increase in millage from 2 mills to 7 mills. This opens the way for the Village to proceed with this required installation, but must be voted upon at a special election, probably in October.

Construction of the sewage disposal plant has been ordered by the Stream Control Commission, and would likely be made mandatory by a court order in the event of failure to proceed with the improvement on the part of the Village. The cost of the disposal plant is estimated at from $250,000 to $300,000. It would be paid for by bond issue to be retired over an extended period in whole or part by water rate or service increase.

The action of the council has the effect of keeping the entire project within the control of the Village.

E. C. Hellman reported today that the State Health Department has approved the plans of the new disposal plant of the Village of Tecumseh.

Consumers To Expand Plants

COMPANY TO STEP UP OUTPUT OF BOTH GAS AND ELECTRICITY IN 1951-52

Consumers Power Company intends to further expand its John C. Weadock Plant near Bay City by installing outstate Michigan's largest electric generating unit, First Vice-President Dan E. Karn announced today.

This project and others now under way, Mr. Karn said, will mean a 40% increase of power supply in the area served by the company.

"By 1954 we will have more than doubled the generating capacity we had at the end of World War II," Mr. Karn said. "This expansion is made necessary by the terrific growth in the demand for electric power. To a large extent this growth is traceable to industrial expansion in Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Bay City, Battle Creek, Adrian, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, Owosso and the many other manufacturing cities that we serve. A large part of this industrial expansion is associated with the present national defense program."

Mr. Karn said the company is spending more than $33,000,000 on electric expansion alone this year, and it now looks as though our construction budgets will be large in future years. By the end of 1951 more than $200,000,000 will have been spent on expansion of Consumers electric and gas facilities since the end of World War II.

Generating capacity expansion is centered in two locations, the new Justin R. Whiting Plant on Saginaw Bay at the mouth of the Saginaw River. Both these plants are connected with the company's state-wide network of transmission lines, together with other generating plants in many parts of the lower peninsula.

The first unit of the new Whiting Plant is scheduled to go into operation in mid-1952. It will have a capacity of 85,000 kilowatts. A second unit of the same size is expected to be in operation by the end of 1952. Recently it was decided to add a third unit. This will have a generating capacity of 106,000 kilowatts, giving the completed plant a total capacity of 276,000 kilowatts. The third unit is scheduled for completion in 1953.

For the Weadock Plant the company has just placed an order for a seventh generating unit which will have a capacity of 135,000 kilo-

TWO LOVELY FLAGS GREET VJ DAY HERE

Six years ago last Tuesday was occasion for great rejoicing, for it signaled the signing of the Jap anese surrender. Though not a legal holiday, flags have been the order of the day for the intervening years.

But it was not so on August 14, 1951 in Tecumseh. Progress of the hunt for the evasive dollar was undisturbed. The occasional person who might have noticed the two flags in the business area simply wondered why they were there as he passed.

Formal Opening Hospital Today

"OPEN HOUSE" FROM 2 TO 4:30 THIS AFTERNOON MARKS MAJOR ENLARGEMENT, GIFT OF HERRICKS

Today (Thursday), members of the Hospital Auxiliary are hostesses, and the public is invited to visit and inspect the Herrick Memorial Hospital between the hours of 2 and 4:30 p.m. It is the formal "commencement" of this fine Tecumseh institution, now almost doubled in size.

The new addition is entirely the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Herrick. More than a year ago, Mr. Herrick foresaw the urgent need for the additional facilities. The original gift of $79,000 to build the addition has since been increased by $2,500 to meet the deficit threatened by rising costs. The gift was made in honor of the memory of Mr. Herrick's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Herrick. The board of directors of the hospital later announced the change of the name of Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The entire new addition will be open for public inspection. It includes 10 additional rooms, a solarium, utility rooms, a nurses' station, and considerable basement storage facilities. It is planned to put the entire area into use on Friday morning of this week. It makes the Herrick Memorial Hospital second in size in Lenawee County, and makes possible a far greater scope of service to the health of the community.

Mrs. Alice Hanna, aged 43 years, wife of Dr. Paul G. Hanna, died Friday morning at her home in St. Joseph, Mich., after a year's illness.

Mrs. Hanna was the former Alice Barber of Tecumseh, daughter of Mrs. Elona Barber and the late Clyde A. Barber. She was born in Tecumseh, and graduated from the local high school in 1925 and later attended Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti. After graduating from Normal she taught in the public schools in St. Joseph and in 1933 was married to Dr. Hanna. They have lived in St. Joseph since their marriage.

Survivors besides her husband are three daughters, Caryl, Paula and Mary Alice; her mother, Mrs. Barber, and two brothers, Gibbs Barber of Tecumseh and Berford Barber of Saginaw and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Funeral services were held Sunday in St. Joseph and burial was Monday in St. Joseph cemetery.

HOLE-IN-ONE REGISTERED AT COUNTRY CLUB

After more than two years of fruitless effort, a hole-in-one became a reality at the Tecumseh Country Club. But it is unlikely to become a part of the club records.

Last Monday, shooting with a group of caddies on Caddy Day, the sixth hole, a 145-yard shot was made perfectly by Louie Vargo before a number witnesses. His own group consisted of Bruce Packard, Larry Lopez and Val Spangler. At last report, Louie was beseiged by autograph hunters.

HOLLYWOOD CALLING

If you are seeing what looks like one of our good neighbors smiling down from the billboards, it is not a sign that you will have to change your habits. For it is no more nor less than the contenance of Clarence Gilman, the local milk and cream executive, selected by the Ford truck division to help make their wares look more attractive. If you take the right magazines, you will find him there too.

Baldwin Hardware Opening Planned

TENTATIVELY SET FOR SEPT. 7 AND 8 AS WORK PROGRESSES ON INTERIOR

Progress on the new Baldwin Hardware Store may seem slower now that the building has taken shape and is outwardly finished. But the bigger job of organizing the vast store and stock is proceeding without let-up.

The opening date has tentatively been set for Friday and Saturday, September 7 and 8, according to Ned Baldwin, owner of the firm. "There is still much work to be done in organizing a large stock of this kind," said Mr. Baldwin, "but we are just as anxious to open our doors to business as are the people of Tecumseh to have them opened. We are now planning for the September 7th opening."

The temporary store of the Baldwin Hardware in the Whelan Building on Logan street will be closed for good on the night of Saturday, August 25. Thus it will be almost two weeks between that closing and the formal opening of the new store.

Death Comes To Mrs. Van Winkle

LIFE-LONG RESIDENT OF TECUMSEH HAD SUFFERED EXTENDED ILLNESS

The small circle of those who were residents of Tecumseh before the turn of the century was saddened last Thursday by the passing of Mrs. Luella VanWinkle, wife of Reuben R. VanWinkle. Death came to Mrs. VanWinkle at about 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon after an illness that had grown worse for the past several years, just before reaching 69 years of age.

She was born Luella May Wonder on August 11, 1882, the daughter of Andrew and Emma Wonder, in Eaton Rapids, and moved to Tecumseh a short time later. She was a member of the Friends church, and always as active as her health permitted.

She was married to Mr. VanWinkle on February 22, 1900. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Eyrell Murphy and Mrs. Naomi Sallows, and a son, A. Leroy VanWinkle, all of Tecumseh; by two brothers Lavern H. Wonder and Arthur R. Wonder of Adrian; a sister Mrs. Minnie Snellenberger of Tecumseh; and by five grandchildren, David, Marilyn and Judy VanWinkle of Tecumseh, Mrs. Marjory Marx of Manchester and Mrs. Joyce Kuhn of Hendrysburg, Ohio. One daughter, Irene, died in infancy.

The body was taken to the Green Funeral Home, thence to the VanWinkle residence, where it remained until a prayer service was held on Monday at one o'clock. The funeral service was held at the Friends church at 2:30 on Monday afternoon, the Rev. Edward Becolme officiating. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

The bearers were Amos Wilson, Oscar Meads, Perry Hayden, Perry Satterthwaite, Ned Kotts and O. M. Powell. The Friendly Class of which Mrs. VanWinkle was a member, attended in a body. The Misses Marion and Norma Comfort sang, "When They Ring Those Golden Bells," accompanied by Mrs. Amos Wilson, organist.

Friends and relatives attended from Toledo and Henrysburg, Ohio, Detroit, Jackson, Manchester, Adrian and Tecumseh.

There Is Confusion In The Nation

A few days ago a newspaper reporter in Madison, Wisconsin, started out with a petition in his hand in search of signers. The petition was beautifully and eloquently worded. The reporter approached 112 people but only one would sign. A few refused him saying that they "feared the consequences." Others asked him if he were a Communist. One man actually ordered him out "with that Communist stuff."

There is an old saying that has been going the rounds for years that it would be possible, right here in America, for a man to circulate a petition that called for his own hanging, and for him to obtain on that petition the signatures of his best friends. No one reads, no one cares what they sign and they'll sign anything, so the saying goes.

But in Madison, it seems, it is different. At first thought after reading the Wisconsin reporter's story one might believe that the American people are on the alert. But are they?

The reporter was conducting an experiment for his newspaper. The petition he was circulating was simply composed of excerpts from the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights. One man who signed said, "We never were closer to losing the things they stand for."

The Madison Capital Times' experiment apparently made an impression upon President Truman. When he was in Detroit the other day he made reference to it when he congratulated the Motor City on its 250th birthday. The President attributed the refusal on the part of 111 citizens to sign to the fear that the petition might be "some kind of subversive document, and that they would lose their jobs or be called Communists."

It is true, Communists have circulated some rather phony petitions. And they have used just about every grand and noble word in the book to meet their own ends. But is that any reason that sound Americans should forswear these cherished symbols?

It is a sad commentary upon the times and a bitter indictment of the bigoted, the freightened, and the cynical exploiter of men's fears that 111 Americans, doubtless "good men and true," should be confused and alarmed when they read such words as: "We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights . . ."

In our opinion, the Wisconsin newspaper man proved the old story to be true. Folk don't read. If they had read, they would have known what the petition contained.

The Madison experiment proved still more because it showed that in 111 instances out of 112, people were fearful, fearful even to read a petition that was being circulated by a stranger.

If we, as Americans, are to keep America free, we need to calm ourselves, collect our thoughts and get over the jitters. If petitions are being circulated—any and all petitions—we should read them carefully before we sign or refuse to sign. Only in that way will we be alert to what is happening around us and only in that way will we be exercising the rights that are guaranteed to us under the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Maybe the lone signer in Madison was right. Maybe it is a fact that "we never were closer to losing the things they stand for."

Do You Know The Answer, For Sure?

A committee of brave and self-less men is struggling at Michigan State College to compile a comprehensive and authorative "Dictionary of Agricultural Terms." This long-needed work is intended to be a monument to the centennial year of the college, which comes up in 1955. But, unless the American farmer at large comes to the rescue of the committee, publication may have to be put off for another anniversary.

They're having trouble right now in the "M"s, though they don't claim to have all their problems cleaned up even that far.

The Livingston County Press, of Howell, Mich., reports that there is disagreement on whether "middle-buster" and "middle-breaker" are all the same implement. One farmer, who was unwilling to decide, remarked that a "lister" is the same as a "middle-buster." But a second farmer says it's no-such-a-thing.

So, if you know (for sure), write to John N. Winburne, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The understanding that Soul is synonymous with God as taught in Christian Science is shown in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 19.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (25:1,4): "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul . . . Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths."

Among the Bible citations in this passage, (Psalms 84:11): "For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will be withhold from them that walk uprightly."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Because Soul is immortal, it does not exist in mortality. Soul must be incorporeal to be Spirit, for Spirit is not finite." (P. 335).

They Like it a Million!

Last week Buick set a proud record.

The millionth Dynaflow Drive* was delivered to a happy owner.

That's a new peak in popularity for modern drives which take you from a standing start to any cruising speed desired with a smooth, unfaltering swoop of power.

"The biggest advance since the self-starter" is what the motorwise press called this Buick development back in 1948—and now a million owners can tell you how right that proved to be.

Here, they found, was a basically different way of delivering power.

It was the first drive to get completely away from any gears which function in a series of fixed stages—the first to apply supercharging principles that did new tricks with spinning oil.

And how folks loved it!

They loved the freedom from strain in traffic. And the new "sweetness" of ride which every passenger could enjoy.

They loved the command it gives them of every traffic situation — and the relaxation it contributes to a long day's drive.

They loved its extra safety in slippery going, and the improved control in mud and snow.

As they piled up experience, they loved the unexpected savings of rear tire wear and the reduced strain on all driving parts, from engine to differential.

And finally—they loved what it does for the value of a Buick, as reflected in the extra dollars that Dynaflow* adds to the resale price of a car.

Have you sampled this driving sensation?

There's no time like the present for discovering the thrills that more than a million Buick owners already know.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

watts, more than double that of any unit now in service in the Consumers system. It will bring this plant's total capacity to 425,000 kilowatts.

"Under today's conditions of government control, electric expansion must be planned well in advance," Mr. Karn said. "Engineering work on the new Weadock unit is under way, and an order for the turbine-generator has been placed with the manufacturer. Construction of the plant addition is planned for next year. The building is being designed with adequate space to house a second 135,000 kw unit at some future time."

Completion of the Weadock and Whiting projects will boost the generating capacity of the Consumers system by 411,000 kilowatts, bringing the total to approximately 1,500,000 kilowatts.

PRESENT: President Elliott, Trustees Heilman, Fosbender, Truesdale, Porter.

Absent: Mensing and Rohweder.

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Councilman Heilman, and supported by Councilman Fosbender.

WHEREAS, Section 22 of Chapter IX of the charter of the Village of Tecumseh (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) limits the amount of money that may be raised by tax and by loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, in any year to two per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the Village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein;

AND WHEREAS, said charter provision unduly limits the power of the Village to borrow money and issue bonds of the Village for the purpose of acquiring and constructing public improvements necessary for the public health, safety and welfare of said Village;

AND WHEREAS, the Village Council deems it necessary in order to facilitate the construction of necessary public improvements to amend Section 22 of Chapter IX of the Village charter by striking from said Section that part limiting to two per centum of the assessed valuation of the Village the amount that may be raised by tax or loan by the Village in any year and, in place thereof, provide that total outstanding indebtedness of said Village shall not exceed seven per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village and that the total of all taxes levied by the Village in any year shall not exceed two per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village;

The amount that may be voted or raised, in any year, under the provisions of this section, shall not exceed two (2) per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein."

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, than can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting thereon at any general or special election; provided, that the total of all taxes levied by the Village for all municipal purposes whatsoever, in any year, shall not exceed two (2) per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property in the Village; provided further, that the total Village indebtedness outstanding at any one time, whether incurred by the issue of bonds or otherwise, shall not exceed seven (7) per centum of the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the Village subject to taxation, as shown by the last preceding assessment roll of the Village."

2. The proposed amendment be published by causing a copy of this resolution to be published in The Tecumseh Herald, a newspaper of general circulation in the Village of Tecumseh and that this resolution, proposing the aforesaid amendment to Section 22, Chapter IX of the Village charter, remain on the table for thirty (30) days before any action is taken thereon.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

COUNCIL BUILDING
August 6, 1951

RESOLUTION

Special Meeting of the Village Council of the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, held on the 8th day of August, 1951.

PRESENT: President Elliott, Trustees Hellman, Fosbender, Truesdale, Porter.

Absent: Mensing and Rohweder.

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Councilman, Hellman, and supported by Councilman Fosbender.

WHEREAS, Section 22 of Chapter IX of the charter of the Village of Tecumseh (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) limits the amount of money that may be raised by tax and by loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, in any year to two per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the Village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein;

AND WHEREAS, said charter provision unduly limits the power of the Village to borrow money and issue bonds of the Village for the purpose of acquiring and constructing public improvements necessary for the public health, safety and welfare of said Village;

AND WHEREAS, the Village Council deems it necessary in order to facilitate the construction of necessary public improvements to amend Section 22 of Chapter IX of the Village charter by striking from said Section that part limiting to two per centum of the assessed valuation of the Village the amount that may be raised by tax or loan by the Village in any year and, in place thereof, provide that total outstanding indebtedness of said Village shall not exceed seven per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village and that the total of all taxes levied by the Village in any year shall not exceed two per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The Village Council deems it necessary and hereby proposes that Section 22 of Article IX of the Village charter (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) reading as follows:

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, that can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions of this chapter, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting upon the question at an annual or special village election. The amount that may be voted or raised, in any year, under the provisions of this section, shall not exceed two (2) per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein."

be amended to provide as follows:

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, than can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting thereon at any general or special election; provided, that the total of all taxes levied by the Village for all municipal purposes whatsoever, in any year, shall not exceed two (2) per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property in the Village; provided further, that the total Village indebtedness outstanding at any one time, whether incurred by the issue of bonds or otherwise, shall not exceed seven (7) per centum of the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the Village subject to taxation, as shown by the last preceding assessment roll of the Village."

2. The proposed amendment be published by causing a copy of this resolution to be published in The Tecumseh Herald, a newspaper of general circulation in the Village of Tecumseh and that this resolution, proposing the aforesaid amendment to Section 22, Chapter IX of the Village charter, remain on the table for thirty (30) days before any action is taken thereon.

3. All resolutions or parts of resolutions, insofar as the same conflict with the provisions of this resolution be, and the same hereby are rescinded.

Ayes: Hellman, Fosbender, Truesdale, and Porter.

Nays: None.

MOTION DECLARED ADOPTED.

Dated: August 8, 1951, 1951.

Moved and supported that the above resolution be adopted and published as required by law.

Ayes: Hellman, Fosbender, Truesdale, and Porter.

There Ain't No Use'o Yuh Blowin Up Yuhr Nag, Yuhr Suppos'd To Have More Sense'n an Iron Hoss Has, Ain'tcha?

Feller came in to our Hosstradin' Stabul other day komplainin that his Nag was a'buckin and a'rarin. Said he'd sell her fur a Nickel. He used some pretty big words, sounded a little like kussin to us, and not very komplimentary about his Hoss, either.

Wa'al, kum to find out, the Hosstabulin-garag in his home town had told him, 'fore he started on his vakashun, that he'd better giv his Hoss some kare. Guess he thot his hometown hoss jockey was feedin him a line, but he wasn't.

Anyhow, we got the feller fixed up after delayin him fur nearly a day. Said he kouldn't spare it, he needed his time fur travelin, but it jist kouldn't be helped.

Take a lesson, m'friend, from the other feller. Don't neglekt yuhr Hoss if yuhr goin away fur a little enjoymint. Get 'em fixed up 'fore yuh leave. Yuh'll probably save on yuhr religion and on expenses, too.

Former Tecumseh Merchant Dies

JOHN NYLAND WAS WIDELY KNOWN FOR WORK IN BEHALF OF CRIPPLED CHILDREN

John R. Nyland, aged 78 years, a life long resident of Tecumseh, died Thursday at 3:45 p.m. at the Parrett Nursing Home, where he had been living for the past four and half years. Mr. Nyland was the president of the Tecumseh village council for three terms, served as village assessor and was a former chairman of the cemetery board.

Mr. Nyland was born July 20, 1873 in Tecumseh, the son of the late John Henry and Hendrena Heesen Nyland. He was educated in the Tecumseh public schools and as a boy became a clerk in the shoe store his father founded in 1860. Mr. Nyland bought the store in 1906 and operated it until 1938 when he retired. He married Gertrude Bower, November 29, 1905.

In addition to his village offices Mr. Nyland was three times illustrious master of the Royal and Select Master Masons, worshipful master of the Free and Accepted Masons, a life member of the Past Chancellor Commander of the Knights of Pythias, past president of the Chamber of Commerce Club, a charter member of the Rotary.

Mr. Nyland was long active in the work for relief for crippled children for the Rotary Club. He personally took a number of children to clinics in Ann Arbor and elsewhere for repeated treatments. He was a former member of the board of directors of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and also a former board member, and was a former vice-president of the United Savings Bank for several years. Mrs. Nyland preceded him in death, November 1945.

Surviving are a sister, Angie, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Nyland, both of Kalamazoo, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the Collins Funeral Home with the Rev. Alvin C. Brazee of Iron Creek, officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Partial view of the Tecumseh Products Sales Exposition in Montevideo, Uruguay. Many of the refrigerators and food display cases are much like the American product. Others differ substantially. The marble top freezer chest in the right foreground is an example of the type of cabinet that is popular in the South American countries. As a result of the cutting, grinding and polishing methods used, these cabinets are very attractive. Back of all the display, Tecumseh Products have established firm confidence in electric refrigeration.

Tecumseh Products Equipment Is Now Used The World Over

HIGH QUALITY MAKES TECUMSEH PRODUCTS UNITS ACCEPTED IN FOREIGN LANDS —DOLLAR SHORTAGE IS MAIN RESTRICTION ON VOLUME PURCHASES HERE

It is hard to think of shortage of American currency in Sweden, Argentina or India affecting the paycheck of the worker in Tecumseh. It may even seem ridiculous that the far-eastern habit of eating rice, dried fish and fruit could affect the amount of steak on the local worker's dinner table. Yet these are just as closely related to Tecumseh prosperity as the fact that full-time operation means full-size pay checks, for the use of Tecumseh Units is world wide, and a substantial part of the total export business of such units. These facts were revealed in an interview with V. A. Wilkinson and A. E. Boyea, Export Managers of the Tecumseh Products Company.

As long as Tecumseh Product Company has made compressors some portion of the production has gone for export. Through foreign field representation and distribution developed over the years, the quality and workmanship of Tecumseh Products has become known and recognized abroad much the same as at home.

The dollar shortage in foreign countries has been both a help and a hindrance in the development of this business, according to Mr. Wilkinson. A regulation in some countries is binding, such as Sweden, where restrictions on imports of complete manufactured products are rigidly enforced. In another country, such regulation might see many refrigerators of one make or another enter the country—at a much higher cost. But most dollar short countries require that at least a part of all manufactured products be made at home.

Operating under such partial restriction, manufacturers in those countries build the part requiring the least precision or skill, and import the fine machine parts. Thus Tecumseh Products, offering a complete refrigeration package unit that foreign manufacturers can use as a part of their complete product, probably now exceeds the volume of all other makers in foreign markets. Tecumseh Products units are a symbol of dependability, and are one of the largest single factors in selling the refrigeration idea in many lands.

Time honored habits of many countries retard the use of refrigeration as much as their lack of manufacturing know-how retards manufacturing. Rice, dried fish and dried fruits, the standard diet in many countries requires no refrigeration. Many people have never experienced the cool milk, fresh butter, and other foods that might require refrigeration. The deep freeze is unknown in many lands But American habits are spreading for there is now demand for Tecumseh units in practically every country of the world.

The future for some years to come looks bright on the world

Rotary Club Goes To College

At it's regular meeting at the Country Club, Tuesday evening, the Rotary Club was addressed by Ted O. Pihl, physicist of Tresco, Inc., on the subject of atomic energy.

Introducing the speaker, Vice-President Hal Kelso advised that he would tell "all about the atomic bomb." Whether or not this was done will never be known, but Mr. Pihl's lecture tracing the development of atomic science was most interesting. In the course of this, he deftly guided a chain re-action of electrons, neutrons and other atomic elements to what was described as the "smashing that ends with an explosion at Bikini or Dagmar on your television screen." The members were left with the feeling that further education was needed before they could become physicists.

The Club voted to continue holding their meetings at the Country Club indefinitely.

NO LONGER A MYSTERY

If the reason for the happy and friendly appearance of the Publisher of The Herald, Mr. Earl Wickwire, has been a mystery in the past, it need no longer remain so.

In the past two weeks spent as editor of The Herald, I have found that he has good reason to be happy. The alert and most cooperative staff have made these two weeks a real pleasure. If the high quality of The Herald as a newspaper has been maintained through this period, it is to their credit. We trust they will keep Mr. Wickwire a happy editor for many years to come.

Rep. George Meader Reports

SENDS SCATHING DENUNCIATION OF 56 BILLION APPROPRIATION BILL

Rep. George Meader of Ann Arbor, our Representative in Congress has taken a firm stand against the un-informed spending practices of Congress. His recent letter we here quote in part:

"Seven members of a House Appropriations Subcommittee shouldered the terrific burden of assuring the 428 other members of the House and the 150,000,000 American people that $56,000,000,000 of proposed Defense Department expenditures are justified as a necessary drain on the American economy.

"Those seven committee members, almost with their bare hands, were standing up to a huge organization with thousands of officials, both civilian and military, devoting their full time to the presentation of self-serving statements and documents, and inundating the committee with testimony, charts and statistics which the committee was unable to digest, to say nothing of being able to challenge.

"Under such circumstances, the Congress is at the mercy of the Executive branch of the government, particularly on such a vital activity as national defense in a time of crisis. What if the Defense Department had asked for 80 billion, instead of 56 billon? Would the committee have been able to challenge and resist the request?

"There was strong feeling in the House that there is a great deal of water in the Defense Appropriation Bill—that the 56 billion could be squeezed down several billion without impairing our defense, but actually improving it by insistence that these public funds be used economically and efficiently. The Congress needs fact-finding investigators to squeeze the water out of these appropriations."

Rep. Meader is making considerable effort to get the facts before Congress in every matter of appropriations. "An informed Congress is a wise Congress" said Rep. Meader in closing his argument for economy.

Gala Day At Country Club

LOCAL GOLFERS PLAY HOST TO MONROE — DR. HAMMEL LECTURES ON THE POLISHING OF GEMS

They began arriving before 8 in the morning, and more than fifty local golfers and guests from Monroe enjoyed breakfast at the Tecumseh Country Club before the tee-off time at 9 a.m. In all, sixty members of the Monroe Club came to enjoy a perfect day, and were accompanied by a truck load of their caddies.

The Monroe golfers proceeded to make it their day from the first tee-off at 9 a.m. When the day was finished, the 42 players of the guest club, playing matches without handicap had polished off the local club to a score of 81½ to 29½. In the proceedings, a new course record for amateur player was set by Morris Pohn of Monroe, who shot a blistering 32 and followed with 35 to set the new mark of 67 for 18 holes, a record that is likely to stand for some time.

Following are other scores of interest. Frank Smith paced the Tecumseh golfers with a fine 79.

Monroe—
Morris Pohn	32	35—67
Dietman	39	40—79
Cowhill	42	38—80
Tecumseh—
Frank Smith	39	40—79
Gordon Keyser	39	41—80
Jim McDowell	42	38—80
Ned Rosacrans	41	39—80

Much commendation from all present was given for the fine handling of the matches to Leo Bishop, the Tecumseh pro. In addition to the team matches, about 26 wives of Monroe golfers were entertained by matches with ladies of the Tecumseh Club.

The evening smorgasbord dinner was attended by more than 100, and all enjoyed an interesting lecture and display of gems, with details of their polishing by Dr. Hammel. This event ended a day that was enjoyed by all who participated.

Kernels Again Yields Fifty Fold

TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF WHEAT TITHING EXPERIMENT DUPLICATES ORIGINAL

History has again repeated itself. Another cubic inch of Dynamic Kernels tithing wheat, planted last fall during the tenth anniversary celebration of Perry Hayden's famous project, and harvested last month, threshed out Saturday exactly fifty times the amount of seed sown.

It will be remembered that on September 22, 1940, Perry Hayden heard a sermon in the Tecumseh Friends church, in which the scripture text was John 12:24—"Verily, verily I say unto you except a kernel of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone, but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit."

Acting upon the inspiration of that text, Perry, with the help of twelve boys and with the loan of a tiny plot of ground from Henry Ford, planted one cubic inch or 360 kernels of wheat. His plan was to harvest the 1941 crop, take out a tenth for the Lord, and replant the balance for 5 more years, in accordance with the old Biblical principle of "Six years thou shalt harvest, the seventh year is a Sabbath."

It will be recalled also by those in this community that successively the harvest in 1941 was one quart of wheat, in 1942, 70 pounds; in 1943, 16 bushels; in 1944, 379 bushels; in 1945, 5555 bushels, and that in 1946, with the aid of 276 farmers who furnished land, the crop brought forth a handsome harvest of 72,150 bushels of Dynamic Kernels, worth about $150,000.

The plan now is to replant one cubic inch of grain each fall, as a permanent memorial to this project which has been publicized around the world.

How Long Before The Bubble Explodes?

Official Washington, although you have not seen too much about it in print, is definitely worried about the apparent apathy on the part of most consumers over the fate of price controls. Farm groups and industrial lobbies have said much to shorten the life and dull the teeth of control legislation. And try as it will, the government cannot arouse sufficient consumer interest in "holding the line" regulations to offset what the lobbies are saying to the contrary.

It is peculiar that the public seems uninterested in price controls. Let us consider the housewife. Today she is working with a dollar that has declined some eight per cent since the start of the Korean war. Her dollar today will buy only 92 cents worth of foods and other merchandise compared to what it would twelve months ago. Considering everything that the average housewife buys — food, clothes, services and the like — the eight per cent drop is multiplied many times.

"Only if your dollar income rose by almost 10 per cent during the last twelve months are you as well off financially as you were when the North Koreans marched into South Korea," is the way Editorial Research Reports says it.

If prices continue to rise as much in the coming year as they have in the past year, the American wage earner will have to increase his income by nearly ten per cent in the coming twelve months in order to remain as well off financially as he is now. And that, of course, is not taking into consideration the possibility of further price increases which now seem inevitable. Rents are almost certain to advance. Food prices are not under control until they have reached parity levels and most foods are now below that mark.

Another grave threat to the value of the consumers' dollar is the multi-million dollar defense spending that is being done by the government. As this money begins to circulate, prices are almost sure to be driven upward. If there is no control legislation to halt them, only the sky will be the limit.

The talk about the end of a shooting war in Korea, the possibility of an armistice and the end of hostilities between the Communists and the United Nations troops has caused public concern regarding price control legislation to sink sharply. A hurried poll of residents across the nation shows that they have little or no interest in prices. The wage earners' interest seems to center in a determination to have enough cash to go around and to pay the bills. Beyond that, nothing matters.

While we are being lulled into a "don't care attitude" by peace talks and a slight decline in food prices, we should remember that the threat of inflation is just as dangerous now — in fact it is more dangerous now than it was even a few months ago.

The continued upward spiral of all commodity prices, as well as wages, could hit the economy of the nation a serious blow and upset the stability of the country at a crucial time in world affairs. Mobilization officials warn that it will. They say that defense spending will go on without lessening, even though the shooting war in Korea ends.

The public should remember that America's defense program is not built entirely around the Korean war. It is equally important, if not more so, in its relation to war threats in both Europe and the Middle East.

Continued price increases and a new round of wage hikes are striking at the pocketbooks of American workers in a two-fold manner. First, they must pay more for goods that they buy over the counter and, second, they must pay more in taxes to aid the government in buying goods and materials needed for defense.

Remember, today the government is the largest buyer of materials. It buys on the market, at the going price. If prices continue to rise, the price that the government pays for its goods goes up, too. And to pay that price the government must have more money, and to get more money means more taxes.

Any way that one cares to look at the problem it seems to defy solution. As long as we have multi-million dollar deficit spending without some kind of consumer control protection, the public and the American government will suffer. And as the government suffers, the wage earner-taxpayer suffers doubly.

We have very little use, personally, for price controls. We dislike government tampering with free enterprise. However, we must remember that today we are living with controlled and planned economy. The value of our dollar is manipulated. Maybe we have gone too far in our world of controls to turn back.

We hope and pray, sincerely, that those who are directing the economic destiny of the nation and, perhaps, the world, will use their powers unselfishly and wisely.

U. OF M. REPORTS PROGRESS IN COLD TREATMENT

About nine out of ten persons suffering from hay fever believe they have a "common cold" or sinus trouble, according to doctors in the Allergy Clinic at the University of Michigan Hospital.

Unfortunately, many of these people mistakenly often turn to nose drops for relief without realizing it may contain substances to which they are allergic, the U-M doctors explained.

Individuals who are in doubt regarding whether their symptoms of "runny" nose, sneezing, and "watering eyes," are indications of hay fever or a common cold should consult a doctor to obtain an accurate diagnosis, the Allergy Clinic pointed out.

The doctors explained that hay fever causes an increase of certain white cells in the blood stream which can be readily determined.

The confusion between hay fever and the "common cold" probably arises because of the similarity of certain symptoms. However, the University physicians said patients with hay fever do not have a fever, even though they may feel hot.

Hay fever symptoms can occur year-round as the result of dust or the use of face-powder, toothpaste, milk or other foods that may contain substances to which a particular individual is allergic, the clinic declared.

The clinic doctors indicated that the widely-heralded drug, Cortisone, has proved very effective in treating some patients with allergic eye diseases involving conjunctivitis (inflamation of the eyelids).

Dr. John M. Sheldon, professor of internal medicine, in charge of the University Hospital Allergy Clinic, reported that new compounds, related to Cortisone, are also being used in certain allergy patients with a good deal of effectiveness.

However, he pointed out, these new compounds are still in the evaluative stage and not available for general use.

STORE SANDWICHES

Here is a good way to store tea sandwiches prepared ahead of time. Place on a slightly damp cloth on a trap. Cover it with a piece of wax paper, place uncut sandwiches on it, then cover with more wax paper and another damp cloth. Chill in the refrigerator and cut into desired shapes just before serving, says the General Electric Consumers Institute.

Heart Disease Leads As Cause of Deaths

Heart disease, cancer, apoplexy and accidents accounted for nearly 70 per cent of all deaths which occured in Michigan in 1950, according to provisional figures released today by the Michigan Department of Health.

The "fatal four" have headed the major causes of death in Michigan for the past twenty years.

Heart disease killed one out of three; cancer, one out of seven; apoplexy and related causes, one out of nine; and accidents, one out of 15 of all who died in the state in 1950.

The other six major causes of death which accounted for 13 per cent of the 1950 total deaths were so close together that their positions were relatively insignificant, the Department said.

Causes of death for 1950 were classified in accordance with the Sixth Revision of the International Classification of Causes of Death, which includes nearly 1,000 different causes in comparison with the previous 200 causes. Thus, the ten leading causes of death for 1950 cannot be readily compared, numerically, with those of previous years.

The ten leading causes of death for 1950, based on provisional figures follow:

CAUSE	NUMBER
1. Heart disease	20,521
2. Cancer	8,685
3. Apoplexy and related causes	6,376
4. Accidents	3,783
5. Pneumonia and Influenza	1,481
6. Diabetes	1,438
7. Arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries)	1,296
8. Tuberculosis	1,270
9. Immaturity at birth (prematurity)	1,096
10. Nephritis and Nephrosis (kidney diseases)	1,004

Tax Relief On Sale Of Houses Being Discussed

It's still coming — partial release, that is, from federal taxes on so-called profits a homeowner makes by selling his house at today's inflated values.

Selling a 1935 house that cost $10,000 at a 1951 price of $20,000 certainly sounds like a profit. But when the homeowner turns around and pays $20,000 for a comparable shelter, where is the profit?

There's an answer to that, too. The government takes the profit in a tax on the difference between what the homeowner paid for his house in 1935 and what he got for it in 1951.

Now Congress is on the threshold of passing a new law that relieves one type of homeowner, while penalizing another who buys a smaller home than the one in which he now lives.

How? By taxing the homeowner who sells his house at today's inflated values, and buys another one (at inflated prices) that doesn't cost as much as the old one.

If you sell your house for $25,000 and buy another one for $25,000 or more within a year, you won't have to pay a tax.

But if you sell your house for $25,000 and buy a smaller one (maybe for reasons of economy or a diminishing family) for $15,000 you will have to pay a tax on at least a part of the difference.

school kindergarten with certain exceptions which will receive personal notification. The second grade section at West Branch will be made up of those students promoted from the West Branch first grade section with a few exceptions which will receive personal notification.

All other students in grades one through six will report to Central School. All pupils in the Central buildings grades one through five, as of June 1951 will report to their same room. They will be assigned to their proper room and grade for the 1951-52 school year from there.

All pupils entering the first grade from Brownville kindergarten will report to the Central School auditorium for assignment.

All pupils promoted from the West Branch second grade will report to the Central school auditorium for assignment.

All new entrants in grades one through six will report to the Central auditorium for assignment. Any pupil not enrolled in the Tecumseh schools during the 1950-51 school year will be considered a new student.

It will probably be necessary to make some adjustments to equalize the size of grade classes. The cooperation of the parents has always been excellent and teachers confidently anticipate and need a continuation of that fine support.

All students in grades seven through twelve will report to the new high school building for assignment.

The grade school faculty will use Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday and Friday for visiting the homes of students in the kindergarten through the sixth grade. These trips to the homes of parents are regarded as a splendid means of opening a school year with a better understanding of problems that face parents and teachers alike.

In the Junior and Senior high school students will take part in a special testing program for the remainder of the week after all students have been registered for classes.

The book fee of $3.50 per students for all grades through the sixth, and the fee of $4.00 per student in grades seven through twelve will be paid at the beginning of the school year. This fee does not include the work books in any grade.

Beginning Monday, September 10, the following schedule will be effective:

Kindergarten:	9:00 — 11:30
	1:00 — 3:30
1 — 2 — 3:	8:45 — 11:30
	1:00 — 3:30
4 — 5 — 6:	8:45 — 11:30
	1:00 — 4:00
Jr. & Sr. High:	9:00 — 12:00
	1:00 — 4:00

Pupils who come by bus to attend kindergarten will go to Brownville in the afternoon and those in grades one through six to the Central Building. Those pupils who will be in the Junior or Senior High will report to the New High School Building.

Vows Spoken In Beautiful Church Wedding

A simple but beautiful wedding took place at St. Elizabeth Catholic church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock when Miss Ann Mitchey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchey, sr., of Deerfield, and James Tressler, son of Jay J. Tressler and the late Mrs. Tressler, were united in marriage. The Rev. Fr. Michael G. Collins performed the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with pink and white gladioli.

The bride wore a gown of pink brocaded net over taffeta, ballerina length, with matching pink hat and slippers, and a corsage of rubrum lillies and bebe poms. Mrs. Joseph Tressler was the only attendant for Mrs. Tressler and wore a champagne beige dress with pink hat and slippers and a corsage of pink roses.

Joseph Tressler attended his brother as best man.

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony for fifty guests. The bridal table was centered with the traditional wedding cake and gifts.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Tressler and Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Miller of Detroit; Mrs. Charles Taby of Bradner, Ohio; Mrs. Lewis Laslo, Mrs. John Mitchey, jr., and Mrs. Lyle Simpson of Deerfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Betz of Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Tressler left on a short wedding trip. Mrs. Tressler changed to a beige suit with navy accessories and wore her wedding corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Tressler will make their home at 223 South Pearl street. Mr. Tressler is employed at Tecumseh Products Company.

Clifford Brown of Britton Married at Dundee

A simple home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Viles, sr., of Dundee, Thursday evening when their daughter, Miss Diane Christine, became the bride of Clifford L. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brown of Britton.

The Rev. E. W. Clifford, pastor of the Britton Methodist church, performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Robert Goetz of Ann Arbor, sister of the bridegroom, sang, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Brown.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a navy sharkskin suit, a pink straw picture hat and navy accessories. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. Harlen Simon of Dundee attended her sister as matron of honor and wore a two-piece dress of navy faille with bracelet length sleeves, a navy picture hat and navy accessories. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bride and a yellow rose corsage.

Robert Goetz of Ann Arbor attended Mr. Brown as best man.

Mrs. Viles, the bride's mother, wore a silk dress of aqua and white print and a pink and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Brown, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy two-piece dress with a pink and white carnation corsage.

After a reception for the immediate families the couple left on a trip through northern Michigan. Mrs. Brown was a graduate from Dundee high school in June, and Mr. Brown is a graduate of Britton high school and is employed at the Britton Implement Company.

market for Tecumseh units. Possibility of manufacture in other countries is remote, due to lack of understanding of American precision workmanship and production. Capital structures that would work on low American profits are nonexistent in foreign lands. Thus, as more nations become refrigeration conscious, they are likely to come to Tecumseh for the units needed for cooling.

The case of Mexico is typical of current progress. There were few imports of refrigeration equipment prior to 1948. New legislation at that time admitted certain parts duty-free, so Tecumseh units are now shipped there, thus encouraging the thriving refrigeration cabinet industry. Uruguay, Argentina, and Brazil have long been Tecumseh Products customers. The exception to the "made in Tecumseh" rule is the plant in Glasgow, Scotland, which manufactures units there under license from Tecumseh Products. It is not unusual to see shipments leave at the same time for Rio de Janeiro, Casablanca, Lisbon and Bombay.

The appearance, design and workmanship of foreign made cabinets has vastly improved, and is amazingly good by our own standards. Through improving standards of living, education, and other factors, the foreign market for Tecumseh equipment continues to grow. In the past few years several hundred refrigeration engineers and business men have visited here to view at first hand Tecumseh production. And Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Boyea proudly point out that American travelers may get food and beverages from Tecumseh equipped fountains and freezers in most every country in which they still may travel.

DOCTORS DO GIVE CREDIT TO THEIR WIVES

Following is in part a news release from the Michigan State Medical Society that may come as a surprise to some of their wives:

Michigan doctors of medicine claim that their wives are indespensible in their practice. They not only act as secretaries in handling phone calls at home after office hours, locate the doctor in an emergency and tell the patient what to do until the doctor arrives, but many times they represent the doctor in community activities.

Realizing that they could accomplish more as a team in doing such things for their husbands as distributing health information to the schools, the doctor's wives formed the Woman's Auxiliary of the Michigan State Medical Society 25 years ago.

This year they mark the Silver Anniversary of the organization at meetings held in conjunction with the 86th Annual Session of the Michigan State Medical Society. The meetings will be held in Grand Rapids at the Pantlind Hotel and Civic Auditorium, Sept. 26 through Sept. 28.

BRONZE AGE PALACE FOUND IN CYPRUS

NICOSIA, CYPRUS — A late Bronze Age palace or temple, the first of its kind unearthed in Cyprus, was one of the discoveries of a British archaeological expedition which has concluded a six-week expedition at Koukila, near the west coast of Cyprus.

Other finds included a limestone carving of a male head in the Assyrian style dating back to 550 B.C.

KITCHEN TRICK

Meringue Piecrust—Fresh fruits, so plentiful, colorful, and refreshing at this season, are delicious served in meringue pie shells, topped with whipped or ice cream. To make the piecrust, beat together until frothy 2 egg whites and ½ teaspoon salt. Beat into this ½ teaspoon cream of tartar. Beat until stiff and add alternately and gradually ¼ teaspoon vanilla and 6 tablespoons sugar. When it forms peaks, line a greased, floured pie plate with it. Bake 45 minutes at 275°F. Cool before filling.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

COUNCIL BUILDING
August 6, 1951

RESOLUTION

Special Meeting of the Village Council of the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, held on the 8th day of August, 1951.

PRESENT: President Elliott, Trustees Heilman, Fosbender, Truesdale, Porter.

Absent: Mensing and Rohweder.

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Councilman Heilman, and supported by Councilman Fosbender.

WHEREAS, Section 22 of Chapter IX of the charter of the Village of Tecumseh (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) limits the amount of money that may be raised by taxes and by loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, in any year to two per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the Village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein;

AND WHEREAS, said charter provision unduly limits the power of the Village to borrow money and issue bonds of the Village for the purpose of acquiring and constructing public improvements necessary for the public health, safety and welfare of said Village,

AND WHEREAS, the Village Council deems it necessary in order to facilitate the construction of necessary public improvements to amend Section 22 of Chapter IX of the Village charter by striking from said Section that part limiting to two per centum of the assessed valuation of the Village the amount that may be raised by tax or loan by the Village in any year and, in place thereof, provide that total outstanding indebtedness of said Village shall not exceed seven per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village and that the total of all taxes levied by the Village in any year shall not exceed two per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The Village Council deems it necessary and hereby proposes that Section 22 of Article IX of the Village charter (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) reading as follows:

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, that can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions of this chapter, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting upon the question at an annual or special village election. The amount that may be voted or raised, in any year, under the provisions of this section, shall not exceed two (2) per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein."

be amended to provide as follows:

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, than can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting thereon at any general or special election; provided, that the total of all taxes levied by the Village for all municipal purposes whatsoever, in any year, shall not exceed two (2) per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property in the Village; provided further, that the total Village indebtedness outstanding at any one time, whether incurred by the issue of bonds or otherwise, shall not exceed seven (7) per centum of the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the Village subject to taxation, as shown by the last preceding assessment roll of the Village."

2. The proposed amendment be published by causing a copy of this resolution to be published in The Tecumseh Herald, a newspaper of general circulation in the Village of Tecumseh and that this resolution, proposing the aforesaid amendment to Section 22, Chapter IX of the Village charter, remain on the table for thirty (30) days before any action is taken thereon.

3. All resolutions or parts of resolutions, insofar as the same conflict with the provisions of this resolution be, and the same hereby are rescinded.

Ayes: Heilman, Fosbender, Truesdale, and Porter.

Nays: None.

Science Studies Evidences of God

EXTRA PHYSICAL FACTOR EXISTS IN MAN, LABORATORY TESTS PROVE

NEW YORK—Does a natural scientist, unraveling the secrets of the physical universe, find any evidence there for the existence of God?

A national magazine says "yes" to the question.

The report was contained in an article in Colliers based on a series of interviews with atomic physicists, astronomers, biologists, anthropologists, and mathematicians. It was headed "What Scientists Believe." The reporter, Howard Whitman, quoted all but a few of those he interviewed as saying they believe in a supreme being.

Their reasons, the article said, are varied.

Some of them, after years of studying the patterns and laws of physical life, have arrived at the conclusion that a superior intelligence must have arranged these systems. Mr. Whitman quoted Dr. Jan Schilt, head of the astronomy department at Columbia University, as saying:

"The hope and faith of astronomers is that eventually we will find that it is so because it could not be otherwise. The greatest shock would be to find that it all just happened by chance."

One researcher, Dr. J. B. Rhine of Duke University, told the reporter that the spiritual quality of man could be proved, scientifically, in the laboratory.

Dr. Rhine, a psychologist, has devoted most of his career to a series of experiments in "extra-sensory perception." They have attempted to determine whether the human brain can reach out and obtain information beyond the limits of the five physical senses—whether an "extra-physical factor exists in human beings.

Colliers sair Dr. Rhine replied: "The question of the human soul boils down to this: Is there anything spiritual in human personality? We have proved in our laboratory that there is. We now have experimental evidence that such an extra-physical factor exists in man."

For centuries, the questions of proof, evidence, and demonstrability have constituted an abyss lying between the natural scientists and the man of religion.

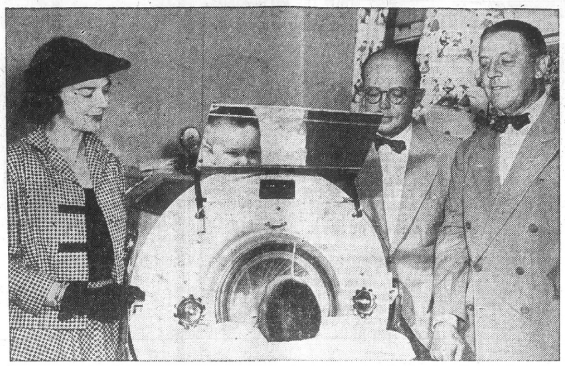
The natural scientist refused to accept anything on faith. If a phenomenon could be measured, set down in formula, and repeated invariably, he believed it: Without this evidence, he rejected it.

Some researchers still hold to that position, the article said. One told the writer that a God of love would not have permitted the existence of the materials from which the A-bomb is made.

Another said, however, "as I work at the atomic pile, I feel that God is there. I have faith that in the long run atomic energy will be beneficial."

Still another replied: "Where did mass and energy come from? We know we can't make it. We have found laws to prove we can't make it. There must be a higher power who can make it."

The magazine quoted Dr. Robert A. Millikan, California physicist, as saying "just how we fit into the plans of the great architect and how much he has assigned us to do, we do not know—but fit in we certainly do somehow, otherwise we would not have a sense of our own responsibility."



U. OF M. GETS POLIO GRANT. A $27,380 March of Dimes grant from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to University Hospital at Ann Arbor is of vital importance to eight-year-old Richard Brink, of Morenci, who has been confined to an iron lung at the hospital for more than a year. The money will be used to establish a respirator center for polio research. On hand for the check presentation were, left to right, Mrs. Tom Oyler, Ypsilanti, vice-chairman of the Foundation's Washtenaw County Chapter; Dr. Kenneth Landauer, New York, director of medical care for the Foundation and Dr. Albert C. Kerlikowske, director of University Hospital.

VENICE GONDOLIERS SET FOR MOTORBOATS

VENICE — Venice gondoliers, stubborn foes of the use of motorboats on this city's famed canals, have obtained license to operate 20 motorboats themselves.

The licenses were taken out by the gondoliers' cooperative, their ancient business organization.

Recently the gondoliers staged a lengthy strike against the motorboat competition. For several days tourists were denied the romantic moonlight night rides on the Grand Canal.

Special Deer Hunting Season

DEPT. OF CONSERVATION ANNOUNCES RULES FOR NO-ANTLER PERIOD

Distribution of application cards for the special December western Michigan deer season has started, the conservation department announces. Some 4,000 hunting license agents will have a supply by September 15.

Outline of legal hunting areas and other season information can be secured along with the cards from the local agent.

A total of 16,800 permits will be issued, with 15,000 for Leelanau and parts of Benzie, Manistee and Grand Traverse counties. Another 1,000 are for parts of Charlevoix, Antrim and northeastern Grand Traverse counties, and 800 for part of Allegan county. Hunting period for either sex deer is December 1-5, except for Allegan county where it will be an anterless season December 1-10.

Applicant must secure his regular deer hunting license first and then write on the application card his license number and name and address of his hunting license agent. Last year's cards are no good and such applications will not be considered.

Persons not claiming farm owner, lessee or sharecropper status as well as those who do in Allegan county should send applications to the department at Lansing not later than October 10. Those claiming status in the 15,000-permit area should send cards to department district headquarters at Traverse City and those in the 1,000-permit area, except Grand Traverse county, to district headquarters, Gaylord. Deadline is October 1.

Individual must be regularly domiciled on the farm to claim status. Person with such status does not have to participate in a possible drawing, should the applications exceed the quotas.

New Lightweight Paint Sought For Air Missiles

LONDON—British experts are working on new lightweight paints for guided missiles.

They are trying to find smoother, lighter paints, for the Society of British Aircraft Constructors says the slightest bump on the body surface can affect the flight of a missile.

It has been proved even a fly on the wing of a high-speed jet fighter can cause turbulence and stop the smooth "laminar flow" of air necessary for high speeds.

A bump on the surface of a missile might have the most serious effect of taking it off course, a society official said.

The emphasis for the new paint is on lightness. Britain's latest jet received 16 coats which weighed only 30 pounds.

The ordinary amount of paint on an automobile, with only about half the surface area of a jet, weighs about 160 pounds.

The new paint must also be hard and durable enough to stand great heat, for the missiles, traveling at speeds impossible for aircraft, encounter terrific friction.

Take It Easy In Hot Weather

THESE ARE HEAT AND SUNSTROKE DAYS, HEALTH DEPARTMENT WARNS

Take it easy; these are heat-stroke and sunstroke days, the Michigan Department of Health warned today.

While continued excessive heat and sun are not too good for anybody, they are dangerous for people past their middle years, for those with high blood pressure, diseases of the heart, circulatory system or kidneys, for fat people and alcoholics. Over-exertion, excessive sweating, over-eating, excessive drinking, worry, fatigue, anger and lack of sleep add to the danger.

To avoid heat prostration and sunstroke, the Michigan Department of Health recommends:

Take it easy. Wear loose, porous, lightweight and light-colored clothing. Stay where there is circulation of air. Keep your head covered when exposed to the midday sun.

Avoid prolonged exposure to sun and excessive heat — this includes ball games as well as hay fields, the golf course and fishing boat as well as the canning kitchen, the fair midway as well as the downtown street.

Do hard or "hot" work in the cooler part of the day. Take strenuous recreation in small doses. Stop either work or play if you begin to feel ill effects from the heat or sun.

Eat the protective foods you eat the year around — milk, cheese, fruits, vegetables, meat, eggs, whole grain bread and cereal — but cut down on the fried foods, gravies, rich salad dressings and rich desserts.

Cook less. Eat more raw vegetables and fruits. Dip your radishes, carrot, rutabaga or green pepper strips, celery and green onions in iodized salt to increase your salt intake. Have one hot food or beverage to make your meal more satisfying.

Drink plenty of liquids — water, fruit juices, milk, soup, tea or coffee. Don't drink too much cold liquid at ony one time and don't increase your intake of alcoholic beverages.

Get a good night's rest, and nap or rest in the early afternoon, if possible. Keep a calm attitude of mind. Save your worrying for cooler days.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The wisdom of God is clearly shown in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 26.

The Golden Text is from II Timothy (1:7): "God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Job 36:1,5): "Elihu also proceeded, and said, Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: He is mighty in strength and wisdom."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind, — that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle." (P. 275)

Rather elated I asked what the teacher asked him to do, and he replied, "Every day, he picks me and another boy to stand in the corner."

UNIVERSITY MAKING EXTENSIVE SOIL STUDY

"Operation Tracer" at the University of Michigan may lead to increased yields and greater nutritional value in farm crops.

The research program, which has just been announced, has been made possible by a grant of $100,000 to the Michigan Memorial Phoenix Project by Dearborn Motors Corp. The grant is designed to establish and finance the research for the first four years.

Centering in the University's School of Natural Resources, "Operation Tracer" will seek more information on trace elements in the soil. Scientists know that the presence or absence of these elements —iron, boron, copper, zinc, manganese, molybdenum—is of tremendous importance to the growth of virtually everything humans eat. But beyond that little is known definitely.

"Operation Tracer" will attempt to discover how plants assimilate trace elements and to determine which elements, how much and in what form they should be applied in order to make such crops as corn, potatoes and wheat grow faster and better. The trees on the wood lot which should be a part of every farm also will be included in the study.

Although only small amounts of these trace elements are needed by plants, spectacular increases in yields have been obtained when they were added to deficient soils. Thomas A. Farrell, president of Dearborn Motors, pointed to the following:

Iron sulfate sprayed on soy beans in Iowa doubled the yield.

Without zinc sulfate, sweet corn cannot be grown on some muck soils in Michigan. But yields of more than eight tons per acre are possible with the application of 100 pounds per acre.

In commenting on the Dearborn Motors Corp. grant for "Operation Tracer," University President Alexander G. Ruthven said, "The teamwork between an important industrial concern and a University reasearch staff which is contemplatel by the project is exactly the kind of mutually beneficial program that we envisioned when we launched the Phoenix Project. That the study of tree and plant physiology should result in immense benefits to mankind will be the common goal toward which both of our institutions will strive."

You can Beat the Bushes— but you can't Beat this

If you want to know why shrewd car shoppers are saying "Smart Buy's Buick," take a look at this.

It's the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's roomier than most 4-door sedans, higher-powered than many costlier cars—and priced, as you can see, right down near the lowest.

Now, we ask you: where can you beat it for the money?

Can you beat this beauty on looks and style and rich bearing in any other car near its price?

Can you match, at the same money, the big power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine (128 hp with Dynaflow Drive*)—or the big miles-per-gallon figure it delivers with such thrills?

Can you equal this traveler's roominess in any other car of comparable cost—get full-size headroom, legroom and hip-room both front and rear in any other 2-door automobile?

Can you come even near the gentle levelness of its ride and the solid steadiness of its going—have coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube keel beneath you—except in another Buick?

And where can you top the restful ease and luxurious smoothness of this sweetheart's Dynaflow Drive* in any other automobile at any price?

The answers, from a lot of certain-sure folks, sum up to a great big, "YOU CAN'T!"

But why take anyone else's word for it?

Come in and get your own answers. Look over this bedrock-priced Buick—compare it with any other automobile at the same money—and you'll agree you can't beat this smartest of buys.

Public Schools Open On Sept. 5

COMPLETE DETAILS REGARDING ENROLLMENT EXPLAINED BY SUPERINTENDENT

Tecumseh public schools will open on Wednesday, September 5, for the 1951-52 year, James McDowell, superintendent of schools, said today that he had secured a complete staff of 47 teachers, despite the fact that there is a severe shortage of teachers in certain fields.

Miss Shirley Murray, a graduate of Bowling Green University and whose home is in Bowling Green, will teach elementary and secondary girls' physical education. Robert Peck of Willow Run will teach elementary and secondary vocal music. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and has been music instructor in the Yale, Michigan, schools. These were the last staff vacancies to be filled.

The Tecumseh schools will operate in four buildings this year, there being kindergarten at Brownville and kindergarten, first and second grades at West Branch. There will be all grades, one through six, at the Central School and the junior and senior high school students will meet in the new high school building. Due to the increased enrollment it has been necessary to schedule the secondary school music, art and gym classes completely in the Central school. This is not an ideal arrangement since it necessitates the moving of pupils from one building to another which always results in a loss of teaching time, it was said.

The Central Building will have a new face this fall. New fluorescent lights have been installed throughout the school. Ninety-six feet of light makes each room practically shadow proof. New cabinets are being placed in classrooms but delivery and installation will not be completed until some time later this fall. The old kitchen has been remodeled into a playroom for elementary children since the secondary program occupies the gym throughout the day. The old homemaking room has been completely remodeled into a first grade room and two rooms have been enlarged to provide for increased enrollments. New toilets have been installed in the basement and the building, when completed, will have changed from a rather antiquated high school building into a modern

Rotarians Host To German Youths

74 BOYS AND GIRLS, VISITING HERE FOR YEAR, GUESTS AT SUNDAY SERVICE

Seventy-four German boys and girls, sponsored by Rotary International for a year's visit in Michigan, were guests of Tecumseh Rotarians at a service and dinner, Sunday, at the Presbyterian church. The Rev. Harold Sullivan, formerly of Clinton, and who, with Donald Thomas, also of Clinton, worked out the program for the year's visitation, was the guest preacher at the Sunday service. The Rev. Donald Wilson, pastor, is on vacation.

The 74 students, two of whom are living in Tecumseh homes, last week and this week are spending their time at a Y.M.C.A. camp near Dexter on Silver Lake. After the two-week orientation period, the teen-agers will return to their adopted homes in time to enter the public schools. They made the journey to Tecumseh from the lake in a bus and a dozen private cars.

After the church service the students went to the Fellowship Center where dinner was served. They brought a portion of their food but the local club furnished milk, soft drinks, ice cream and cake.

The German boys and girls who arrived here about a month ago on the sponsored visitation are guests in homes of Rotarians in the 222nd and 223rd districts of the organization. Seven of the youths are in Lenawee county homes. Sunday was the first time they had been together since their arrival in America, except for the camping period.

Better Service On Mail Routes

CARRIER SERVICE TO BE EXTENDED TO SUBDIVISIONS EARLY IN SEPTEMBER

Fent E. N. Thatcher, acting postmaster, said today that he had received approval from Washington of an extension of village mail delivery service for the Tecumseh Acres subdivision, including Murray Drive from Nos. 3461 to 7217, and on Russell Road, from Nos. 3000 to 7050. The district, he said, will be a mounted route and boxes will be rural boxes. They must be located on the north side of Russell Road, and on the south or west side of Murray Drive, as the case may be.

Mr. Thatcher also announced that the department had approved the extension of village carrier service on South Ottawa street, Nos. 216 to 410; on East Cummins street, Nos. 204 to 219; Chippewa street, Nos. 204 to 219; Iroquois street, Nos. 201 to 211. Boxes in these instances will be house boxes, he said.

The routes are being carried by Gerald Foote on the west side, Robert Hamilton on the east side, and William Martin will carry mail in the Herrick Park and Brown street areas in the morning. In the afternoon he will carry by means of automobile the Russell Road and Murray Drive route.

The portion of Tecumseh Acres on Rural Route No. 1 will remain on that route, Thatcher said.

So that residents in the newly approved areas may qualify for mail delivery service, Thatcher advised that five stores in Tecumseh carry a supply of approved mail boxes.

Russell Road Will Be Paved

LeRoy H. Titley, chairman of the county board of supervisors and supervisor of Tecumseh township, said Wednesday that approval for the blacktopping of Adrian street and Russell Road, for a distance of nine tenths of a mile, had been received from the federal government.

The improvement will begin on Adrian street, at the village limit, and continue south around the curve and onto Russell Road to Occidental Road. The cost of the project will be borne by the federal government, the county road commission, and Tecumseh and Raisin townships. Completed, it will be a two-lane highway.

Bids for the work will be sought at once, Mr. Titley said, and it is hoped that the project may be completed this fall.

Titley has, for nearly two years, been seeking federal and local approval of the road improvement plan.

LOCAL FIREMEN ENJOY STEAK AND CORN ROAST

Tecumseh firemen, members of the village council and LeRoy H. Titley, township supervisor, enjoyed the firemen's annual steak and corn roast, Tuesday evening, in the club rooms at the council building. Charcoal broiled T-bones and 12-dozen ears of roasting corn had top billing on the menu. The corn was contributed by Green Valley Farms.

The living quarters on the second floor of the council building, formerly occupied by the firetruck driver and recently vacated, have been converted into a clubroom for the firemen. They now are in need of some furniture, including davenports, lamps, tables, chairs, etc. Anyone desiring to make such contributions should notify some member of the department.

The final date for the payment of village taxes is September 15 at village office. Myrna Tingley, village treas. adv. 8-30

Paul Wolf and Wife, Home From Europe, Declare, "Give Us The Good Old U.S.A."

"It's nice to travel, but give me the good old United States," was the way Paul Wolf of Wolf Refrigeration & Appliance, summed up his five-week sojourn in Europe arriving home last week. Mr. Wolf and his wife left Tecumseh July 18 for Paris, where he was a delegate to the Seventh-day Adventist European Youth Conference. After adjournment of the sessions, Mr. and Mrs. Wolf traveled in France, Italy and Switzerland.

The Wolfs spent considerable time in France, particularly Paris and they were not favorably impressed by their visit.

"Accommodations were poor, food was not up to American standards, and courtesy on the part of the French folk was distinctly lacking," Wolf said. Paris prices, generally, are about comparable to those in the U. S., he declared, except for foods and, such as they are, they are slightly cheaper.

There is plenty of meat, and it isn't quite as high as it is here, Wolf declared, but that didn't bother him because he is a vegetarian However, he said that he and Mrs Wolf did locate, before they left Paris, a good place to eat where a meal, without meat, cost them $3.75 each.

"You just don't appreciate the conveniences that we enjoy here at home until you get away," Wolf said. "For example, we wanted to tour Europe and I tried to hire or rent a car. I soon learned that to rent a car, and drive it myself, would cost me $400 for seven days. In addition, I had to furnish the gasoline and the oil. Needless to say, we toured the country by bus and train."

Although there are beautiful sections of Paris, Wolf said that the city still shows the signs of war, and that for the most part it is dirty and poorly kept. Lack of refrigeration makes it next to impossible to get good milk, butter or cream. There is no pasteurization.

"I guess that everybody in France drinks wine," the local business man explained. "At least, everywhere we went we saw plenty of it but never in our travels did we see anyone who had imbibed too freely or was intoxicated."

Going from France to Italy was a pleasure that the Wolfs enjoyed. They found prices about comparable to those in France, but the food was much better, accommodations were better and the people were more pleasant.

"In Italy you saw people smile and they acted as though they were happy," he said. "We saw very few smiles in France."

The Wolfs described Rome as a beautiful city. They visited many of historical churches and Vatican City, and toured the metropolitan areas.

Conlin Honored In State Poll

ONE OF FIRST TEN OUTSTANDING LEGISLATORS AT LANSING, CORRESPONDENTS SAY

LANSING—Rep. Rollo G. Conlin of Tipton, Lenawee county representative in the State Legislature, has been chosen as one of the ten most outstanding members of the Michigan House of Representatives. His selection, which is featured in the August issue of "Inside Michigan," a new publication, was made by the Lansing newspaper correspondents who, according to the magazine, "made their choices on the basis of ability, integrity, know-how and getting things done for the State."

"Personal feelings," the magazine continues, "were considered out of bounds in this poll and the reporters called them as they saw these men in action."

The story says that Rep. Conlin

Buyer of "Hot" Jewelry Finds That He Lost $15

The old rule of shopping at home, buying from reputable, home-town merchants is still a good one, Chief of Police M. E. Clark pointed out today when he disclosed that at least one local resident—possibly more—had been duped by a couple of jewelry salesmen, last week.

Representing their merchandise "as a bit hot," two men sold two pieces of jewelry to a man here a week ago. Price marks on the boxes said that the gems were valued at $29.95 and $19.95 respectively. The Tecumseh man 'got a bargain" when he bought the two pieces for $18.

Worried about his "bargain" the local man brought the jewelry to police, explaining the transaction. Police checked with a local jeweler. The "gems" had a value of $1.50 each. The racketeers made a profit of $15.

"There isn't much we can do about such cases," Chief Clark said, "unles we could obtain warrants, signed by the victim of the racket. And by the time warrants are obtained the racketeers are miles away. The best way to stop such fraudulent practices is to refuse to deal with strangers. After all, the best place to shop is at home."

FUNERAL SERVICE HELD FOR DELLA E. HALL

Funeral services for Della E. Hall, who died suddenly Monday, August 20, were held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the Collins Funeral Home with the Rev. Alvin C. Brazee assisted by Rev. Vaughn Whited of Clinton, officiating. The bearers were Robert Hall, Clarence Damon, Howard Shough, Oakley Shough, Rolland Reister and John Osenko. Burial was in Macon cemetery. Friends and relatives attended from Cincinnati, Bryan, Defiance and West Unity, Ohio, Clayton, Sand Lake, Adrian, Blissfield, Royal Oak, Farmer Center, Jackson, Macon, Saline, Clinton and Tecumseh.

FIVE DAY JAIL TERM

Sidney Winters, 17, of Rt. 1, Dundee, was sentenced to spend five days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $50 and costs of $8.60, when he pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge before Justice Robert French, Tuesday. Winters was arrested August 25 at 11:45 p.m., by local police. Officers charged that he was driving at a dangerous speed, and that he ran two stop signs.

Mrs. Gerald Roberts Victim; Aunt And Husband In Hospital

A 45-year-old husband, apparently angered over divorce proceedings filed by his wife, shot and killed his niece, and critically wounded his wife and himself in a Tecumseh home at 9 p.m., Tuesday evening.

The dead woman is Mrs. Gertrude Roberts, 42, of 209 West Pottawatamie street, wife of Gerald Roberts, in whose home the shooting occurred.

In University Hospital, Ann Arbor, are:

Elton Smoke, 45, and his wife, Frances, 45, of Wolf Lake. Both are in a critical condition but, according to state police, they are expected to recover.

According to Tecumseh police, only the three victims of the .38 caliber revolver believed to have been fired by Mr. Smoke, witnessed the shooting. Officers, however, have pieced together this story:

Mr. and Mrs. Smoke have been having domestic trouble for some time. They had been married about two years. During that time two or three divorce actions had been started and, about a month ago, another bill of complaint was filed by Mrs. Smoke, charging her husband with extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Smoke was Mrs. Robert's aunt and, about six weeks ago, she came to the Roberts home from Wolf Lake. Mrs. Roberts had been in poor health and she assisted in the home work.

Tuesday, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Smoke spent some time at a nearby lake, fishing. They returned home in time for dinner.

Gerald Roberts is employed at Tecumseh Products Co., and was working at the time of the shooting. The Roberts's children, Garry, aged 14, and Mary, aged nine, were at a local theatre.

Shortly after 9 p.m., shots were

Stores Open Evenings On Sept. 7 & 8

AND AFTER THAT TIME, SATURDAY EVENING OPENINGS WILL BE OBSERVED INSTEAD OF FRIDAY EVENINGS

Marking the end of the summer shopping season, Tecumseh merchants, in meeting here Tuesday afternoon, voted to discontinue the Friday evening opening of downtown stores and, effective after next week, to open their stores on Saturday evenings only, instead.

This week, however, stores will be open as usual, all of them on Friday evening and some of them also on Saturday night. Next week, September 7 and 8, all stores in the downtown district will be open both Friday and Saturday evenings.

The two-evening opening next week coincides with the formal opening of the new Baldwin Hardware Company store on East Chicago Boulevard. It will be remembered that the Baldwin store was destroyed by fire, early in the spring, and the new and completely stocked store — one of the largest hardwares in southern Michigan — will be formally opened on September 7 and 8.

The merchants, in session Tuesday, also voted to do some fall promotional work in connection with the change in store hours and these will be announced in next week's issue of The Herald.

Unfreeze Gas To Heat Homes

STATE GETS CONSUMERS REQUEST; SUPPLY IS DEEMED AS AMPLE

Authority to supply natural gas house-heating service to 10,000 additional customers has been asked of the Michigan Public Service Commission by Consumers Power Company.

Vice President M. W. Arthur said the petition was filed as soon as the Consumers management felt it reasonable to proceed. The fact that the filing came one day ahead of the effective date of an order of the Petroleum Administration for Defense intended to restrict the connecting of natural gas house-heating customers in 15 states including Michigan, he said, was coincidental. He pointed out that the Public Service Commission could exempt Michigan from the PAD order by certifying that it is exercising its authority to control the use of natural gas and that service to defense industries is not endangered.

"We have been operating under restrictive orders of our own Michigan Public Service Commission since 1946," Mr. Arthur said. "We want to continue that practice. We think the public interest requires that decisions regarding the use of natural gas in Michigan shall be made by a body familiar with the conditions existing in out-state Michigan.

"Over a period of years Consumers Power Company and its subsidiary, Michigan Gas Storage Company, have invested $80,000,000 to provide a plentiful supply of natural gas in the outstate Michigan area. It certainly would not be fair to our customers or to the company to accept unnecessary federal regulation at a time when some of the benefits of the long range program are about to be realized."

In addition to restrictions on the use of gas for space heating, the PAD order also restricts the sale of gas to new industrial customers and for increased requirements of present industrial customers. Consumers asserts there is ample gas available to take care of all industry in its territory including the increasing requiremtnts of its present customers as well as new defense plants coming into the area. It declares there is no reasonable basis for any limitation on the sale of gas in its territory except for space heating, and that it is unreasonable to require approval of federal agencies before arrangements can be made to serve industrial needs in outstate Michigan.

Phone Company Expands Lines

RELIEF TO CUSTOMERS IN RURAL AREAS AIM; WORK TO BE FINISHED IN JUNE

The Michigan Associated Telephone Company has started relief and rehabilitation of its rural lines in the local exchange area, to improve and provide service for all rural customers, E. G. Green, district commercial manager, announced today.

For the past two weeks construction forces have been at work rebuilding pole and wire lines in the rural area east of Tecumseh. It is estimated that the construction, which includes some new cable additions, will be completed by December 31, and will provide facilities to establish service for new customers.

The program for the rural section west of the village, which includes new cable additions for the Tecumseh Acres subdivision, is scheduled for completion about June 1, 1952, and will provide facilities for new customers in that area.

With the completion of these construction projects, Mr. Green declared that his company will be in position to provide service to all applicants on the waiting list. He estimated that at the present time there are about 125 applications for telephones that must wait for line and cable construction.

MRS. ELIZABETH FROST BURIED AT MACON

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Frost, who died August 19, were held at the Green Funeral Home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Alvin C. Brazee officiating. Mrs. Ervie Raymond conducted the prayer service for Ivy Leaf Camp, Royal Neighbors of America. The bearers were Raymond and Gene Frost of Holloway, Kenneth Frost of Macon, Morris Papsworth and Lloyd Wagner of Britton and Roderick Welch of Tecumseh. Burial was in Macon cemetery where Rebekah services were conducted by Mrs. M. W. Mathews, Mrs. Orin Beevers and Mrs. E. L. Furgason. Members of the Royal Neighbors and Rebekahs attended in a body.

What About The Future Of Our Schools?

"Lack of interest in public education in the United States today is permitting an increasingly dangerous situation to arise," says The Christian Science Monitor, one of the most carefully edited newspapers in America. "Schools and teachers," the Monitor's editorial continues, "are critically needed throughout America; yet the existing educational system is barely provided for under governmental budgets."

The Monitor continues:

"In elementary schools alone 100,000 more teachers are needed annually, but instead of more teachers being attracted to the profession it is estimated by Dr. W. Earl Armstrong, chief teacher specialist of the United States Office of Education, that 125,000 educators will resign this year — about twice the normal annual rate in pre-World War I days.

"More and more teachers are going into higher-paying defense work where they will help build planes, guns, tanks. But preparing the nation's children to think intelligently and rationally is the best defense — the best insurance for peace.

"Hasn't the United States learned a lesson from the post-World War I period, when 18,000 schools closed for lack of teachers? Twenty years later 659,000 men were turned down for service in World War II because of educational deficiencies.

"A vigorous and progressive program is needed to awaken public interest to the urgency of America's educational needs. Provisions for more schools, more and better-trained teachers, and improved equipment must be worked into the budget if the United States is to prepare its children adequately for solving tomorrow's problems.

"Surely an increase of funds for education can be alloted out of an economy which now spends four times as much on gambling as it does for public education."

We quite agree with The Monitor on what it has to say regarding the need for better-trained teachers, better wages for teachers and better school facilities. We agree too, that the road to world peace lies in education and a more complete understanding of the other fellow's problems. But where, oh where is the money coming from?

We believe that a government, local, federal or state, is exactly like a family. It should endeavor to live within its income. But today, in America, that rule has long been forgotten. We have been spending borrowed money for so long that today we think nothing about it. We are financing a preparedness program for World War III on borrowed money. We are attempting to operate gigantic social schemes within our own country on borrowed money.

It has become so easy for our government to borrow money that no one gives spending a second thought.

Over in the neighboring city of Adrian the other day the taxpayers turned down a $2,800,000 bonding program for school expansion. A mere handful of voters turned out at the polls. There seemed to be little interest in the program which, according to the board of education, was vital to the welfare of the children of that city.

How do you explain such an attitude? The voters of the Adrian community were well informed about the program and the need for it. But they didn't bother to express themselves at the polls. And those who did express themselves snowed under the proposal with their negative ballots.

As we said before, we agree that teachers are underpaid, we agree that we need more schools and better schools, and that something must be done to solve the nation's school problem. However, we also believe that the schools, like other branches of government, must learn the family rule of living within their income. Maybe some of the frills must be slashed from education and from government generally, and we must return to a more sane way of living and spending.

This much seems true. Taxpayers, generally, are becoming tired of voting new burdens upon themselves, be it for schools or what not. The average worker today is becoming tired of paying high taxes. He has to economize and he rightfully thinks that his government should do likewise. And maybe he has something there.

There is an old saying that it is hard to shake more apples off a tree than grow on it. Officials with taxing powers should remember that.

Unfreeze Gas

Under a plan proposed by the company, the 10,000 house-holders would be chosen by lot from among those applying for house-heating service within a specified period. The company estimates that 50,000 additional householders in its service area want to use natural gas for house-heating.

Consumers supplies natural gas house-heating service in a large outstate Michigan area including Bay City, Flint, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Midland, Owosso, Pontiac, Saginaw, Mt. Clemens, Royal Oak, Ferndale and Plymouth. It has 322,000 natural gas customers, of whom more than 100,000 are now using natural gas for house-heating.

Connecting of additional house-heating customers was discontinued in July 1950 under an order of the Michigan Public Service Commission. Since then, according to the petition, the company's ability to supply natural gas for house-heating has been strengthened by these developments:

1. Contracts for additional amounts of natural gas from Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas have been negotiated with the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company.

2. Michigan Gas Storage Company, which operates two large gas storage fields in north central Michigan, has added substantially to its transmission lines and compressor facilities.

3. Further expansion of storage company facilities is in progress, including the development of a third storage field.

The petition was filed at this time, it was explained in order that the 10,000 additional customers might install gas house-heating equipment before winter begins. After the Federal Power Commission has acted in gas allocation proceedings now pending, it may be possible, according to the petition, for Consumers to take on still more house-heating customers.

The company points out that it is faced with higher costs of gas, and unless additional business is attached whereby increased revenues may be obtained to partially offset increased costs it will not be able to earn a fair return. "This may be the fact even though additional business is attached," the petition asserts, "but unless additional business is attached, the petitioner will inevitably be faced with substantial losses and will be required to apply for an increase in its rates."

U. of M. Plans To Study New Type Polio Cases

A new respiratory center to provide facilities for extensive clinical research on the most serious kind of polio will be opened at University Hospital, at Ann Arbor, within a month.

The center, the third of its kind in the country, will be jointly sponsored by the hospital and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc.

A check for $27,380 was presented Friday to Dr. Albert Kerlikowske, director of the hospital, by Dr. Kenneth S. Landauer, director of medical care for the foundation and a former Detroiter.

The center will have a three-fold purpose in addition to providing facilities for the complete care of a limited number of polio patients who require treatment in a respirator, better known as an "iron lung."

First, the center will be used to seek a better understanding of what goes wrong with the physiology of a polio patient who has breathing difficulties and also to find ways to get these patients out of respirators as soon as possible.

Second, the center will provide teaching facilities for physicians nurses and physical therapists. More intensive training also will be provided for resident physicians and medical students in the problem of bulbar respiratory polio and the general subject of difficulty in breathing and circulation of blood.

The third objective will be a study of the value of new respirator equipment in treating polio patients and to attempt to establish a more rational basis for the use of these breathing aids, particularly for patients in the early stages of breathing difficulty.

One day my little niece said to her mother, "Mummy, why can't we have a television set like Marjory has? She loves it so much that she's home all the time."

"That's just it," replied her mother, "think of the time we'd waste watching it."

"But, mummy," was the quick retort, "think of the time you'd save looking for me."

You never tried a fine car like This One

YOU'VE a right to set your sights higher when you buy a fine car.

You can rightly expect more room—more comfort—more performance—and a lordly smoothness in the way it carries you.

So we present these facts:

You'll find, in a ROADMASTER, more usable room than you'll find in any other six-passenger car in America.

You'll find the extra comfort of double-depth Foamtex cushions in ROADMASTER only.

You'll find that the ROADMASTER has a high-compression, valve-in-head power plant that is also exclusively Buick's—a mighty Fireball Engine endowed with more performance than most owners will ever need.

And you'll find that a ROADMASTER rolls with unsurpassed levelness and poise, thanks to coil springs on all four wheels—which is still another feature found on no other car in the fine-car field.

But the thrill that is yours, when you get this willing beauty out on the open road, is something that can't be summed up in any listing of features, one by one.

It's a "feel" which, we honestly believe, no other car can approach.

It's the sure way this dazzling performer holds the road—the way it responds to your slightest wish—the quick answer you get when you nudge the throttle—the extra security you feel in the velvet grip of the brakes—the complete freedom from tension you find in Dynaflow Drive—the sense of mastery that makes every mile a joy.

And, confidentially, there's one more important way in which ROADMASTER stands alone, and that is in the modest cost of its pounds and performance.

Better come in soon and check for yourself what a great car and a great buy this one really is.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Paul Wolf and Wife

Going from Italy to Switzerland was like going into a new world, the local resident said. There, folk are distinctly happy, food is good, prices are reasonable and accommodations are more in keeping with American ways.

"I would have liked to have spent more time in Switzerland, but we found it impossible," Wolf said. "Switzerland is a country that you should not hurry through. It would be an enjoyable place to spend a vacation."

The conference which the Wolfs attended was the first official gathering of Adventist young folk of the free countries of Europe since the war. The congress was attended by token delegations from other areas including Canada, Africa, Australia and India. In all, 25 countries were represented.

The theme of the congress was the "Share Your Faith" movement which is enlisting thousands of Adventist young people around the world in organized effort to bring their unchurches friends and neighbors to Christ. Services at the gatherings were conducted in eight languages, with seven interpreters translating simultaneously over michrophones to delegates sitting in different parts of the auditorium. It was the first time such a multilingual meeting had been attempted in Paris.

Wolf and his wife flew to Paris from New York, making the trip in 13 hours. On the return journey it took nine days by steamship. They docked in Quebec and came home from there by rail.

"I am very happy to have had the opportunity to visit Europe," Wolf said. "One gets a better understanding of how the rest of the world lives. However, I was never so thrilled in my life as when we set foot on American soil."

Wolf took several hundred colored pictures and many feet of colored movies on the trip. These are now being processed.

How?

Automobile Salesman — It runs so smoothly you can't feel it, so quietly you cant' hear it, has such perfect ignition you can't smell it, and for speed—you can't see it Englishman — My word! How do you know the bally thing is there?

One of my little pupils, six-year-old Patrick, arrived one morning for his lessons. At the gate he met the postman who gave him my mail.

Patrick, handing it to me said, "I've brought you a nice letter."

I opened it and replied, "No, Patrick, it is not a nice letter, it's just a bill." Whereupon he cheerfully exclaimed, "Oh! take it to my Dad, he'll pay it for you—he pays all of Mummie's."

elementary building.

Beginning youngsters who live north of Logan Street will report for school to Brownville in the morning, and in the afternoon the pupils from District No. 5 and Herrick Park will go there. Kindergartners living south of Logan Street will attend the West Branch School.

Earl Green, elementary principal, asks that all pupils who attended Tecumseh public schools last year in kindergarten through fifth grade and received notice of assignment to various teachers, report to those teachers on Wednesday, September 5. All other pupils should report to the Central School auditorium for assignment to rooms. It will be necessary to make some adjustments due to increased enrollments and change of address so that classes will be equalized. Teachers' names will be placed above the door at Central since many of them have changed rooms due to the remodeling of the building. Mr. McDowell also announced that by action of the board of education no pupils living outside of District No. 7 will be housed at West Branch school.

The book fee for elementary pupils is $3.50 as of last year.

Plans for the secondary schools are similar to those of last year and all pupils in grades seven through twelve should report to the new High School building at 9 a.m., on Wednesday, September 5, for classification and enrollment. Neville Hart, high school principal, has planned to use the 9:00 to 10:30 period Wednesday for orientation and payment of book fee which is $4, the same as for the 1950-51 year. It will also be necessary for each secondary school pupil to bring 75 cents rental for a locker. Testing and counselling begins Wednesday at 10:30 and continues through Thursday.

According to Mr. Hart, pupils in the secondary school are to report to the following rooms at 9:00 a.m., Wednesday:

Senior Boys	Room 22
Senior Girls	Room 29
Junior Boys	Room 27
Junior Girls	Room 28

The German boys and girls, all of high school age, were brought here under the Rotary-sponsored Youth For Understanding Movement, intended to create a better feeling between Germany and America. The Rev. Mr. Sullivan spent several months in Germany during the past year, selecting the students, and early next month he plans to return to select another group to visit during the years of 1952-53.

The local affair was arranged by M. G. Partridge, president of Tecumseh Rotary, assisted by several club members.

"These German boys and girls are having a great time here in America," Mr. Partridge declared, "and they are really enjoying themselves." And just to prove that they are mastering the English language, they sang several popular songs after the dinner meeting.

Dewitt Baldwin, director of religious activities on the campus at the University of Michigan, accompanied Mr. Sullivan and the group to Tecumseh and participated in the service.

After the students have finished their year in the public schools they will be taken by Rotary to the West coast, that they may better know the immense size of the United States, and then back to the East coast for their journey back to Germany, probably in August of 1952.

Conlin Honored

was rated on every correspondent's list despite the fact that his contribution to the Michigan Legislature is made behind closed doors in committee sessions.

Lansing correspondents had this to say about Rep. Conlin: "Honest, hard-working, loyal to his party and anxious to do a good job for his state. Has a good mind, throws his best punches in committee rooms where they count the most. No flash but effective. Sincere, honest, is not all-farmer in his thinking."

The magazine further concludes that "although the reporters had 67 Republicans to choose from, selections were difficult after ballots were counted for men like Engstrom, Estes, Conlin and Speaker Knox."

Members of the capitol press corps who participated in the poll were: Howard J. Rugg of the Lansing State Journal, Jack I. Green and James A. O. Crowe, Associated Press; Guy H. Jenkins and William Kulsea, Booth Newspapers; Al Kaufman, Detroit Times, and Owen Deatrick, Detroit Free Press.

First elected to the Legislature in 1944, Rep. Conlin won signal recognition during his initial term by being chosen as a member of the powerful Ways and Means committee. Rarely in the history of the Michigan Legislature has this honor gone to a first-termer. He has served on this committee successively during his legislature tenure, establishing himself as one of the outstanding members of this important committee which handles all of the state's appropriations and financial matters.

At present he is also serving as a member of the committees on Civilian Defense, Tax and Revenue Laws, Reorganization of State Government and Interstate Cooperation, four of the leading interim committees of the Legislature.

Prior to his legislative service, Rep. Conlin served as a member of the Lenawee County Board of Supervisors for eight years and as its chairman and on the local school board.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN REMAINING HEALTHY AND ALIVE —

You'd Better Start Paying Attention to Traffic Signals, Police Warn

"Stay Alive—Obey Traffic Signals." This slogan will keynote a campaign for greater safety on Michigan's highways and streets during the month of August, sponsored by the State Safety Commission. The State Highway Department is cooperating fully with the state police, the county sheriffs, and city and village police in an effort to bring to the attention of motorists the necessity for obeying traffic signals.

"Traffic lights do not guarantee safety. In fact, many motorists place too much confidence in traffic lights on the assumption that all other motorists will obey them. When one motorist fails to obey a traffic signal he not only endangers his own life, but also the lives of those motorists who have placed dependence in the lights," State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler points out.

"All motorists know that a red light means 'Stop,' and that a green light beans 'Go,' Commissioner Ziegler said. "However, caution should not be relaxed. Many motorists fail to realize that a yellow light between the green and red stop-and-go lights means that the light is changing to red and they should stop. A flashing yellow light means proceed with caution as the location requires extra care in crossing. A flashing red light means 'Stop' and proceed only when safe to do so.

"Stop-and-Go lights are installed at an intersection after a thorough study of traffic shows the need. The success of these signals depends entirely on the obeyance of the motorists. If all traffic signs, signals, markings, and regulations were obeyed by you and all other motorists there would be greatly reduced accidents.

"When a motorist receives his driver's license it becomes his duty to cooperate at all times by obeying traffic signals and helping in every way he can to make Michigan's highways and streets safe for himself and others. 'Stay Alive —Obey Traffic Signals' ".

Husband Kills

heard at the Roberts' home. Norbert O'Hara, 20, who lives next door, was just going into his home when Mrs. Roberts ran out of a side door of her house, screaming for him to call a doctor.

Mr. O'Hara told officers that he heard three or four shots, he wasn't sure of how many. He said that as Mrs. Roberts came down the steps of her home he caught her and kept her from falling. At about that time, John Wintersteen, who lives two doors away, gave him assistance. First, O'Hara said, Mrs. Roberts sat on the porch steps and later they laid her on the ground. He said that he went into the house and found Mrs. Smoke lying in the bathroom. Smoke was lying in a pool of blood in the doorway leading to the kitchen.

Mrs. Smoke was conscious, he said, and he asked her who did the shooting.

"My husband shot me," was her reply, O'Hara said.

O'Hara said that Mrs. Roberts had been in the O'Hara home earlier in the evening. He also told officers that she had expressed fear of Smoke to Mrs. O'Hara, his mother, on earlier occasions.

Police believe that Smoke arrived at the Roberts home and took the women by surprise. They also think that he started shooting almost upon arrival.

Mrs. Roberts was shot in the left hip and is believed to have died from an internal hemorrhage. An autopsy was performed Wednesday by Dr. J. H. Ahrenbeim of Foote Memorial Hospital, Jackson, at the direction of Coroner Ed M. Braun of Adrian.

Coroner Braun, following Wednesday's autopsy, said that it was established definitely that Mrs. Roberts' death was due to hemorrhage. He said that the bullet severed a large artery in her hip.

Mrs. Smoke was shot in the right shoulder and chest, and the bullet

A Study in English

"I want to be procrastinated at the next corner," said the passenger to the bus conductor.

"You want to be what?" demanded the conductor.

NATIONAL GROUP COMPILES PARAPLEGIC REGISTER

Citizens of Tecumseh are requested to assist the National Paraplegia Foundation in compiling a complete and current list of paraplegics who live in the United States.

Present figures show that paraplegics — which is the term applied to persons who because of spinal injury or disease have paralysis of the lower half of the body — apparently number between eighty and ninety thousand. Veterans make up approximately 3,000 of this group and the rest are civilians.

As one of its first projects the Foundation is conducting the survey of civilian paraplegics in an effort to determine the number of patients, the extent of their injury and the types of therapy which are not available. The organization will also make suggestions as to services which are needed to improve the lot of the civilian paraplegic.

Civilian paraplegics, their families and friends can assure the success and accuracy of the National Register by sending name, address, age and type of injury to the National Paraplegia Foundation, 1108 East 48th Street, Richmond 24, Virginia.

N. Y. Corporation Tax Law Studied By Michigan

LANSING—A subcommittee of a special legislative tax study committee is in New York studying the New York corporation privilege fee law in a search for a tax structure to meet Michigan's needs.

The four members of the 10-man all-Republican committee who made the New York trip are Senators Harry F. Hittle, of East Lansing, and Carlton H. Morris, of Kalamazoo, and Representative Lewis G. Christman, of Ann Arbor, and Adrian deBoom, of Owosso.

With the State facing money problems, the legislature created the committee to find an equitable, over-all solution to eliminate the present deficit and provide adequate revenue to maintain State services.

"An effort will be made to equalize the tax base so that all corporations engaged in business in Michigan will pay a tax based upon the amount of business actually done in this state," Hittle commented. "By amendments to the present Michigan corporation privilege tax law, this can be done without writing a new tax into the statute books. Foreign as well as domestic corporations will be included."

Hittle said the New York law is not an income tax law but that net income is a base used for measuring the tax. Other factors are the value of real estate occupied, gross business and number of employees.

The report of the committee writing a tax program for Michigan will include recommendations for economy in State government to keep taxes at the lowest possible level, Hittle predicted.

Committee members other than the four who made the New York trip are Senators George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, chairman, Edward Hutchinson, of Fennville, and James M. Teahen, Jr., of Owosso, and Representatives Louis E. Anderson, of Northport, vice-chairman, R. G. Conlin, of Tipton, and Wade Van Valkenburg, of Kalamazoo.

Miss Allis M. McAtee Bride of Alvah Phillips

The St. Peter's Episcopal church was the scene of an informal wedding, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Allis Merle McAtee, daughter of Mrs. Pauline McAtee, 212 W. Cummins street, became the bride of Alvah H. Phillips, also of Tecumseh. The Rev. Gilbert Runkel of Adrian performed the double ring ceremony. The bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Hillman of Rt. 1, Adrian, were the only attendants.

The bride chose a lavender street length dress with black accessories and wore a shaded lavender corsage. Mrs. Hillman wore a fall green street length dress with black accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses. Mr. Hillman attended Mr. Phillips as best man.

After a two week's trip to Massachusetts and the eastern states, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will reside at 212 W. Cummins street. The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh high school and has been employed in the offices of R. S. Moore and Son Company since 1943. Mr. Phillips attended Tecumseh high school and is employed at the Tecumseh Products Company.

Pointers Are Given For Freezing Canning Peaches

Frozen or canned peaches are a welcome treat during snowfall time and now is the time to take advantage of the plentiful supply of fresh, Michigan grown fruit to stock up.

Roberta Hershey, foods extension specialist at Michigan State College, has some ideas on how to store the fruit to preserve its best color and taste. She recommends the hot pack method for canning because they're less likely to turn brown.

Simplest way to remove the peelings from peaches is to dip them in boiling water, then quickly in cold water. Then just rub off the peelings. Cut in half and remove pits. Dropping them into water with 2 tablespoons each of salt and vinegar per gallon will help prevent darkening.

For canning, the peaches should be heated through in hot syrup. If the fruit is very juicy you may heat it with sugar, adding no liquid. Pack hot fruit to one-half inch of the top of the jar. Cover with boiling liquid up to the one-half inch mark.

Complete the job by processing in a boiling water bath for 20 minutes with the water well over the tops of the jars.

Some recommended varieties for freezing are J. H. Hale, Hale Haven, Elberta and Red Haven. They should be harvested at the stage of firm ripeness but not softness.

Rapid preparation for the freezer is essential to prevent browning. After peeling and removing pits, cut each half into four to six pieces. Pack quickly into containers, leaving as little headspace as possible. They should be covered with syrup made of equal parts of sugar and water, and containing ascorbic acid.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

COUNCIL BUILDING
August 6, 1951

RESOLUTION

Special Meeting of the Village Council of the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, held on the 8th day of August, 1951.

PRESENT: President Elliott, Trustees Hellman, Fosbender, Truesdale, Porter.

Absent: Mensing and Rohweder.

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Councilman Hellman, and supported by Councilman Fosbender.

WHEREAS, Section 22 of Chapter IX of the charter of the Village of Tecumseh (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) limits the amount of money that may be raised by tax and by loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, in any year to two per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the Village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein;

AND WHEREAS, said charter provision unduly limits the power of the Village to borrow money and issue bonds of the Village for the purpose of acquiring and constructing public improvements necessary for the public health, safety and welfare of said Village;

AND WHEREAS, the Village Council deems it necessary in order to facilitate the construction of necessary public improvements to amend Section 22 of Chapter IX of the Village charter by striking from said Section that part limiting to two per centum of the assessed valuation of the Village the amount that may be raised by tax or loan by the Village in any year and, in place thereof, provide that total outstanding indebtedness of said Village shall not exceed seven per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village and that the total of all taxes levied by the Village in any year shall not exceed two per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The Village Council deems it necessary and hereby proposes that Section 22 of Article IX of the Village charter (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) reading as follows:

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, that can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions of this chapter, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting upon the question at an annual or special village election. The amount that may be voted or raised, in any year, under the provisions of this section, shall not exceed two (2) per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein."

be amended to provide as follows:

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, than can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting thereon at any general or special election; provided, that the total of all taxes levied by the Village for all municipal purposes whatsoever, in any year, shall not exceed two (2) per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property in the Village; provided further, that the total Village indebtedness outstanding at any one time, whether incurred by the issue of bonds or otherwise, shall not exceed seven (7) per centum of the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the Village subject to taxation, as shown by the last preceding assessment roll of the Village."

2. The proposed amendment be published by causing a copy of this resolution to be published in The Tecumseh Herald, a newspaper of general circulation in the Village of Tecumseh and that this resolution, proposing the aforesaid amendment to Section 22, Chapter IX of the Village charter, remain on the table for thirty (30) days before any action is taken thereon.

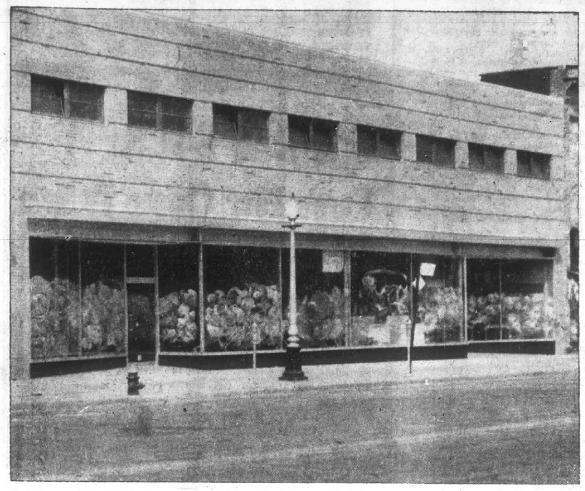
THE TECUMSEH HERALD

ONE HUNDREDTH YEAR—NUMBER FORTY-NINE | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, SEPTEMBER 6, 1951 | FIVE CENTS A COPY



THE NEW BALDWIN HARDWARE Company's store will be formally opened to the public tomorrow and Saturday. It is located on East Chicago Boulevard on the site of the old Baldwin store that was completely destroyed by fire, early in the spring. The photo above was taken just before workmen started to install the 30-inch Baldwin sign that stretches across the 3-store front. The windows were still soaped and the door was locked to permit employees to get the stock in shape for the opening, tomorrow morning.

Baldwin Store Open Tomorrow

NEW 3-FRONT STORE BUILDING REPLACES ONE DESTROYED BY FLAMES

The new 3-store-fronts-wide Baldwin Hardware Company's store on E. Chicago boulevard, will be formally opened to the public, tomorrow and Saturday, Ned Baldwin is the owner and the coups of clerks includes the same group that staffed the former Baldwin store before it was destroyed by fire, early last spring.

"Although we are advertising the opening tomorrow and Saturday as formal," Mr. Baldwin said, "actually there is nothing formal about it. We are very happy to get back 'on the street' after several months absence, and we want to meet old friends, new acquaintances and make new friends."

The new store, on the site of the old one, is even larger than the former store. It has an enlarged ground-level store, basement and second floor. The building is of brick, steel and concrete, as nearly fire-proof as can be constructed. A large elevator makes the basement and second floors easily accessable.

"It has been somewhat difficult in these times to restock our store, but we are very happy to announce that our stock is most complete, we believe just as varied as it was before the fire," Baldwin said. In addition to the general line of hardware, appliances, paints, farm tools, etc., one section of the store also features a wide selection of china, glassware and gift items.

For the opening tomorrow and Saturday, gifts and souvenirs for the public have been arranged for.

During the time that the new Baldwin store was being rebuilt, the company continued to operate in rented quarters in the Whelan Building on West Logan street. The store there was closed about a week or 10 days ago when the staff of the store turned all of its efforts toward the formal reopening of the new store.

Smoke Named In Murder Bill

COMPLAINT IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF GERTRUDE ROBERTS SIGNED BY CHIEF

Acting under the direction of Prosecutor Rex Martin, Chief of Police M. E. Clark, Tuesday, signed a formal complaint in Justice John K. Lowe's court at Adrian, charging Elton Smoke, 45, of Wolf Lake, with the murder of Mrs. Gertrude Roberts, 42, of Tecumseh. Chief Clark also signed another complaint charging Smoke with assault with intent to murder his wife, Frances, 45.

Smoke, under police guard, is a patient at University Hospital, Ann Arbor. Mrs. Smoke also is a patient in the same hospital.

Chief Clark said that he understood that Smoke's condition was such that he might be released within a short time. Mrs. Smoke, he said, although her condition is still serious, is expected to recover.

Stores Open Saturday Eves

CHANGE IN OPENING FROM FRIDAY TO SATURDAY MARKS END OF SUMMER SEASON

Effective next Saturday and indefinitely for Saturdays thereafter, stores in Tecumseh's downtown district will be open on Saturday evenings instead of Friday evenings, the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce has announced.

Tomorrow evening, however, stores also will be open on Friday evening, coinciding with the formal opening plans of the Baldwin Hardware Company's new store.

The decision to change the store evening hours from Friday to Saturday was made 10 days ago when the merchants met to discuss plans for the Fall season. During the summer months, stores had been open on Friday evenings to give clerks and employers alike a longer week-end. Now, with the arrival of the autumn season and the opening of school, it was felt that the Saturday evening opening would be more practical.

The merchants also discussed plans for a promotional program for all of the business district, including month-end sales and other special events. These will be announced from time to time, as they develop.

The scientific sessions, held in the Pantlind Hotel and Civic Auditorium, will be highlighted by lectures given by 28 eminent medical men from throughout the United States.

FINDS "POTATO SEED" GROWING ON POTATOES

Mrs. Lavern Mansfield of East Pottawatamie street reported to The Herald today that she had found a large handful of "potato seed" on some potatoes that she dug from her garden. A few days ago it was reported in a county newspaper that tomatoes were found growing on potato vines. It is believed that the "tomatoes" were nothing more than potato seed, which is rather rare. The seeds are small and resemble a small, green tomato.

On the left is Mrs. Duaine Service, former bookkeeper in the Consumers office, who made the presentation; next to Mrs. Smith, Frank Adams, assistant general manager of Consumers, Jackson, and Roy McPhail of Adrian, former manager of the Adrian offices. Andrew L. Kempf Is Found Dead

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD HERE ON SATURDAY FOR WELL-KNOWN CONTRACTOR

Andrew L. Kempf, 65, of 308 East Kilbuck street, was found dead in the garage at his home, last week Thursday morning. According to Justice Robert French, acting as coroner, Mr. Kempf ended his own life by inhaling the fumes from the exhaust of his automobile. He had attached a hose to the exhaust of his car, run it inside the car, closed the windows and laid down on the back seat. A verdict of suicide was returned.

Mr. Kempf, well known throughout the area as a contractor and carpenter, was born in Cone, Michigan, October 11, 1885. He was a son of the late George L. and Rose Greggery Kempf. His wife preceded him in death in 1942. He spent his entire life in Tecumseh.

Big Enrollment Gain In School

AT LEAST 100 MORE STUDENTS THIS YEAR THAN LAST, IS McDOWELL'S FORECAST

A gain of at least 100 students in the Tecumseh Public Schools enrollment was forecast on Wednesday as the pupils began registering for the 1951-52 term.

"It is impossible at this time to accurately estimate the enrollment but we are certain that it will jump sharply over the 1950-51 level," James McDowell, superintendent, said. "We expect our largest increase in the kindergarten, however, there will probably be a marked upswing in most of the elementary grades."

Last year, according to the records, the total enrollment during the year as 1,171. At the end of the year, 1,136 students were enrolled.

Although the students did not report to the school until yesterday, the faculty was busy on Tuesday preparing for the official opening. The teachers met with Mr. McDowell, Neville Hart, secondary principal, and Earl Green, elementary principal, for final instructions. Later, in the cafeteria of the high school, tea was served with Mrs. McDowell and Mrs. Hart as hostesses. Mrs. Jens Touborg, Mrs. Ronald Harris and Mrs. Gordon Garlick poured. The tables were decorated with fall flowers.

The enrollment in all grades was completed on Wednesday and starting today, in the secondary school, half-day sessions will be given over to testing and orientation work. Full-day sessions in the

PROFIT SHARING CHECKS OF 5,800 DISTRIBUTED TO EMPLOYEES

Employees at the Tecumseh plant of The Quaker Oats Company received more than $5,800 last week in annual profit-sharing checks.

This 16th yearly wage bonus added an average of more than $118 to the employees' regular earnings during the company's recently ended business year.

Donald T. Nixon, plant manager, explained that 49 local employees were eligible this year to share in company profits. Eligibility, he said, is chiefly dependent upon six months or more of service.

Similar checks also went out to workers in Quaker Oats' Chicago headquarters and in its other plants, grain elevators and sales offices throughout the country. Total profit-sharing sum was nearly $1 million.

The plan was voluntarily established by Quaker Oats 18 years ago. It calls for setting aside each year a percentage of company earnings. Employees thus share profits whenever the firm has a successful year. To date, they have shared a total of $10,270,536 above their regular earnings.

Smith Retires From Consumers

HONORED AT DINNER THURSDAY EVENING MARKING END OF 49 YEARS SERVICE

"Although the public doesn't realize it, electricity is one of the things that has steadily decreased in cost to the consumer, while almost everything else has been steadily increasing. When I first started in the utility business — 49 years ago — electricity sold for 15 cents a kilowatt hour, straight. Compare that with the average cost of 2.56 cents for residential use last year." Those were the words of S. Henry Smith who, September 1, retired as manager of the Consumers Power Company's offices here after only a few months less than a half century of service.

"I value highly the many friends I have made in the years that I have been in the utility business," Mr. Smith said. "The work has been pleasant and interesting and I only wish I could live it over again and profit by what I have learned."

Mr. Smith and his wife were guests of honor at a dinner, Thursday evening at the Methodist

ADRIAN MAN KILLED ON U.S.-112, SATURDAY; MINOR MISHAPS REPORTED HERE

The week-end Labor Day holiday was marred by one death in Lenawee county but, throughout the nation, 637 accidental deaths were chalked up against the vacation period that finally brings the summer season to a close.

The county's single victim of the holiday was James R. Eady, 25, of Adrian, formerly of Haleysville, Ala., and who was employed in Toledo. He suffered a broken neck and internal injuries when he jumped into the path of a car on US-112, a mile and a half west of Clinton at 11:35 p.m., Saturday. Eady was the 11th traffic victim of the year in Lenawee.

According to Clinton state police, Eady and James W. Cagle, 29, of Adrian, were pushing their stalled auto on US-112. A car driven by J. A. Cooper of Chicago, approached and slowed down and then attempted to go around the stopped car. Eady evidently saw the Cooper car coming, became confused and in attempting to jump out of its path jumped directly into it. Eady was removed to Herrick Memorial Hospital here but was dead on arrival.

Congratulations to Baldwin's

Tomorrow, the new Baldwin Hardware Company's store in Tecumseh will be formally opened. Mr. Ned Baldwin, the owner, dislikes describing the opening as formal. He says that there will be nothing formal about it, that he's been in business here for more than a quarter of a century and as he puts it, the opening of the new store simply will give him an opportunity toi greet old friends and acquaintances after an absence "from the street" for several months.

It will be remembered that very early in the Spring the Baldwin Hardware store on East Chicago boulevard . . . one of the largest hardwares in Southern Michigan . . . was destroyed by fire. The three-store-front building was reduced to rubble and practically all of the stock was destroyed. The loss, financially, was terrific.

Mr. Baldwin immediately announced that he would rebuild the building, and that he would have it stocked and ready for reopening about the first of September. Temmorarily, he opened quarters in the Whelan Building on West Logan street and continued in business.

Mr. Baldwin has kept his promise to Tecumseh. The new brick, steel and concrete building, as fire proof as it can be made, that houses the new store is even larger than the former one. It is modern in every detail, it will afford greater customer shopping convenience, and it will permit the handling of an even larger stock than in years gone by.

The return of the Baldwin store to Tecumseh's shopping district is welcomed not only by customers but by the merchants as well. The Baldwin store attracted thousands of shoppers to Tecumseh annually. It was a by-word of the trading area that, if it could not be found elsewhere, Baldwin's would have it. The new store is as completely stocked as the old one, and it is staffed by the same clerks that formerly served Baldwin customers.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Mr. Baldwin upon the opening of his new store. We wish him every success in the future. And we believe that our expression of gratitude is similar to that of the hundreds of his business friends, associates and customers who welcome him "back on the street."

"The Height of Impropriety"

A writer who's business it is to keep in touch with national affairs has said, "Today in Washington, in circles that formerly advocated Compulsory Health Insurance, it is considered the height of impropriety even to mention it."

What has caused this rather remarkable about-face in political circles that keep their ears to the ground and their eyes on the voter? The answer is obvious. The American people, taken as a whole, want no part of socialized medicine, political medicine, or any kind of medicine that would be under government domination.

There is powerful evidence to support that statement. More than 11,000 organizations—including leading national groups which represent agriculture, labor, industry, the veterans, university women, and so on—have taken a solid stand against Compulsory Health Insurance.

The American Press, a magazine which is concerned with the problems and activities and attitudes of weekly newspapers, reported that "greater support was shown from the American Medical Association's campaign to fight government medicine than ever has been shown in anv other national campaign . . . including government wartime campaigns!" It is a noteworthy fact that a great majority of our newspapers, rural and urban alike, have strongly opposed Compulsory Health Insurance.

This isn't because the American people believe medicine is perfect. It is because they believe progress can best be made under the present free system—and because they are impressed with the immense strides forward that have already been taken. Today, for example, more than 72,000,000 people are enrolled in one or other of the Voluntary Health Insurance systems. The number thus covered jumped 20,000,000 in two years. We are gradually solving the medical care problem . . . and solving it without political compulsion.

However, Washington, political Washington, that is, will bear watching. Sometimes the politicians strike when it is least expected. There are many politicians who would like to see Compulsory Health Insurance in force, even though the people, themselves, do not want any part of it.

Miss Gwendolyn Treby Weds Arthur Boote, Jr.

The Collingwood Methodist church of Toledo, Ohio, decorated with white candles, bouquets of white gladioli, white carnations, white baby mums and palms, was the setting for a lovely wedding, Friday evening, August 31, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Gwendolyn Ann Treby, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Treby of Tecumseh, and Arthur John Boote, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Boote of Toledo were united in marriage. The Rev. James Foster, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a light blue crepe street-length dress and carried white roses on a white Bible. Miss Nancy Treby, as maid of honor, and Miss Marcia Treby, as bridesmaid, sisters of the bride, wore identically matched dresses of teal blue taffeta with white accessories and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Beth Lamman played the traditional wedding nuptials and accompanied Miss Phyllis Butler who sang, "The Lord's Prayer," "Because," and "O, Promise Me."

Harold Hizer attended Mr. Boote as best man and the ushers were James Farrell, Dale Gonia and Gene Webb.

Mrs. Treby and Mrs. Boote, mothers of Mr. and Mrs. Boote wore navy dresses with matching accessories and talesman rose corsages.

A reception was held for 120 guests immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. The traditional wedding cake centered the bridal table with white candles in crystal holders and at either end, a crystal punch bowl. Donna Fick, Betty Maybee and Beth Lamman assisted in serving.

For traveling the bride wore her wedding dress with navy accessories and a white rose corsage. She is a graduate of Toledo University and is taking superintendent's course at Smith's Cafeteria, Toledo. Mr. Boote is a student at Toledo University and is a part-time employee of the Owens Brush Company in Toledo. After a trip through western Michigan Mr. and Mrs. Boote will reside at 1440 Cotton street, Toledo, O.

Smith Retires

church, and more than 100 of his friends, neighbors and associates gathered to pay tribute to his long years of service. In years of activiness, Mr. Smith is the oldest employee in the Jackson division of Consumers and, as to the future, in all probability that record still will hold because of the company's retirement policy.

Smith has been associated with public utilities for a little less than 50 years. It was in 1902, perhaps before many of the readers of this article were born, that he started his colorful career, reading meters for the Detroit City Gas Co. Many a week-end journey he made between Tecumseh, his home, and Detroit, by bicycle, covering the 60 miles over dirt roads and cow paths.

In that same year his parents purchased the interests of the Tecumseh Electric Company and he returned home to learn the business. The plant consisted of one 50 kw., 133 cycle, 1,100 volt generator and two Thomson and Houston direct current arc light machines, all driven by a 125-hp. Ideal engine. He fired the boilers, trimmed street light arcs, and read a few meters then in service, most of the customers being on flat rates. Service in those days was from late afternoon until midnight. A few years later a new plant was built and the system changed to 60 cycle. He had the honor of helping to install the first electric motor ever installed in Tecumseh.

The plant was family operated until 1928 when the property was sold to the Federal Power Utilities Co., Chicago. It later changed ownership five different times before it was purchased by Consumers in 1938. Smith served as manager for all of the companies that owned the local plant.

Smith was born in Tecumseh, a son of George U. and Jennie Fidler Smith, August 17, 1886. He attended the public schools here and the Detroit Business College and September 23, 1911, he was married to Nettie L. Kaiser at Windsor, Ontario. The Smiths have four children, George M., and Henry Carl Smith, Mrs. Mary Britton and Mrs. Beth Karner.

Although hunting and fishing are Smith's hobbies, and he owns a cottage at Wamplers Lake, he also has had time to participate in civic affairs. He served as a member of the village council for 12 years, a member of the Rotary Club and a past president of that organization, and for 47 years a member of the Knights of Pythias.

Listing some of the jobs that he has held in the utilities business are these: Wiring of houses, boiler stoker, arc lamp trimmer, meter reader, collector, lineman, line crew foreman, stockkeeper and manager of the company. "There just isn't a job that's to be done around a small town utility plant that I haven't had an opportunity to do," he said.

Frank Adams, assistant general manager of the Jackson division of Consumers, presided at the banquet Thursday evening and introduced Roy McPhail of Adrian, retired manager of the company's offices there, as toastmaster. There was a musical program including vocal solos by Marlys and Evelyn Arnold and a whistling solo by Ardis Drewyor.

Company guests introduced by Mr. McPhail included: L. D. McDowell, Adrian manager, Oscar Eichenberger of Jackson, Harold Murphy, Carl Memers, H. J. Palmer, Guy Slattery and Gerald Specklard, also of the Jackson offices. All of them extended congratulations to Mr. Smith upon his retirement, as did Earl L. Wickwire, publisher of The Herald. Mrs. Duaine Service, retired bookkeeper at the Tecumseh offices, presented Smith with a portable radio and Mrs. Smith with a bowl of flowers.

Special guests at the dinner included the Smith family, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Britton and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Smith of Tecumseh, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Karner of Dundee, Mrs. Edna Codling, Smith's sister, and Mayor and Mrs. J. Floyd Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Heilman, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. VanVleet, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rohweder, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hanna, Mr and Mrs. Louis Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore, P. C. Satterthwaite, Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sluyter and Mr. and Mrs. Wickwire.

Mr. Smith retired from active duties at Consumers on Saturday. He is being succeeded by Richard Beemer of the Jackson offices.

These are precautions recommended by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis when polio is around. Also, wash hands before eating and be on the alert for such symptoms as feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. If the disease does strike, call your doctor promptly, follow his advice. Your local National Foundation chapter will provide needed assistance.

Last week Tuesday Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Smoke had been fishing. They returned home at dinner time and in the evening, Gerald Roberts returned to work at Tecumseh Products Co. and the two Roberts children went to a theatre. About 9 p.m. Smoke came to the Roberts home and did the shooting. Mrs. Roberts died enroute to the hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Roberts were held Friday afternoon from the Green Funeral Home, the Rev. Donald C. Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. The bearers were Carl Ritchie and Donald Lanning of Sylvania, O., Rex Disbro and Richard Ansted of Adrian, Donald Zirn of Blissfield and Charles Mass, Jr., of Morenci. The Woman's Benefit Association, Star No. 8 of Adrian, of which Mrs. Roberts was a member, attended in a body and had charge of the services at the grave. Burial was in the North Dover cemetery.

Friends and relatives attended from Toledo and Sylvania, O., Alma, Detroit, Hillsdale, Hudson, Monroe, Manitou Beach, Morenci, Blissfield and Tecumseh.

CONSERVATION DEPT. OFFERS TREES

Nearly 20,000,000 young trees, largest stock of conservation department ever has been able to offer for private reforestration work, will be available for fall planting.

Farmers and other landowners now can send requests to the department's forestry division, Lansing.

For the first time the department can supply some trees from the old federal Wyman nursery near Manistique, supplementing output at the Higgins Lake and Hardwood nurseries.

Eight classes of pine can be had at slight price increases ranging from about $1 a thousand more for seedlings and $2 a thousand more for transplants. Included are the first scotch pine seedlings to be supplied in nearly 20 years, to meet the demand for Christmas tree stock in southern Michigan. Others on the new list are two-year-old red, jack or Banks, and white pine seedlings; three-year-old jack seedlings and red and white transplants; and four-year-old red pine transplants. Only the scotch pine supply is limited.

Nursery shipments will be made about September 15-November 1 for fall planting.

Stock is distributed at cost for reforestration purposes only and may not be resold or otherwise used commercially.

WARNING TO WATCH CHICKENS CLOSELY

Lenawee county poultry raisers were warned today to watch for cannibalism in their flocks when the young pullets are beginning to lay.

V. E. Cronk, assistant county agricultural agent, said that cannibalism often becomes a serious problem about this time of year. It's easier to stop any of these traits before they develop too strongly, he said.

It may carry over from habits developed in the brooder house. Or, if it shows up for the first time when the pullets begin to lay, cannibalism may be the result of some pullets laying oversized eggs and having a "blow-out" or prolapse of the oviduct. Other pullets notice the blood and begin picking at the bird. Other possible causes are crowded conditions, extreme heat, laying nests too close to the feeding troughs or excessive nervousness of the flock, Cronk explained.

He pointed out that cannibalism is strictly a habit after it starts. It sometimes develops to a point where a large percentage of the flock is killed.

The most successful method of controlling the habit is debeaking with an electric debeaker. This job can be done anytime during the chicken's life. This practice amounts to taking off about half of the upper beak with a hot knife. Debeaking will not lower production nor lower the amount of feed eaten.

Poultrymen have used many other remedies, such as painting windows red, putting salt in the drinking water and applying anti-pick ointment to the parts of the bird being picked.

About one in every nine dairy cows in the United States are bred by artificial insemination. In Michigan it is one in every six.

School Time Means a Change In Meal-planning At Home

We know, Mother, that when school starts it necessitates a change in the planning of the meals. Better breakfasts, larger lunches and dinners are the order of the day.

Don't worry about a source of supply that is constant and reliable. In the more than 100 years that we have been serving the public we have seen the beginning of many school sessions. And Mothers, all during those years, have relied upon us for the needed foods.

We'd like to have you do that, too.

TRAIL BLAZER — with plenty on the ball

How long since you lifted the hood of a car, and took a good look at what's beneath?

We like to have folks do that with a Buick.

You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full.

And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too.

Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle?

Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built in any other way.

Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two: Buick has been stepping up compression ratios for years.

But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why.

Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of comets by the tail.

Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a swirling ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a flashing spark every 5 inches you travel in a Buick.

That's why we're proud to show folks that Buicks have a Fireball Engine—and prouder still to have them take one of these thrilling performers out on the road.

Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

The secret of Fireball Power is in the use of dome-and-dip design of the piston shown above.

Here's the piston inside the cylinder. As it moves down, the fuel charge rushes in—sets up a swirl when it hits the piston top.

The piston moves up—compresses the swirling fuel into the comet shape shown here. "Compression ratios" are simply a measure of how much the fuel is compressed.

The ball of fuel is compressed around the spark plug—lets loose its pent-up charge when the spark is fired—delivering a higher percentage of power from each charge of fuel.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE BALDWIN HARDWARE CO.

We would be overlooking a pleasant duty if we did not, at this time, extend our congratulations to the Baldwin Hardware Co., and its owner, Mr. Ned Baldwin, upon the opening of Michigan's largest hardware store — right here in Tecumseh.

Very early in the Spring, the Baldwin store and stock were destroyed by fire. Today, it has been rebuilt and completely restocked and tomorrow it will be formally opened to the public.

We want Mr. Baldwin to know that we appreciate the reopening of his store. We recognize its tremendous value to Tecumseh as a shopping center — particularly for the farmers. We have visited the new store and we can truthfully say that nowhere in Michigan can be found a more complete stock of hardware.

Our very best wishes go to the Baldwin Company for its future success.

COUNCIL BUILDING
August 6, 1951

RESOLUTION

Special Meeting of the Village Council of the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, held on the 8th day of August, 1951.

PRESENT: President Elliott, Trustees Hellman, Fosbender, Truesdale, Porter.

Absent: Mensing and Rohweder.

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Councilman Heilman, and supported by Councilman Fosbender.

WHEREAS, Section 22 of Chapter IX of the charter of the Village of Tecumseh (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) limits the amount of money that may be raised by tax and by loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, in any year to two per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the Village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein;

AND WHEREAS, said charter provision unduly limits the power of the Village to borrow money and issue bonds of the Village for the purpose of acquiring and constructing public improvements necessary for the public health, safety and welfare of said Village;

AND WHEREAS, the Village Council deems it necessary in order to facilitate the construction of necessary public improvements to amend Section 22 of Chapter IX of the Village charter by striking from said Section that part limiting to two per centum of the assessed valuation of the Village the amount that may be raised by tax or loan by the Village in any year and, in place thereof, provide that total outstanding indebtedness of said Village shall not exceed seven per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village and that the total of all taxes levied by the Village in any year shall not exceed two per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the Village;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The Village Council deems it necessary and hereby proposes that Section 22 of Article IX of the Village charter (Section 22, Chapter IX, Act 3, Public Acts, 1895, as amended) reading as follows:

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, that can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions of this chapter, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting upon the question at an annual or special village election. The amount that may be voted or raised, in any year, under the provisions of this section, shall not exceed two (2) per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the village, as shown by the last preceding tax roll made therein."

be amended to provide as follows:

"Should any greater amount be required in any year for the purchase of grounds for erecting public building, or for other necessary corporate purposes, than can be raised by the council under the foregoing provisions, such amount may be raised by tax or loan, or partly by tax and partly by loan, if authorized by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the electors voting thereon at any general or special election; provided, that the total of all taxes levied by the Village for all municipal purposes whatsoever, in any year, shall not exceed two (2) per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property in the Village; provided further, that the total Village indebtedness outstanding at any one time, whether incurred by the issue of bonds or otherwise, shall not exceed seven (7) per centum of the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the Village subject to taxation, as shown by the last preceding assessment roll of the Village."

2. The proposed amendment be published by causing a copy of this resolution to be published in The Tecumseh Herald, a newspaper of general circulation in the Village of Tecumseh and that this resolution, proposing the aforesaid amendment to Section 22, Chapter IX of the Village charter, remain on the table for thirty (30) days before any action is taken thereon.

3. All resolutions or parts of resolutions, insofar as the same conflict with the provisions of this resolution be, and the same hereby are rescinded.

Ayes: Heilman, Fosbender, Truesdale, and Porter.

U. M. Studies School Taxes

STATE HAS TOO MANY SCHOOL DISTRICTS, PRELIMINARY SURVEY SHOWS

Efforts in Michigan to provide children with equal educational opportunities in the public schools have not been successful.

These efforts have resulted in a complex system of state and local taxes and an outmoded network of school districts, a study by the University of Michigan Institute of Public Administration shows.

In 1910 there were 7,333 school districts which have been reduced to 4,904 today. However, the Michigan Public Education Study Commission has estimated that no more than 253 districts in the entire state are needed.

A thousand districts have no schools and the children are sent to schools in other districts. But the school district organization is continued according to the University study, "Paying for Public Schools in Michigan," by Betty Tableman.

The proposed 253 districts "would be delimited in terms of community areas with sufficient taxable property and sufficient child population to assure an adequate elementary and secondary educational program. Many of Michigan's problems in financing education today stem from the existing inadequate and uneconomic organization of school districts."

In equalizing educational opportunity a minimum educational program must be defined. But because of the difficulty of measuring the quality of education the program is based on the cost per pupil. In 1950 the amount was set at $126 per elementary pupil and $146 per high school student.

This does not provide the same level of education for all, the study says. "A per pupil grant will not provide the small district with the equivalent in buildings, trained teachers, or varied curriculum that it will an urban district. In terms of actual educational opportunity, however, the qualitative differences between good school districts and marginal ones are greater today than when the idea of equalizing educational opportunity was first advanced." What has been achieved is an equalization of cost but not of education.

Consolidation of school districts, which is being done on a limited scale in some areas, is one approach to the problem, the study says.

Miss Joyce Williamson Weds John VanValkenburg

The wedding of Miss Joyce Jane Williamson of Monroe, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Bernard Williamson of Morenci, and Pfc. John W. Van Valkenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Van Valkenburg of Morenci, was solemnized in the presence of the immediate families Tuesday evening, at 7:30 in the Congregational church, Morenci. The Rev. Ward Klopp performed the double ring ceremony before a candlelighted altar decorated with small vases of cut flowers.

J. C. Phillips played the traditional wedding march of Lohengrin and accompanied Miss Mary Lou Buck who sang, "Oh Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a white, street length dress fashioned with a small peter-pan collar, shirred skirt and small cuffs. Her hat was a small cap adorned with a tiny veil. Her corsage was of yellow roses and asters fashioned so that it was visible from both front and back. Mrs. Weldon Russell of near Fayette was matron of honor, and her dress was of pale pink styled like the bride's. She wore a corsage of yellow roses and pompoms. Weldon Russell assisted the bridegroom as best man.

For traveling, Mrs. VanValkenburg changed to a pink silk print dress with green accessories. After the ceremony the couple left for a week's trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Canada and the lower Peninsula.

The bride is a graduate of Morenci high school with the class of 1951 and is employed in the office of the Monroe Auto Equipment Co.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the same school with the class of 1948, and before entering the U. S. Air Force in January, spent two years at Adrian College.

After a 20-day furlough the bridegroom will fly to Camp Stoneman, Calif., where he will be stationed for two months before going to Kadena Air Force Base, Okinawa. The bride will reside for the present at 151 Hollywood Drive, Monroe.

Mrs. VanValkenburg is the granddaughter of Mrs. Charles Williamson, who attended the wedding from Tecumseh.

BALDWIN Hardware Store

Southern Michigan's Largest Hardware Stock That Is As "Clean As A Hound's Tooth"

This Is Your Store! It's Here For One Purpose - To Serve!

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, September 7 and 8, our completely new store will be formally opened.

We say, "formally," because that's the word that Webster says is correct but, in reality, there'll be nothing formal about it.

To tell the truth, we don't want the opening of our store to be formal. We're a part of the community, the folk who'll be calling on us are a part of the community and, naturally, there'll be no need for being formal at all.

We look forward to the opening of our new store as an opportunity to renew old friendships and to make new ones. You'll find nothing "up stage" about the whole affair. The same patient and understanding clerks that greeted you in our old store will be on hand to say hello and to serve you. You may be assured that you'll not be rushed or hurried, because that is not in keeping with the Baldwin policy.

We want you to feel that our new store is your store . . . the place where you can shop anytime in complete freedom. We believe that we have been in business in Tecumseh long enough to have proved our policy for fair dealing, quality merchandise, and honest service. We want you to know that that is still our policy, and that we have but one desire . . . to better serve the public.

IT MIGHT BE WELL for us to tell you something a bit personal.

When our old hardware store . . . on the site of the new one on East Chicago Boulevard . . .was destroyed by fire several months ago, we were shocked, but not disheartened.

We never realized how many friends we had in Tecumseh until the disaster struck. We received offer after offer of assistance. We reopened our store temporarily in the Whelan Building on West Logan Street, and the fine cooperation that we received from the public generally will never be forgotten.

As we said before, we are a part of Tecumseh. This is our home . . . in a community of fine people.

That, frankly, is why we immediately decided to rebuild our store and to make it even larger and better than the old one. It was a terrific task, one that we would not care to attempt too many times in a lifetime.

Tomorrow and Saturday we expect, in a large measure, to be compensated for our efforts through the visits of our friends and neighbors to our new store. We're mighty proud of it . . . proud that we were able to come back, so to speak, with an even more complete store than we had before the fire.

Please believe us when we say that our invitation to you to visit us is sincere and genuine.

OUR NEW STORE HAS many, many departments. It would be almost impossible for us to list all of them, and do a thorough job, in the alloted space.

Those of you who shopped with us before the fire know how complete our hardware stock was at that time. We believe that it is just as good now as it was then . . . in fact, in some instances, it is more complete.

The farmer, the householder, industry and business will find in our store the things . . . large or small . . . that they might expect to find in any first-class hardware store in the nation.

Our china, glassware and gift departments are complete in every detail. True, at the time of the fire, all of this merchandise was destroyed but we have replaced it with brand new stock of the finest quality.

With even more floor space than we had before . . . three complete floors, two of them for surplus stock . . . we assure you that if it can be bought in a hardware you'll be able to buy it at Baldwin's.

However, if, in our effort to speed up our opening, we have overlooked something that should be added to our line, please suggest it to us. We are always happy about and appreciate the customer's suggestions.

Alleged Killer Will Face Court

ELTON SMOKE TO BE EXAMINED TODAY ON TWO COUNTS; IS HELD IN $35,000 BAIL

A preliminary examination will be held in Justice John K. Lowe's court at Adrian, starting at 2 o'clock this afternoon, of Elton Smoke, 45, of Wolf Lake, who is charged on two counts with murder and felonious assault with intent to commit murder, in connection with a shooting here, August 28. Mr. Smoke was arraigned in Justice Lowe's court last week and demanded an examination on both charges. The combined bail of $35,000 was not furnished and he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Complaint in both cases was signed by Milan Clark, Tecumseh chief of police, on the instruction of Rex Martin, Lenawee county prosecutor.

Smoke is held by officers in connection with the fatal shooting last August 28 of Mrs. Gertrude Roberts, 42, at her home at 208 West Pottawatamie street. Smoke also is charged with firing a shot that seriously wounded his wife, Frances, 45. He then turned the gun on himself, police say, firing a shot that entered his head just back of the right ear. The bullet followed around the skull and lodged in his left jaw bone.

Mrs. Roberts, wife of Gerald Roberts and mother of their two children, died before she arrived at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Smoke and his wife were transferred to University Hospital, where he was held under police guard until last Thursday, when he was brought to the county jail at Adrian. His wife is still a patient at University.

Mrs. Smoke, an aunt of Mrs. Roberts, had been staying at the Roberts home while waiting for a hearing on her bill of complaint for a divorce from Smoke. Smoke came to the house about 9 p.m., on the day of the murder, while Mr. Roberts was at work and the children were at the theatre. Police believe that he first shot his wife, then Mrs. Roberts and then himself.

Methodists Get A New Minister

REV. RONALD BRUNGER OF STEPHENSON, TO TAKE POST SEPTEMBER 30TH

The Pastoral Relations Committee of the Tecumseh Methodist church has received word from Dr. Frank L. Fitch, superintendent of the Ann Arbor District, to the effect that Bishop Marshall Reed is transferring the Rev. Ronald Brunger from Stephenson, Michigan, to Tecumseh to become its full-time minister. He will live in the parsonage.

The Rev. Mr. Brunger is married and has two children of pre-school age. He was admitted to the Detroit Conference on trial in 1937, was ordained in 1939, and has since served the Methodist churches in Dixboro, Garden City, Dexter, and Boyne City besides Stephenson. Mr. Brunger will begin his work in the Tecumseh Methodist church on Sunday, September 30.

Enrollment Up Over Year Ago

1,218 PUPILS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS HERE; 134 OF THAT NUMBER IN KINDERGARTEN

The largest public school enrollment in Tecumseh's history was reported this week by James McDowell, superintendent, when he let it be known that 1,218 students are enrolled in all classes from kindergarten through high school.

"The figure represents an increase of 72 over a year ago, and it is not as great as I had expected," Mr. McDowell said. "However," the superintendent continued, "I doubt very much that all of the students who will enroll here have already done so, and there is a possibility that the figure will be increased still more."

Mr. McDowell said that because the student load had not increased as sharply as had been anticipated, the present school buildings are not too crowded and he could see no need for using buildings other than school buildings for classrooms this year. However, he pointed out that in two or three years, the present buildings will be taxed beyond capacity.

"We can care for about 1,250 students in the present buildings without overloading," McDowell said. Beyond that point he indicated that there would be some doubt.

Here is a comparison between this year's enrollment and last years:

Grid Season To Open On Friday

INDIANS TO MEET HILLSDALE THERE; FIRST HOME GAME, SEPTEMBER 21

The Tecumseh high school Indians will let out their first war cry of the season next Friday on the gridiron at Hillsdale in a non-league game that will open the 1951 schedule. Seven other games are on the fall program, four of them under the lights here.

Coach Elven Duvall is not too optimistic about a long string of victories for the Indians this year. Although he has six or seven lettermen back in play, his line is entirely too light, and his replacement reservoir is not too deep.

"One might think, to look at the number of boys out for practice, that we have a large reserve but actually, half of the number are freshmen. Our backfield is fairly fast, but our line is far too light to be to hopeful about winning a heavy percentage of our games," he said.

Coach Duvall, however, is too much of a veteran to be too dubious about his team's winnings. He knows that sometimes, even a light team is more victorious than a heavy one, and, of course,, he is hoping for the best this season. This much is true: His squad is practicing daily and hard and long. He intends to enter a team that will be far more than competition for his opponents.

The Indians received a bad setback through injury to Tom Naser, last year's star punter, during the summer. Tom suffered a neck injury in a swimming accident at The Pit. He is a patient at University hospital and it is known that he will not wear an Indian uniform this season.

As for Tecumseh's chances at Hillsdale, Duvall had no comment. He said that the Hillsdale team had not been scouted, and that he knew very little about the team's style of play. He was sure of one thing, however. Hillsdale will outweigh Tecumseh on the field.

The schedule for the Indians this season, with the first home game, Friday evening, September 21, under the lights at Recreation Center, is as follows:

Sept. 14, Hillsdale, there.
Sept. 21, Pittsford, here.
Sept. 28, Addison, there.
Oct. 5, Morenci, there.
Oct. 12, Hudson, here.
Oct. 19, Summerfield, here.
Oct. 24, Clinton, here.
Nov. 9, Blissfield, there.

PRESENTS MANUFACTURER WITH CITATION FOR HIS GENEROUS CIVIC ATTITUDE

Presentation of a Veterans of Foreign Wars citation to Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co., highlighted the rally of the sixth District, V. F. W., in session in Tecumseh on Sunday.

The citation, accepted by Kenneth Herrick for his father, who was out of town, congratulated Mr. Herrick for his outstanding civic interest, and was issued over the signature of Max C. McCarn of Mason, president of the district. It was presented by Richard Butler, commander of the Hall-Slater Post, Tecumseh.

About 100 delegates were present for the meeting. They voted to buy a set of colors for the district.

man of the district's time and place committee and William Christie of Lansing and Orville Woodward of Mason, were named as members.

Guests at the meeting included Jasper H. Kohn of Ferndale, state senior vice commander; Don Draker of Indian River, state historian; Fred Force of Huntington Woods, state patriotic instructor, and C. J. Braun of Lansing, state quartermaster-adjutant.

Blood Donated By Church Group

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS MAY HAVE SET RECORD FOR SINGLE DAY'S GIFT

Some 10,000 Seventh Day Adventists, convening in annual evangelistic camp meeting at Grand Ledge, last week, contributed 512 pints of blood for Korean wounded —a record collection for the Red Cross blood bank. The day's collection more than doubled the previous high of 240 pints, in Lansing, and may set a national record, according to Benjamin F. Hennick, administrative director of the Lansing regional blood centers. The blood was flown from Lansing by army plane and reached medical units in Korea four days later.

Elder George E. Hutches, president of the Adventists conference, was the first donor. The entire undertaking was completed in 12 hours, with the assistance of 50 volunteer workers, eight doctors, and 12 nurses.

The Adventist donors, largely vegetarians, were especially pleased with the Red Cross medical advisor's comment that the hemoglobin count was "especially good as compared with other blood taken by the unit." Church members who lay special stress on healthful living, recently took issue with the statement of a Connecticut doctor that received national publicity, blaming a lower-than-average hemoglobin count in that area to the high cost of meat which had reduced its consumption. The Adventists point out that green vegetables are the best source of the iron that steps up the hemoglobin count.

A dozen Adventists from Lenawee county, four of them from Tecumseh, were among the 10,000 from Michigan who attended the conference. The big tents for the cradle roll, kindergarten, primary and junior departments accommodated more than 2,000 children during the week. Visitors from other states numbered more than 500. The camp area, composed of 40 acres, includes on the grounds 365 tents, 254 cabins, 2,000 beds and 3,500 single chairs, a parking lot for 2,000 cars and 73 house trailers, and a cafeteria that serves 1,500 meals on peak days.

Local Dairy Featured In Advertising Campaign

The Tecumseh Dairy, owned by C. W. Gilman, came into national prominance this month through an advertising campaign, sponsored by the Ford Motor Co., of which Butler Motor Sales here is the Tecumseh dealer.

The Ford advertising features a picture of Mr. Gilman and one of his trucks that was entered in the nation-wide Ford economy test which lasted for six months. In the advertisement, Gilman tells how it effected a saving to his company.

As the result of the advertising, pictures of Gilman and his Ford equipment are being used in national advertising promotions in newspapers, magazines, and on billboards. One of the billboards with the local feature may be seen on M-52, about five miles west of Adrian. The newspaper advertisement will be found in another page of this newspaper.

FRIDAY EVENING OPENING DISCONTINUED WITH BEGINNING OF FALL SEASON

With the beginning of the fall season, Tecumseh stores this week will discontinue the summer-time Friday evening opening and, for the fall and winter months, at least, will remain open on Saturday evenings instead. Last week, stores were open on both Friday and Saturday evening, coinciding with the formal opening plans of the new Baldwin Hardware Company's store.

The new Baldwin store on East Chicago boulevard, which replaces the one destroyed by fire early in the spring, was formally opened to the public last week-end. The new three-stores-wide building, of brick, steel and concrete, is putra-modern, and affords even more shopping area than the old one. It has been completely stocked.

Hundreds of people visited the new hardware on Friday and Saturday and its owner, Ned Baldwin, and his clerks were busy accepting the congratulations of friends and customers. A score or more of floral pieces were received and added to the store's decorations.

The Saturday evening opening of stores last week, the first of the fall season, apparently was received with enthusiasm by the shopping public. Many stores reported that business was exceptionally brisk, both on Friday and Saturday nights.

N.Y.C. Is Ordered To Widen Its Crossings

The New York Central Railroad Company was ordered to widen its crossing at Logan and North Evans streets, to correspond with the village's curb and gutter program, when the village council met in regular session, last Thursday evening. The council also ordered the company to widen its crossings at S. Maumee and Cummins and the Y-crossing at S. Evans, south of Maumee, in keeping with other repair programs.

The petition of residents, stating that they are not interested in the village's curb and gutter project, were ordered placed on file. They were placed in the recent franchise granted to Alfred Reeves for the cleaning up of the alleys in the business district by making it a misdemeanor for anyone to infringe upon the franchise.

A bond of $2,000 was authorized for the treasurer of Brookside cemetery, and the purchase of an addressing machine at a cost of $324 was approved. Current bills were approved and ordered paid, and the reports of the several department and committee heads were read and placed on file.

LUMBER IS STOLEN

Police received a report from a construction company last week that a quantity of lumber had been stolen from the site of a new house on Outer Drive in Herrick Park. An investigation is being made.

Band Festival Set For Oct. 17

ELEVEN ORGANIZATIONS EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE IN EVENT THIS YEAR

Tecumseh's fifth annual band festival has been scheduled for Wednesday evening, October 17, by a meeting of area band masters held at the high school, Monday night. Eight band masters were present, and three others who could not attend signified their intention to place bands in the program.

The Tecumseh band festival has become a unique event and draws increasing attention from all over southern Michigan. Instead of being a series of band concerts, the festival develops a theme with each participating band portraying an episode which contributes to a unified effect.

The theme for the 1951 festival is "Seekers of Freedom," and salutes the various nationalities which have contributed to the development of the United States. Each band will develop an episode for a single nation, and will close the festival with a massed band salute to the United States.

The following band masters were present at the meeting: Francis Jilka, Petersburg; Charles Winzeler, Morenci; Herbert Rowland, Brooklyn; Richard Wegner, Clinton; John Huffman, Addison; Kendall Merlau, Onsted; Gilbert Blanks, Blissfield; and Clare Camburn of Tecumseh. The following could not attend but are expected to participate in the festival: Norma Kirk, Sand Creek; Raymond Westgate, Hudson; and Alvin Bohns, Adrian.

Also at the meeting to assist in the arrangements and development of the festival were Ronald Harris, Rev. B. O. Bashore, and James McDowell.

Preceding the meeting the group were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Camburn for a chicken dinner in the high school cafeteria.

TOWN HALL PROGRAMS TO BE DISCONTINUED

Town Hall programs, operated here for three years under the sponsorship of clubs and the school board, will be discontinued this year, because of a lack of public interest, the board of education decided, in regular meeting, Tuesday evening.

The board approved a night school program for Tecumseh, and the details will be announced later.

George Mack was named as a custodian, working in the Central and high school buildings.

Current bills were approved and ordered paid and routine matters were disposed of.

SUN SOON TO CROSS THE EQUATOR: NIGHTS TO BECOME LONGER

Arrival of Autumn on September 23rd Forecasts Winter Season

Autumn will start at 3:38 p.m. on Sunday, September 23, according to Dr. Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

At that moment, the sun will cross the equator heading southward and day and night will be approximately equal on that day. After September 23, the hours of daylight will continue to decrease until the shortest day of the year is reached during December.

Acting as a sort of spotlight to announce the impending arrival of autumn the Harvest Moon will be brightening the skies for several nights starting September 15, Dr. Losh reports. During this time, the moon will rise near sunset and remain above the horizon all night.

The Harvest Moon differs from other full moons throughout the year since there is only a twenty-minute delay in the time of rising. Normally the moon rises fifty minutes later each night during the full phase. Thus there is bright moonlight in the early hours of the evening for several nights in a row while the Harvest Moon rides the skies.

The Harvest Moon also will attract particular attention because it will be close to the bright planet, Jupiter, and both will be below the Great Square of Pegasus. The moon, very slightly past the full stage, will pass Jupiter on the evening of September 16 at about 9 p.m., the University astronomer says, at about five degrees above the planet, or at about the same distance that the "pointer stars" of the Big Dipper are apart.

Jupiter, rising just after sunset at almost the exact east point, will shine the whole night through during the month. Watching the path of this bright planet across the sky each night will give you the angle of the celestial equator to the horizon in this area.

"It is parallel to the equator that all objects rise and set and not perpendicular to the horizon as is often thought," Dr. Losh points out.

Venus will be gone from the western twilight sky during September since it passed the sun on September 3 and now slowly emerge as a morning planet. Venus' brightest phase as a morning planet will come during the first few days of October.

Is Graft Becoming Inevitable?

The cheating scandal at West Point was simply the latest in a series of shocking developments within and without the government. In the Academy case, some of the accused cadets said that such practices had been going on for a considerable period of time, and that men had been graduated and commissioned who had been guilty of them. It is noteworthy that most of the members of West Point's big-time football team were involved. West Point has extremely high academic standards, and large numbers of cadets who were unable to meet them are dropped each year. The football players, apparently, had to devote so much of their time and energy to practicing and traveling that they couldn't properly cope with their studies. So the system of cribbing was developed and, it seems, rather widely accepted within the corps, despite the fact that it was a clear and flagrant violation of an honor code which has existed since the school was founded during the Monroe administration.

Prior to this the nation was treated to the revelations concerning the bribery of key players on some leading college basketball teams by professional gamblers. The players concerned either deliberately threw games, or saw to it that the winning margin was restricted to a certain number of points. The gamblers had a sure thing and cleaned up.

We have recently witnessed the dramatic Kefauver investigation of organized gambling. It brought to light an amazing amount of state and municipal official corruption. In instance after instance, police chiefs, sheriffs and other influential officials worked hand in hand with the gamblers and received handsome payments for their services.

At about the same time the Fulbright committee looked into the moral standards of certain federal officials, including men close to the White House. Apparently nothing actually criminal was unearthed. However, to say the least, some extremely questionable practices and associations were discovered. Some men in public positions of responsibility and power seemed to think it was quite all right to exchange official favors for "gifts" from people who were interested in government contracts, RFC loans and so on. With few exception, the officials involved still have their jobs.

Not so long ago the newspapers were full of the activities of five percenters, the men who, because of real or alleged connection with top Washington officials, obtained government contracts for a fee. This practice is supposed to have been outlawed. But it is widely believed that some of the five percenters are still doing business at the same old stand.

What makes all this particularly important is that, in the view of many thoughtful people, it indicates a terrible decline in the moral fibre of the nation. There have always been scandals — they destroyed two administrations,, those of Grant and Harding. There has always been corruption, graft, bribery, cheating, dubious practices. And never, so far as anyone can see, have they been accepted with so much equanimity, so little interest or indignation, by the public at large. The wave of public revulsion and anger that followed the disclosures in the scandals of the Harding administration, for example, has not been duplicated to even a small degree in the recent scandals.

So the big questions is this: Have we, as a people, reached a point of moral cynicism where we regard graft and sharp practices in and out of government as inevitable and of relatively small importance?

If we have, may God help America.

Who Says We're Paying More?

One of the common beliefs today is that the cost of food is sky-high, and is completely out of line in the light of the prices of the past.

It may come as a surprise to some folk to learn that the "real cost" — the amount of time workers must spend to buy given quantities of food — is lower now than it used to be.

As proof, take a typical "market basket" of foods containing bread, round steak, pork chops, butter, flour, coffee, and so on. According to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics' figures, the average industrial worker would have had to work 438 minutes to buy the basket in 1929, 275 minutes in 1939, and 274 minutes in June of last year. In April of this year, by contrast, he would buy it with only 264 minutes of work. It is notable that the "real cost" of food in terms of wages is substantially lower than in 1929 or 1939 which were periods of severe depression in agriculture, with resulting drops in prices.

In short, the worker today can buy more with his labor than before. Why is this true? Largely to greater economy and efficiency in retail distribution. In a competitive economy, where every merchant is out for business, the consumer gets peak value for his dollar. That's true of food and everything else.

What are the Dollar Signs Saying?

MAYBE you've noticed that dollars don't seem to talk as loud as they used to in a lot of places.

But you ought to hear what they say about this Buick.

They say—here's the big thrill—big mileage—big power of a valve-in-head Fireball Engine—eight-cylinder performance at the price you'll pay for most sixes.

They say—here are size and room and comfort that are hard to match at anywhere near the price tag this Buick SPECIAL is wearing.

They say—here are such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation—not as "extras" but yours at no extra charge.

They say that "smart buy's Buick"—by a wide measure.

But a smart buyer will also let this dashing darling speak for itself.

He'll take the wheel and feel how it snugs to the road on turns—holds its course on the highway with big-car assurance.

He'll touch off the power of its Fireball Engine and get firsthand the lift of its nimble response.

And he'll find out how coil springs on every wheel level out what he thought were bumpy roads.

Want to know more? How about coming in first thing tomorrow?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Why?

Why it is that when a modern novelist seeks "atmosphere" for a book, he invariably finds something that smells?—Bristol Herald-Courier.

Give so much time to improvement of yourself that you will have no time to criticize others.

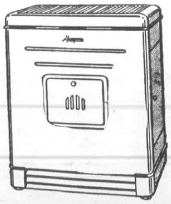
WORLD'S BEST OIL HEATER
THE WORLD'S BEST OIL HEATER AND WE HAVE THE Proof

PROOF! MORE POWERFUL! MORE EFFICIENT! The exclusive MONOGRAM burner produces more BTU's of heat for its size because it is more efficient—it gets as much heat as possible from every single drop of oil. It has a wider range of operation from a very low minimum for mild weather to a higher, heat output than any other burner of the same size. There is nothing better than a MONOGRAM.
PROOF! OIL VAPORIZES FASTER—MORE COMPLETELY! Instead of burning from a pool of oil in the bottom of the burner, as most oil burners do, MONOGRAM turns the oil into gas quicker, more completely, thus providing a clean quiet gas flame made from oil. No wonder users of MONOGRAM burn less oil and do a better heating job.
PROOF! EXCLUSIVE DOUBLE-SHELL BURNER! Automatically mixes air with the gas made from oil in exactly the right amount to get the most heat from the oil. Such perfect mixture of air and gas must burn clean—such a clean flame must be efficient. No other burner has this feature. No wonder then that MONOGRAM oil heaters need such little attention.
PROOF! TURBULATOR RING at top of burner mixes secondary air at point of combustion. Secondary air is what makes a smouldering fire burst into flame—it is important then to mix it just right in an oil burner. Notice how the Turbulator Ring has 32 teeth or channels which split up the air and inject it at the top of the burner producing a lively, high-powered flame. No other burner has this feature.
PROOF! ROTOR PLATE MAKES SHORTER, WIDER, FLAME! It provides thorough mixing of air and gas and spreads the flame, making it wider and shorter. This permits use of a double baffle and Twin Air Flue Heating Units which stop rush of heat out the flue. Only MONOGRAM has this all important feature
TRIMATIC 1 DIAL CONTROL


The Trimatic control is the most practical control yet devised for oil space heaters. One dial controls (1) the flow of oil (2) the draft to burner (3) circulation of heated air with just One Motor and One Fan. Easy to operate—requires no adjustment. Another outstanding feature which makes MONOGRAM the World's Best Oil Heater.

KROGER STORES ARE OPEN ALL DAY MONDAY

THANK YOU,
Friends and Customers

Last Friday and Saturday were two of the happiest, most thrilling days of our business life in Tecumseh. The reason: Hundreds and hundreds of our friends and customers dropped in at our new store to say hello and to wish us well.

Frankly, we would have been disappointed if only a few folk had visited us, but we certainly did not anticipate the vastness of the crowds that came on our two opening days. Little wonder, then, that we say that we were thrilled and happy — beyond all expectation.

As sincerely as the printed word can do it, we want to say thank you for the way that you received our new store. We want to thank you for visiting us, for your congratulations and for the many floral pieces.

As we said in our opening announcement, we want you to feel that this is YOUR STORE. We want you to feel free to come to our store at any time, whether you're shopping or not. F-3 Express hustles milk over Michigan country roads, demonstrated its low running cost in the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run.

C. W. GILMAN in the dairy business 20 years, operates three Ford Trucks. He says: "Ford Trucks save me money every mile. Ford Truck power gets me there faster too."

"I move milk in a hurry for less than 2½¢ a mile!"

"I figure that my Ford Truck with its Power Pilot gas saver has helped cut my running costs by 7%," says C. W. Gilman.

The Tecumseh Dairy Ford was one of 5,500 trucks that took part in the nationwide, 50-million-mile Ford Truck Economy Run. Daily running-cost records were kept.

Mr. Gilman says: "In 5,183 miles of the Run, with an average load of 1,594 lbs., I had no repairs, spent a total of $129.21 for gas, oil and maintenance. That's a running cost of only 2.49 cents a mile!"

The Power Pilot is one of many reasons for Ford Truck economy. The Power Pilot gives you the most power from the least gas, under all conditions, on all jobs!

Den Mothers Needed To Aid Scout Program

Tecumseh Cub Scouts, Pack No. 4, held their regular supper meeting in the Legion rooms Monday evening due to the inclement weather. After the supper, James Elliott conducted a parents meeting and David Locke was in charge of games for the boys. He was assisted by Arlie LeBarron, Clair Rozell and Carlyle Mason.

An urgent request for den mothers has been made, due to the fact there are 28 boys now waiting to come in to the Cub Scouts. To be a Cub Scout den mother one does not have to have boys in scouting. Any woman interested should contact Mrs. Robert French or Mrs. Max Smith.

Boys may not become Cub Scouts until they have reached their eighth birthday.

Mrs. Anna Grigg, 519 E. Chicago Blvd., phone 215J, will be in charge of the uniform exchange service this year.

There will be a den mothers and assistants meeting, Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert French, 306 W. Cummins street.

The indications are that Tecumseh will graduate a very small class from high school this year, as compared to previous years. Last year's class numbered 74 and this year's, if all of them remain in school that are now enrolled, would number only 59. The real large graduating classes will be reached in 1953-54, if the present enrollment up-swing continues.

Four kindergarten classes are meeting daily, two in the morning and two in the afternoon. All other classes are divided into three sections through the eighth grade.

Records showed that there are 55 tuition paying students in the elementary school and 176 in the high school. Perhaps a slightly higher tuition fee this year retarded some of the school's additional enrollment, it was said.

Remember Mother's Pies, Cookies?

Perhaps one's tastes do change, but they never change when it comes to remembering those delicious pies, cakes and cookies that Mother baked.

And that's just the reason we have copied Mother's receipes — they're so delicious. Of course, they call for plenty of eggs, milk, sugar and shortening . . . but you can't build anything of quality and scrimp on the ingredients.

If you'd enjoy pies, cakes and cookies like Mother's, we'd like to have you try the ones we make. Try our breads, rolls and friedcakes, too.

We pride ourselves on the quality of our baked goods. We'd be happy to have you ask any of our customers about them.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Easy Makes His "Cat" Tread Lightly

Driving home on Three Ponds Road yesterday, I was flagged down by Easy Roberts' boy Skeeter. "Take it slow," he advised. "Dad's crossing this road with our tractor, just beyond the bend."

Around the curve I saw why Skeeter stopped me. Easy had laid two rows of old truck tires across the road, and was driving his new "Cat" tractor over them!

"More trouble this way," Easy explains, "but it does keep those tank tracks from tearing up the asphalt when I have to cross over to our other fields. After all, the roads belong to all of us—and I guess I'd get mad if someone else chewed them up."

From where I sit, Easy is my kind of citizen. He doesn't just give democracy lip service. He honestly believes it's his duty to consider the other fellow's interests. Whether it's the right to use the public highways or the right to enjoy an occasional glass of beer, Easy's out to protect his neighbor's "right of way."

Maybe Mrs. O'Leary's Kow Did Start the Chikago Fire, But Mrs. O'Leary Never Got Her Pitcher on a Billboard, Did She?

Yep, times has changed. Back a few years ago, Mrs. O'Leary's kow kicked over a lanturn what burned out Chikago, but Mrs. O'Leary never got her pitchers in the paper or an bill board, did she?

Waal, 'taint so, any more. Clarence Gilman, the kow hand what runs Tecumseh Dairy, entered one'a his Ford trucks in Ford's six-months national ekonomy run. He found that it cost him less'n 2½ cents a mile to operate his Ford during that period, and he was movin' milk in a hurry, too. Wa'al, yuh no that's pretty low priced truckin and now look what's happined.

That kow hand's gettin his pitchers in the noospapers, in the magazines and on the billboards all over the kountry. There's one o'em in THIS NOOSPAPER, there's one on a billboard on M-52 near Adrian, and you'll be seein more of 'em.

Yep, yars ago, burning out a town like Chikago didn't warrant pitchers — 'twasn't big enuf noos. But today, when a feller kan kut his expenses like Gilman did, that noos that's noos. Course, we'se a little interested, too. We sell them thar Ford trucks.

Freedom Fight Taken Up Here

BUTLER MOTOR SALES PROMOTES MEMBERSHIPS IN CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM

Freedom-loving Tecumseh Americans will be given an opportunity to join the Crusade For Freedom, an anti-Communistic group, during the coming weeks by contributing their dimes and dollars in the cause of a free Europe and Asia. Charles O. Butler of Butler Motor Sales, is acting as the cordinator of the campaign in Tecumseh. Henry Ford II of Detroit, is the Michigan chairman of the drive.

The Crusade For Freedom is the American people's challenge to world Communism. If now has more than 16 million supporters who have contributed some $1,317,000 to carry on the fight. The plan has received the endorsement of top ranking government officials, including President Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and General Clay. In seeking support of the movement, General Clay asks: "Shall our children and grandchildren be crushed by Communist tyranny, or shall we pass on to them their rightful heritage of freedom?"

Crusade For Freedom has as its purpose a program of truth-telling to Europe and Asia. Already its highpowered transmitters have beamed the message of freedom to these areas. Communistic Russia has threatened Freedom's attendants with hanging, but the fight goes on. Thus far, the beams have been toward Czechoslovkia, from which point hundreds of letters of appreciation have come from listeners. Escapees from behind the Iron Curtain report a tremendous interest in the broadcasts.

Locally, Mr. Butler is attempting to arouse interest in the campaign through a program of solicitation. Funds may either be dropped into a cannister at Butler Motor Sales or given directly to Mr. Butler. In either event the money is turned over to the Michigan offices of Crusade For Freedom.

There is considerable literature available at Butler's concerning the movement, and contributors are given lapel pins.

Resident Found Guilty Of Maintaining Nuisance

Dale Creger, 3902 Russell Road, was found guilty of maintaining a nuisance in violation of Tecumseh township's sanitary code, in Justice Wilfred Waldron's court, last week Wednesday. He was ordered to correct the nuisance. No fine or costs were assessed.

The complaint in the case was signed by Charles Miller, a neighbor of Creger's.

According to Attorney J. C. Beardsley, who represented the People in the case, Mr. Creger permitted the septic tank on his premises to overflow and he failed to correct it. Earlier in the case he had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Attorney Beardsley said that the case was taken into court for test purposes, and that that was the reason why a fine and costs were not assessed.

Jury System Is U. S. Guarantee Of Freedom

The most important man in freedom-loving America is the juror, Rex Martin, prosecuting attorney, told members of the Rotary Club when he addressed that group, Tuesday evening. The program followed the club's dinner at the Country Club. Mr. Martin was the guest of LeRoy Tittley.

The prosecutor, in an interesting manner, traced the history of the jury court system from England, telling of some of the trial methods that it succeeded. Trial by jury, he declared, assures freedom, and makes it impossible for judges and other officials to become autocratic.

"Think of this the next time you are asked to serve on jury," Martin said. "If you can meet the qualifications of a juror it is your duty to serve as an American citizen. You should not be too busy to practice the Golden Rule."

$285,000 Bond Issue To Voters

ELECTION TO BE HELD HERE, OCTOBER 31; TO USE MONEY FOR DISPOSAL PLANT

A $285,000 bonding proposal, the money to be used to build a sewage disposal plant in Tecumseh, in keeping with an order issued by the Michigan Stream Control Commission, will come before the voters in Tecumseh on Wednesday, October 31. Approval of the program and the establishment of the election date came when the council met in special session, September 13.

Two issues will be before the voters. The first one will be a proposed amendment to the village charter, permitting the village to incur indebtedness of not more than seven per cent of its assessed valuation of real and personal property subject to taxation. The second issue will be the bonding proposal, authorizing the issuance of $285,000 in bonds for the construction of the plant.

Only qualified electors owning property in the village that is assessed for tax purposes, or the husband and wife of such an owner, may vote on the bonding issue. All qualified voters may cast their ballots on the charter amendment proposal. The proposal to bond must be approved by two-thirds of the voting electors.

Voting will take place, as usual, in the council building and the polls will be open from 7 a.m., until 8 p.m.

E. C. Heilman, chairman of the council's sewer committee, said today that in the event the two issues are approved, bids on the construction of the disposal plant will be sought immediately and, in all probability, work will be started yet this fall. If this can be Tecumseh's Community Chest campaign this year will begin about October 17, and the final budget meeting will be held on October 1. It was decided at a meeting of the board, Tuesday evening in the offices of the United Savings Bank. Ronald Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has been requested to again direct the drive.

At the business meeting, one new member was named to the board. Geo. H. Adamson, who has served as a trustee for many years, requested that he be permitted to retire and, in his place, Ned Rosacrans was elected for a three-year term. John R. Thompson and the Rev. Edward Escolme whose terms expired, also were re-elected for three years.

Robert G. Fuller, president, requested that he be permitted to retire from that office and Howard Diedrich was named to the presidency. Other officers chosen are Mrs. Frank K. Smith, vice-president, the Rev. Mr. Escolme, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Richard Preston, corresponding secretary.

Several organizational budgets already have been submitted to the board with requests that they be included in the fund drive. These were turned over to a committee for study, prior to the October 1 meeting.

POLICE CAR DAMAGED

The Tecumseh police car suffered $100 damage, Saturday at 10:30 p.m., in a collision with a car driven by Arthur L. Jepson, 314 So. Adrian street. The public schools here will recess this evening until next Monday morning, giving the students—and teachers, too—an opportunity to attend the Lenawee County Fair on Friday. The Tecumseh High band will participate in the activities of the fair on Friday.

HILLSDALE FAIR TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

The 101st annual Hillsdale County Fair will get under way next week, with marked improvements to the show grounds and buildings. The midways have been under-drained and paved, assuring excellent sanitation, and the grounds have been sprayed for the control of flies and insects.

The largest purses offered at any fair in Michigan will assure fine harness racing throughout the week. High class entertainment will be presented each evening in front of the grandstand under a covered stage, regardless of the weather. Hillsdale this year is boasting of the first glass-enclosed stand at any county fair.

Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will announce to his congregation on Sunday that a congregational meeting will be held, following the Sunday service on September 30, for the purpose of accepting his request for the dissolution of his pastoral relations as of December 15, or sooner if a suitable replacement is available. The congregational action will be subject to the approval of the Presbytery. He informed the Session and trustees of his intended action, last Monday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson, who has served the Tecumseh church for four years, plans to sail on December 28 with Mrs. Wilson and their son and daughter for Edinburgh, Scotland, where he will enter the University of Edinburgh. He plans to remain in Scotland for a year, to fulfill his residency requirements for a Ph. D.

Mr. Wilson, a native of Detroit, is a graduate of the University of Florida with a B. S. A., and of McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, with a B. D. He was ordained on February 5, 1945.

Wilson immediately entered the U. S. Army as a chaplain, serving for 13 months in occpuied Germany. Mrs. Wilson, a resident of Grosse Pointe, went to London in July of 1946, and they were married there while Mr. Wilson was in service. Wilson took an overseas discharge. Together they spent nine months in Germany and five months in Scotland where Wilson enrolled in the University for a refresher course.

Wilson now is taking a course at the University of Michigan, which will be completed in December, prior to his sailing for Scotland.

Smoke Is Held In Two Deaths

NEW WARRANT CHARGES HIM WITH MURDER OF WIFE WHO DIED LAST THURSDAY

Elton Smoke, 45-year-old resident of Wolf Lake and Tecumseh factory employee, now faces two warrants, charging him with murder.

The second warrant was issued last Friday, following the death on Thursday, in University Hospital, Ann Arbor, of his wife, Frances, 45, from gunshot wounds allegedly inflicted by her husband. Smoke's first victim was Mrs. Gertrude Roberts, 42-year-old wife of Gerald Roberts, 209 West Pottawatamie street, in whose home the shooting occurred in the evening of August 28.

Chief of Police M. E. Clark of Tecumseh signed both complaints, acting on the instruction of Rex Martin, prosecuting attorney. Smoke is in the county jail at Adrian, following arraignment yesterday afternoon in Justice John K. Lowe's court at Adrian, on the second murder charge. Previously he had been held at the jail, after his release from University Hospital, in default of $45,000 bail. The first warrants issued charged Smoke with the murder of Mrs. Roberts and with felonious assault upon his wife, with intent to murder.

The shooting occurred about 9 p.m., when Smoke visited the Roberts' residence, where his wife was staying. Mrs. Smoke was an aunt of Mrs. Roberts. She had started divorce proceedings against Smoke. He is alleged to have turned the gun first on his wife, shooting her in the shoulder and chest, then upon Mrs. Roberts and finally upon himself. Mrs. Roberts died from a severed artery in her leg. Smoke made a rapid recovery. The bullet entered his head back of one ear, traveled around the skull and lodged in his jaw bone.

Arraigned last Thursday before Justice Lowe, Smoke was held for trial in circuit court during the January term. He was not represented by an attorney and neither did he choose to cross examine either of two witnesses who gave testimony.

The two witnesses to testify at the examination were Norbert O'Hara, a 20-year-old neighbor of the Roberts, and Trooper George Catton of the Clinton post of the state police. The trooper told the court that Smoke told him at the hospital of how, on the night of the murders, he drove to Tecumseh from Wolf Lake, parked his car, pocketed a revolver that was in the car, and walked to the Roberts home. He entered without knocking and called to his wife. She was in the bathroom and mumbled

Indians Ready For Pittsford

FIRST HOME GRID GAME FRIDAY EVENING; TECUMSEH BOWS TO HILLSDALE

Tecumseh high school will play its first league football game of the 1951 season, tomorrow evening at Recreation Center, when the Pittsford high eleven travels here for a contest under the lights. The kick-off is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Pittsford got off to a good start, last Friday, when they defeated Litchfield, there, by a 13-12 score. It was Pittsford's first tilt of the season and an all-important touchdown and extra point in the last minute of play spelled victory over the host team.

Tecumseh, however, went down to defeat at the hands of Hillsdale high, last Friday, on Hillsdale's field, by a score of 26 to 7. The Hornets outplayed the Indians most of the way, in the non-league contest.

Hillsdale's hard-hitting wall stopped Tecumseh's opening march at the 10-yard line. The Hornets scored from the two yard stripe in the second quarter when Halfback Bill McElroy hurdled center to cap a 40-yard drive. The kick went wild.

Hillsdale's Howard Ewles, playing excellent ball, grabbed a Tecumseh fumble behind the line of scrimmage and stretched it 10

What Does Your Future Hold?

The Associated Press recently carried a very interesting little story, based on information provided by the Commerce Clearing House, an organization that is concerned with tax and business law.

According to the story, "If you are a 29-year-old average male, you can look forward to paying a minimum of $34,700 in taxes by the time you are 65." This average 29-year-old earns $4,300 a year, and has a mortgaged home and two children. Of that $34,700 tax bill almost half — $15,684 — will go for federal income taxes. The rest will be levied in the form of real property taxes, social security, gasoline, state income, various excise and "luxury" taxes and so down the long list.

The $34,700 figure, remember, is a minimum. No one can forecast the future with accuracy. If government goes on with the prodigal waste that has characterized it for a generation, the ultimate tax bill for the 29-year-old average man and everyone else will be far higher. On top of that, more government-induced inflation will sharply reduce the purchasing power of what little money we have left after the tax collector gets through.

It is commonly argued that wars and the threat of more wars make these tremendous taxes inevitable. That's an easy alibi for the professional bureaucrats, but it won't hold water. The most thorough studies indicate that federal spending for just the single current fiscal year could be cut by as much as $10,000,000,000 without affecting the defense program any way. Government is now the greatest squanderer of our money and resources and labor, and you pay for it whether you are 29, 59 or 99.

Since 1932 the government at Washington has been kidding the people — making them believe that they can get — from the federal government — something for nothing. If people would only think, such a program is absolutely impossible. The federal government has only one source of income and that source is taxation. The money, then, that the government "gives away" was first taken away from the people in the form of taxes. And before it was "given away" the bureaucrats and politicians got a large slice of it for themselves, in the form of salaries.

Who Would You Blame?

In one of his recent syndicated columns, Frank R. Kent wrote, "If and when the story of the present era is calmly written it seems inevitable that the impartial historian should dwell heavily upon the idiotic fiscal policy which, in defiance of reason and experience, the American government fatuously pursued while passing through its greatest crisis.

"This will indict not only its rulers, but the people of the country as well. For, primarily it is the fault of these that the Washington politicians have been permitted to undermine the federal financial structure upon the strength of which depends our ability to defend ourselves in a situation where the thoughtful men feel our greatest danger is from within rather than without."

As Mr. Kent also said, practically everyone seems agreed that rigid reduction in non-defense spending and the elimination of all government waste are made essential by the incredibly expansive arms program. The President and most other top men in the government have said as much. So have all the leading economists. So have most of the newspapers. So have politicians of all kinds and degrees. Yet almost nothing has been done — so far, it's all been talk, and then more spending.

Here Mr. Kent brings the primary blame home to the President. He observed, "Chief responsibility for this ghastly failure rests upon Mr. Truman. For, it is axiomatic that no real curtailment of expenditures or waste can be achieved by Congress without White House leadership. Instead of providing that leadership the Truman weight has been used to frustrate congressional attempts at reduction. Publicly, he has urged his heads of bureaus and departments to cut down non-defense expenditures but privately he has permitted them to classify almost every activity as linked with defense."

There is no lack of detailed and authoritative blueprints for cutting the non-defense cost of government. Any number of organizations and individuals, from the Hoover Task Forces on down, have indicated the way in precise terms, not just generalities. In each case, they show how many billions of dollars can be pared without damaging any essential government function. It is true that some cuts have been made by Congress which was appalled by the size and scope of the President's proposed budget. But these cuts have been of a relatively minor nature. The big economy issued have been avoided.

Moreover, this is not a partisan fight. A Democrat, Senator Byrd., has long been the consistent advocate of tough economy in government — no Republican has worked as hard in this direction. And lately, a comparative newcomer to the Democratic ranks of the Senate, Senator Douglas, has taken up the torch. As it happens, Senator Douglas subscribed almost completely to the late President Roosevelt's New Deal program, and he approves of much of President Truman's version of it. However, he abhors waste and extravagance in government and he says so on every possible occasion. This, incidentally, has put both Senators Byrd and Douglas in the White House dog house. As Mr. Kent puts it, "is bitterly hostile to both."

It is clear as day that the cost of government and the tremendous expansion in the size and power of the sprawling federal bureaucracy will be one of the two big issues in the next national election, foreign policy being the other. Many commentators, such as Mr. Kent, obviously feel that only the strongest possible public protest, as measured at the polls, can correct an intolerable situation.

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

Maybe you're missing something BIG

WE know how you feel when a car has given you faithful service. You like it. You're loyal to it. And that's only human.

But just suppose you found out that some other car could make familiar roads seem a lot smoother.

Suppose some other car held the curves in a way you'd never felt before.

Suppose some other car had more thrilling power—steered like a dream—held its course like an airliner on the beam—and let you finish a long day's drive feeling daisy fresh.

Wouldn't you feel you're missing something big unless you tried it out?

There is such a car. Its name is Buick.

It has big soft coil springs on every wheel. It has a Fireball Engine. It has a "front-end geometry" that does miracles with steering. And it has Dynaflow Drive.*

And incidentally, it wears a price tag that makes it a very smart buy compared to anything else you own.

We'd like to have you try this car. You'll never know what you're missing till you do.

How about giving us a call—or coming in to see us real soon?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING • DUAL VENTILATION
WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS • DREAMLINE STYLING
BODY BY FISHER

A pass from Dick Whelan to Jim Breitenwischer put the Indians back in the running for a first down on Hillsdale's ten. Breitenwischer then snapped an air shot to Whelan for the score and Bob Marsh kicked the extra point. The score was 12-7.

Still in the second stanza, Hillsdale scored on an 86-yard march, and again later in the third frame the pigskin went over the line. Neither team was able to score in the final quarter and the game ended, 26-7.

D. A. R. Holds Its First Meeting Of New Year

The first meeting of the Abi Evans chapter, D. A. R., was held Friday at the Sand Lake cottage of Mrs. Lavern Russell, hostess. Thirty-six members and guests from Manchester, Iowa, Boston, Mass., and Portland, Ore., were seated at tables centered with flowers, on the porch and in the cottage.

Mrs. Burtsel Claus, the new regent, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Leon Rosacrans was program leader. The members responded to roll call with "historical places visited this year." Mrs. Neil Pearson distributed the year books. There will be two evening meetings of the chapter. Guest Day will be observed December 14, and there will be an out of town speaker.

The October meeting will be held with Mrs. C. D. Branigin.

Delegates who attended the regional meeting in Adrian last week were Mrs. Claus, Mrs. W. C. Fisher of Tipton, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw.

Girl Scout Troops To Be Reorganized Here

Monday afternoon, Troops 5, 6 and 18, and Girl Scouts from disbanded troops met in the study hall of the high school to discuss troop activities for this fall. On Thursday, September 27, they will meet at the Scout Cabin at 6:30 for a potluck cook-out. All Scouts of troops 5, 6 and 18 and any interested girls in the 7th, 8th or 9th grades who would like to join the Scouts are invited to attend.

It has been planned there will be one large troop under the direction of Mrs. Benjamin Standen, Mrs. Roma Waters and Mrs. Robert Fuller and this troop will then be divided into patrols.

An all day hike is planned for the early part of October.

PLAN FOR SALE

The Temple Dependable and Semphis Fidelis Circles of the Methodist church are planning a joint rummage and bake sale October 5 and 6.

vocal duets by Marlys and Evelyn Arnold; comedy skit by Mrs. Helen Morningstar and daughter Yvonne; a closing song, and the prayer by the Rev. B. O. Bashore.

Mrs. Harris presided at the business meeting and announced appointment of the committees: Members of the P. T. A. council: Earl Green, Neville Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonner and Mr. and Mrs. James Barton; program, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Frederick Dickinson and Mrs. Walter Pfaus; room mothers chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Price; membership, Mrs. Robert Hanna and Mrs. Ray Sluyter; used clothing project, Mrs. Lee Jurkey; publicity, Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Anderson.

It was suggested that because of the increase in the size of the P.T.A., it might be possible to divide it into various groups for high school, grade school, West Branch and Brownville. This is being seriously considered and will be discussed at future meetings.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Price, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hendershot, Mr. and Mrs. James Barton and Mr. and Mrs. Bonner. The next meeting will be at the high school, October 11.

something. He called to her to come out and then he shot her. He said that he remembered nothing that happened later. He said that he had not been drinking, and neither had he had an argument with his wife or with Mrs. Roberts, earlier in the day. He said that he did not remember of shooting Mrs. Roberts.

O'Hara told of hearing the shots, of hearing Mrs. Roberts scream and of conditions as he found them when he reached the Roberts home.

Funeral services for Mrs. Smoke were held Sunday from the Braun Funeral Home in Adrian, the Rev. Frederick Miller, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, officiating. Burial was in the North Dover cemetery. Bearers were Donald Lanning, Rex Disbro, Charles Mass, jr., Walter Speller, Carl Ritchie and Henry Bates.

Mrs. Smoke was born on June 6, 1906, a daughter of the late Otto and Anna Mass. Surviving is a son, Richard Ansted of Adrian; a brother, Charles Mass of Morenci; seven sisters, Mrs. Edna Taylor of Sylvania, Mrs. Minnie Steinmetz of Toledo, Mrs. Emma Hanlin of Detroit, Mrs. Mary Washburn of Tecumseh, Mrs. May Bolenbaugh of Hudson, Mrs. Anna Joseph of Morenci, and Mrs. Mary Shadbolt of Adrian. Two grandchildren also survive.

The murder victim was a member of St. John's Lutheran church of Adrian.

done, he indicated that the plant would be finished and in use by next summer.

Not only the building of a disposal plant is involved in the program. It also includes the laying of several hundreds of feet of new sewers, and the building of a lift station in the western part of the village.

The Stream Control Commission recently issued an order making it mandatory for the village to act on the disposal plant program or face a court injunction. Mr. Hellman said that at the present time the Commission is satisfied with the progress that Tecumseh is making, and that if the village is able to complete construction early in 1952 the Commission will be satisfied. At the present time the village is dumping its raw sewage into the River Raisin, in violation of the state law.

Mr. Hellman pointed out that the village now owns the property on which the disposal plant will be built. It is located east of M-50 along the River Raisin. To date Hellman said, the village has invested in the land and in plans for the construction of the plant, including engineering surveys, etc. approximately $22,000. All of this cost has been paid, he said.

Hellman pointed out that if the voters approve the program next month the bonds to be issued will be in the form of general obligation notes and will be paid for through taxation. He estimated that to retire the bonds and to pay the interest would necessitate a tax increase of about one and a half mills over the present rate. In other words, the boost would be about $1.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation. The bonds would be retired over a 20 year period.

"We have considered 20, 25 and 30 year bonding programs," Hellman said, "but we believe that the 20-year plan is the most economical. Also, we believe that the general obligation bond is the cheapest from the taxpayer's standpoint. The $1.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation should not place any great burden on property owners."

A member of the Stream Control Commission was in Tecumseh on Tuesday checking up the progress that the village has made thus far. Hellman pointed out that the Commission is satisfied with the program.

ed to England in 1931. In 1938 the family made their last trip back to the homeland.

One hundred and fifty guests attended the reception and were received by Mrs. Melvin Muhn and Mrs. Harry Creger. Mrs. Perry M. Hayden presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. Naomi Sallows cut the decorated anniversary cake and Miss Mabel Lockwood, the bridegroom's cake. Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Walter Weimer, Mrs. Raynor VanValkenburg, Mrs. Henry Hamilton and Mrs. Sheldon Chase. Mrs. Ralph Comfort presided at the guest book. Tables were lovely with bouquets of garden flowers and the gift table was centered with an arrangement of white bebe chrysanthemums, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Oustenhout. Mr. and Mrs. Escolme were presented with many gifts, including a silver tea set from the church and Sunday school. A beautiful display of flowers were received from the Girls Training School in Adrian, where Mr. Escolme has been rendering a ministry for the past several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Escolme were also honored at a dinner given by the Friends Missionary Society at the church, Thursday. Mrs. Emma Day gave several readings and Mrs. Hayden sang two solos. The afternoon was spent packing Christmas boxes for missionaries in India.

MUSIC CLUB MEETS

The Tecumseh Music Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Bess Pulver and Mrs. Lulu Ruthruff on N. Union street. Mrs. Murray Day, president, presided, and Mrs. Joe Rice was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. Harold Green who resigned. Mrs. John McColl is conducting chorus practices each Tuesday evening for two months, and will meet a group at the home of Mrs. Ralph Westgate, Tuesday evening, September 25. Anyone interested in singing may contact Mrs. Day.

TAPE RECORDER BRINGS SERVICES TO SHUT-INS

The tape recorder, purchased last winter by the Presbyterian church and Sunday school, is serving many purposes, according to Robert Ries. Thirty-five church services already have been brought to members unable to attend, and fifteen more are still available. A half hour recording also has been made of a program by the Boys Choir of Cassidy Lake, as well as a song service enjoyed by Rotary-sponsored German youth in the church, recently. These recordings are available for the use of any local organization that might need them.

Herald Classifieds pay big dividends.

COMMITTEE REQUESTS

The St. Elizabeth Altar Society committee for the rummage and bake sale Friday and Saturday of this week has requested that all contributions for the rummage sale to be at the church by Thursday noon, and all baked goods, for Saturday sale only, to be at Hanna's by 10 a.m., Saturday morning.

Help Truth Fight Communism

Join With Us In The Crusade For Freedom-Do It Today!

This week we're stepping out of our hoss-tradin character to bring you a very serious message—one that may mean your freedom and ours.

We are vitally interested in the Crusade For Freedom, an effort of 16 million Americans to bring "truth behind the Iron Curtain." These Americans already have subscribed $1,317,000 to start the job, but more money is needed to carry it on.

America now has the strongest radio transmitter built, beaming messages of truth to Czechoslovakia. The Reds have threatened execution to its operators, should Russia come to power. They've tried to jam the waves, but the strength of America's voice is too powerful.

As we said, more funds are needed to carry on this work. Won't you enroll by making a contribution—regardless of size? We're receiving gifts in Tecumseh to be forwarded to the Michigan headquarters.

This is serious business — fighting Communism. It's everybody's job — if we're to have freedom. Think it over. Henry Ford II is the Michigan chairman. The dollar or two you may invest in this enterprise may mean your freedom, the freedom of your children and your grandchildren.

ONE HUNDREDTH YEAR—NUMBER FIFTY-TWO | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, SEPTEMBER 27, 1951 | FIVE CENTS A COPY

New Postoffice Opens, Monday

CEREMONY AT 7:30 A.M., IS PLANNED; PUBLIC IS INVITED TO ATTEND

Brief ceremonies next Monday morning will mark the official opening of Tecumseh's new post office, it was announced today by F. E. N. Thatcher, acting postmaster.

The new post office is the result of many years of effort on the part of a large number of local citizens. The federal government has consistently refused to appropriate money for the purpose, but about a year ago the postal department agreed to lease a building if one could be built locally. Howard Truesdale, local contractor, agreed to construct the building, and starting October 1, Tecumseh citizens will deal through the new office on East Logan street.

A short program has been worked out by Mr. Thatcher and Ronald Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The entire community is privileged to attend, and it is expected that officials of the village and township will be present and take part. Also taking part will be Tecumseh's living past postmasters: H. H. Hanna, Percy Bowen, and Wiley McCann.

The program will include an invocation by Rev. Donald Wilson. The past postmasters and representatives of veterans organizations will raise the flag. William A. Wright, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will cut the ribbon which will be across the front doorway. Mr. Truesdale will present the keys to the building to Mr. Thatcher who will unlock the door. J. Floyd Elliott, village president, will enter the building and purchase the first stamp. Township Supervisor LeRoy Titley, will purchase the second. The first letter will be mailed and the ceremonies will conclude with a dedication by Father Michael Collins. From then on the new postoffice will start its routine work.

It is explained that the ceremonies will be less elaborate than originally planned, because there will be no stoppage of work from regular postoffice hours. The present office will close as usual at noon on Saturday, September 29.

Gas Heating Order Relaxed

APPLICANTS HAVE UNTIL OCTOBER 6 TO FILE FOR SERVICE THIS WINTER

Plans for accepting 10,000 additional gas space-heating customers by the Consumers Power Co. were in full motion today, following the Michigan public service commission order relaxing present restrictions sufficiently to permit it.

Fulfillment of the plans is conditional upon the approval of the petroleum administration for defense. The Michigan public service commission will join with Consumers in asking PAD's okay.

Company officials announced that within the next few days an application blank for space-heating will be sent by mail to each of its more than 200,000 natural gas customers who are not now using gas to heat their homes or other buildings.

Customers wishing to apply for gas space-heating service will be given until October 6 to do so.

Persons not now using gas for any purpose may obtain an application blank at the nearest Consumers office.

Apportionment of the 10,000 installations among the company's operating divisions has been made on the basis of gas customers not now using gas for space-heating. The Jackson division has been allotted 631 installations. This includes the Village of Tecumseh.

If the number of applications received in any area within the period exceeds the number of installations to be made available in that area, the successful applications in that area will be chosen by lot.

Names of all other applicants will be kept on a priority list against the time when the company may receive authority to connect additional space-heating customers beyond the present 10,000.

Because of technical problems involved in the distribution of natural gas, it may be that persons living in some local areas will not be eligible for space-heating service at this time.

Successful applicants will have 60 days in which to complete the installation of space-heating equipment.

Consumers officials emphasized that no applicant should purchase or install space-heating equipment until an approved copy of his application is returned to him by the company. On receipt of this approval, the applicant should consult his dealer about gas space-heating equipment. Consumers itself will not sell or install space-heating equipment.

YOU ARE MISTAKEN IF YOU THINK THAT ALL PRICES HAVE GONE UP

Tecumseh Residents Still Buying Water on Rates Established in 1922

You say that prices have advanced? You think that you are paying more for everything that you buy than you did a year ago or five years ago?

Well, in a large measure, that may be true. Perhaps the price of beef steak and a few other things have doubled since the end of World War II but there's one item that you are buying—if you live in Tecumseh—for the same price that you paid for it in 1922.

The item is WATER.

The price of water, pumped through the mains of the Village of Tecumseh, was established in 1922—29 years ago. And since that time the price has remained the same, come depression or inflation.

Today, the average water user in Tecumseh—the home owner—is paying $9 a year for 40,000 gallons of water. That amount, generally speaking, is more than ample for the average home. Of course, some folk use considerably more than 40,000 gallons, and industry runs the figure still higher. But it still remains a fact that Mr. Homeowner is not paying a nickel more for water today than he did in the 20's.

Here is how the home rate is set up: If the average homeowner does not exceed 40,000 gallons of water in a year he is billed quarterly at the rate of $2.50. If he pays bis bill promptly, he receives a discount of 10 percent, making the actual payment $2.25. Once a year he is asked to pay a meter service charge of 50 cents. Therefore, he actually pays $9 annually for the water that he uses, and contributes 50 cents to keep his meter in repair.

It is known that the Village Council is commencing to feel the pinch of higher prices and inflation. Some members of the Council are wondering just how much longer water can be sold to residents at the 1922 rate. Back in "the good old days" it was possible to buy water meters for from $5 to $7.50. Today these meters cost $16.50 to $20. Other prices, including labor costs, have skyrocketed, too, and altogether, the water department is running dangerously close to the edge, financially.

Today, the water department's total revenue is around $27,000 annually. More than half of that amount comes from industry and the balance from homeowners and residents. Tecumseh now has three wells instead of two—as in the old days—and it is possible to pump 2,700 gallons of water a minute, in the event that such an amount is necessary. That's about 162,000 gallons of water an hour or 3,888,000 gallons every 24 hours.

Records show than an average monthly consumption of water in the village is 49,000,000 gallons. About 40,000,000 of that amount goes to industry. The average monthly consumption is about one-half of the wells' capacity.

The Council, it is said, is not anxious to boost water rates, in fact it would like to leave them where they are, but the members are wondering if they can do it and remain solvent.

One program that is being considered it to discontinue the discount plan and in its place add a penalty if bills are not paid promptly. This would increase the village's "take" by about $900 a year, because there are about 900 water customers aside from industry. And then some members of the council are thinking about increasing the meter service charge of $1 a month. That would give the department another $450 a year. By discontinuing the discount and boosting the meter service charge would give the department another $1,350. Some members of the council feel that such an amount would "get by" despite increasing costs.

What action will be taken is still in the discussion stage. Perhaps water users will be asked to pay "just a little more"—but it will be "just a little."

But regardless of the Council's action, remember this: You're still buying water in Tecumseh at the same price that you paid "way back in 1922."

$285,000 Worth Of Progress

On Wednesday, the last day of October, the qualified, property-owning electors of the Village of Tecumseh will be asked to express their opinion on a $285,000 general obligation bond issue, the money to be used to build a sewage disposal plant in the village. The bonds will be retired over a 20-year period, the interest rate, of course, is expected to be low, and the actual out-of-pocket annual cost to taxpayers is estimated at about $1.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Here, briefly, is how the program, if it wins the voters' approval, will affect the average tax-paying resident, the home owner. If Mr. Homeowner has property assessed at $3,000 he will pay an additional $4.50 per year over the 20-year period or a total of $90. If the valuation is $2,000 instead of $3,000 he will pay only $3 a year additional tax or a total of $60 over the 20-year period. However, if his property has a value of $10,000 he will pay $15 a year in additional taxes or a total of $300 during the 20-year period.

The more property the taxpayer owns the higher his assessed valuation, and the more taxes he pays. Everybody will share in the cost proportionately.

The Council feels that general obligation bonds, instead of revenue bonds, should be issued to cover the expense of the disposal plant's construction. It appears that the Council has studied, with the assistance of engineers, the many forms of bonds that might be sold to raise the needed funds, and that the Council is of the opinion that the general obligation bonds are the cheapest—from an interest standpoint—because they are more attractive to investors. If this is true, if such bonds do command a lower rate of interest, the taxpayers, as a result, will benefit. This is the Council's answer to those who feel that revenue bonds, rather than general obligation bonds, should be issued.

Government spending of money is seldom popular with taxpayers because, always, it is the taxpayer who pays. This is particularly true at the local level. There are those, of course, who feel that now is not the time to build a disposal plant. They feel that construction costs are high, double, perhaps, what they were ten years ago. Tecumseh should wait, some folk think, until costs come down. But will they come down?

Tecumseh has been battling with the state for many, many years regarding the construction of a disposal plant. Back in the days of the WPA there was talk of a disposal plant in this village. The state has issued warning after warning to the Council, but always the Council has "pleaded off" for a year or two because costs were high. And during all of those years, costs have been steadily increasing.

It is probably true that had Tecumseh built its disposal plant when it was first suggested by the state, the cost to taxpayers would have been less than one-half of what it will be today. Hindsight is always better than foresight.

There is no doubt but that Tecumseh is dumping its raw sewage into the River Raisin. There is no doubt but that such an act is in violation of Michigan law. Tecumseh is a growing community, and, as Tecumseh grows, so does the amount of raw sewage that is dumped into the river.

How much harm the dumping of Tecumseh's raw sewage into the river does we are not prepared to say. The state says that it must stop. Similar warnings have been issued to other cities and towns along the Raisin and other rivers in the state. Many, many communities already have complied and many, many others are hurrying to do so. Adrian has its plant in operation. Clinton has a small plant. Blissfield and Dundee are preparing to construct plants. And so it goes, everywhere, it seems.

We dislike paying high taxes just as does everybody else. In this instance, however, there seems to be no alternative. There is no doubt but that Tecumseh is "over the barrel" on the issue. If Tecumseh should refuse to comply with the order of the Michigan Stream Control Commission —or, should the taxpayers refuse to vote the necessary bonds to permit construction—in all probability the state would take Tecumseh into court and an order would be issued to do the job anyway. This has been done in other instances.

Time and progress are marching on together. Tecumseh is just another growing community in the society of communities in Michigan and the nation. In this instance, as we see it, we are buying $285,000 worth of progress.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

Easy does it!

YOU'RE going to be surprised about lots of things the first time you and this Buick get out on the road.

Take the easy way it responds to your every wish—steps away from a stop light—soars up a hill—lets loose a surge of power at the touch of your toe on the treadle—or gentles to a stop at the touch of the brakes.

Take the way it rides the road—with an easy stride, sure-footed on turns, level as a lance on straightaways.

Take the way it steers—so light and true that it seems to guide itself.

It's easy to see where this eager beauty gets its standout performance, when you glance at the list of all-star engineering features shown above.

But how about price? Can you afford it?

"Easy does it" is the answer to that one too.

Fact is—if you can afford a new car, you can afford a Buick. Better come in to see us soon.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.
*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

TECUMSEH NOT AFFECTED BY NEW PHONE BILLINGS

The Michigan Associated Telephone Company announced today that it has become necessary to rearrange the billing periods at some of its exchanges to spread the work load evenly throughout the month and to permit the adoption of new billing schedules preparatory to moving its subscribers' billing department from Lafayette, Ind., to the newly created general offices at Muskegon. The present billing date of Tecumseh subscribers, however, will not be affected by the change, E. G. Greene, district commercial manager here, said.

The company prepares and mails close to 80,000 telephone bills monthly, and according to Mr. Greene it takes many months of careful planning to move such an accounting operation several hundred miles. Green pointed out that the change does not involve any increase in the monthly rates, but as some bills may necessarily have to cover more than the usual 30-day period initially, the company will send a detailed explanation of the change to each customer with the next two telephone bills.

COUNTRY CLUB DANCE

The first fall dance will be held at the Tecumseh Country Club Saturday evening, September 29, at 9 o'clock. Driscoll's orchestra will furnish music for dancing from 9 until 1 o'clock, and luncheon will be served at midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bowen are the chairmen and will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Furry, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horvath, Mr. and Mrs. Art Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ames of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Socks of Clinton.

GET U. OF M. DEGREES

Two from Tecumseh and one from Britton will receive their degrees from the University of Michigan as the result of summer graduate work, it was announced today at Ann Arbor. Those who will receive their diplomas by mail are Jane Clark Elliott, 108 W. Pottawatamie street, Master of Arts; Margaret Isabel Van Denbergh, 210 W. Chicago Boulevard, Master of Arts; Lillian May Buttolph, Britton, Master of Arts.

Rev Wilson Speaker At B. & P. W. Banquet

The Tecumseh Business and Professional Woman's Club opened its current season, Monday evening in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Mervyn Boltz was in charge of devotions and dinner was served to 37 members and five guests by the Presbyterian League. Guests included Mrs. Maxine Runk, Miss Ruth Bowen, Mrs. Kidman, Alice Williams and the guest speaker, the Rev. Donald C. Wilson.

Mabel Lockwood, president, presided at the business meeting. The corresponding secretary read several invitations, one from the Jasper Women's Club, and announced that the Monday Club is observing Gentlemen's Night, October 15, at Grange Hall, at which time Billy Aebersold will speak on Korea.

Mrs. L. Everlove's name was submitted to the membership committee. The club agreed to send flowers to Mrs. Harry Duncan, a charter member of the club who underwent surgery in Herrick Memorial Hospital, Monday. Year books were distributed by Geraldine French.

Mrs. Homer Colson and Miss Alice Hopkins, of the program committee, presented Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney who sang "Luxembourg," accompanied by Mrs. Wilfred Waldron; Mrs. Duane Service who sang, "Gray Morn," and "There's No Tomorrow," accompanied by Mrs. Kenton Hunt. The Rev. Mr. Wilson talked on "International Relations."

The hostesses were Mrs. Vevia Anderson, Winifred Finisy, Ethel Keyser and Bess Spayde.

The next meeting will be held Monday evening, October 22.

Presbyterian Women In First Meeting of Fall

The Woman's Association of the Presbyterian church held its first fall meeting in the Fellowship Center of the church, Wednesday evening, September 19, with 55 members in attendance. Mrs. Frank Smith, presided, and Mrs. Paul Keyser opened the meeting with a prayer.

Announcement was made that prayer cells are being held each Thursday morning at 9 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Margaret Kidman. Mrs. Lee Purkey, chairman of the fall festival to be held November 1, reported and asked that all contributions be given to the respective committees as soon as possible.

Mrs. Ray Sluyter was in charge of the program. Mrs. Al Merz sang, "The Last Time I Saw Paris," accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Spafford, and Mrs. E. C. Boss, French instructor at Wayne University, gave a descriptive talk on the last time she saw Paris. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Sam Shervino.

Mrs. W. D. Hite and her committee served refreshments.

WIT-WISDOM CLUB

The first meeting of the 1951-1952 season of the Wit and Wisdom Club will be held Monday evening, October 1, at 8 o'clock at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Wilson, West Logan street. Mrs. David Beck and Mrs. John Lott will be the assisting hostesses. The program will be in charge of David Locke and he will tell his duties with the Veterans Administration.

New Postoffice

Over the week-end the equipment will be moved to the building on Logan street, and at 8:00 a.m. Monday, October 1, postal work will begin as usual, only in the new quarters. The ceremonies, therefore, must begin shortly after 7:30 in the morning.

New furniture and equipment for the building has been ordered but has not yet arrived. The old equipment in the present office must be moved to the new building to serve for the present. Had the new equipment arrived, it could have been placed in the new building sometime this week and the public could have witnessed more elaborate ceremonies and an open house.

The Tecumseh post office presents figures showing the growth of the community. The present office was opened to the public in 1916 when city delivery was first started. Since that time the services of the office have grown to serve a total of 1807 families. There are two rural routes, one 62 miles long and serving 438 families, and the other 51 miles long and serving 246 families. There are three city carriers, serving 447, 449, and 227 families respectively.

The prosperity of the community is also reflected. Following are some comparative figures on gross receipts: 1936, $11,667.99; 1941, $18,304.51; 1946, $26,385.87; 1950, $43,599.52. According to Mr. Thatcher, 1951 will probably set another record for gross receipts.

PINK, BLUE SHOWER

Mrs. Edward Storme was the guest of honor at a surprise "pink and blue" shower in her home Monday evening on Occidental Road. A scrap book was made for the honored guest and games were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Stormes. Mrs. Lewis Watson planned the surprise and was assisted by Mrs. Edward Stormes, sr. Other guests were Mrs. Lynn Flowers, Mrs. Floyd Graham, and Mrs. William Sackett and Mrs. Mildred Robertson of Ridgeway. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

PLAN BAZAAR, DINNER

St. Peter's Episcopal church annual bazaar and roast of beef dinner will be held on Thursday, October 25, at the Parish House. Mrs. Orville Farver is chairman of the bazaar with Mrs. Lawrence Blum as co-chairman. Mrs. Richard Dewey is chairman of the dinner which will be served from 5 - 7 o'clock.

BAKE SALE FRIDAY

The ladies of the Baptist church are having a bake sale at Hanna's Insurance office, Friday afternoon October 5, from 12:30 to 4 p.m. The proceeds will be added to the primary building fund.

SERVICE CLUB TO ELECT

The Tecumseh Service Club will meet in the basement of the library Thursday evening, September 27, at 8 o'clock. There will be an election of officers. The public is urged to attend.

Indians Humble

featured runs by Bill Benham and Dick Whelan. The try for the extra point failed.

Although Tecumseh threatened again in the second stanza when it moved from its own 22-yard marker to Pittsford's 15, it was a scoreless quarter for either team. The third stanza also went without a score.

In the final period Tecumseh launched a 65-yard march that ended in a score when Breitenwischer sneaked across the marker from the two-yard stripe, concluding a 25-yard dash by Benham. Here the extra point was made.

Pittsford made both of its scores in the last frame by turning Tecumseh punts into touchdowns.

Kroger Store Manager In Vacation Contest

Ernest Peters, Kroger store manager here, has entered a company-wide sales contest in which an all-expense paid winter vacation in Florida is offered as first prize.

He is competing against 56 other store managers in this area from which two winners will be picked. In all, 48 Kroger store managers and their wives will leave for Florida on January 4, 1952. During their Florida visit they will see St. Augustine, Marineland, Daytona Beach, Silver Springs, Cypress Gardens, and Miami Beach; where they will stay at the exclusive Vanderbilt Hotel.

In addition, more than 3,000 awards will be divided by store employees throughout the company. The local store will compete against six other stores of comparable size, with all employees of the store showing the highest sales gain during the eight-week period of the contest receiving prize awards. Prizes will include home appliances, home furnishings, sporting equipment, jewelry and clothing.

To assist Peters in winning these awards, the company has scheduled a store managers' sale during the first week of the contest, September 24. This year marks Kroger's 69th year in the food business. Founded in Cincinnati, Ohio, by the late B. H. "Barney" Kroger, the company has grown from one store on Cincinnati's riverfront to over 2,000 stores in 19 middlewestern and southern states.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Skip Makes a Slip

Miss Gilbert, the teacher, was telling me how Skip Lawson almost went to sleep in her physics class.

She noticed him nodding and—since they were discussing electricity—said in a loud voice: "Now maybe MR. LAWSON will explain what electricity is." Skip started up, looked around wildly, and blurted out, "Gee! I used to know, but I forgot."

"What a loss to science!" sighs Miss Gilbert. "No one to this day knows what electricity really is, and here we have a genius who could explain it—but forgot!"

From where I sit, I hope this taught Skip that you're better off if you admit you don't know all answers. Some grownups haven't learned that yet—like the ones who are always telling other people what's best and what's right and what's wrong. I like a temperate glass of beer, myself, but if you prefer buttermilk I won't argue. I've seen too many "know-it-alls" turn out to be wrong!

Important Notice to Those Who Wish To Heat With Gas

Consumers Power Company has been granted permission by the Michigan Public Service Commission to supply gas to 10,000 additional gas house-heating or other space-heating customers.

These 10,000 additional customers will be apportioned fairly among the many cities and villages in which this company supplies gas service.

We want to give everyone an equal opportunity to obtain gas heating service. Accordingly, application blanks have been mailed to every gas customer of the company who is not now using gas for heating purposes.

If you are not a Consumers gas customer at present but live within our gas service area and wish gas heating service, please drop in at the nearest Consumers office or, if this is not practical, call us by telephone and ask for an application form.

If you are a Consumers gas customer now and if you haven't received your application blank, through the mail by September 29, please follow the same course.

All applications must be in our hands by October 6, 1951.

If the number of applicants in the Jackson Division area exceeds the number of additional gas heating customers approved for that area, those to receive gas heating service will be selected by lot. Only persons who are able to complete the installation of gas heating equipment promptly and who live in areas where local gas distribution facilities are adequate to serve them can be considered for gas heating service at this time.

To avoid tying up your money in equipment you may not be able to use, please refrain from buying any gas space-heating equipment until an approved application is returned to you by the company. Then see your dealer.

Service can be supplied only to heating equipment approved by the American Gas Association Testing Laboratory or other nationally recognized inspection board or laboratory.

ONE HUNDRED FIRST YEAR—NUMBER 1 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, OCTOBER 4, 1951 | FIVE CENTS A COPY

New Postoffice Is Opened Here

EARLY MORNING CEREMONY MARKS REMOVAL OF OFFICE TO LOGAN STREET

Tecumseh's new post office on East Logan street, was officially opened to the public on Monday with a special dedicatory ceremony and a flurry of extra postal business.

The ceremony attracted a large number of people who came down town early in the morning for the 7:30 event. Ronald Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, acted as master of ceremonies and explained that the required post office hours made it necessary to have the early morning program before the office opened for business.

The Rev. Donald Wilson opened the program with the invocation. Vern Manwaring, representing the American Legion, and Harold Warren, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars, raised the flag while Charles Bater played "To Colors" on the bugle.

William Wright, president of the Chamber of Commerce, cut the red, white, and blue ribbon which was held by Billy and Judy Truesdale, children of Howard Truesdale, the contractor who made the new building possible.

F. E. N. Thatcher, acting postmaster, read congratulatory telegrams from Governor G. Mennen Williams, Senator Homer Ferguson, and Congressman George Meader. The keys to the building were then presented to Mr. Thatcher by Mr. Truesdale.

The first patrons to enter the building were J. Floyd Elliott, village president, and L. H. Titley, township supervisor. They bought the first stamps and mailed the first letters. Mr. Elliott's letters were to Mr. Truesdale and to Mayor Tom Scott of Tecumseh, Ontario. Mr. Titley mailed his to his daughter, Alice Jane, who is starting out on her hobby of stamp collecting.

Following this, Mr. Elliott made some brief remarks, congratulating Mr. Truesdale and Mr. Thatcher on their efforts which had resulted in the new office. The ceremonies concluded with the benediction by Fr. Michael Collins.

A short open house was permitted, and in the receiving line with Mr. Thatcher were past postmasters H. H. Hanna and Percy Bowen. The other living past postmaster, Wiley McCann, had been unable to be present at the ceremony because of car trouble. Also in the line were relatives of other former postmasters.

The post office reported considerable interest in a special stamping on first class mail from the post office on this first day. This stamping, known to collectors as a "cochet," was the result of efforts by A. C. Hamaker, local philatelist, who had to make a special trip to Detroit to have the stamp here. The stamp originally ordered for the occasion had been incorrectly mailed by the manufacturer and did not arrive at the expected time.

The cachets are already prized keepsakes by a number of local residents, while stamp collecting enthusiasts are already making efforts to add them to their collections.

F. E. N. THATCHER, Tecumseh's acting postmaster, (center) had a happy smile on his face as the new postoffice building on East Logan street, was formally opened to the public, Monday morning. At the left is LeRoy Titley, township supervisor, and right, J. Floyd Elliott, village president. They purchased the first stamps and mailed the first letters when the office opened. Much credit for the new building must be given to Mr. Thatcher. He worked out the program with H. W. Truesdale, owner of the building, that enabled construction and made possible the new postoffice for the village.

Legion Women In Regular Meet

COMMITTEES FOR NEW YEAR ARE ANNOUNCED; PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Twenty-five members of the American Legion Auxiliary met at Legion Home, Monday evening, for the October meeting. Mrs. Charles Osburn, the new president, presided.

Miss Janet Erhart, the Auxiliary's representative to Girl's State last June, gave an interesting report of the activities and events in which she participated while at Ann Arbor. Allen Dickinson, son of Mrs. Mae Dickinson, told of his experiences while attending camp at Big Silver Lake, near Ann Arbor for two weeks this summer.

Auxiliary Police To Aid In Case of Emergency

In cases of fires, accidents, civic events and school affairs, auxiliary police officers will assist regular police in Tecumseh in the handling of traffic, M. E. Clark, chief of police, said today. There are 32 members of the auxiliary force, Chief Clark said, and they will be distinguished by special helmets which are expected to arrive this week.

"Sometimes, in emergencies and for civic and sporting events, we are handicapped for officers," the chief said. "In such cases, we will press the auxiliary police into duty, and they will assist us as long as they are needed. The public should bear in mind," he continued, "that these officers have full public powers, while they are on duty, and that they can make arrests and issue tickets the same as a regular officer."

The auxiliary force was organized here as a part of the Civil Defense program. The special officers meet at least once a month for instructions. The meeting dates have been changed to the third Thursday in each month, at the V. F. W. hall.

Indians Down Addison, 18-0

HIGH SCHOOL GRIDDERS WIN SECOND GAME OF SEASON; PLAY MORENCI, FRIDAY

A fourth-stanza rally that marked up 18 points on the scoreboard, Friday at Addison gave the Tecumseh high school Indians their second grid victory of the season. It was the second L.C.A.A. contest of the year, and in the previous three quarters of the game both Addison and Tecumseh went scoreless.

Addison's Panthers held a decisive edge over the Indians in the first three frames, threatening four times in deep Tecumseh territory. Each time, however, the hosts were unable to cross the goal stripe, despite the fact that they were on the 7-yard line when the mid-game whistle sounded.

The first Indian touchdown came when Jim Breitenwischer, captain, tossed a pass for 20 yards. John Sisson received, but the conversion failed. A Panther fourth down punt, caught by Dick Whelan on Tecumseh 35 was raced back over the 65 yards for the second marker.

Another pass from Wayne Patton to Whelan started the march for the third and final score in the last quarter. It took only eight minutes for the Indians to run up the 18 points.

Addison played the game at somewhat of a disadvantage. Walt McCullum played with a broken nose, suffered early in the contest. Truman Ridgon was out of the game for injuries, suffered a week ago with Summerfield. It was Addison's first defeat of the season.

This week Friday, the Indians meet Morenci, there, and one week from Friday, October 12, will play Hudson, here, at Recreation Center under the lights.

Construction of a sheet metal building, 40 by 70, on village property in the east part of the village, was authorized by the council, in regular meeting Monday evening. The building, which will house highway equipment, will cost about $3,500.

Community Fund Budget Approved

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE $8,175 WILL BE LAUNCHED IN TECUMSEH ON OCTOBER 17

Tecumseh's Community Fund campaign, this year with a tentative budget totaling $8,175, will be launched on Wednesday, October 17, with Ronald Harris as the general chairman, it was announced today. The drive probably will continue throughout the month of October, although every effort will be made to "go over the top" before the closing date.

The definite date for the launching of the drive and the announcement of Mr. Harris' appointment came Monday evening, following a meeting of the board of directors of the Fund. At the same time, the budget for the year 1951-52 was announced.

The budget was labeled as "tentative because, it was said, there may be a necessity for slightly adjusting some of the figures. However, it was declared that any adjustment that is made will not make any difference in the total to be raised. At the meeting on Tuesday, the Fund's directors carefully canvassed all of the budgets presented by the several participating organizations for consideration and announced allocations as follows:

Tecumseh Service Club	$200
Hospital Auxiliary	$350
Health Education Comm.	$200
American Cancer Society	$500
Girl Scouts	$400
Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts	$375
Salvation Army	$300
Recreation Center	$1,900
United Fund	$2,000
Hallowe'en and Christmas parties	$250
Emergency Fund	$1,500
Total	$8,175

The Fund board adopted a new policy for the allocation of funds to local groups. The six-point program is as follows:

1. Funds shall be allocated to the group or organization whose primary interests deal directly with the project.
2. Not more than one group shall draw funds for the same purpose.
3. Each group receiving community funds shall submit on July 1 a detailed report of their previous year to include: Expenditures of Community Funds; source and amount of any other income; total amount left in treasury; a proposed budget for the coming year.
4. Each report submitted shall be

Knox Warns Of State Finances

SAYS TAX REVISION NECESSARY IF MICHIGAN IS TO REMAIN SOLVENT

A complete revision of the tax structure of the State of Michigan appears to be the only thing that can avert state bankruptcy within a few years, Victor Knox, speaker of the House of Representatives, told members of the Rotary Club when he spoke to that group on Tuesday evening, following dinner at the Country Club. Mr. Knox, Charles Ziegler, state highway commissioner, and Rollo G. Conlin, a member of the House of Representatives, were guests of LeRoy Titley at the meeting.

Mr. Knox explained how dangerously near the state is to insolvency, due to mandates voted into the constitution by the electors. "If we follow these mandates, it may be only a few years before the state will be unable to meet its obligations. We can vote special taxes, but they will be only stopgaps and not a permanent solution." Knox said that industry, business and professions are becoming interested in Michigan's tax picture, and a legislative commit-

Eisenhower Is Willing To Run

General Eisenhower is willing to run for the presidency. His pick is the Republican ticket, but, failing that, he'll run as a Democrat if the nomination is offered. And it is possible that he could be persuaded to run as a third party candidate.

That is the gist of a very interesting article by Harold Lavine, a Newsweek editor, which is a lead piece of the September American Mercury.

According to the article, General Eisenhower will not announce his intentions so long as he wears the uniform. Short of war, he will complete his job of getting Western Europe's military program rolling early next year. At that time a declaration may be expected.

General Eisenhower did not always feel this way, according to Mr. Lavine. He honestly didn't want to be president or anything else that would keep him solidly in the public eye. He wanted to retire and take it fairly easy. The job as head of Columbia University looked just like what he wanted. But disillusionment came quickly. Eisenhower found that, like all university presidents, he must give his principal efforts to raising money. As Mr. Lavine put it, "He was a cross between a traveling salesman and a professional after-dinner speaker, and didn't enjoy it a bit."

Apparently he now realizes that he will be a public figure all of his life, regardless of personal inclinations, and so, as one of his friends has said, "He might as well get out for the big job." His military reputation is, of course, completely secure. And most important of all, writes Mr. Lavine, "Eisenhower believes in the policy the United States is pursuing in Europe with an almost religious fervor. In his mind, it's a crusade. He would consider the election of Republican Senator Robert A. Taft or someone holding the same ideas concerning foreign policy as nothing short of a national—and world—catastrophe."

Eisenhower support within the Republican party is potent—it has joined together on this point certain men whose dislike for each other has been proverbial. As an example, it has been reliably reported that Governor Dewey and Senator Duff—sworn political enemies—have agreed to work for the General's nomination. Harold Stassen is for him. And so are such powerful men as Governor Warren and Senators Saltonstall and Lodge.

What are the Eisenhower views on the big issues? They are clearly known to all in the matter of foreign policy and the Western military build-up. On domestic issues, much less is known about his thinking. Mr. Lavine says this: "Given a choice between the Republican and Democratic nominations, Eisenhower would grab the former. On domestic issues, he thinks far more like a Republican than a Democrat . . . . Though he may favor certain of the New Deal policies, he dislikes the philosophy of government paternalism which the New Deal represents."

If Mr. Lavine is correct in his appraisal of the Eisenhower attitude, a first-class scrap is in the making. Senator Taft now leads for the GOP nomination, and he has many powerful supporters. He and Eisenhower differ enormously in many respects but they have certain characteristics in common—high abilities, a willingness to fight to the last ditch for their causes, unshaken faith in the rightness of their beliefs. Both have something which seems to be rare in public life these days—character. If these men go to the mat after the Republican nomination, or if they run for the presidency on opposed tickets, the nation will witness a real battle on the high level of principal.

Santa Claus Is Not A Genius

A few years ago the people of England were sold the idea that government was a far more efficient manager of industrial enterprise than private citizens. Since then, England has become a socialized state and the theory of superiority of the state as a producer within the framework of democratic government has been put to the acid test. The result has been tragically disillusioning. In the words of Bernard Harris, writing in the Sunday Express, London, England, "Socialization has failed . . . because the genius who might make it work can't be found."

Perhaps too late the English people are awakening to the fact that Santa Claus, in the form of a paternalistic government, is not a genius.

The people of England are discovering that governments are run by ordinary men with no greater capacities for pulling rabbits out of the hats than the rest of us. They have also found that as a producer, government is utterly incompetent measured by the standards of free enterprise.

All through the ranks of socialized British industry the story is the same—deterioration. According to the Express, coal now costs between two and three times as much as it did before the war. It is of poor quality. Even with higher prices, coal production is falling and the industry is running at a loss. The state directors of the gas and electric industries are in trouble too. They forecast higher charges and power cuts that will go on for years. They complain of the high ash content in the coal and charge their neighbor, the government-run railroads, with profiteering. The nationalized airline and cable industries are no better off. Deficits and poor service apparently plague virtually every commercial activity in which the government has become involved—with taxpayers and consumers footing the bill.

"It is one of the defects of socialization," concludes the Express, "that you can't always give the important jobs to the men best fitted by experience for them. The waiting queue is always a long one, and too often men have to be selected for reasons other than competence." Even if the genius could be found who might make socialism work, it would be unlikely that he would get the job.
